SPECIAL ORDER—5 P. M.

Jitney Ordinance Amendment.

Bill No. 9535, Ordinance No. ———— (New Series), as follows:

Amending Sections 3 and 5 of Ordinance No. 3212 (New Series), entitled "Regulating the use of the streets of the City and County of San Francisco by self-propelled motor vehicles carrying passengers for hire, and providing for the licensing of such vehicles and for the penalty for a violation of said ordinance."

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. Sections 3 and 5 of Ordinance No. 3212 (New Series), the title of which is recited above, are hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 3. Application for a "jitney bus" permit shall be made in writing and filed with the Chief of Police annually on or before the fifteenth day of December and shall state:

(a) The type of motor vehicle and the name of the manufacturer or popular name thereof;

(b) The horsepower thereof;

(c) The factory number and State license number thereof;

(d) The seating capacity thereof according to its trade rating;

(e) The name of the owner or lessee and of the person to be in immediate charge thereof as operator or chauffeur and the number of his State license;

(f) That the operator is a citizen of the United States and has been a resident of the City and County of San Francisco for more than one (1) year; or now has a permit and has heretofore taken out his first papers;

(g) Whether the driver has had a six (6) months' experience in operating automobiles over the streets of the City and County of San Francisco as hereinafter provided;

(h) That the driver is physically qualified to drive a motor-car safely and that said driver's hearing and eyesight are unimpaired;

(i) The streets over which the applicant proposes to operate;

(j) The driver shall pass an oral examination as to knowledge of traffic laws and rules of the City and County;

(k) The signature of each applicant shall be acknowledged before a notary public or some other officer or magistrate duly authorized to administer oaths. At the same time and in the same manner as herein provided application shall be made to renew the chauffeur's permit by each and every operator or chauffeur of a "jitney bus."

Section 5. The Police Commission shall, without unnecessary delay, hear such application and shall grant the same unless it shall appear:

(a) That the bond or insurance policy herein required is insufficient to properly safeguard the public interest and safety;

(b) That the vehicle for which the permit is applied for is inadequate or unsafe for the purpose intended or insufficiently equipped with skid chains or other safety devices;

(c) That the operator is incompetent or has not had sufficient experience in driving an automobile in the City and County of San Francisco, or is not of good moral character, or has heretofore violated any of the provisions of this ordinance or the laws of the State of California;

(d) That the driver is not physically qualified to drive a motor car safely or possesses defective eyesight or hearing;

(e) That the route over which the applicant proposes to operate will be rendered hazardous to life or property, or that undue congestion of traffic will be caused thereon by, and through, the operation of jitney busses. But in passing upon this question the Board of Police Commissioners shall exercise a sound and reasonable discretion, and the permit shall be granted unless public interest and safety may otherwise require;

(f) Permit shall be numbered, and such number, not less than three (3) inches in height and one-half (½) inch wide shall be affixed to the bus with such conspicuousness as may be required by the Chief of Police.

All metal permit tags shall be obtained from the office of the Tax Collector upon receipt of proper notification by the latter office from the Chief of Police.

Section 2. This ordinance shall take effect immediately.

Jitney Ordinance.

THE CHAIRMAN: Well, there is nothing before the Board at the present time. Proceed with the next order of business, Mr. Clerk.

THE CLERK: Number eighteen on the calendar——

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: No, on page two, the jitney ordinance. Is Supervisor Andriano absent? This ordinance is the old ordinance known as Bill Number 535. The amendments that are made, as I understand it, that are made, are under subsection I of section III: "The streets over which the applicant proposes to operate," is one amendment.

SUPERVISOR RONCOVIERI: What number is that?

THE CHAIRMAN: On page two of the calendar.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: The second amendment is under subsection E of section V, as I understand it, and reads: "That the route over which the applicant proposes to operate will be rendered hazardous to life or property, or that undue congestion of traffic will be caused thereon by, and through the operation of jitney buses. But in passing upon this question the Board of Police Commissioners shall exercise a sound and reasonable discretion, and the permit shall be granted unless public interest and safety may otherwise require."

When this subject matter was before the Board I asked from whence it came and I was informed that it came from the Police Department, and I asked if the jitney drivers or their representatives had been heard. I do not recollect the answer, but my recollection is they were not for the reason that the chairman of the committee found this on the calendar and made the statement that it had not, to his knowledge, been considered in committee, and it was put over for one week so he could find out why; this is on final passage, and there are present in the hall the jitney men and their representatives, who desire to be heard. The Police Department makes the statement to me—that is, Sergeant Stoll, I believe—that due to the fact that this ordinance was taken into court on a demurrer on a judgment and a ruling was had which nullified the right of the Police Commission to question the routes the jitney men took, I therefore move a call of the Board first——

THE CHAIRMAN: The sergeant-at-arms will call the Board.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I am preparing to move, unless the Board has other ideas on the subject, that the representative of Mr. Hallinan's office, Mr. Hart, and, if necessary, Mr. Appleby, the president and agent of the United Jitney Association, be given the floor. If the members of the Board are desirous of acting on the subject today it will be necessary to move that those representatives be given the floor.

SUPERVISOR ANDRIANO: As chairman of the Police Committee, I must confess that I was not aware that there was any organized opposition to this particular proposed amendment. It was recommended by the Police Department, and I at first objected to it because it had not come up before my committee, but I was informed that it was just a perfunctory matter, that there was no organized opposition, and so I allowed it to remain on the calendar. It seems now that there is some organized opposition, and as chairman of the committee I think it is only fair and proper that it should be given a hearing in committee, and unless there is a special reason on the part of the Police Department for putting this matter through at this time, because there is some urgency, I have no objection, as chairman of the Police Committee, to putting it over. As such chairman I have always advocated a full hearing to anyone interested, in committee. Is there any special urgency about this particular matter, Captain Goff?

CAPTAIN GOFF: No, I think not.

SUPERVISOR ANDRIANO: Then I think in fairness it should go to committee.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Let me make the motion that fits the case.

SUPERVISOR ANDRIANO: All right.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I move you, Mr. Chairman, that this matter remain upon the calendar for the purpose of saving the cost of printing, and that when the president of this Board is elected under the provisions of the new Charter, that he be delegated to provide a committee to hear this, at the convenience of himself and the members of the committee so appointed. That covers the new Charter situation.

THE CHAIRMAN: In other words, assigned to the committee.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: To keep it on the calendar, and we give the president-elect, when elected, authority immediately upon being elected, if we have got the proper committee, to assign it to such committee, or appoint a special committee.

SUPERVISOR SUHR: I second the motion.

THE CHAIRMAN: Is there any objection? If not, so ordered (bringing down the gavel).

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

Final Passage.

ANNUAL APPROPRIATION ORDINANCE, 1931-32

An Ordinance Appropriating All Estimated Receipts and All Estimated Expenditures of the City and County for the Fiscal Year Ending June 30, 1932.

Bill No. 9558, Ordinance No. 9135 (New Series), as follows:

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco, as follows:

Section 1. The several amounts of estimated receipts enumerated herein are hereby appropriated for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1932, for the several funds or departments to which such sums are herein allocated and for the purposes herein specified. The several amounts of proposed expenditure enumerated herein are hereby appropriated to the several departments or funds as herein allocated. Each department for which an appropriation is herein made shall be authorized to use the amount of funds so appropriated for the purposes specified in this appropriation ordinance. Appropriations for bond interest or redemption, fixed charges and other purposes not allocated to a specific department shall be subject to the administration of and expenditure by the Chief Administrative Officer for the respective purposes for which such appropriations are made.

Liabilities incurred and expenditures made under the appropriations herein enumerated shall in no case exceed the amount of each such appropriation, unless this is increased by supplemental appropriations made in the manner provided by Section 80 of the charter. Liabilities incurred and expenditures made for permanent employments shall in no case exceed the number of, and the salary or wage for, employments in each class as enumerated in Ordinances 9001 and 9002 (N. S.) and the annual salary ordinance, except as additional employments may be authorized under the provisions of Section 80 of the charter.

Where personal service appropriations are made for other than permanent salaries, or where appropriations are made for specific projects or purposes which may involve the payment of salaries or wages, the department head shall file with the Controller, at least monthly, in advance, an estimate of the amount of any such personal service expenditures to be made during the ensuing period, and if sufficient funds are available, the Controller shall forthwith encumber the appropriation with the amount thereof.

Items of proposed expenditure designated with the symbol (#) are appropriated for the use of the department only to the extent that any expenditures made therefrom will be recollectible in full from the departments, persons or institutions for which the service is rendered, and provided that each department head to which such a provisional appropriation is made shall file with the Controller monthly an estimate in detail of the proposed expenditures for the ensuing period, also a statement of the amount of expenditures made and the reimbursements received or receivable since the last report. If sufficient funds are available, the Controller shall forthwith encumber the appropriation with the amount of the proposed expenditure.

The term "department" as used in this ordinance shall mean department, bureau, office, utility, board or commission, as the case may be. The term "department head" as used herein shall be as defined in Section 20 of the charter.

The Controller is hereby authorized and directed to set up appropriate accounts for the items of receipts and expenditures appropriated herein, subject to the provisions of the charter dealing with the appropriation and the transfer of funds, and the approval and payment of warrants.

The Controller shall periodically re-estimate the receipts to be received for services performed by any department for any other department or for any outside agency, and shall notify the Mayor, the Chief Administrative Officer, and the head of any such department performing such services in case the estimated receipts therefor shall appear to be less than estimated payrolls and other costs.

Appropriation items designated with the symbol of one star (*) are, and shall be understood to be, items heretofore appropriated in the annual budgets for 1931-32, adopted by the Board of Supervisors, and are not additional appropriations. Appropriation items designated with the symbol of two stars () are, and shall be understood to be, appropriations heretofore made during 1931-32 by specific ordinances or resolutions of the Board of Supervisors, and are not additional appropriations.

The Controller, in setting up appropriate receipt and expense appropriation items or accounts under the provisions of this ordinance, shall consider as additional appropriations only the items contained herein not heretofore covered by budget ordinances or other ordinances or resolutions appropriating funds.

Section 2. The several amounts of estimated receipts herein appropriated and each fund or department to which such appropriation is made, are as follows:

An ordinance establishing a plan and procedure for the codification of all resolutions and ordinances to be adopted by the Board of Supervisors and for the rearrangement and codification or the repeal of all existing ordinances.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. All ordinances shall be passed by bill. The Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, hereinafter designated as the Clerk, shall give a bill number in consecutive order of numbering to each proposed ordinance on its introduction and shall give a resolution number in consecutive order of numbering to each resolution on its adoption. The Clerk shall maintain registers of such bills according to bill number and shall also maintain registers of resolutions according to resolution number. He shall likewise file and index ordinances on adoption, according to ordinance codification number as outlined in Section 5 of this ordinance, and shall file or index resolutions according to codification number, as outlined in Section 5 hereof.

Proposed ordinances shall be segregated and given ordinance numbers in accordance with the codification plan enumerated in Section 5 of this ordinance; provided, however, that the numerical subdivision numbers under each main subdivision of such code may be added to or changed by the Clerk, with the written approval of the City Attorney, to provide for the proper codification of new ordinances and resolutions and the proper numbering of such ordinances.

Section 3. Ordinances of the City and County in effect at and after twelve o'clock noon on January 8, 1932, and which are continued in force by the provisions of Section 2 of the Charter, shall be rearranged and codified as provided herein. It shall be the duty of the City Attorney to rearrange and codify such ordinances and, from time to time, to present such rearranged and codified ordinances to the Board of Supervisors for adoption, and likewise to propose to the Board of Supervisors the specific repeal of ordinances that are supplanted, obsolete or no longer required.

Purchaser of Supplies, Contracts, Public Work, Etc.

Also, Bill No. 9553, Ordinance No. 9139 (New Series), as follows:

Establishing a method by which supplies shall be purchased and establishing the procedure for and regulating the entering into contract for supplies for the City and County and for public work or improvement to be performed at the expense of the City and County, or to be paid out of moneys deposited in the Treasury, or out of trust moneys under the control of or to be assessed or to be collected by the City and County, and repealing Ordinance No. 5880 (New Series), approved May 17, 1923.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. All departments shall file estimates of material, supplies and equipment at such times and in such manner as shall be determined upon by the Purchaser of Supplies. All purchases shall be made by the Purchaser of Supplies on requisition of the department desiring the same, except that for materials, supplies and equipment in common use by more than one department, or used in large quantities by a department, the Purchaser of Supplies may purchase for stock on the basis of the total of such requisitions or estimates previously filed.

All purchases in the open market, except for patented or proprietary articles and except for minor amounts, and except for fresh fruits and vegetables, shall be based on at least three quotations. The Purchaser of Supplies shall keep a record of such quotations and a register of all informal awards. All articles defined as "patented" or "proprietary" articles shall be listed and filed with the Chief Administrative Officer and the Controller, and the Purchaser may advertise for bids on the basis of specifications for such articles or other articles made and sold for the same purpose in accordance with the provisions of Section 88 of the Charter.

The Purchaser of Supplies, in cooperation with the officials of the several departments, shall provide for the standardization of materials, supplies and equipment in accordance with the use to which the various articles are to be put, and shall provide for adequate specifications for materials, supplies and equipment used in large quantities or in common use by more than one department.

Section 2. The several department heads and officers empowered by law to enter into contracts on the part of the City and County for materials, supplies or equipment, or public work or improvements to be performed at the expense of the City and County, or to be paid out of moneys deposited in the Treasury, or out of trust moneys under the control, or to be assessed or collected by the City and County, when the expenditure involved shall exceed the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000), shall let such contract to the lowest reliable and responsible bidder not less than ten (10) days after advertising by publication. Provided, that if the officer or department head empowered to award such contract believes that the public interest would be subserved by accepting other than the lowest gross price or unit cost bid, and the contract is entered into with another bidder, written report shall be made to the Chief Administrative Officer, the Mayor and the Controller by the officer authorized to execute the contract, with the reasons for failure to accept such lowest bid. Provided, further, that all contracts shall be awarded for materials, supplies and equipment to the lowest reliable and responsible bidder only when the quality of the product offered and delivery are considered, and in awarding any contract for any public work or improvement, the department head concerned is authorized to compare bids on the basis of time of competition, and any contract awarded in consideration, in whole or in part, of the relative time estimate of bidders for completion of the work, shall be subject to the provisions of Section 97 of the Charter. Notice of award shall be published.

Section 3. The Purchaser of Supplies or the department head, as the case may be, shall have power to sign any contract when the estimated expenditure thereunder is not in excess of two thousand dollars ($2,000). Any contract involving the expenditure of over two thousand dollars ($2,000), if for the purchase of materials, supplies and equipment, shall require the joint approval of the Purchaser of Supplies and the Chief Administrative Officer. If such contract is for any public work or improvement, it shall require the joint approval of the department head and the Chief Administrative Officer relative to departments under his jurisdiction, or the signature of the department head and the approval by resolution of the board or commission concerned for departments not under the Chief Administrative Officer.

Section 4. Alterations, modifications or extras in any contract which will increase the contract cost may be made or allowed only on the written recommendation of the department head responsible for the supervision of the contract.

Together with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer or the board or commission, as the case may be, and also the approval of the Controller, stating the increased price to be paid by reason thereof.

In the performance of any contract awarded on the unit and the unit cost basis, if the department head concerned ascertains that the amount of work done or to be done shall exceed the estimated amount of the contract by ten per cent or more, the excess cost shall be provided for as prescribed by Section 80 of the Charter relative to supplemental appropriations.

Section 5. The Purchaser of Supplies, with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer, or the department head with the approval of the board or commission to which he is responsible, may reject any and all bids and readvertise for bids. When bids are called for materials, supplies and equipment and no bid is received, or where all bids received are for the same total amount or unit price, the Purchaser of Supplies may purchase the commodities called for in the open market; provided, however, that the price paid in the open market shall not exceed any bid price received for the same commodities.

Section 6. In any case, when the expenditure for the construction, reconstruction or repair of public works or improvements or for the purchase of materials, supplies or equipment shall, as estimated by the department head, exceed the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000), the bids heretofore referred to shall be sealed, directed to the department head or officer calling the bids, and shall be accompanied by a certified check or certificate of deposit on a solvent bank in the City and County of San Francisco, payable on sight to the City and County of San Francisco, the amount of which shall be fixed by said department head or officer and named in the advertisement, which amount shall not exceed ten per cent of the estimated cost of the work or improvement to be done, or of the materials, equipment or supplies to be furnished, and shall not be less than the sum of one hundred dollars, provided, that any regular or continual bidder may, in lieu of the certified check or certificate of deposit above mentioned, file a bond, in an amount to be fixed by the Chief Administrative Officer and the Controller, to serve as surety for a period of one year that said bidder shall during said period, enter into any and all contracts awarded to him on the basis of bids filed by him, and with provision for proper forfeiture under said bond in any case of failure, neglect or refusal so to do.

Notices inviting sealed bids under the conditions of this section must be published for two (2) consecutive days in the official newspaper and at least ten (10) calendar days must intervene between the date of last publication and the time for filing such sealed bids or proposals. Such notices shall state in general terms the conditions of the proposed award, and if progressive payments are to be provided under any contract, in accordance with Section 96 of the Charter, or if any contract is to be let on the basis of a gross price or cost per unit of work to be performed, or on the basis of time of completion with liquidated damages for every day during which the contract is uncompleted beyond such specified date in accordance with Section 97 of the Charter, such notice shall so state. Each advertisement for bids shall contain the reservation of the right to reject any and all bids.

All bids shall be filed on forms furnished by the department head concerned. All bids received as herein provided shall be opened by the proper department or officer at a time and place to be stated in the advertisement for proposals in the presence of all bidders who attend and after tabulation bidders may inspect the bids. Bids with alterations or erasures therein shall be rejected. When specifications do not include alternative proposals, statements or communications accompanying bids which serve to qualify such bids shall not be considered in making awards, and will disqualify bids on related items. All articles supplied shall be subject to inspection and rejection by the Purchaser of Supplies or the department head responsible.

Section 7. Before the execution of any contract, for public works or improvements, the department head or officer authorized to enter into said contract shall require the sucessful bidder to file a bond with good and sufficient sureties for the faithful performance thereof and to guarantee the payment of wages for services engaged and of bills contracted for materials, supplies and equipment used in the performance of the contract. Said bond shall be for a sum not less than fifty per cent of the award. In case of any contract for the purchase of materials, supplies or equipment or contractual services, the Purchaser of Supplies shall require a bond in the sum of not less than ten per cent of the aggregate award, conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract.

The Controller shall approve the sufficiency and qualifications of all sureties as required under the provisions of this ordinance.

If any bidder to whom the contract is awarded under the provisions of this section shall for ten (10) days after such award fail or neglect to enter into the contract and file the required bond, the department head or officer in whom authority to execute said contract is vested, shall deposit such certificate of deposit or certified check into the Treasury for collection and the amount thereof shall be retained by the City and County as liquidated damages for the failure of said bidder to enter into said contracts and under no circumstances shall the certificate of deposit or certified check be returned to such defaulting bidder, and if the bidder's obligation to enter into said contract is evidenced by a continuing bond, said department head shall determine the amount of forfeiture thereunder, which shall be not less than the specified amount of certified check or certificate of deposit required in the call for bids.

Each contractor must save, keep, bear harmless and fully indemnify the City and County and any of its officers or agents from all damages, or claims for damages, costs, or expenses in law or equity that may at any time arise or be set up for any infringement of the patent rights, copyright or trade-mark of any person or persons in consequence of the use by the City and County, or any of its officers or agents, of articles to be supplied under said contract and of which the contractor is not the patentee or assignee or has not the lawful right to sell the same.

When a contractor fails to deliver an article of the quality he has contracted to furnish within the time specified in his bid, such article may be bought in the open market by the Purchaser of Supplies, and if a greater price than that named in the contract be paid for such article, the excess price will be charged to and collected from the contractor or the sureties on his bond.

No article or articles furnished under any contract made under the provisions of this ordinance shall have been made in a prison.

No contract shall be assigned except upon the recommendation of the Purchaser of Supplies or the department head concerned and with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer relative to departments under his jurisdiction or the approval of the board or commission concerned for departments not under the Chief Administrative Officer.

The officer responsible for the awarding of any contract shall require from all bidders information concerning their experience and financial qualifications, as provided by general law relative to such investigations authorized by departments of public works, and shall take such information into consideration in the award of any contract.

All contracts shall be executed in triplicate; the original to be retained by the officer or department head making the award; one copy to be filed with the Controller, and one copy to be given to the contractor.

Any contractor who fails to live up to the terms of his contract may, by the joint action of the head of the department concerned and the Controller, be declared an irresponsible contractor, and shall not for a period of one year be awarded any further contract unless, on the joint action of the head of the department concerned and the Controller, such disqualification is removed.

Section 8. Appropriate City and County departments may file sealed bids for the execution of any work to be performed under a contract and shall not be required to furnish security or submit information relative to financial qualifications as provided in this ordinance. Any bid submitted by a department of the City and County, if it is the lowest bid, must be approved by the Controller before the award of contract. If the bid of a City and County department, as audited and approved by the Controller, is the lowest, the contract shall be awarded the department and accurate unit costs shall be kept of all direct and indirect charges incurred by the department under any such contract, which unit costs shall be reported to and audited by the Controller monthly and on completion of the work.

Section 9. The department head authorized to award any contract for public works or improvements shall be responsible for the acceptance of such work on completion. Such acceptance shall be in writing and shall include the certificate of the department head concerned that the work covered by the contract has been fully and satisfactorily completed in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor. Receipt of copy of such acceptance in writing shall constitute the Controller's authority to complete any payments due the contractor under said contract, provided that the Controller may make such additional investigation or inspection as is provided by Section 85 of the Charter.

Section 10. Any departmental estimate of gross or unit cost of any public work or improvement not exceeding the sum of one thousand ($1,000) dollars, shall be compiled in detail, and on the request of the Controller, and in accordance with Sections 64 and 95 of the Charter shall be submitted to the Controller by the department head concerned, for the purpose of determining whether similar work may be done under public contract or written order or agreement at a lower cost. Cost estimates and accounts for such work or improvement executed by City forces shall include all direct and indirect elements of cost as required by Section 95 of the Charter. Any such work or improvement estimated to cost less than one thousand ($1,000) dollars may be performed under written order, based on not less than three bids, notice of which shall be given by posting for not less than three days in the public office of the department requiring or ordering such work or improvement.

The Controller shall maintain records of bids filed by departments in relation to the total direct and indirect cost of each such work and shall report thereon periodically to the Mayor and the Chief Administrative Officer. The Controller may refuse to approve contracts with a department shown to be repeatedly underbidding on contract work.

Section 11. The Board of Supervisors hereby declares that in an actual emergency created by weather conditions, fire, flood or other unforeseen conditions of unusual character, or the breakdown of any plant, equipment, structure, street or public work, necessitating immediate emergency repair or reconditioning to safeguard the lives or property of the citizens or the property of the City and County, or to maintain the public health and welfare, such repair reconditioning or other emergency work may be executed in the most expeditious manner by the department head responsible therefor, who shall, if the emergency permits, first secure the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer, if the emergency work is to be done or ordered by any department under his jurisdiction or, for departments not under the Chief Administrative Officer, the approval of the president of the board or commission concerned or of the Mayor.

The department head concerned shall notify the Controller immediately of the work involved and the estimated cost thereof.

Section 12. The Purchaser of Supplies and the several department heads and officers shall establish rules and regulations for the purpose of this ordinance. Department heads may make emergency purchases with the consent of and in accordance with the rules established by the Purchaser of Supplies, but no such purchase shall be in greater amount than twenty-five ($25) dollars.

Section 13. Wherever any preferential in favor of local manufacturers or industry is provided by State law or ordinance or resolution of this Board of Supervisors the same shall apply to contracts under this ordinance.

Section 14. Ordinance No. 5880 (New Series) and all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 15. This ordinance shall become effective from and after 12 o'clock noon, January 8, 1932.

In re Various Ordinances Under the New Charter—Jitney Ordinance Amendment — Traffic Committee Recommendation on Parking in Financial District—Statement by City Engineer M. M. O'Shaughnessy, Regarding Finances of Hetch Hetchy Project.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Mr. Chairman, will you kindly ask the City Attorney to be sent for in connection with these various ordinance matters which are before us today?

THE CHAIRMAN: Which matters, Mr. Gallagher?

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I am asking for the City Attorney to be sent for in connection with the nine ordinances which are up for passage today.

THE CHAIRMAN: All right, Mr. Sergeant-at-Arms, you will call the City Attorney. Proceed, Mr. Clerk.

THE CLERK: The first is the annual appropriation ordinance.

THE CHAIRMAN: Is there any objection?

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Just a moment, Mr. Chairman. Could I get the Chair's attention, and that of the members of the Board, to the fact that there is a special order—which is a misnomer—for five p. m., the jitney ordinance amendment, which was, as I recollect it, set for two o'clock. Could we take that up pending the arrival of the City Attorney?

THE CHAIRMAN: Can't we take up and dispose of some of these first? Is there any objection to the annual appropriation ordinance? The question is on the final passage of the annual appropriation ordinance. Any objection?
(Brings down the gavel.)

THE CLERK: The next item on the calendar is the annual salary ordinance.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I move that that be temporarily postponed.

THE CLERK: The next is on page fifty-four, the codification of ordinances and resolutions.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: The same motion.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: What is the motion?

THE CHAIRMAN: To temporarily postpone. Proceed, Mr. Clerk.

THE CLERK: The next one is on page 57, purchaser of supplies, contracts, public works, etcetera.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: The same motion.

THE CLERK: The next is on page 56, City Hall and Auditorium office space assignments.

THE CHAIRMAN: Is there any objection to that?

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: No, no objection to that one.

SUPERVISOR RONCOVIERI: Read it, Mr. Clerk.
(Thereupon, number four on the calendar, and ordinance relating to City Hall and Auditorium office space assignments, was read by the Clerk.)

THE CHAIRMAN: Is there any objection to number 4 on the calendar, City Hall and Auditorium office space assignments? All right, no objection. (Bringing down the gavel.)

THE CLERK: Number 6 on the calendar, page 59, enactment and publication of ordinances. That is to provide for this office to function.

THE CHAIRMAN: That is to provide for the Clerk's office to function in the introduction of resolutions and ordinances.

THE CLERK: It is to provide for the advertising of resolutions and ordinances, it is a one-time advertisement, an interval of ten days, the provisions of the Charter.

THE CHAIRMAN: Is there any objection to Item Number 6 on the calendar, enactment and publication of ordinances? (Bringing down the gavel.)

THE CLERK: Number 7 on the calendar, page 60, providing for the destruction of useless paper of City and County.

THE CHAIRMAN: Is there any objection to Number 7 on the calendar, destruction of useless paper? (Bringing down the gavel.)

THE CLERK: Number 8, page 60, revolving fund, Superintendent of Relief Home.

THE CHAIRMAN: That is the matter of unemployment funds; is there any objection to number 8 on the calendar? (Bringing down the gavel.)

THE CLERK: Number 9, page 61, additional powers to departments in matters of permits.

THE CHAIRMAN: Is there any objection to number 9 on the calendar on final passage?

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I move that that be temporarily postponed also.

* * * * * *

THE CLERK: Number 18 on the calendar, recommendation of Traffic Committee. Amending Section 37 of Ordinance Number 7691 (New Series), "Traffic Ordinance," by adding "south side of Minna street, between First and Ninth streets, and north side of Natoma street, between Fremont and Ninth streets."

SUPERVISOR PEYSER: That is a contested matter, and I suggest that it be temporarily passed. There are some citizens here appearing in opposition, and if it is the desire of the Board to hear them at this time, very well——

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER (interrupting): No.

THE CHAIRMAN: It will be temporarily passed, then, at this time. Proceed, Mr. Clerk.

THE CLERK: Number 19 on the calendar.

THE CHAIRMAN: Is there any objection? (Bringing down the gavel.)

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Now, Mr. Chairman, the City Attorney is here, and if the Chair will permit I would like to ask our City Attorney a question:

I should like to ask you, Mr. City Attorney, if you have been asked, and if you have given an opinion as to whether the salary ordinance must be passed, also the supplies and contracts procedure ordinance, and the permits procedure ordinance? We were informed, Mr. City Attorney, that that would be necessary at this time, and therefore they were done in somewhat of a hurry, and in one case an injustice has been done, which cannot be rectified. Mr. Levey says that he would not be able to make out his pay checks as of January 15th if the salary ordinance fails. This may be the law, but I am informed you might hold a contrary opinion——

CITY ATTORNEY O'TOOLE: No, I don't think so.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: Mr. Chairman, if you will permit a question, may I ask at this time that the Sergeant-at-Arms be asked to request Mr. O'Shaughnessy to step down here, that I have one or two questions I would like to ask him?

THE CHAIRMAN: The Sergeant-at-Arms will request Mr. O'Shaughnessy to be present.

SUPERVISOR PEYSER: I have also a request to make. I have made this request before, and I renew it now: To have the Chief of Police here, please.

THE CHAIRMAN: Captain Goff, representing the Chief, is here now, Supervisor Peyser.

SUPERVISOR PEYSER: I see the captain, and I would also like to see the Chief here.

THE CHAIRMAN: All right, Mr. Sergeant-at-Arms, you will call the Chief of Police.

Proceed, Mr. O'Toole.

CITY ATTORNEY O'TOOLE: Supervisor Gallagher, section 73 of the new Charter, providing for the annual salary ordinance, seems to require also a salary ordinance not only upon the adoption of the annual appropriation ordinance, but also any supplemental budget:

"The number and rates of compensation for all positions continued or created by the Supervisors in adopting each annual budget, and each annual or supplemental appropriation ordinance, shall be established and enumerated in an ordinance continuing and creating positions in City and County departments and offices, and providing the rates of compensation therefor, which ordinance shall be passed or amended at the same time as the annual or supplemental appropriation ordinance is passed."

I think your general ordinance, or all-inclusive budget appropriation, is practically a supplemental appropriation ordinance, and I think it would be far safer to pass your salary ordinance at the same time, or so that it might be in effect so that the controller can handle his payrolls for the first part of the month. Mr. Levey, I presume your payrolls commence about the 15th, is that correct?

MR. LEVEY: Yes.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Then I would like to, if you will permit me— I have no objection, then, as chairman of the committee, to the salary ordinance being passed at this time.

SUPERVISOR RONCOVIERI: What page is that?

THE CHAIRMAN: Page 23 on the calendar. Is there any objection to the annual salary ordinance?

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: One moment, Mr. Chairman; except that I desire to enter for the record, that Item Number 48, Class Number E104, appearing in the salary ordinance at the rate of $202.50 a month——

THE CHAIRMAN (interrupting): What page, and what department, is that?

SUPERVISOR STANTON: What page?

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I don't know what page. However, I call attention to the fact that the salary of the gentleman holding the position, Mr. Lester Keene, who is a battery man, it seems due to an error he was put on a five-day basis, and the Civil Service Commission representative here admits there is a mistake. Therefore, I am moving that this case, and this letter which I hold in my hand, written by Mr. James Brennan, attorney, on behalf of Mr. Keene, be referred to the Civil Service Commission, who have promised that in the matter of pay the mistake will be rectified. So therefore, with that in their hands, if you will pass my motion, Mr. Chairman, in the case of Mr. Keene, that matter to be corrected on the payroll by the Civil Service Commission, that will settle this case—that is, before its passage—simply for the record.

THE CHAIRMAN: Is there any objection to Supervisor Gallagher's motion? (Bringing down the gavel.)

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Now, Mr. Dunnigan brings up another matter, a letter dated January 5, 1932, addressed to the Board of Supervisors. I may state, for the information of Mr. Stanton and Mr. Power, that this man's salary will be rectified, he will lose no money. Proceed, Mr. Clerk, and read the letter.

(Thereupon the letter concerning Mr. Samuel Brimingham Jones, of the Fire Department, was read to the Board.)

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I move that the resolution be referred to the Supervisors' Committee on Charter Installation, that copies be furnished the Controller, the Superintendent of Supplies, when appointed, and the Civil Service Commission, who will then straighten it out.

THE CHAIRMAN: All right, is there any objection? (Bringing down the gavel.)

The question is now on final passage of the salary ordinance. Is there any objection to number two on the calendar, the annual salary ordinance?

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: Supervisor Suhr spoke to me in reference to one particular office.

SUPERVISOR SUHR: In reference to the position in the Department of Electricity.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: I spoke about that the first night, and I thought it was all attended to.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: We would have to have the item and number.

THE CHAIRMAN: Can't that matter be referred to the Civil Service Commission?

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: To our committee, and we will take it up.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: All right, Supervisor.

THE CHAIRMAN: There is no reason, of course, for holding this ordinance up——

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY (interrupting): No, no; but if there is anything, to see that it will be rectified.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: All right.

THE CHAIRMAN: The question is on final passage of the annual salary ordinance. Is there any objection? (Bringing down the gavel.)

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Mr. Chairman, now so as not to delay the Board, or our City Attorney, as I know that he is tremendously busy in his office. I would like to ask another question. Do you think, Mr. City Attorney, that the supplies, contracts and public works procedure ordinance must be passed prior to January the 8th?

CITY ATTORNEY O'TOOLE: Well, of course, the present ordinance will remain in effect, but that provides for so many things, so many matters which will not be necessary, or not be pertinent to the purchase of supplies after the new charter becomes effective, that I think if it is not passed, Mr. Supervisor, there will be difficulty in making purchases or entering into contracts. Now, in connection with whether it will have to be passed today, or could wait until your next meeting, could be continued, you are——

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER (interrupting): In any event, you are of the opinion it better be passed by January the 8th?

CITY ATTORNEY O'TOOLE: At least within a few days of January the 8th, or I would be afraid. I presume they will have contracts to be entered into, Mr. Levy tells me there are proposals running now which will have to be disposed of as they come in. I don't know what they are now; however, there may be some rough places in that which can be straightened out. It was prepared by the Charter Installation Committee and gone over by my office, and your committee, and I think it will fill the needs for the time being.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Then, for the record, Mr. Chairman, as chairman of the committee in charge, I express myself that while I have not had the time to look into certain matters I should like to, and consult certain parties, I would like to call to the attention of my colleagues that I express myself, Mr. Chairman, as dissatisfied with the procedure, or with the wording of this ordinance affecting certain matters in connection with sureties on contract, that is one; and the Committee reserves, with the permission of the Chair and the Board, the right to—I am not making any particular objection to its passage at this time—reserves and enters in the record its request for permission to meet as soon as possible to review this ordinance, giving the Board to understand that in all likelihood it will have to be amended after certain matters are explained to the Committee and the Board.

CITY ATTORNEY O'TOOLE: Mr. Supervisor, in all probability it will be found better, when the matter can be given careful consideration, to enact one ordinance to regulate the purchase of supplies, and another ordinance governing the entering into contracts. While there are many provisions in the Charter which govern both purchases of supplies and contracts, there are some separate provisions for each particular subject, and therefore I would suggest to the Board that when it comes to the amending of this particular ordinance that they give consideration as to whether or not it would not be more advisable to have one ordinance governing the purchase of supplies, and another separate ordinance governing the entering into contracts.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Do I understand from the Chair that the Committee has permission to do these things?

THE CHAIRMAN: Yes.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Will the Chair please direct the stenographer to please hand to the Clerk the record on this subject for future consideration?

THE CHAIRMAN: So ordered.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Now, if you want to pass this to print——

THE CLERK (interrupting): It is on final passage.

THE CHAIRMAN: Is there any objection to number five on the calendar, on final passage? (Bringing down the gavel.)

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: We have no objection, if the Board is willing, to taking up the permits procedure ordinance, on which I can now ask the question of the City Attorney. This permit procedure, which delegates to the departments under the new Charter the right to grant these permits, I would like to ask the City Attorney, what would happen in case the Board did not today, or for a month to come, pass this ordinance, and, in your opinion, should it be sent on its way, for purposes of safety?

CITY ATTORNEY O'TOOLE: Well, there will be no official body which will be authorized to grant permits, that is the only way I can answer your question, because the Charter provides that the Board of Supervisors shall delegate that power to some other official body. How important it is if a permit could not be granted for a month, say, that is a matter for your Board to determine.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: In some instances it would be important. So, therefore, if the Board will agree, in order that we may put this ordinance on its way now, due to the late arrival from those who have been considering it, and due to the condition which occurred after it was received from the City Attorney's office, we find that today in connection with the permit procedure, in the ordinance we are now setting up, it does not provide for the hearing of citizens in protests as was formerly the case, and particularly in the Board. It was our intention to have such an ordinance ready, or have it included in this, but we cannot get this ready, so, therefore, either his Honor the Mayor, or the president of the Board, the president to be, should be requested to request the Chief of Police, the Chief of the Fire Department, the Fire Marshal, and the Board of Health, to do the common-sense thing between now and the time when this hearing ordinance is adopted—which I don't think will be for thirty days, or twenty-five days or so anyway—in the meantime it is respectfully suggested to the prospective president of the Board, and through him by our Clerk to his Honor the Mayor, that the procedure be by those who are delegated to grant these permits, that upon petition they will pick them up, and if protest is received, that they, either in conjunction with their commission, or by themselves if they wish, hear all persons who have something to say on the granting of these permits, and in that way there will be sufferance and at least democratic procedure, and so that in the next thirty days, or the time in which it takes to get this ready, there will not be a denial of the right of protest forcing citizens to go immediately to the Board of permit appeals after January the 8th.

If I make myself understood, I ask for the record that it be turned over to the new president to give to the Mayor so that that procedure may be carried out, or not——

THE CHAIRMAN (interrupting): How practical is that, Mr. City Attorney?

CITY ATTORNEY O'TOOLE: Well, I presume that is the only thing you can do. In other words, a suggestion to these different departments; they are not bound by the suggestion in any way.

THE CHAIRMAN: In other words, to carry out the provisions of the Charter?

CITY ATTORNEY O'TOOLE: Absolutely, to give and say to those who might make application, or protest an application, to say to these officials to determine the matter in the sound discretion which it is the intention of the Charter to vest in these officials.

THE CHAIRMAN: Is there any objection? If not, the suggestion will be made a part of the record. So ordered. (Bringing down the gavel.)

SUPERVISOR PEYSER: Mr. O'Toole is desirous of resuming other duties he has to perform——

THE CLERK: I would like a ruling of the Chair on final passage.

THE CHAIRMAN: Is there any objection to the passage of number 9 on the calendar, the matter of permit procedure? (Bringing down the gavel.)

Relative to Delay in Construction of Hetch Hetchy.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: I asked you, Mr. Chairman, a few minutes ago—or an hour ago—to direct the Sergeant-at-Arms to request Chief Engineer O'Shaughnessy to be asked to come here this afternoon, and he is here now. I simply have one or two questions that I would like to ask the chief. The questions are these:

On Monday, at 10:15 p. m., over KYA, the announcer stated that Chief Engineer O'Shaughnessy stated that the Board of Supervisors were entirely at fault for the obstruction or stopping of the Hetch Hetchy project on the ground that the bonds were not sold, and I would like to ask the chief if he made that statement to the announcer of KYA?

THE CHAIRMAN: Under what circumstances was that statement made?

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: I don't know under what circumstances it was made, but I would like to know if he made that statement, because the announcer of KYA heralded that statement not only over the homes here in our City, but over the entire State of California, and perhaps the United States, and I think there is due this Board the answer to the question that I have just propounded to the Chief Engineer.

THE CHAIRMAN: The Chief Engineer will answer the question. Chief O'Shaughnessy, will you answer Mr. McSheehy?

CHIEF ENGINEER O'SHAUGHNESSY: I wish you all a very happy new year.

THE CHAIRMAN: Did you hear the chief's statement, Mr. McSheehy? I will delegate you to reply on behalf of the Board.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: I assure him, as one member of the Board, I wish him also a happy new year (laughter). I want to say the chairman has duly appointed me just now as the representative of the Board to answer the chief's statement that he wishes us all a happy new year. On behalf of the Board, I wish him a happy new year.

THE CHAIRMAN: All right, proceed.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: Will you answer that question?

CHIEF ENGINEER O'SHAUGHNESSY: For the information of Mr. McSheehy, and the members of the Board, I had no communication of any kind with any radio people.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: You had no communication of any kind with any radio man?

CHIEF ENGINEER O'SHAUGHNESSY: No, sir.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: Then this statement made over the radio at 10:15 p. m., Monday last, was unauthorized by you entirely?

CHIEF ENGINEER O'SHAUGHNESSY: Absolutely was.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: The newspapers have been picking it up and quoting it somewhat——

CHIEF ENGINEER O'SHAUGHNESSY: I am not responsible for the conduct of the newspapers.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: Well, may I ask you this question: Was the statement an erroneous statement?

CHIEF ENGINEER O'SHAUGHNESSY: I made the statement to the gentleman who is here (indicating), a gentleman from the Call.

SUPERVISOR STANTON: Who is the gentleman?

THE CLERK: Mr. Larson.

CHIEF ENGINEER O'SHAUGHNESSY: Yes, Mr. Larson.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: Oh, Mr. Larson.

CHIEF ENGINEER O'SHAUGHNESSY: He is the only gentleman of the press I saw that particular day, and I explained to him the financial status of Hetch Hetchy, that if we did not get more money we would have to shut down by the first of February.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: You explained, as I understand it, in answer to Mr. Larson, a representative of the Call, one of our daily papers, that if you did not get more money the Hetch Hetchy project would have to shut down February 1st?

CHIEF ENGINEER O'SHAUGHNESSY: I told him that, yes.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: You did not state, then, that the Board of Supervisors were responsible whatsoever in reference to this?

CHIEF ENGINEER O'SHAUGHNESSY: I don't think I made that statement.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: I am asking you, did you or did you not; not what you think. Did you state that the Board of Supervisors were entirely responsible for this condition?

CHIEF ENGINEER O'SHAUGHNESSY: I did to the chairman of the Finance Committee, about two weeks ago, as a fact. He knows that.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: I understand, then, chief, you made a statement—taking your own words—you made a statement to the chairman of the Finance Committee of the facts, and the facts are that if you do not receive more money whatever you now have in your custody of Hetch Hetchy funds will be expended and you will have to shut down by the 1st of February——

THE CHAIRMAN (interrupting): If the bonds are not sold in the meantime.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: Mr. Chairman of the Finance Committee, our presiding officer, did the chief state to you that we were at fault as a Board of Supervisors?

THE CHAIRMAN: He did not. Proceed with the regular order of business.

SUPERVISOR SPAULDING: I would like to talk on that same subject; I happened to be listening in on the radio the same day, it was on the 10:15 regular Monday night KYA current announcing hour. The announcer came on and he said as follows—I can remember, although I did not get the record from the announcer: That unless the bonds were voted at the next election for Hetch Hetchy that it would be necessary, by the 1st of February, to close down the work, and that Chief O'Shaughnessy laid this directly as the fault of the Board of Supervisors. Now, that is the statement he made over the radio.

SUPERVISOR STANTON: Did he say "This is Mr. Larson speaking"?

SUPERVISOR SPAULDING: I would like to go on record at this time as a Supervisor—I don't say that the chief made the statement, but the statement was made by the broadcaster, and broadcast to the world. I have in no way ever been a party to the delaying of Hetch Hetchy. However, the people were informed last Monday night, through this announcer, that the Supervisors were directly responsible for the delay of Hetch Hetchy.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: Supervisor Spaulding, do I understand tnat you have just stated that you, as a Supervisor, have never been responsible for any delay whatsoever in connection with the Hetch Hetchy project?

SUPERVISOR SPAULDING: I am going on record as saying I have at no time ever been responsible for any delay in connection with Hetch Hetchy.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: I wish the record to show that during my entire incumbency as a member of this Board of Supervisors that I am not responsible for any delay whatsoever in the construction of Hetch Hetchy, and if anyone says that I am I will bring in a statement in writing showing the entire history of that project, and showing who is responsible and who has been responsible for the extraordinary amount of money that has been spent, and that has been responsible for the entire matter. I am willing to put that in writing at any time.

* * * * * *

THE CLERK: Next is number eighteen on the calendar.

SUPERVISOR PEYSER: I suggest that we wait until the chief comes.

THE CHAIRMAN: All right, if there is no objection, we will pass number eighteen temporarily, for a reasonable time, while waiting for the chief.

Reconsideration—Parking in Financial District.

THE CHAIRMAN: Yes, Mr. Peyser.

SUPERVISOR PEYSER: I just wish to make the statement that the Chief of Police has been requested to appear here on two occasions, and on this particular day he was requested twice—three times—to be here in person, at my request; that I requested him to be here as a city official, our Chief of the Police Department, to answer certain questions relative to the traffic situation, which is under his control, and that I, as a member of the Board, have been deprived of the right of having him here by the action of this Board, to personally interrogate him on matters that were presented for legislative action.

SUPERVISOR HAVENNER: Mr. Chairman, I also desire to make a statement for the record, at this time, in this connection:

During my membership on the Traffic Committee of this Board at all times the Chief of Police has constantly delegated to Captain Goff, the head of the Traffic Department, the authority to represent him before the Traffic Committee on all traffic matters, and Captain Goff has so represented him before that Committee on all matters before it. Since I have been on the Board, and during my membership on the Traffic Committee, Captain Goff has at all times appeared before the Traffic Committee and the Traffic Committee has received all recommendations of the Police Department through Captain Goff.

SUPERVISOR GARRITY: Include there also that Captain Goff is here today with authority to represent him on this matter.

SUPERVISOR PEYSER: And I now move that that be expunged from the record, for the reason that when Captain Goff has appeared here, as appears from the record, he stated his recollection from memory of the facts, and furthermore, Captain Goff has stated that the Chief did not discuss with him certain matters about which I questioned him——

SUPERVISOR GARRITY: Mr. Chairman, I would like to ask Captain Goff now if Chief Quinn delegated him to represent him here today after you had phoned him?

CAPTAIN GOFF: He did.

SUPERVISOR PEYSER: He did not discuss this with you?

CAPTAIN GOFF: No.

SUPERVISOR McGOVERN: The Committee requested the opinion of the Chief of Police relative to this traffic ordinance, and it submitted it to him with the evidence that ninety per cent of the property owners were in favor. The Committee did that, and I am still convinced there were ninety per cent of the owners on both maps in favor of it.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: Mr. Chairman, if I may——

THE CHAIRMAN: Supervisor McSheehy has the floor.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: Mr. Chairman, I have been standing up for some time, and while I was recognized by the Chair, I permitted several members to speak.

Members of the Board: We are about to reconsider this entire matter, and Supervisor Peyser has stated to you, which he has a right to do, that he has certain evidence to submit, or that there are certain citizens who are here now, or who were here, to submit that evidence, but they can not do it now because of the fact that they are no longer here, and that is the only reason you did not hear them. That matter is not before us, therefore, at this time. I simply feel, as one member of this Board—first, I particularly want to answer Supervisor Garrity, who will leave us, you might say leave us almost immediately as one of our official family,—I want to say this, that an ordinance of this kind does not require the carrying of it into effect for a certain length of time, to find out whether it is a good ordinance or a bad ordinance, and I simply feel that whenever before this particular body certain citizens want to be heard that they should be heard, especially on an all-important matter such as this. We should not pass it with the thought in mind that we would rescind or reconsider it later. We have a matter before the United States today that was passed and has now been before the courts for eleven years, and I dare say will be for some time to come——

SUPERVISOR GARRITY: Why can't you bring in, some time in the future, a resolution to repeal this?

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: Mr. Chairman, I would like to answer that to this degree, that it is not an easy matter to repeal any act which this Board passes, because it takes a certain number of votes, and I want to say that I know, from my long experience on this Board, that certain members of the Board of Supervisors look upon that in rather a technical manner, they are rather touched in their pride, their pride is hurt if they feel that they are acknowledging to the world that they have made a mistake. There are people of that type, and they are not very easily reached. I know, members of the Board, because I have associated with them for years, and they are hard men to ever get at any time to change their views on certain matters. It is not an easy matter. I won't take up any more of the time of the Board, because I realize that a vote will be taken here this afternoon, and a vote has been taken, and perhaps you are set in your views, but I want to say, as one member of the Board, and I want the record to show, that I feel that a great mistake is being made by not reconsidering the entire matter and allowing those citizens who are interested, and highly interested, within the area we are prescribing certain restrictions on, the right to present their views to this Board, and I think we are depriving them of this right, irrespective of what the other members say about the great delay. I am told that they did not know anything about this matter until a week or two ago, and they have not had their day in court, and I, as one member of the Board, feel that they are entitled to their day in court in this Board, and for this reason I am greatly in favor of a vote to reconsider, and feel that a great mistake will be made if we do not vote to reconsider the question.

SUPERVISOR PEYSER: I still make my point of order, and I stand on it; that as a member of the Board that until the Chief of Police arrives this should not be voted on.

SUPERVISOR STANTON: I rise to a point of order, Mr. Chairman, that you called for the vote of the Board, and now permitting an argument to go on after you have already called for it.

SUPERVISOR PEYSER: I simply want to say this, for the record, that I think I have a right, as a member of this Board, to have the Chief of Police here in person, and I believe that it is my right to refuse to vote until I have received the information from him, and if it is my right I will exercise it.

THE CHAIRMAN: Call the roll, Mr. Clerk, on reconsideration.

SUPERVISOR ANDRIANO: Aye.

A special meeting of the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco, State of California, was held at the above time, in the chambers of the Board, City Hall, San Francisco.

Supervisor Gallagher, you have the floor.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: The roll call of the old Board has been called, and in view of the fact that there is no unfinished business before the Board, I respectfully suggest, your Honor, that we open these ceremonies with the playing of the Star Spangled Banner, and then proceed to the roll call of the newly elected officials.

THE CHAIRMAN: If there is no objection, such will be the course. (Bringing down the gavel.)

(Thereupon the audience arose and the band played the Star Spangled Banner.)

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Mr. Mayor, I would like to inquire if the County Clerk desires to swear in any member of the Board of Supervisors at this time, or if that has been completed?

THE CHAIRMAN: Mr. Mulcrevy.

COUNTY CLERK MULCREVY: That will be attended to after this meeting, as agreeable to his Honor the Mayor and the members.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: The County Clerk states that he will complete the preliminary swearing as is agreeable to your Honor and to the members after this meeting. I therefore, Mr. Mayor, ask that the roll of the new Board of Supervisors be called at this time.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I suggest, to complete the official proceedings, to let the Supervisors who have not yet been sworn in by the County Clerk arise and be sworn in.

SUPERVISOR RONCOVIERI: I was sworn in before the vote; I don't know if it is necessary to be sworn in now again or not.

THE CHAIRMAN: I think it is better.

(Thereupon the incoming members of the Board of Supervisors stood up and were sworn in by the County Clerk.)

THE CHAIRMAN: I was just going to make a statement.

The first order of business, it now being twelve o'clock noon, the time when the new Charter becomes effective, the first order of business will be the election by the Board of Supervisors of their new president. Supervisor Gallagher.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Your Honor, I have the honor to introduce at this time Honorable Jesse C. Colman, who will nominate a member of the Board for the next President of this Board. Supervisor Colman.

SUPERVISOR COLMAN: Mr. Mayor, Governor Rolph—it is hard to say "Governor," because we have said "Mayor" so very often—(applause), Mrs. Rossi, First Lady of San Francisco (applause), my colleagues, and ladies and gentlemen:

Under the new Charter the presiding officer of the Board of Supervisors will be one of its own members elected by the Board. In placing our candidate before you—and I say "our" advisedly—I feel qualified to do so; after an acquaintanceship and association of ten years, certainly I know intimately our candidate, J. Emmet Hayden. (Applause.)

This gentleman has served his City faithfully and well for more than twenty years. He has won the respect and admiration of his colleagues by his ability and by his fairness.

His great gift to the citizens of San Francisco, something he can look back upon with pride and pleasure, and something that we should be very grateful for, is that J. Emmet Hayden is the father of municipal music. (Applause.)

It is hard to estimate the good that Mr. Hayden has done by fathering this, his most—well, his own most sacred hobby, if you can call it that, his own desire, his own love. It started very modestly, and, today, has assumed great importance, and thousands of people attend our concerts and have been benefited, and through the efforts of Mr. Hayden.

As chairman of the Finance Committee he made a splendid record for sound, constructive work.

When the Supervisors considered a president, unanimously we decided on J. Emmet Hayden. (Applause.)

It is a tribute he well deserves, and I feel highly honored at the opportunity of placing before you and nominating as first President of the Board of Supervisors, the name of J. Emmet Hayden. (Loud applause.)

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: His Excellency the Governor of this great State of California, his Honor the Mayor of the City of Saint Francis, and, as was said before, the First Lady of the Land of San Francisco, I bid you welcome here today, and I deem it a pleasure and a privilege to second the nomination of the man who has occupied the office of Supervisor for twenty-two years. No man in the history of San Francisco has ever occupied that position for such a length of time.

I can go back, well, a number of years, when Emmet and I went to the old Lincoln School together; I remember that well, and I remember well the day that he was installed as a Supervisor in the old City Hall on Eddy street, only three years after the great fire, and twenty-two years he has occupied that position. I have often differed with him; often, perhaps, I will continue to do so at times, but I respect him, positively respect him, and, as I have said to him, not once but often, the man is very fortunate that would have Emmet Hayden as his floor leader. Perhaps that word, or term, has never been used much, but, nevertheless, during my time as a Supervisor, I have seen Emmet Hayden act as floor leader, and as such he is second to none. (Applause.)

Today, we are about to elect him as our President, and as a member of this Board I feel we will make no mistake in electing the dean of the Board, who, as I have often stated, is the cleverest parliamentarian that we have on the Board. He knows his work, and I am sure that he will exercise his rights as President, impartially and fairly to all, and for the benefit of this great City of San Francisco.

This is a great day today; we are about to bring in a new Charter, a Charter that will mean a great deal to the City of San Francisco. I remember well when the old Charter was installed. I remember the improvements that it made under the old consolidation act, and I feel that this new Charter will mean a great deal to the City of San Francisco, and in closing, again let me state that I deem it a great honor and privilege to second the nomination of Mr. J. Emmet Hayden as our President.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Mr. Chairman, the new President having been installed——

THE CHAIRMAN (interrupting): If you will pardon me just a moment, Mr. Gallagher.

Members of the Board, under the new Charter the greatest honor within the gift of this Board is the election of its President; this is the last time that your Mayor will preside over this legislative body. You have elected Supervisor J. Emmet Hayden to that very important post, and I want you to know that nothing pleases me more, because Supervisor Hayden has been not alone a colleague on the Board of Supervisors, but likewise a lifelong friend. It is not necessary for me to review the splendid work and service that he has rendered San Francisco. As has been said here, he has been a member of this Board for the past twenty-two years. Each time his name has been presented to the voters of San Francisco he has been returned to office upon his record. He has every reason to feel proud of that record, because those twenty-two years that he was a member of this Board, enacting the legislation for this City, he did his part, gave up his time and gave his talent, during the period of reconstruction of San Francisco. So he can always point with pride to the record which he has made as a public official.

I also want to take this opportunity to thank him, and the members of the Finance Committee, and likewise every other member of the Board, for the splendid work which they did in making up the budget of last year. It was a difficult task, and it was well done and met with the appreciation of the people as a whole. So I want you to know, Mr. Hayden, that I deeply appreciate the work done in that direction, and I know it was appreciated by the people of San Francisco.

I am happy to have the honor to present to you your President for the next two years, and I want to say to you, President Hayden, I wish you continued success and happiness; and I know that he is going to appreciate and enjoy the high honor you have conferred upon him, and that he will continue, in the future as he has in the past, to give the very best that is in him to the people of our City.

President Hayden (handing President Hayden the gavel). (Applause.)

(Thereupon the newly elected President of the Board of Supervisors, J. Emmet Hayden, acted as Chairman of the meeting.)

THE PRESIDENT (bringing down the gavel): The members will kindly come to order.

Under the provisions of the new Charter we are, for the first time in the history of San Francisco, acting with a President elected by the present membership of the Board of Supervisors.

I want to say, Mr. Mayor, Governor Rolph, Mrs. Rossi, and my own dear wife, that I indeed have reasons to be proud in being selected by the Board of Supervisors as its first President. I deeply appreciate the compliments tendered me by Supervisors Colman and McSheehy, because I realize they reflect the sentiments of my colleagues on the Board during these many years. I appreciate the compliment extended by his Honor the Mayor, and, needless to say, as he has expressed it, we have enjoyed a friendship of a lifetime; a friendship that has lasted and will last to the end of time.

I am very proud to be here as your President on this Board, as I shall succeed his Excellency the Governor, and as I have succeeded the former President, ex-Mayor McCarthy, who was Mayor of this City when I was first elected a member of the Board twenty-three years ago.

My responsibility will not be very great; the Board is guided by rules, and under those rules we conduct our business, and when we run short of rules, from a parliamentary standpoint, then we go back to Roberts' Rules of Order as the last word. Sometimes in making decisions we might disagree with the membership of the Board, but, after all, it has been the precedent in the past that the Board is the best judge of its own procedure. As I say, I shall at all times have in mind the rules of the Board, and I shall observe them and will interpret them in all fairness and impartially, and I hope and trust that my position as the first President of the Board of Supervisors will be a happy one and a harmonious one, and I again thank you for the honor you have conferred upon me. (Applause.)

The first order of business will be the oath of office taken by his Honor the Mayor, at this time, and given by Harry I. Mulcrevy, County Clerk. Mr. Mulcrevy.

(Thereupon Angelo J. Rossi was duly sworn in as Mayor of the City and County of San Francisco by the County Clerk, Harry I Mulcrevy.)

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Mr. President and members of the Board——

THE PRESIDENT: Just a minute, Supervisor Gallagher.

I am afraid the audience, the taxpayers here in general, may not be familiar with the gentleman now on the floor—— (Applause.)

——I want to have the honor and distinction of making my first appointment as President of the Board. I hereby appoint Supervisor Gallagher master of ceremonies for this occasion.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I can say right now that if he hasn't changed, I am liable to lose this job any minute. (Applause.)

However, ladies and gentlemen, and friends of the air, it is not my purpose as chairman of the committee on inaugural ceremonies to delay those friends, thousands of whom are on the air, and those hundreds who are in this room. I shall therefore serve the best purpose, I think, if I recite that you have just listened to what will be an historical occasion. For the last time the Mayor of the City and County of San Francisco presided officially over this Board. At 12 o'clock noon his right to preside under the new Charter ceased, and I am very sure he is glad to be rid of that job. I would like to recite further that on the platform at this time are two ex-Mayors of San Francisco, together with the present Mayor.

Now, without delay, and in view of the fact that there are, as we know, thousands of people from Vancouver to San Diego, east and west and north and south, waiting for what we have to offer here today, I have the honor to request of you, Mr. President, on behalf of the Board, that his Honor the Mayor, Angelo J. Rossi, now deliver to the Board his annual message, his inaugural message, if you will, to the Board of Supervisors.

THE PRESIDENT: Ladies and gentlemen, it is with a great deal of pride that I present to you his Honor, Angelo J. Rossi, Mayor of the City and County of San Francisco, who will now deliver his inaugural message. Mayor Rossi.

Inaugural Address by His Honor, Mayor Rossi.

To the Honorable, the Board of Supervisors, City and County of San Francisco.

Gentlemen: The new Charter provides that the Mayor "shall at the first meeting of the Board of Supervisors in January of each year communicate by message to the Supervisors a general statement of the condition of the affairs of the City and County and recommend the adoption of such measures as he may deem expedient and proper." Pursuant to this provision of the new Charter, I am transmitting to you herewith my annual message:

With the new year, a new governmental era has begun in San Francisco. After thirty-two years under what we now call "the old Charter," a new instrument of government was adopted by the voters of San Francisco. It is the result of the thoughtful efforts of a board of freeholders, chosen by our citizens, to give to San Francisco a new organic law. To accomplish all that the freeholders had in mind when they framed it, we must have not only the efforts of the officers chosen pursuant to its provisions, but also the support of all good citizens. The most solemn obligation resting upon the Mayor of San Francisco, as well as upon those who serve with him, will be to observe and respect its every provision so that its power for good may be exercised in every relationship between the citizens and their chosen officials. Only by strictly observing the provisions of the Charter in letter and spirit can its possibilities be properly tested. This is a responsibility which rests on every City official—and I accept my full share of it.

When I became Mayor last year it was by appointment of the Board of Supervisors, and it is gratifying to me and, I am sure, pleasing to you, to realize that the people themselves have confirmed the judgment of my former colleagues on the Board. I start with responsibilities the like of which have not been faced since the late Senator James D. Phelan had the task of putting the Charter of 1900 into effect. In this work I ask the wholehearted and constructive cooperation of my fellow citizens. To the limit of my abilities I shall serve them, and shall expect all other municipal servants to do the same.

We are passing through stressful times, which call for sympathetic consideration for our fellow man. Naturally our helpfulness must be exerted in a special way for those who are in actual want. What the Mayor could do, in a humane and helpful way, I have tried with all my heart to accomplish in this emergency. Much more must be done this year, and my efforts will be dedicated to this duty.

During my incumbency of office during the past year much was accomplished that had a direct bearing on the immediate problem of relief as well as on the permanent welfare of San Francisco.

The Tax Rate

Through the efforts of the Board of Supervisors and their able Finance Committee, the tax rate was kept at the same figure as that of the fiscal year preceding. This was done in spite of the fact that revenue from Hetch Hetchy power was reduced $800,000, that $700,000 was appropriated for relief of the needy, and that there had been an unprecedented shrinkage in intangibles subject to assessment, and accounts receivable. I am happy to state that the people of San Francisco now pay the lowest tax rate of any large city in the United States.

It will be my sincere endeavor to see that the tax rate is kept at the lowest possible figure, commensurate with the needs of our City, under the provisions of our new Charter. To accomplish this purpose will require the most rigid economy in every city department. The revenues of each year must be sufficient to take care of the obligations of that year. There is also a specific provision in the new Charter to the effect that "any compensation paid as of January 1, 1931, to an incumbent who legally held a position in the City and County at that time shall not be reduced, so long as such incumbent holds such position." Further, the Charter provides for a minimum rate of 10 cents on the $100 for park purposes and 7 cents for playground purposes, while under the provisions of the old Charter the minimum rate for park purposes was 7 cents and for playground purposes 5 cents. These mandatory provisions leave us only one mode of action—that is, the strictest economy in every department; to refrain from filling vacancies in existing positions, unless the good of the service absolutely demands that said vacancies should be filled; and the creation of no additional positions, except in most urgent cases.

Hetch Hetchy Water Supply

San Francisco, like the rest of the Pacific coast, was seriously affected by a cycle of dry years, happily ended within the past two months. This drought brought to a crisis the question of our domestic water supply .

We had been forced to develop enough water for our needs by drawing on wells in the Sunset District to the limit of their capacity; by deepening wells owned by the City in the Livermore valley and adjacent areas in Alameda County, in order to meet the lowered water table, and by purchasing some thirty-five million gallons of water daily from the East Bay Municipal Utilities District. All necessary, though costly, makeshifts.

With no means of determining how long the cycle of drought might continue, San Francisco was confronted with the necessity of rendering Hetch Hetchy water immediately available.

Accordingly, work on the forty-seven-mile pipe line across the San Joaquin valley was speeded up, and a contract for the entire construction was awarded. A contract was also awarded for an emergency pipe line, connecting the easterly portal of the Coast Range Tunnels with the Alameda Creek Portal, at a cost of $1,545,000.

This action not only allayed the fear of water shortage and supplied substantial employment so badly needed by many citizens of San Francisco, but more especially assured San Francisco of the delivery of Hetch Hetchy water to our householders by June of the present year.

Greater San Francisco

Men of vision in our City and in our neighboring communities look forward to the not distant future, when the entire metropolitan area to the south of us will become a part of Greater San Francisco.

The new Charter specifically provides a method of consolidation for San Francisco and San Mateo County and the establishment of boroughs by adding adjacent territory. Enabling legislation and detailed procedure are completely outlined in our new Charter.

Our Hetch Hetchy water supply is a factor that attracts the peninsula communities to this consolidation. Another factor which must be worked out is the improvement of rapid interurban transportation facilities from San Francisco southward.

With the completion of the Bay Shore highway we have three main arteries of traffic down the peninsula; namely, the Bay Shore, the Junipero Serra and the Skyline boulevards. The bottle neck in the Junipero Serra boulevard at Colma is to be broken immediately. Our City is no longer isloated from communities to the south, as far as automobile traffic is concerned.

But rapid transit interurban traffic must be given more attention and immediately improved. The rate at which the peninsula is developing warrants expenditures in this regard.

Bay Bridges

The Golden Gate Bridge and the Rincon Hill-Alameda County Trans-bay Bridge will, when construction operations are in progress, give a tremendous stimulus to San Francisco's growth. Every effort at the command of the Board of Supervisors and of the City and County of San Francisco should be exerted to insure the immediate realization of these contemplated structures. They will initiate a new era for the entire Bay district—indeed, for all of northern California. These bridges, with our Hetch Hetchy water supply, and improved rapid transit facilities, are the necessary forerunners of a Greater San Francisco.

New Industries

While an increase of our population is most desirable, it is no asset to a city to be compelled to harbor indigents who come from other localities and, by force of circumstances, become a burden upon rather than a benefit to our City. Therefore, we must exert every effort not only to attract new industries to San Francisco, but also to increase the payrolls of those industries which are already established here, to the end that not only our own citizens but also those who come to us may find the means of caring for themselves. The development of the available industrial areas of San Francisco is important to our welfare and future progress. Every inducement will be offered to all manufacturers to establish branch plants in San Francisco, and to the local manufacturer to increase and broaden the field of his activity. Our citizens should favor in their purchases articles manufactured here. We must capitalize to the utmost our splendid facilities of rail and water transportation and our unrivaled climate. We must do our utmost to lower not only the tax rate, but the rates for industrial water, power and fuel, in order to persuade more manufacturers to establish themselves here.

Unemployment Relief

San Francisco has been the most progressive and generous city in the United States in meeting the emergency crisis of unemployment. Something over a year ago this problem developed. Since there were not sufficient funds available in the City Treasury to meet the demands for relief, a bond issue of $2,500,000 was voted by the people by an overwhelming majority.

As Mayor, I appointed a committee of citizens, consisting of Selah Chamberlain, chairman; Frank C. MacDonald, John Forbes, James B. Smith, William H. Crocker, John A. O'Connell, Mrs. M. C. Sloss, Archbishop Edward J. Hanna, Dean Gresham, Kenneth Kingsbury, Clyde Healy and C. M. Wollenberg, to deal with this problem. Under their direction this money was expended efficiently, and they have earned the gratitude of all of our citizens.

This bond issue not only furnished our City with many needed improvements but also afforded relief for the unemployment situation during the year 1931.

In figuring relief for the current year it was deemed inadvisable to present an additional bond issue to the people for this purpose and a relief program was adopted.

While we realize that the relief extended to our distressed citizens is not solving the problem of unemployment, I can truthfully assert that we are preventing hunger and distress.

The relief program is under the direction of Charles M. Wollenberg, Superintendent of the Laguna Honda Home, but in the actual operation it is consolidated with the activities of the Community Chest and the relief agencies under that organization, such as the Associated Charities, Catholic Charities, Jewish Charities and the Italian Board of Relief.

The City has appropriated $700,000, the municipal employees are contributing one day's pay a month for a period of eight months, totaling approximately $600,000, for which great credit and thanks are due them, and nearly one-half million dollars of the total of $2,500,000 raised through the Community Chest, is devoted directly to this relief program. It is hoped that this money will be sufficient to carry us to the end of 1932, although the number applying for relief is daily increasing and this increase will be continuous until the middle of March.

San Francisco stands out most prominently among the great cities for its generous response to the appeal of the needy and is complimented by all who have investigated the efficient manner in which the problem has been handled.

The splendid cooperation given by the various civic bodies, fraternal organizations and the citizens in general has contributed to the effectiveness of this work.

We of San Francisco are not dismayed by any passing crisis, any more than we were overcome or lacking in means through which to cope with the disaster which overtook us in 1906.

Realizing that the cure for unemployment is payrolls rather than bread lines, my every effort has been to promote public construction enterprises. If at this time I enumerate some of the projects which have been started during my administration, as well as those that are on the way to completion, it is but to emphasize that San Francisco is trying wholeheartedly to meet its obligations to its citizens and to maintain its position as the progressive community of the West.

Streets and Boulevards

The Bay Shore highway, Alemany boulevard, Junipero Serra boulevard, Nineteenth avenue extension, Bernal Cut, the Great Highway and Esplanade and Sunset boulevard have been completed. Work is also on the way on the widening of Army street, which will provide another direct thoroughfare from east to west across our City and connect the Mission with the Potrero. The extension of Van Ness avenue southerly to Howard street will be finished during the present month. The opening of Fulton street into Market street and Leavenworth street, from McAllister to Fulton, will be a marked improvement to the Civic Center.

While the City has been fostering constructive enterprises, the State has done its part. Notable improvements have been made in our waterfront by adjusting grades and repaving the Embarcadero.

Another notable improvement will be the opening of the Colma Bottleneck, for which we are indebted to the State Highway Commission for their cooperation and assistance.

Sale of City Property

The City owns many parcels of vacant land in various sections. These parcels are of such a size that they will not be available for public use. An effort will be made to dispose of them, either by sale or trade, and with the proceeds of said sales, to secure property of sufficient area and proper location to take care of the future needs of our City, both for school and playground purposes.

Real estate owned by the City, but not in use or capable of use by it, will be disposed of whenever a satisfactory price can be received. This will place on the assessment roll many pieces of property which are not now taxable.

The Third Street Bridge

For many years the Third Street Bridge was a matter of controversy and dissension. I am pleased to report that during my administration I have used every effort to assure the construction of this important bridge. The contract has been awarded and construction is now under way and should be completed within six months. The cooperation of the Harbor Commission was effective in bringing about this desired improvement.

The old bridge restricted the channel depth to 22 feet. The new structure will allow a depth of 80 feet and have a clearance between fenders of 103 feet and a span width of 140 feet. It will provide for two street car tracks and one Belt Line Railway track, as well as six lanes of vehicular traffic. It will be of great service to the future industrial growth of the section south of the channel.

Islais Creek Reclamation District

One of the most important progressive measures for the development of industrial land inside the City was undertaken by a commission organized under State authority to reclaim 280 acres of marsh and tide lands for industrial and other uses. Bonds were issued, payable by assessment on the property, and the total cost of the work is estimated at $1,620,000. Construction is actively progressing.

Parks and Playgrounds

San Francisco has kept pace with the demand for splendid recreation facilities in the shape of parks and playgrounds. No city in the West is better equipped. Golden Gate Park is known the world over. The addition of Yacht Harbor and Aquatic Park completes an outstanding unit in our park system.

Reconstruction on the old Palace of Fine Arts has progressed to the point where it is expected that the building will be open to the public within the next three months.

The golf enthusiast, in addition to the splendid courses of Lincoln Park and Harding Park, will soon have a further field of action in Sharp Park Golf Course, which is practically completed and will be open for play on or about February 22nd.

We owe a debt of gratitude to the members of the Park Commission and our Playground Commission, who, despite the magnitude of their individual private interests, devote their time unselfishly to the advancement of San Francisco's recreational facilities.

Aquatic Park

Work on the Aquatic Park project was at a standstill owing to various complications with the federal government. These complications I proceeded to straighten out, with the result that construction is now under way. A contract has been awarded for the construction of the first section of the recreation pier. This park will be a favorite recreation center; and one that was looked forward to for many years.

Yacht Harbor

The Yacht Harbor that has been constructed on the Marina is now one of the show places of San Francisco. It has brought to our City the pleasure-craft of San Francisco Bay. All the land from the Presidio to the transport docks will be acquired for the extension of this great asset to our waterfront.

The Yacht Harbor is a self-supporting improvement.

Federal Building

The Federal Building in the Civic Center, a proposed five million dollar structure, was likewise at a standstill when I assumed the office of Mayor in January, 1931, on account of existing controversies with property owners. After considerable negotiation all of the obstacles have finally been removed, a deed to the property has been given to the federal government and construction work on this new unit in our Civic Center will be started immediately. It should gratify our citizens to observe the present construction activities in the Civic Center.

On the west, the five million dollar War Memorial and Opera House; on the south, the million dollar Health Center Building are furnishing employment to hundreds of our local mechanics and laborers. Long before these are completed, work on the Federal Building will be well under way.

But while we look forward with justifiable hope and pride to a bright future, we must not let our expectations blind us to our immediate municipal needs.

School Department

Many improvements can be introduced in our School Department and will be looked forward to with eagerness by all who are interested in the education of our youth. A more uniform and up-to-date system of accounting must be made effective. More attention must be paid to numerous details which will be the subject of a special report in the immediate future. While the personnel of the department is of the highest character, there has been a lack of harmony and of effective cooperation, which have had a deterrent effect on morale. I hope to see during the coming year an increase in efficiency and an improvement in the general functions of this department.

To meet the demands for improvement and modernization in school buildings, it will be my recommendation that a bond issue again be submitted to the electorate during the coming spring. While under normal conditions the "pay-as-you-go-plan" is most desirable, only by a bond issue can San Francisco keep pace with modern school structure requirements, and give to our youth safe and wholesome school environments.

Department of Public Works

Under the new Charter, the Board of Public Works and other departments will be replaced by a Director of Works, who will be under the Chief Administrative Officer. It is hoped that under the new Charter many economies can be effected in this department.

Police Department

The efficiency of our Police Department is recognized not only in San Francisco but throughout the United States.

Installation of the modern scientific devices for the protection of the lives and property of our citizens have more than kept pace with the modern tendencies of the criminal. San Francisco has been particularly free from serious organized crime waves; from gangsters; and from racketeers, at a time when unemployment would naturally stimulate crime activities.

To the Board of Police Commissioners, to Chief William J. Quinn and to the members of that department, we are indebted for its splendid efficiency.

Fire Department

San Francisco has also reason to be proud of its well-disciplined and highly efficient Fire Department. Under the able direction of the Board of Fire Commissioners and the supervision of Chief Charles F. Brennan, the executive head of the department, the efficient, courageous, well-trained body of men who form the rank and file of San Francisco's fire-fighting force have won national recognition.

In recognition of the efficiency of the Fire Department, San Francisco enjoys a very low insurance rate.

Board of Health

During the past year the City of San Francisco lost a valued and efficient public servant, in the person of the late Doctor William C. Hassler, Health Officer. Under his executive leadership, the Health Department has been advanced to an eminently efficient organization.

A worthy successor to Doctor Hassler was found in Doctor Jacob C. Geiger, who, as Health Officer, has had charge of the department for the last three months, and who, in his brief tenure of office, has given every indication of the splendid professional and executive ability which were the determining factors in dictating his appointment.

Garbage Disposal

A question closely related to public health is the problem of sanitary garbage disposal. San Francisco, like many other American cities, has to date failed to reach the proper and efficient solution of garbage disposal. The present incinerator at Fifteenth and De Haro streets constitutes a public nuisance. One of the first problems that I shall place before the Chief Administrative Officer and Director of Health will be the immediate solution of our garbage disposal problem. The time for temporizing on this subject is past and I am looking toward definite and efficient results for the immediate future.

Municipal Railways

San Francisco has been one of the few cities in the United States which has maintained the five-cent fare. The Municipal Railways have been instrumental in upbuilding outlying districts in San Francisco and contributing to our growth and development. While opponents of municipal ownership find much to criticize in book deficits, even the most caustic critics must recognize that the Municipal Railroads have been of great value to our City.

During the past year the Railroad Commission of the State of California at the instance of the Board of Supervisors made a survey of the conditions under which the railway was being operated. The engineers of the Commission made a most careful investigation of every detail relative to the conduct of the road. Their report has just been filed with your Board and I am pleased to be able to announce that it reflects most creditably upon the management of the railroad. It makes certain recommendations whereby a considerable saving can be made in the operation of the road, by the consolidation of certain lines.

The new Public Utilities Commission will, I am sure, give most careful consideration to this report and to its recommendations.

Public Utilities Commission

The Charter has committed the City to the municipal ownership of public utilities. With this provision I am, and always have been, heartily in accord. Those whom I have appointed upon the Public Utilities Commission have definitely pledged themselves in favor of this policy.

Appointees Under the New Charter

The most important appointments that the Mayor has under the Charter are the Chief Administrative Officer and Controller and Public Utilities Commission. The Chief Administrative Officer, under the provisions of the Charter, is made responsible to the Mayor for the administration of all affairs of the City and County which are by the mandate of the Charter placed in his hands.

Naturally, the utmost confidence and the closest harmony must exist between the Mayor and his Chief Administrative Officer. If not, the hopes which the Charter framers had for both of these officials must fail.

I have most carefully scrutinized the names of various persons suggested to me for this important position and, taking into consideration the fact of the harmony and confidence which must exist between the Mayor and this official and the peculiar ability and knowledge of the affairs of San Francisco which this official must have, I have selected for the first Chief Administrative Officer of San Francisco, Mr. Alfred J. Cleary.

Mr. Cleary has an insight into the affairs and needs of San Francisco. He is not new in the service of the City. For many years he served as a First Assistant City Engineer and in this capacity supervised and directed some of the City's most important construction projects. He left the service of the City to engage in the work of his chosen profession, and served as engineer on many of the most important construction projects in our State.

When I assumed the office of Mayor at the beginning of the present year, I practically drafted him to the position as my Executive Secretary; and, since that time, not only has he familiarized himself with the affairs of my office, but has likewise come in contact with every department of our city government.

I feel that Mr. Cleary's high standing in San Francisco, the keen knowledge of its affairs and the unselfish service which he has always rendered to the City and which I know he will continue to render as Chief Administrative Officer, eminently fit him for the position to which he is appointed and I know that the confidence which I have placed in him will be justified to the fullest extent; and that he will bring to his new position every qualification which the Charter framers felt that its incumbent should possess.

For Controller, I have recommended to your Board, as provided in the Charter, Mr. Leonard S. Leavy. Mr. Leavy is a graduate of the University of California. He has served our City long, faithfully, with marked intelligence and exceptional efficiency. He is an expert in city government. His connection with the Board of Public Works as Chief Accountant; his tenure of the position of Purchasing Agent for the last five years have proven him to be the type of man on which any municipality or any private corporation might rely absolutely, to give the best of his splendid talents unstintingly toward the service of the public.

Mr. Leavy ranks highly in the esteem of his fellow citizens and highly on the roll of the various technical societies of accountants and purchasing agents of which he is a member. No man in public life has a better grasp on the intricate details of auditing and municipal finance than Mr. Leavy. I am confident that he will render exceptional service and help in the realization of a higher degree of efficiency in municipal government.

For the other positions in the City government for which the Mayor selects the appointees, I have been equally careful in my choice.

To the following commissions I have appointed:

Lewis F. Byington, George Filmer, Edwin M. Eddy, John H. McCallum, Daniel C. Murphy.

Board of Education

Philip Lee Bush, vice Alfred I. Esberg.

Harry K. Wolff, vice Lewis F. Byington.

Board of Permit Appeals

Playground Commission

Mrs. Sigmund Stern, succeeding herself; George R. Hearst, succeeding himself; Miss Alicia Mosgrove, succeeding herself; J. C. Berendsen, vice Constant Auger; Wm. A. Leahy, succeeding himself.

City Planning Commission

C. Harold Caulfield, vice William Hannam.

Park Commission

Wm. H. Humphrey, succeeding himself; George Tourny, succeeding himself.

Other appointments as provided by the new Charter will be made within the next few days.

I feel that the new appointees who have consented to serve San Francisco under my administration will measure up in every respect to the hopes of our citizens. Several commissions have been abolished by the new Charter. To the retiring officials who occupied these various positions, as Mayor of San Francisco, I extend our City's hearty thanks for faithful services rendered.

In this message I have briefly alluded merely to the highlights in our municipal activities and problems. The keynote of my administration will be economy, efficiency, progress.

San Francisco must vindicate its reputation as a city undaunted, a city of enterprise, a city of progress and determination. This can and will be done if I have the sincere and unselfish support of our citizens.

I look forward with optimism to the future of our city. The spirit of '49, the spirit of 1906 still flourishes in San Francisco—our city of bright destiny. If when my term of office expires I may realize that I have lived up to the ideals which on this, the day of my inauguration, inspire me; if I may know that I have retained the esteem of those who believe in me; and have given to my critics no valid cause for complaint, but possibly have won their respect also; if I may recognize that San Francisco, the city of which we are all so justly proud, has, under my guidance, progressed toward its glorious destiny, then, and only then, will the memory of my tenure in office as Mayor of your City fill me with satisfaction.

MAYOR ROSSI: My fellow citizens, I want to take this opportunity to thank the Governor of our State for being present here today. It is needless for me to say that the State has made wonderful progress under his leadership, and while he is now our Governor residing at Sacramento, his heart is always in San Francisco, and it is always a pleasure to have him with us, and may I say to him that we hope to have him come and visit us oftener than he has in the past.

I want also to take this opportunity of thanking all public officials here today, and likewise our citizens.

I want to welcome also to the Board of Supervisors our new member, Mr. Arthur M. Brown. I want him to know that I will always cooperate with him in every way possible for the benefit of our City, and to those members of the Board of Supervisors who are retiring from public office, I wish them every possible success in anything they may undertake, and I also want to take this opportunity for thanking them for the services they have rendered to the City which we all love.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Mr. President, and Mayor, and Governor Rolph: Your Board has arranged a program for this occasion, and it shall be my pleasant duty to ask you, Mr. President, to present the first speaker. All of the speakers who may be introduced here this afternoon I am sure will find a flood of fine words to fit the occasion, but this particular young man is very bashful. I doubt if he has ever appeared on this public platform before, and being a young man making his first attempt, you will have to treat him kindly. I ask the President to introduce none other than our old friend "Jimmie" Rolph. (Loud applause, and the audience arose.)

THE PRESIDENT: Ladies and gentlemen, after nineteen years of service under James Rolph, Jr., as Mayor of the City and County of San Francisco, I take particular pride today in introducing him, his Excellency the Governor of the State of California, Hon. James Rolph, Jr. (Applause.)

GOVERNOR JAMES ROLPH, JR.: Mr. President, and gentlemen of the Board of Supervisors, Mr. Mayor, and my fellow citizens: This scene brings back to my memory many happy occasions of the past. It brings back to my mind my appearance on this rostrum at the close of 1915 when we entered this building and dedicated it to the uses for which it has been used. This occasion brings to my mind the campaign of 1911, when there was no City Hall and we met at 64 Eddy street, and later moved into the Whitcomb Hotel, and then came here in 1915. There were many pleasant faces seated in the groups that assembled in those days of the past. We miss many of them today, but we cannot change them with the men and the women who love to come here to sit with the Board of Supervisors and to attend the inaugural exercises of their friends and their relatives taking their places in the public service. So in looking out upon the faces of those who look at me today I view the changes of time. I see the City that was; I see the City that is; I view the problems of the past, and I view the problems of the present, and I see the problems of the future. We are gathered here this morning to watch a change in our City, when the Board of Supervisors, those that occupy public places, those who take the reins of government in their hands today, are gathered with their loved ones and friends, to view this new Charter of 1932 come into existence, and to view the old Charter pass out, which has been referred to by the Mayor, the one which Senator James D. Phelan, then occupying the position of Mayor of this City, inaugurated, and which during the past thirty-two years we have lived under, that old Charter, and we now come together to witness the installation of new officers under the Charter just adopted by the people of San Francisco.

I commend that Mayor of our City for the able and interesting address, the inaugural address which he has presented to us this morning. I congratulate him on the award which is his, and the manly, able viewpoint expressed by him that he will carry out, to the best of his ability, those provisions of the Charter which the people have elected shall be carried out.

The Governor comes upon the request of the Mayor and the committee on arrangements to join you on this happy occasion. The Governor also comes to wish to the President of the new Board of Supervisors, and to the Supervisors themselves, a profitable and a happy and a useful career. The Mayor was right when he said that no time ever existed in the history of our country when gerater duties were thrown upon the shoulders of the men and the women who have had placed upon them the responsibilities and duties of their offices. At no time in the history of our country, and at no time in the history of any city have the problems been as great as they are at the present time, and when the Mayor set out in his message that the outstanding problem among us all today is to try and find employment for those who are willing to work and who cannot find employment, it is true. This is a very serious problem, confronting the whole world. It is not local; it is not national; it is universal; but if we will but meet the message of the Mayor and have that foremost in our minds, it will be helpful, because it is a time not so much for the giving of charity as the giving to them the right to work, the right to be occupied, and the right to live as honest citizens willing to work have the right to live. So therefore all public officials must give their time and efforts in the building of the human body, and to those who are in distress they must give their time and their efforts to the building of enterprises and the creation of work.

Mr. Mayor, you have a great responsibility upon your shoulders, and I congratulate you that you have the opportunity to show that which I know is in you, the correction, as a real leader, of the problems of this City.

The Governor has his problems, too, and I look back upon the happy days I spent with you. Oh, I look back to the day when I was first elected as Mayor twenty years ago. Twenty years ago when I was inaugurated as Mayor, and twenty years later I come here to see my successor to that office inaugurated. Proud? I am so proud that I visit all over this great State and take great pleasure in saying that I was the Mayor of the great City of San Francisco for twenty years, the longest term of office held by any Mayor in the history of the world.

So I could say something about the problems of the State, because the cities and the State are tied in with each other. We of San Francisco are citizens of this great commonwealth. We have a population of approximately 725,000 poeple, and there are outside of this City about 5,675,000 people. We cannot think in terms only of our City, but must think in terms of the great State of California. The State must be a factor in the problems which affect the life and the welfare of the people of the City.

When I tell you that the State of California has expended this year approximately fifty millions of dollars in the building of highways, in the building of roads, and in the building of public improvements, and that the State expends every two years approximately one hundred and six million dollars in public improvements, and has a budget of two hundred and seventy-two million dollars every two years, or nearly four hundred million dollars expended by the State, it is a huge sum of money. When I tell you that the City and County of Los Angeles, with a population of two and one-half millions, expends in its city and county approximately four hundred millions in that city and county, and when I tell you that the City and County of San Francisco, including educational expenses, appropriates and expends approximately two hundred million dollars every two years, I give you a comprehensive view of the amount of money expended in public improvements and for municipal, county and State improvements. They are sums of money which you must give some thought to.

So, also, in the program of the State, in the finding of employment for the people, there are forty-six thousand men at the present time employed on the roads and public buildings throughout the State of California, and there will be more employed next year. There are twenty-three public buildings under way in the State of California, and the problems of government which the Governor had the privilege to learn as Mayor of the City of San Francisco, the Governor is trying to carry into effect in the building of the great State of California. So, Mr. Mayor, in the problems you face as Mayor of this City, please feel assured that the State of California will cooperate with you to the fullest extent to help you solve your problems, as well as all problems of the State, in the most trying times ever met by men in public service, or by the people living in the United States.

I hope that success will smile upon you, Mr. Mayor, and I wish for you a career replete with accomplishments. I congratulate you upon being inducted into office by such a fine group of citizens, and I wish for all of you that prosperity may again smile in the homes in San Francisco; and to our dear old Supervisor, J. Emmet Hayden, twenty-two years a Supervisor of this City and County, I am happy to say to him, as first President of the Board of Supervisors, inducted into office upon such a happy occasion, that I wish to him the best and kindest wishes; and to all of you, that can come to you, and a happy and a prosperous New Year. (Loud applause.)

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: A member of the Board has just sent me a note stating that the problems of State must be very great indeed when, on the occasion of an inaugural, "Jim" Rolph forgot his plug hat and forgot to say something about the dome of the City Hall.

I think I am speaking the sentiments of all when I say that your old City is glad to see you at any time, and at any time you want any candidates for the Boxing Commission, we have them.

Mr. Chairman—Pardon me, President, I haven't become used to that term yet—I desire to ask you to call upon, as the next speaker, a favorite son and renowned citizen of our City, to say nothing of his State work. I ask you to introduce as our next speaker Former Grand President of the Native Sons, and former president of nearly everything in our City, a former member of the Board of Supervisors, former civil service commissioner, and a great many other titles, and who is about to now take up the duties of the Public Utilities Commission, and President of the Board of Freeholders, who wrote and presented this present Charter, and it is in that capacity I desire to ask you, Mr. President, to introduce at this time one of California's favorite citizens, the Honorable Louis F. Byington.

THE PRESIDENT: Mr. Byington is so well known that I don't think a more ceremonious introduction is necessary, and without further ado, I take great pleasure in introducing Honorable Louis F. Byington, a member of the Public Utilities Commission. Mr. Byington.

MR. LOUIS F. BYINGTON: Mr. President, Honorable Mayor, His Excellency the Governor of the State of California: I am certain that the Governor has not forgotten the dome of the City Hall while in Sacramento, but I feel that he has not yet got the correct measurement of the height of the dome in Sacramento, and, therefore, he can not make the requisite comparison, but he has spoken of the dome of the City Hall in San Francisco, all over the State of California, because I have heard him shout its praises through the Sierra Nevadas, way over into Alpine County.

Now my mind runs back a number of years ago, when I was sitting here, thirty-two years ago when we installed the new Charter in this City. My mind runs back to the man who occupied the position now held with honor by Angelo J. Rossi, and I think that the man who was responsible for the first Charter of San Francisco—for prior to that we had a consolidation act—the man responsible for the first Charter of San Francisco has left an impress upon this City and State which time can never eradicate. If I were appointing officials and commissioners serving this City, I would ask them to take example from that Mayor who inaugurated the old Charter, the Honorable James G. Phelan, because Senator Phelan was a man that was actuated by nothing other than the love of his City, and love of his State, and a desire to see all public servants exercise their functions as a public trust.

The Board of Freeholders who framed this Charter do look into the future with a great deal of concern. The success of this Charter depends upon the men whom you elected last fall, and upon the men who are to be placed in office by Honorable Angelo J. Rossi, as Mayor of this City.

You have done me the honor to appoint me a member of the Public Utilities Commission. In 1900, when that new Charter went into effect, we had no public utilities in this City. The Municipal Railways have been constructed, and Spring Valley taken over by the City. The Spring Valley system, and the great Hetch Hetchy system, have all come into being in those last thirty-two years. Nearly one hundred millions of dollars are invested in Hetch Hetchy, and many millions in the Municipal Street Railway system, and in the airport here near the City of San Francisco. As you know, the management of those utilities during the last twenty years has been divided between the Board of Public Works and the Board of Supervisors, and the citizens demanded of the freeholders that they create an appointive commission of five members to handle, in a business-like way, and in an honest manner, the public utilities of this City and County. Your utilities never can be a success unless they are honestly and economically handled. Governor Rolph spoke of the increased expenditures in these days, four hundred million dollars for the City of Los Angeles, and two hundred millions by the City and County of San Francisco. Those are terrible burdens for the taxpayers of this City and a City to bear up under, and it devolves upon the public servants of the City and State to see that those moneys are honestly and economically expended. That is what I feel that this newly created Public Utilities Commission will be doing, that they will eradicate every unnecessary employee. It should be a pride with every man who serves the City, whether upon the Municipal Street Railway, in the Board of Supervisors, or any other line of duty, to perform such duty honestly and with pride in his City, and the employees of the water system, and the Municipal Railway system of San Francisco should take pride in their courtesy, in the zeal that characterizes their work, and in a desire to see these public utilities accorded the respect of those who favor them, and of every citizen of this community, because only by good servants, only by honest servants, and only by a realization that public office is a public trust, can this be accomplished. It devolves upon every employee of this City and County to aid in seeing that we have the best and most honest government possible. Someone has said, many years ago, "For forms of government let fools contest, whatever is best in government is that which is best expressed." That is the way with our municipal service, if it is honestly conducted, no matter what the system, it is going to redound to the benefit of this City and County. We have a splendid Charter that will allow them to exercise their functions properly, and if all of the municipal employees of San Francisco will do their duty with pride in their City, with pride in everything that pertains to public duty, we will have a success, and you people will all have. We have a new Charter that will be functioning and redounding to the credit and welfare of all the citizens of San Francisco. (Applause.)

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Mr. President, the committee desires to present to you another citizen equally important in the production of this Charter. Behind us here in the box are the other members of the Board of Freeholders, and among those Freeholders there was none more assiduous in his duty, more painstaking, or more willing to be liberal, and more willing to write laws so that they might be democratic, and so that the interpretation might be easily understood, than the next speaker. He very seldom comes out in public, and very rarely do we see him on the public platform. If there is something you don't like about the new Charter, this man might possibly be blamed for some of those things, but there are some benefits in it for which he should receive credit, and I ask you to present, Mr. President, as the next speaker, the chairman of the Mayor's Committee on Charter Installation, a member of the Board of Freeholders, Mr. Francis V. Keesling.

THE PRESIDENT: Ladies and gentlemen, I therefore take great pleasure in presenting Mr. Francis V. Keesling, a member of the Board of Freeholders, and chairman of the Mayor's Committee on Charter Installation. Mr. Keesling.

MR. FRANCIS V. KEESLING: Mr. Mayor, his Excellency the Governor, members of the Board of Supervisors, ladies and gentlemen: It may safely be said that the Freeholders are laboring under no delusions as to the results attainable under the new Charter. We know it is not perfect, nor will it be a panacea for all ills. A distinctly satisfactory feature of the work of the Freeholders is that the Charter is the result of unselfish effort. It is difficult for some to realize that there can be a public service not influenced by ulterior motive. Others can see no value in a public service unless it has been their pet project or they have dominated it. As the work progressed, sponsors of plans and theories urged in support of their suggestions that if they were not heeded there would be opposition. Others were not so mild and threatened opposition. In each instance they were informed in no uncertain terms that it would be the policy of the Board to draft what, in the opinion of its members, was a sound, fundamental law for the City, that they could not be concerned without opposition and that they would rely upon the merits of their proposal to inspire the approval of the people. Experienced students in municipal affairs are in accord on the fact that there may be good government resulting from efficient administration of affairs where there is a bad fundamental law and that a good fundamental law will not insure good government where there is a deficient personnel.

Progress towards satisfactory municipal government has lagged. It is probably due to the tremendous growth of American municipalities. As they have developed along cowpaths and trails, they have also outgrown not only sanitary and transportation systems, but as well types of municipal government.

James Bryce, in his new and revised edition of "The American Commonwealth," makes this reference to city government:

"The question of city government is that which chiefly occupies practical publicists in America, because they have long deemed it the weakest point of the country. The adaptability of the institutions to the people and their conditions, which judicious strangers have been wont to admire in the United States, and that consequent satisfaction of the people with their institutions, which contrasts so agreeably with the discontent of European nations, is wholly absent as regards municipal administration.

"What Dante said of his own city may be said of the cities of America; they are like the sick man who finds no rest upon his bed, but seeks to ease his pain by turning from side to side.

"Looked at in this light, rapid growth, the marvel would seem to be, not so much that the American cities are justly criticisable for many defects, but rather that results so great have been achieved in so short a time."

Experience in San Francisco has not been dissimilar to that of other cities. For thirty-one years the government was conducted from a Charter amended from time to time, which Charter at the time of its adoption, was considered to be a model plan of government. There were conditions prevalent which indicated deficiency and that the deficiency must be in the fundamental law, the old Charter. Study by experts eventually established that to be a fact, and a movement to formulate and enact a new law resulted in the election of the Board of Freeholders, which completed its duties on the nineteenth of January, 1931, and a new Charter was presented and submitted to the electorate for adoption.

The Charter was subsequently approved by the people after a very strenuous campaign, which very definitely determined the attitude of the people.

It would not be appropriate on an occasion such as this to take the time necessary to describe in detail the work of the Freeholders. It would be impossible to comply with the requirement of the Constitution that such a document shall be prepared within four months by an elected Board of Freeholders with the conditional right of an extension of sixty days without strenuous leadership and the availability of experience and material. Fortunately, there was an abundance of material, consisting of charters of other cities and commentary thereon assembled by the Bureau of Governmental Research. There was the information which had been obtained by a committee studying accounting and related problems of the government of San Francisco over a period of years. There were experts on municipal government whose views were available. The systems of government were studied and particular attention was given to the city manager plan and recent developments in the strong mayor plan of government. Eventually, after consideration of the information obtainable from experts and hearings extending over a period of two and a half months, a plan was formulated. I should say that this Charter provides neither a strong mayor plan nor a city manager plan. It is a modification of both, and we are pleased to term it the San Francisco plan.

The majority of the board were firmly convinced that a plan creating a city manager would not only be not adaptable to the City of San Francisco, but would prove to be not adaptable to cities of the same size and larger because inconsistent with the fundamental principle of the republican form of government—the right of the people to select those responsible for the government.

The plan which was adopted by the Freeholders was laid out as nearly as possible in accordance with that rule. Boards and functions which are peculiar to a municipality, including the police and fire departments, have been placed under the direction of the Mayor. A Chief Administrative Officer is charged with responsibility of operation of the functions of the City which are characteristic of any business organization. That he may not be subjected to political pulling and hauling, his tenure of office is dependent upon efficiency and good behavior. The City is entitled to the same efficiency that would be expected in the management of the affairs of any business.

The interests of the people are amply safeguarded by remedial powers in the Mayor and the Board of Supervisors.

Continuing to be guided by the same rule, while the Freeholders, in keeping with approved theory relating to efficient selection of officers, provided for the appointment of some of the officials heretofore elected, the functions of those officials which were made appointive are largely ministerial. Officials, on the other hand, whose functions involve policy and individual rights of the people, have been retained as elective. It will at once be seen that that is true of such an official as the District Attorney, the Assessor, and the City Attorney. There was considerable argument in support of an appointive City Attorney. It was felt that appointment might result in a confusion of duty. It could well be that an appointed City Attorney, even though conscious of his duty to the people, might give way to a subconscious fealty to the appointing official. This would be particularly true in case of an appointment by a City Manager. The history of San Francisco discloses a selection of a splendid line of City Attorneys by the elective process.

Bryce, in his commentary, recognized certain well-defined functions of city government:

"The functions of city government may be distributed into three groups: (a) Those which are delegated by the state out of its general coercive and administrative powers, including the police power, the granting of licenses, the execution of laws relating to adulteration and explosives; (b) those which, though done under general laws, are properly matters of local charge and subject to local regulation, such as education and the care of the poor; and (c) those which are not so much of a political as of a purely business order, such as the paving and cleansing of streets, the maintenance of proper drains, the provision of water and light."

In its final report, submitted to the Governor of California in December, 1930, the California Commission on County Home Rule made these recommendations, among others:

1. Distinct separation between the legislative and administrative functions of the county.

2. Adequate financial provisions for a proper fiscal integration in taxation, fees, budgeting, accounting, purchasing and reporting * * *

It also referred to the fact that in San Francisco: "a Board of Freeholders is at work at the new charter as this report is written," and expressed the hope "that many of the mistakes perpetuated in the old arrangement would be avoided in the new proposal to be made by this board."

It may be said that the Charter fully meets these and many other requirements. The Board of Supervisors becomes a purely legislative body relieved of the responsibility and annoyance of administrative functions, which will permit of careful consideration of the City's problems and insure satisfactory legislation. The definite placing of functions also fixes responsibility.

In any business there must be a satisfactory accounting system to determine the cost of the business. There must be a budget to confine operations within proper limits. There must be reports to executives based upon accounting information in order to guide them in administrative direction and recommendation. Advantageous purchasing is also an important factor in the contribution to the success of business. There is provided for the City of San Francisco an accounting system centralized in the office of the Controller which not only gives an accurate picture of the City's immediate financial status, but as well enables him to control disbursements under the executive budget. The executive budget is prepared upon study and recommendation of responsible officials and cannot be influenced by political pulling and hauling as in the past. This is a fault properly chargeable against the old system. Rules of business will govern purchasing. Employment and pay will be safeguarded under the Charter. It is impossible to detail economies. For those who have served the City well, an adequate retirement provision has been made. In this, as with all provisions relating to bond issues, services of experts were engaged. The retirement system has been set up on a scientific basis, and the provisions for bond issues are the result of the study of specialists.

Hundreds of hours of the time of each individual Freeholder who was engaged in attendance at the meetings of the entire board and the sessions of the drafting and subdrafting committees were contributed not to mention hundreds of hours of thoughtful analysis. The service, which would indicate drudgery, was in fact a pleasure because of the interest in the objective. I think it may be said without contradiction that there has been no other equal contribution intended for the civic welfare of the City of San Francisco.

Owing to the very great interest of the Mayor, he appointed a special committee known as the Mayor's Committee on Charter Installation. This included several who had been members of the Board of Freeholders. It is not my purpose to do other than to refer to the contribution of time and service of that committee extending over a period from June, 1931, and the work is not yet completed. It involved a tremendous amount of detail necessary to prepare for uninterrupted continuity as the City passed from the old to the new regime. In this the City has been fortunate in that the Mayor had not only the foresight but as well a very great interest in the Charter. The committee has had the unstinted cooperation of many officials and almost, without exception, every department of the City government. A tremendous amount of detail has been imposed upon the Civil Service Department and thrust upon the Purchaser, soon to serve you as Controller, the Accounting Committee associated with him and particularly Mr. Nanry, of the Bureau of Governmental Research.

We should be lacking in courtesy if we did not express appreciation of the cooperation of the Supervisors' Committee on Charter Installation.

Mr. Mayor, if I may presume, it would appear that the City is staffed by appointment for efficient service under the Charter, and that all is well. It also augurs well for the future. I am proud that I am a San Franciscan. It has never seemed to be in good taste to boast of this City. Especially endowed by nature and a community of energetic, happy people of achievement, it has commanded respect and inspired admiration. It speaks for itself. If, therefore, there may be a contribution to the general welfare of the people of San Francisco through the medium of this Charter, there should be a tremendous reward. It is not a reward of an emolument, but a reward that proceeds from the satisfaction in the performance of a duty. I hope that I may now be permitted to quietly enjoy the recollections of this service as I engage in my usual pursuits and perhaps indulge in the great American privilege of criticism should it seem to be necessary.

Mr. Mayor, you and your associates, and you of the Board of Supervisors, have our very best wishes for the achievement of everything that will go for the betterment of San Francisco. (Applause.)

(Thereupon followed speeches by Mr. Miller, representing the Chamber of Commerce; Judge Theresa Meikle of the Municipal Court, and Mr. Hugo Ernst, representing organized labor.)

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Mr. President, the next citizen I will ask you to introduce ought to receive, I am sure, your rapt attention. Perhaps no more important individual exists in our community than he whom the President will be asked to introduce next, and in view of the fact that you have sat for some considerable time and are perhaps a little crowded and tired, I am going to ask our President to introduce he who has the good wishes of every citizen in this community, and who takes up his task with love of all of us: the Hon. Alfred J. Cleary, the first Chief Administrative Officer under the new Charter. (Loud and prolonged applause.)

THE PRESIDENT: After the reception accorded Mr. Cleary, I hardly think he needs any introduction. Mr. Cleary.

CHIEF ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICER ALFRED J. CLEARY: Mr. President, your Honor the Mayor, your Excellency Governor Rolph, city officials, fellow San Franciscans:

Pronouncement of the oath of office this morning as first Chief Administrative Officer of the City of San Francisco gave rise in me to varied emotions. My first reaction was a feeling of profound humility, because I recognize the tremendous responsibility which this office entails, and I know how ineffective are the individual efforts of any one man, no matter who he may be. Only with the help of God Almighty, only with the staunch support and cooperation of the best citizens of San Francisco, can any man fill the office of Chief Administrative Officer with honor. These I shall confidently look forward to and expect.

Secondly, I was filled with the deepest sense of gratitude to Mayor Rossi, who has shown such signal confidence in me, and I am filled with the hope that in some slight degree I may live up to the predictions which he has made for me.

Third, I am filled with the firm determination to devote to the City in which I was born, to the City that is loved the world over, every ounce of energy with which God Almighty has endowed me.

Finally, I am filled with a spirit of gratitude and of love for you, my friends, for the splendid confidence that you have shown in me, and I hope that in the future I may prove that this confidence has not been misplaced.

(Loud applause.)

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I hope this popularity keeps up; I sincerely do.

Now, next to the important office to which Mr. Cleary has been appointed comes another. There has been with us in the City government, at least those of us who have had the privilege of serving our City for any number of years, an official of the City government whose value, whose accuracy, and whose efficiency has been exceptional: so much so that when his name was presented by the Mayor for consideration or for approval by the Board of Supervisors, they without exception requested his Honor to make this appointment, and I am going to ask our President to introduce to our citizens, and ask him to say a few words, Mr. Leonard S. Leavy, newly appointed Controller of the City and County of San Francisco.

THE PRESIDENT: Mr. Leonard Leavy, newly appointed Controller——

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER (interrupting): I am informed that Hon. Carl Miles, a member of the Board, desired to present a motion before Mr. Leavy speaks.

Appointment of Leonard Leavy, Controller.

The Clerk thereupon read the following:

MAYOR'S OFFICE

San Francisco, Cal., January 8, 1932.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco, City Hall, San Francisco:

Gentlemen: This is to advise that I have appointed, subject to the confirmation and approval of the Honorable Board of Supervisors, Mr. Leonard S. Leavy to the office of Controller of the City and County of San Francisco, said appointment to take effect at twelve o'clock noon on this date.

I respectfully request that your Honorable Board confirm this appointment in accordance with the provisions of Section 63 of the Charter.

Very truly yours,

ANGELO J. ROSSI,
Mayor.

Whereupon, the following resolution was presented by Supervisor Miles, seconded by Supervisor Canepa, and adopted by the following vote:

Resolution No. 35621 (New Series), as follows:

Whereas, pursuant to the provisions of Section 63 of the Charter, His Honor the Mayor has appointed Leonard S. Leavy Controller of the City and County of San Francisco, subject to confirmation by the Board of Supervisors; now, therefore, be it Resolved, That the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco, in meeting assembled on Friday, the 8th day of January, 1932, and after 12 o'clock m. on said day, and by consent of all of the members of said Board present at said meetitng, does hereby ratify and confirm the appointment of said Leonard S. Leavy as Controller of the City and County of San Francisco.

Ayes—Supervisors Breyer, Brown, Canepa, Colman, Gallagher, Havenner, Hayden, McSheehy, Miles, Peyser, Power, Roncovieri, Spaulding, Stanton—14.

Absent—Supervisor Shannon—1.

THE PRESIDENT: Mr. Leavy.

MR. LEONARD S. LEAVY, Controller: Mr. President, his Excellency the Governor, Hon. Mayor Rossi, Gentlemen of the Board, and friends: I wish to say that I now may be able to approve a payroll on myself as Controller, and, of course, without this vote I could not, and I want, in a public way, to thank you the second time for the confidence you have shown in me by unanimously passing this resolution here today.

To you, Mr. Mayor, I want you to know that I deeply appreciate the fact that you have chosen me as Controller of this City and County, and if I may be permitted to perform the duties of this office, my only hope is that I may be able to fulfill the expectations of his Honor the Mayor and the Board of Supervisors and all my friends.

It will be no easy task, the transition from the old to the new, and the setting up of this new financial fabric for our City and County will not, I reiterate, be easy of accomplishment; there is much to be done. The Mayor, in his message, has pointed out the value of those things that have been written into the new Charter. Mr. Byington and Mr. Keesling have explained further the necessity of various corrections to be made.

Were I to emulate Mr. Cleary and simply reiterate those things he has said, it would be sufficient. I am mindful, however, of these new responsibilities, and I do want to point out that there are numerous changes under the new Charter sufficiently radical to make it mandatory that we receive the utmost cooperation of every city department, so that none of the city officials, and particularly the Controller, may be prejudiced.

There is much legislation still to be thought out and passed. Mr. Keesling spoke of the Mayor's Charter installation committee, which has worked long and assiduously in endeavoring to effect new legislation so that there may be no interruption of the city's business, and that, we believe, has been accomplished.

My message to you is that I will do everything in my power to see that the new Charter is properly placed in operation, and to see that its operation is not estopped or hindered, and through the cooperation of the elected and appointed officials I hope to see a successful future for San Francisco, and for you, Mayor Rossi, in your official capacity.

Thank you. (Applause.)

Clay Miller, former president of the Chamber of Commerce, Theresa Meikle, judge of the Municipal Court, and Hugo Ernst, representing Labor, were heard in congratulatory addresses.

SUPERVISOR HAVENNER: Mr. President, Honorable Mayor Rossi, His Excellency the Governor of California, Mrs. Rossi, ladies and gentlemen: When Supervisor Gallagher very casually informed me on the eve of this occasion that he had neglected to tell me before that I was expected to be one of the speakers, when he advised me that I was going to speak over the air, I followed the suggestion that had been made to me on previous occasions, that I speak from notes, and I proceeded to jot down a few of the things I expected to say. Now, that I am not going to have the air to speak over, I shall still use the notes that I made.

It is my official privilege and very genuine pleasure to extend greetings and sincere congratulations to those of my colleagues in the past who have, by the will of the people, been continued as members of the Board of Supervisors, and particularly our new colleague, Mr. Brown, who joins the official family of San Francisco today.

There has been a great amount of discussion and speculation concerning the extent and the importance of the work to be done in the future by the Board of Supervisors, in accordance with the provisions of the new Charter. My express opinion, my colleagues and friends, is that no legislative body in the history of this City and County has ever entered upon a term of office with more solemn responsibility or with greater opportunities for important achievement than does this Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco, under the new Charter.

This new Charter comes into being at a time when the whole civilized world is confronted with inevitable alterations in its social, economical and governmental structures. No intelligent man can doubt that the old order of life is about to change, and human vision and human effort are looking for a way out of the economic crisis which grips the world today. One conclusion is inescapable, which is that the people everywhere will no longer tolerate any form or administration of government which cannot guarantee to all of its constituents the right to work and live in comfort. Hereafter the supreme theory of government everywhere will be the principle that human rights come first, the rights of every man and woman to earn a livelihood, to live in self respect and comfort. I realize, of course, that certain of the fundamental universal problems cannot be solved by us, but it is our solemn duty, as elected officials, to be on the alert to study enlightening, progressive legislation everywhere so that San Francisco may have the benefit of the best measures which the thought of the nation and the world can devise.

For the new charter, I wish it every success, and I assure to it the best efforts of this Board of Supervisors to achieve that success. May I also extend to the newly appointed officials of the city government congratulations and best wishes, and assure them that it will be the endeavor of this Board of Supervisors to cooperate with them in every helpful way.

One of the most important creations under the new charter is the Public Utilities Commission. May I respectfully stress the fact that we, and other interested associations, will watch the work of that Commission with particular interest. They will expect of the Commissioners not only intelligent and efficient performance of their duties, but wholehearted enthusiasm in the cause of making a success of the great utility propositions in which so many millions of the City's money is invested. Municipal utilities here and elsewhere are subjected to constant attack by competing private interests, and it will be the duty of our new Commissioners to afford a militant protection against these attacks.

In the very near future, San Francisco will be the center of the greatest constructive activity in America. The two new bridges are about to start, the Sunnyvale Dirigible Base, the Marin Bombing Base, and the Alameda Airport; they will all soon be under way. We have every reason for optimism concerning the destiny of our great City, and for all of the members of the Board of Supervisors I wish for us all the benefit of inspiring guidance in the work that is ahead of us.

Supervisor Breyer added his congratulations and good wishes.

Master of Ceremonies Gallagher moved a vote of thanks to the chiefs of Police and Fire Departments for the color guard and colors which graced the rostrum during this inauguration.

So ordered.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. Appeals to the Board of Permit Appeals shall be taken within ten (10) days from the making or entry of the order or decision from which the appeal is taken. The party appealing shall be called the "appellant" and the adverse party shall be called "respondent."

Notices of appeal shall be in form provided by the rules of the Board of Permit Appeals.

On the filing of any appeal, the Board of Permit Appeals shall notify the department from whose action said appeal is taken; shall fix the time and place of hearing on said appeal, not less than five or more than fifteen days after the filing with it of said appeal, and shall act on such appeal not later than forty days after the date on which the appeal was filed with said Board.

Pending decision by the Board of Permit Appeals, the action of the department in granting, revoking or authorizing the transfer of any permit shall be suspended.

The notice of appeal shall be filed with the Board of Permit Appeals and a copy thereof served upon the department, board, commission or person making the order or decision appealed from.

Section 2. Upon receiving such notice it shall be the duty of the department, board, commission or person making the order or decision appealed from, to forthwith scrutinize the same and within three (3) days notify the Board of Permit Appeals, in writing, of the names and addresses of any known persons, firms, corporations or associations not named in the notice of appeal who or which opposed appellant in the matter in which the appeal is taken.

Section 3. Upon receipt of notice of appeal it shall be the duty of the department, board, commission or person from whose decision the appeal is taken, to transmit to the Board of Permit Appeals the original application or complaint upon which the license or permit was granted, refused or revoked, and all affidavits, exhibits, letters, maps or other documents used upon the hearing before such department, board, commission or person. The application or complaint and all documents, exhibits and records forwarded therewith shall be returned to the department, board, commission or person from whose order or decision the appeal was taken, immediately after final decision by the Board of Permit Appeals, with a statement of the decision of said Board, certified by the president or vice-president and secretary thereof.

Section 4. The Board of Permit Appeals may designate a competent phonographic reporter as official reporter of the Board. The reporter shall attend at the request of the Board and shall take down and transcribe all proceedings at the request of and expense of the party demanding a record thereof. The Board may, upon its own motion, order a phonographic report of any proceeding.

The fees of the reporter shall be those prescribed by Section 274 of the Code of Civil Procedure for reporters in the courts of this State.

Section 5. Notices of hearing appeals shall be sent by the secretary of the Board by United States mail to the appellant and all other parties interested as shown by the record of the Board at such time before the hearing as the rules of the Board may prescribe, and the certificate of the secretary of mailing said notices shall be evidence thereof.

Section 6. Any person, firm, corporation, association or City and County department, board, commission or City and County official may file with the secretary of the Board of Permit Appeals a request for notice of hearing of the appeal, and such person, firm, corporation, association, City and County department, board, commission or City and County official shall be added to the list of parties and thereafter receive notice of all proceedings before the Board as herein prescribed.

Section 7. The Board of Permit Appeals shall hear the applicant, the permit holder or other interested parties, as well as a representative of the department from whose action the appeal is taken. After said hearing and such further investigations as the Board may deem necessary, but not later than forty days after the filing with it of the first appeal, the Board may concur in the action of the department authorized to issue, transfer or revoke the permit, or may overrule the action of said department and order that the permit be granted, restored, denied, or permitted to be transferred, as the case may be.

Section 8. A form of seal shall be adopted by the Board, which shall be impressed upon all orders and decisions and certified copies thereof.

Section 9. Rehearings may be had only upon motion of a member of the Board and upon the vote of at least four (4) members thereof.

Permit Procedure.

Also, Bill No. 4, Ordinance No. ————, as follows:

An ordinance establishing procedure by departments and offices for the issuance, transfer and revocation of licenses and permits, and appeals based thereon.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. On the filing of any application for the issuance or transfer of a permit for any purpose specified in this section, or the filing of a notice of intention to revoke any permit, except in any case where such proposed revocation is due to the failure to pay the fee fixed by law or ordinance, the department responsible for the approval of such application shall fix the time and place of hearing thereon, which shall be not less than ten or more than twenty days from the filing of said application, and shall cause to be conspicuously posted upon the premises involved in said application not less than ten days before said public hearing, notice of such application and the time and place of hearing thereon. Said notice shall also set forth the name of the applicant and the purpose for which the application is made. The department in which the application is filed shall cause said notice to be posted. The lettering of the words in said notice, "Notice of Application for ———— Permit," shall be one inch type, and all other lettering shall be half-inch type. After the posting of said notice the applicant shall maintain said notice as posted the required number of days.

The classes of permit referred to in this section are: Automobile supply stations, automobile parking stations, automobile repair shops, public garages, commercial garages, dyeing and cleaning works, hospitals of any character, places of refuge and detention, laundries, junk yards or premises, livery stables, riding academies and riding schools, auctioneers, pawnbrokers, second-hand dealers, second-hand clothing dealers and second-hand furniture dealers.

Section 2. All other applications for the issuance, tranfer or revocation of permits shall be subject to action on or issuance by the department or office specified by law or ordinance; provided, however, that those classes of business or occupation required to secure quarterly or other periodical permits from the Police, Health or Fire Departments, respectively, as provided by ordinance, shall, after the original approval and issuance thereof by the department concerned, be subject to issuance by the Tax Collector for each successive period on the application of the person, firm or corporation conducting such business or occupation. Unless such department issuing the permit shall file written objection with the Tax Collector to such renewal or continuance, the Tax Collector is hereby authorized to issue the license for the next quarter or other periods fixed by law or ordinance. In case of any such objection by the department concerned, the license applied for shall not be continued or renewed by the Tax Collector, and the applicant therefor must file application with said department for the renewal or continuance of the original permit. The Tax Collector shall, within five days after the expiration of the period covered by any quarterly or other periodical permit, notify the department authorized to issue said permit of the failure of any permit holder to apply for a renewal or a continuance thereof, and shall likewise immediately notify the Chief of Police of any delinquency on the part of any permit holder in paying the fees required by law or ordinance for such permit.

Section 3. Any department authorized to issue, revoke or transfer permits or to act on applications for any of said purposes, may detail such members or employees of said department as are required for the investigation and inspection of applications for permits subject to issuance by said department, and for the inspection or regulation of the conduct of any business or occupation, under such permit. Any department may revoke any permit subject to issuance by said department when it shall appear that the business or calling of the person, firm or corporation to whom it was granted is conducted in a disorderly, improper or hazardous manner, or that the place in which the business is conducted or maintained is not a proper or suitable place in which to conduct or maintain such business or calling.

Application for the granting, transfer, renewal or revoking of permits provided for in this ordinance shall be heard respectively by the Board of Police Commissioners, the Board of Fire Commissioners, or by the Health Advisory Board as may be provided by ordinance, provided that all permits issued by the Board of Police Commissioners shall be approved by the Chief of Police, and shall be subject to revocation by him as provided in Section 35 of the Charter.

In the granting or denying of any permit, or the revoking or the refusing to revoke any permit, the granting or revoking power may take into consideration the effect of the proposed business or calling upon surrounding property and upon its residents, and inhabitants thereof; and in granting or denying said permit, or revoking or refusing to revoke a permit, may exercise its sound discretion as to whether said permit should be granted, transferred, denied or revoked.

Section 4. All applications for the classes of permits referred to in Section 1 of this ordinance and applications for the transfer thereof, also notice of intention to revoke same, except in any case where such proposed revocation is due to failure to pay the license or permit fee fixed by law or ordinance, shall be published once in the official newspaper of the City and County within three days after the filing thereof with the department concerned.

Written notice of the issuance of all other permits by departments shall be posted for a period of five (5) successive days by the department issuing such permit on a bulletin board to be maintained in a conspicuous place accessible to the public in the office where the original application is filed.

The issuance, revocation or transfer of any permit enumerated in Section 1 shall not take effect until 10 days after action thereon, during which period appeal may be made to the Board of Permit Appeals from the action taken by the department concerned.

Section 5. On the issuance, denial or revocation of any permit, any applicant for a permit who is denied such permit, or any permittee whose permit is ordered revoked, or any person who deems that his interest or property, or that the general public interest will be adversely affected as the result of operations authorized by or under any permit granted or issued, or the transfer thereof, may appeal to the Board of Permit Appeals. Such appeal shall be in writing, and shall be filed with the Board of Permit Appeals not later than 10 days after the action of the department from which the appeal is taken.

The form and notice of said appeal, and the procedure thereon, shall be as provided by ordinance, and when not so provided then in such form as is provided by rule of the Board of Permit Appeals.

Section 6. All ordinances or provisions of ordinances in conflict with the provisions hereof are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict.

Section 7. This ordinance shall take effect immediately.

An ordinance establishing procedure by departments and offices for the issuance, transfer and revocation of licenses and permits, and appeals based thereon.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. On the filing of any application for the issuance or transfer of a permit for any purpose specified in this section, or the filing

The classes of permit referred to in this section are: Automobile supply stations, automobile parking stations, automobile repair shops, public garages, commercial garages, dyeing and cleaning works, hospitals of any character, places of refuge and detention, laundries, junk yards or premises, livery stables, riding academies and riding schools, auctioneers, pawnbrokers, second-hand dealers, second-hand clothing dealers and second-hand furniture dealers.

Section 2. All other applications for the issuance, tranfer or revocation of permits shall be subject to action on or issuance by the department or office specified by law or ordinance; provided, however, that those classes of business or occupation required to secure quarterly or other periodical permits from the Police, Health or Fire Departments, respectively, as provided by ordinance, shall, after the original approval and issuance thereof by the department concerned, be subject to issuance by the Tax Collector for each successive period on the application of the person, firm or corporation conducting such business or occupation. Unless such department issuing the permit shall file written objection with the Tax Collector to such renewal or continuance, the Tax Collector is hereby authorized to issue the license for the next quarter or other periods fixed by law or ordinance. In case of any such objection by the department concerned, the license applied for shall not be continued or renewed by the Tax Collector, and the applicant therefor must file application with said department for the renewal or continuance of the original permit. The Tax Collector shall, within five days after the expiration of the period covered by any quarterly or other periodical permit, notify the department authorized to issue said permit of the failure of any permit holder to apply for a renewal or a continuance thereof, and shall likewise immediately notify the Chief of Police of any delinquency on the part of any permit holder in paying the fees required by law or ordinance for such permit.

Section 3. Any department authorized to issue, revoke or transfer permits or to act on applications for any of said purposes, may detail such members or employees of said department as are required for the investigation and inspection of applications for permits subject to issuance by said department, and for the inspection or regulation of the conduct of any business or occupation, under such permit. Any department may revoke any permit subject to issuance by said department when it shall appear that the business or calling of the person, firm or corporation to whom it was granted is conducted in a disorderly, improper or hazardous manner, or that the place in which the business is conducted or maintained is not a proper or suitable place in which to conduct or maintain such business or calling.

In the granting or denying of any permit, or the revoking or the refusing to revoke any permit, the granting or revoking power may take into consideration the effect of the proposed business or calling upon surrounding property and upon its residents, and inhabitants thereof; and in granting or denying said permit, or revoking or refusing to revoke a permit, may exercise its sound discretion as to whether said permit should be granted, transferred, denied or revoked.

Applicants for permits enumerated in Section 1 of this ordinance shall, upon filing the application, pay a fee of $10 to cover the posting and advertising costs of said application, which fee shall be paid to the department to which said application is made.

Section 4. All applications for the classes of permits referred to in Section 1 of this ordinance and applications for the transfer thereof, also notice of intention to revoke same, except in any case where such proposed revocation is due to failure to pay the license or permit fee fixed by law or ordinance, shall be published once in the official newspaper of the City and County within three days after the filing thereof with the department concerned.

Written notice of the issuance of all other permits by departments shall be posted for a period of five (5) successive days by the department issuing such permit on a bulletin board to be maintained in a conspicuous place accessible to the public in the office where the original application is filed.

The issuance, revocation or transfer of any permit enumerated in Section 1 shall not take effect until 10 days after action thereon, during which period appeal may be made to the Board of Permit Appeals from the action taken by the department concerned.

Section 5. On the issuance, denial or revocation of any permit, any applicant for a permit who is denied such permit, or any permittee whose permit is ordered revoked, or any person who deems that his interest or property, or that the general public interest will be adversely affected as the result of operations authorized by or under any permit granted or issued, or the transfer thereof, may appeal to the Board of Permit Appeals. Such appeal shall be in writing, and shall be filed with the Board of Permit Appeals not later than 10 days after the action of the department from which the appeal is taken.

The form and notice of said appeal, and the procedure thereon, shall be as provided by ordinance, and when not so provided then in such form as is provided by rule of the Board of Permit Appeals.

Section 6. All ordinances or provisions of ordinances in conflict with the provisions hereof are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict.

Section 7. This ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the uninterrupted operation of a City and County department within the meaning of Section 16 of the Charter. The following is a statement of facts constituting such emergency: The authority to issue certain permits heretofore issued by the Board of Supervisors has been delegated to the Police, Fire and Health Departments respectively, and the procedure under which said permits shall issue has not been enacted. No permits may be issued until such procedure is enacted and said departments are authorized by ordinance to collect the necessary fees from applicants.

(1) That applicant is financially responsible.

(2) That the persons, firms or corporations holding permits or licenses for the operation of motor vehicles for hire are under efficient management, earning a fair and reasonable return on their capital devoted to such service.

(3) That persons, firms or corporations holding permits or licenses for the operation of vehicles for which application is being made are, under normal conditions, inadequately serving the public.

(4) That applicant has complied with the provisions of all municipal ordinances and/or State or federal laws applicable to the proposed operation.

Section 3. Section 5. All persons, firms or corporations within the purview of this ordinance shall regularly and daily operate his or its licensed motor vehicle for hire business during each day of the license year to the extent reasonably necessary to meet the public demand for such motor vehicle for hire service. Upon abandonment of such business for a period of ten (10) consecutive days by an owner or operator, the Police Commission shall, after five (5) days' written notice to the said owner or operator, direct the Police Department of the City and County of San Francisco to revoke said owner's or operator's licenses or permits, and said licenses or permits shall forthwith be revoked. All such permits or licenses granted hereunder shall be transferable only upon the consent of the Police Commission after written application shall have first been made to said Commission and upon payment of the fee required of new applicants. Any and all such certificates of public necessity and convenience, permits and licenses and all rights herein granted may be rescinded and ordered revoked by the Police Commission for cause.

Section 6. Unless otherwise provided by ordinance, no person, firm or corporation, after the date of the passage of this ordinance, shall operate any motor vehicle for hire unless and until such person, firm or corporation shall:

(a) File with the Police Commission and thereafter keep in full force and effect a policy of insurance or bond in such form as the Commission may deem proper, and executed by a surety or sureties approved by the said Commission insuring the public against any loss or damage that may result to any person or property from the operation of such vehicle or vehicles; provided, the minimum amount of recovery in such policy of insurance or bond specified shall not be less than the following sums, i. e.:

For the injury to any one person or the death of any one person in any one accident, $5,000.

For the injury to two or more persons or the death of two or more persons in any one accident, $10,000.

For the injury or destruction of property in any one accident, $500.

Provided, however, that for vehicles having a seating capacity of more than ten persons the limit of liability for death or injury in any one accident shall be $20,000, instead of $10,000, as hereinabove specified.

Provided, however, that such person, firm or corporation may, in lieu of the aforesaid policy or liability insurance, file with said Commission a bond in such form as the Commission may deem proper, executed by a responsible and solvent corporation authorized to conduct a bonding insurance business under the laws of the State of California, which bond shall be conditioned for the payment of all final judgments which may be rendered against any such person, firm or corporation for damages on account of injuries to property or person, including both passengers and the public, occasioned by the operation of any such motor vehicle described in Section 1 hereof, and which bond shall be in an amount graduated according to the number of motor vehicles owned or offered for hire, according to the following scale:

Where such persons, firm or corporation owns or offers for hire only one such motor vehicle, said bond shall be in the sum of $10,500.

Where such person, firm or corporation owns or offers for hire more than one but less than six such motor vehicles, said bond shall be in the sum of $25,000.

Where such person, firm or corporation owns or offers for hire more than five but less than twenty-one such motor vehicles, said bond shall be in the sum of $50,000.

Where such person, firm or corporation owns or offers for hire more than twenty but less than sixty-one such motor vehicles, said bond shall be in the sum of $75,000.

Where such person, firm or corporation owns or offers for hire more than sixty but less than one hundred and one such vehicles, said bond shall be in the sum of $100,000.

Where such person, firm or corporation owns or offers for hire more than one hundred such motor vehicles, said bond shall be in the sum of $125,000.

Provided, however, that for vehicles described in Section 1 hereof, having a seating capacity of more than ten persons, said bond shall be in a sum double that prescribed in the above graduated scale.

In the event of the return unsatisfied of any execution issued on any final judgment from which an appeal may be taken without bond, rendered against any such person, firm or corporation in any suit for damages on account of injury to person or property occasioned by the operation of any such motor vehicle, such person, firm or corporation shall, within ten (10) days after the return of such execution unsatisfied (provided said judgment is still unpaid), increase the amount of his bond by the amount of such judgment, and failing to do so shall forthwith cease the operation of motor vehicles in San Francisco until such additional bond is deposited or said judgment is paid.

All policies or bonds shall contain a provision for a continuing liability thereunder up to the full amount of the penalty thereof, notwithstanding any recovery thereon.

(b) Provided, that any association or organization of owners of vehicles for hire, as specified in this ordinance, which shows a cash reserve after the date of the passage of this ordinance of the sum of $14,000, and thereafter shows a monthly increase in said reserve of $800 per month for a period of thirteen months immediately following the adoption of this ordinance, so that at all times after the expiration of the said thirteen months there shall be a cash reserve in said organization in the sum of $25,000, shall be deemed a compliance with the provisions of this ordinance. Said reserve as herein provided for shall be used for the purpose of satisfying and liquidating claims for damages to persons and property arising out of the negligence of the operators of said association, and shall be subject to execution in satisfaction of any judgment rendered against any operator or member of said organization or association, and such organization or association shall within ten days from the effective date of this ordinance, and monthly thereafter, on or before the tenth of each month, advise the Police Commission the amount of such reserve and where the same is on deposit.

Provided, however, that any policy of insurance or bond heretofore filed with and approved by the Board of Supervisors pursuant to Ordinance No. 9045 (New Series) shall be deemed a compliance with the provisions hereof, and the Board of Supervisors shall, within five days after the effective date of this ordinance, transmit all such policies of insurance and/or bonds to the Police Commission.

It shall be unlawful for any owner to operate or cause to be operated any vehicle without having a policy or bond as described in this section in full force and effect at all times during the operation of such vehicle.

Section 7. No person, firm or corporation, after the effective date of this ordinance, shall operate or cause to be operated any motor vehicle for hire, unless and until such person, firm or corporation shall file with the Police Commission a sworn statement setting forth the permits and/or certificates held, or proposed to be acquired, by applicant from other governmental bodies relating to the proposed operation, and annually thereafter, and not later than the first week in July of each year, and as often as said Commission shall direct, file a sworn statement setting forth the permits and/or certificates then held by applicant from other governmental bodies relating to said operation, together with a sworn statement showing full compliance with all municipal ordinances and/or State or Federal laws applicable to said operation. Failure to file such statement or statements shall constitute a violation of this ordinance and shall be deemed a cause for cancellation of any and all permits to so operate.

Provided, however, that any person, firm or corporation who has, pursuant to paragraph (c), Section 6 of Ordinance No. 9045 (New Series), filed with the Board of Supervisors such a sworn statement, shall be deemed to have complied with the provisions hereof, and the Board of Supervisors shall, on or before the effective date of this ordinance, transmit such statements to the Police Commission.

Excepting, however, every person, firm or corporation having heretofore filed such statement with the Board of Supervisors, shall file such annual statement as provided herein.

Section 8. That any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment in the County Jail for not more than six (6) months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 9. Ordinance No. 9045 (New Series), approved August 12, 1931, is hereby repealed.

Section 10. This ordinance shall take effect immediately.

In Re Issuance of Certificates of Public Convenience and Necessity in re Licenses and Permits for Operation of Motor Vehicles.

SUPERVISOR SHANNON: What about number seven on the calendar?

THE PRESIDENT: Number seven was previously passed.

SUPERVISOR SHANNON: I would like to ask a question on number seven; I would like to have somebody explain to me why this ordinance, which, as I read it, is in all respects the same as the ordinance heretofore in effect except that it takes the authority from the Board of Supervisors where applicants for licenses and permits for operating motor vehicles must show public convenience and necessity, and then after being passed upon by the Board of Supervisors further authorization is placed in the hands of the Police Commission. I would like to ask why that is.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: That is in accordance with the terms of the new Charter, which does not permit you any longer to grant permits or certificates. A conference was held with the representatives of the taxicab drivers and sightseeing vehicles, at which the attorney for the various companies was present, and the City Attorney, and this was brought in as the City Attorney's preparation for the retreatment of that proposition.

SUPERVISOR SHANNON: Would it be legal to take out "the Board of Supervisors" and insert "the Police Commissioners"?

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: That's just exactly what it took out; "the Board of Supervisors" and inserted "the Police Commissioners," because they decided it was not legal for the Supervisors to hear that.

SUPERVISOR SHANNON: In other words, if "the Board of Supervisors" was in here for the purpose of hearing matters on public necessity and convenience, it would be illegal?

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: In the opinion of the City Attorney.

SUPERVISOR SHANNON: I would like to have an opinion on that.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: And further, if it was left in here as the Board of Supervisors to hold the hearing, it would be ineffective, because the Chief of Police has a complete veto power, and if, after we had our hearing, the Chief of Police wanted to veto it, he has the complete authority to do so.

SUPERVISOR SHANNON: Where do you find that?

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: In Section 35 of the Charter.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: May I ask the Supervisor if he would favor postponement for one week and ask for a written opinion from the City Attorney?

THE PRESIDENT: This has already been passed.

SUPERVISOR SHANNON: Then I will ask, first, that the action of the Board on number seven on the Calendar be rescinded.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: I will second that motion.

SUPERVISOR COLMAN: Why should we rescind it?

SUPERVISOR SHANNON: I am quite familiar with the ordinance now on the statute, and I was under the impression that that ordinance would remain effective. As I am quite familiar with the ordinance, the only change I notice in here is that it places the entire matter in the hands of the Police Commission, whereas formerly the necessity for showing public convenience and necessity was in the hands of the Board of Supervisors, and I would like to find out if as a result of the adoption of the new Charter it is now mandatory that power be placed in the hands of the Police Commission. I would further like to check on the statement by Supervisor Gallagher that if we do have that power, and if we granted a permit, after the granting of that pemit the Chief of Police would have the veto power which he states. That is the reason for asking that the action be rescinded at this time.

SUPERVISOR COLMAN: I understood you had had that opinion already, Mr. Gallagher?

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I stated that we held a conference; first, with the committee, and we thought the ordinance now on the books might remain, which, by the way, the fee which you cannot collect—we thought the Charter simply transferred such powers. A conference was held and Attorney Milton Marks and the attorney for the Yellow Taxicab Company, and the attorney for the Pacific Sightseeing Company, and the City Attorney, Mr. Slavin, and the committee were present, and I can only say that after this conference they decided that this must be changed because of the Charter: "The Chief of Police may refuse to issue any permit that is subject to Police Department investigation and issuance." In other words, he has complete veto power. There is also a fee contained in here, and you have no right any longer to collect any fees. The representation is made by all parties concerned that this is the proper thing to do to protect them; that further, the new Charter compels this change. Now, I don't care; if you want this laid over, all right.

SUPERVISOR COLMAN: You want that checked up, do you?

SUPERVISOR SHANNON: Yes.

THE PRESIDENT: The question is on rescinding the action of the Board on number seven on the Calendar. Is there any objection? (Bringing down the gavel.)

SUPERVISOR SHANNON: I move that it be put over two weeks and the opinion of the City Attorney obtained.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I would object to that, Supervisor——

SUPERVISOR SHANNON (interrupting): The reason I ask for two weeks is because I was going to be out of the city. However, it may go over for one week, and let the explanation come in here to the Board of Supervisors, and I would ask that the Clerk be directed to have the reporter transcribe the discussion on this question, and that it be given to the City Attorney for an opinion.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: I have no objection to that, but I would like to ask also that a copy of the City Attorney's opinion be sent to each member of the Board.

THE PRESIDENT: If there is no objection, such will be the order of the Board. (Bringing down the gavel.)

Referred.

SUPERVISOR HAVENNER: Before proceeding with the business of the Board, I would like to call official attention to the fact that a number of the members of this Board have had the sad duty today of attending the funeral of a former colleague who served with many of us here for years as a member of the Board of Supervisors, Walter J. On recommendation of Supervisors' Committee on New Charter Installation.

Bill No. 4, Ordinance No. ————, as follows:

An ordinance establishing procedure by departments and offices for the issuance, transfer and revocation of licenses and permits, and appeals based thereon.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. On the filing of any application for the issuance or transfer of a permit for any purpose specified in this section, or the filing of a notice of intention to revoke any permit, except in any case where such proposed revocation is due to the failure to pay the fee fixed by law or ordinance, the department responsible for the approval of such application shall fix the time and place of hearing thereon, which shall be not less than ten or more than twenty days from the filing of said application, and shall cause to be conspicuously posted upon the premises involved in said application not less than ten days before said public hearing, notice of such application and the time and place of hearing thereon. Said notice shall also set forth the name of the applicant and the purpose for which the application is made. The department in which the application is filed shall cause said notice to be posted. The lettering of the words in said notice, "Notice of Application for ———— Permit," shall be one inch type, and all other lettering shall be half-inch type. After the posting of said notice the applicant shall maintain said notice as posted the required number of days.

The classes of permit referred to in this section are: Automobile supply stations, automobile parking stations, automobile repair shops, public garages, commercial garages, dyeing and cleaning works, hospitals of any character, places of refuge and detention, laundries, junk yards or premises, livery stables, riding academies and riding schools, auctioneers, pawnbrokers, second-hand dealers, second-hand clothing dealers and second-hand furniture dealers.

Section 2. All other applications for the issuance, tranfer or revocation of permits shall be subject to action on or issuance by the department or office specified by law or ordinance; provided, however, that those classes of business or occupation required to secure quarterly or other periodical permits from the Police, Health or Fire Departments, respectively, as provided by ordinance, shall, after the original approval and issuance thereof by the department concerned, be subject to issuance by the Tax Collector for each successive period on the application of the person, firm or corporation conducting such business or occupation. Unless such department issuing the permit shall file written objection with the Tax Collector to such renewal or continuance, the Tax Collector is hereby authorized to issue the license for the next quarter or other periods fixed by law or ordinance. In case of any such objection by the department concerned, the license applied for shall not be continued or renewed by the Tax Collector, and the applicant therefor must file application with said department for the renewal or continuance of the original permit. The Tax Collector shall, within five days after the expiration of the period covered by any quarterly or other periodical permit, notify the department authorized to issue said permit of the failure of any permit holder to apply for a renewal or a continuance thereof, and shall likewise immediately notify the Chief of Police of any delinquency on the part of any permit holder in paying the fees required by law or ordinance for such permit.

Section 3. Any department authorized to issue, revoke or transfer permits or to act on applications for any of said purposes, may detail such members or employees of said department as are required for the investigation and inspection of applications for permits subject to issuance by said department, and for the inspection or regulation of the conduct of any business or occupation, under such permit. Any department may revoke any permit subject to issuance by said department when it shall appear that the business or calling of the person, firm or corporation to whom it was granted is conducted in a disorderly, improper or hazardous manner, or that the place in which the business is conducted or maintained is not a proper or suitable place in which to conduct or maintain such business or calling.

Application for the granting, transfer, renewal or revoking of permits provided for in this ordinance shall be heard respectively by the Board of Police Commissioners, the Board of Fire Commissioners, or by the Health Advisory Board as may be provided by ordinance, provided that all permits issued by the Board of Police Commissioners shall be approved by the Chief of Police, and shall be subject to revocation by him as provided in Section 35 of the Charter.

In the granting or denying of any permit, or the revoking or the refusing to revoke any permit, the granting or revoking power may take into consideration the effect of the proposed business or calling upon surrounding property and upon its residents, and inhabitants thereof; and in granting or denying said permit, or revoking or refusing to revoke a permit, may exercise its sound discretion as to whether said permit should be granted, transferred, denied or revoked.

Section 4. All applications for the classes of permits referred to in Section 1 of this ordinance and applications for the transfer thereof, also notice of intention to revoke same, except in any case where such proposed revocation is due to failure to pay the license or permit fee fixed by law or ordinance, shall be published once in the official newspaper of the City and County within three days after the filing thereof with the department concerned.

Written notice of the issuance of all other permits by departments shall be posted for a period of five (5) successive days by the department issuing such permit on a bulletin board to be maintained in a conspicuous place accessible to the public in the office where the original application is filed.

The issuance, revocation or transfer of any permit enumerated in Section 1 shall not take effect until 10 days after action thereon, during which period appeal may be made to the Board of Permit Appeals from the action taken by the department concerned.

Section 5. On the issuance, denial or revocation of any permit, any applicant for a permit who is denied such permit, or any permittee whose permit is ordered revoked, or any person who deems that his interest or property, or that the general public interest will be adversely affected as the result of operations authorized by or under any permit granted or issued, or the transfer thereof, may appeal to the Board of Permit Appeals. Such appeal shall be in writing, and shall be filed with the Board of Permit Appeals not later than 10 days after the action of the department from which the appeal is taken.

The form and notice of said appeal, and the procedure thereon, shall be as provided by ordinance, and when not so provided then in such form as is provided by rule of the Board of Permit Appeals.

Section 6. All ordinances or provisions of ordinances in conflict with the provisions hereof are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict.

Issuance of Certificates of Public Convenience and Necessity, in re Licenses and Permits for Operation of Motor Vehicles.

(Code No. 11.0111)

Bill No. 10, Ordinance No. ————, as follows:

Providing for the issuance of certificate of public convenience and necessity in connection with the issuance of licenses and permits for the operation of motor vehicles engaged in the business of or used for transporting passengers for hire and providing a penalty for any violation thereof, and repealing Ordinance No. 9045 (New Series).

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. That no license or permit shall be issued for the operation of any motor vehicle engaged in the business of or used for transporting passengers for hire, unless and until the Police Commission shall by resolution declare that public convenience and necessity require the proposed motor vehicle for hire service for which application for a license or permit is made.

Provided, that such declaration of public convenience and necessity shall not be necessary—

(a) For the licensing (but only in the same class, type and character of any one of the services defined in Section 1 of Ordinance No. 6979 (New Series), as amended, or Section 1 of Ordinance No. 5118 (New Series), as amended, or Section 1 of Ordinance No. 3212 (New Series), as amended, of the same number of motor vehicles for hire, licensed for operation and operated by the applicant in said class, type and character of service, under the same name and colors, on the day upon which this ordinance shall take effect, or the renewal of the same license annually thereafter; provided, however, that this exception shall apply only in the event that the applicant was engaged at the time this ordinance becomes effective in the actual operation of a motor vehicle for hire business, in the same class, type and character of service, as thus defined, and was at said time complying with all of the provisions of Ordinance No. 5132 (New Series), as amended, Ordinance No. 5118 (New Series), as amended, Ordinance No. 3212 (New Series), as amended, and Ordinance No. 6979 (New Series), as amended, and all provisions of municipal and State statutes applicable.

(b) For the licensing for the operation of motor vehicles engaged in the business of, or used for, transporting passengers for hire, when such motor vehicles are operated under and by reason of certificates of public convenience and necessity issued by the Railroad Commission of the State of California, provided, however, that this clause shall be construed to create an exception only to the extent, character and type of operation expressly prescribed by the certificate or certificates issued by said Railroad Commission and shall be limited by and be entirely within the scope of said certificate or certificates issued by said Railroad Commission.

(c) Within five days from the effective date of this ordinance the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors shall transmit to the Police Commission all affidavits heretofore filed pursuant to paragraph (b) of Section 1 of Ordinance No. 9045 (New Series).

Section 2. The Police Commission, in determining whether or not public convenience and necessity exists, may take into consideration all facts as it may deem pertinent and proper, which facts shall or must include specific finding that the following conditions exist:

(1) That applicant is financially responsible.

(2) That the persons, firms or corporations holding permits or licenses for the operation of motor vehicles for hire are under efficient management, earning a fair and reasonable return on their capital devoted to such service.

(3) That persons, firms or corporations holding permits or licenses for the operation of vehicles for which application is being made are, under normal conditions, inadequately serving the public.

(4) That applicant has complied with the provisions of all municipal ordinances and/or State or federal laws applicable to the proposed operation.

Section 3. Any applicant for a license or permit to operate a motor vehicle for hire shall make proper application to the Police Commission for its declaration of public convenience and necessity, on blanks to be furnished by the Secretary of said Police Commission, and immediately upon the filing of such an application said Secretary shall cause a notice to be published in the official newspaper of the City and County of San Francisco, which said notice shall set forth the fact that said application has been filed for a license or permit to operate a motor vehicle for hire or motor vehicle for hire business, the name of the applicant, kind of equipment, and number of vehicles proposed to be operated. Said notice shall be published for three successive days. On filing the application the applicant shall pay to the Secretary the sum of $15 for one vehicle and $1 for each additional vehicle for which a certificate of public convenience and necessity is desired, to cover the cost and expense of advertising, the notice of application and the resolution granting the permit or license.

All holders of existing licenses or permits for the operation of motor vehicles for hire shall thereupon be entitled to file any complaints or protests that said holders may see fit at the time of the holding of the investigation and hearing. The Police Commission shall consider all of the complaints and protests and in conducting its hearing shall have the right to call such witnesses as it may see fit. In all such hearings the burden of proof shall be upon the applicant to establish by clear and convincing evidence, which shall satisfy the said Police Commission beyond a reasonable doubt, that public convenience and necessity require such operation of the vehicle or vehicles for which said application has been made, and that such application in all other respects should be granted.

Section 4. If the Police Commission finds from its investigation and hearing that public convenience and necessity justify and require the operation of the motor vehicle or motor vehicles for which licenses or permits are requested, it shall notify the applicant of its finding, and within sixty (60) days thereafter the applicant shall furnish to the Police Commission any and all additional information which may be required and if the said Police Commission then finds that the applicant is the owner of the vehicle or vehicles for which license or permit is requested, and that such vehicle meets with the requirements as prescribed by all of the ordinances of the City and County of San Francisco, and all of the rules and regulations enacted by the Board of Supervisors and the Police Commission of the City and County of San Francisco, it shall thereupon issue to said applicant a certificate of public convenience and necessity and the Police Department of the City and County of San Francisco shall thereupon issue to said applicant a license or permit, or licenses or permits, for the operation of such vehicle or vehicles.

If the Police Commission finds from such investigation and hearing that the public convenience and necessity do not justify the operation of the vehicle for which license or permit is requested, it shall forthwith notify the applicant of said finding.

Section 5. All persons, firms or corporations within the purview of this ordinance shall regularly and daily operate his or its licensed motor vehicle for hire business during each day of the license year to the extent reasonably necessary to meet the public demand for such motor vehicle for hire service. Upon abandonment of such business for a period of ten (10) consecutive days by an owner or operator, the Police Commission shall, after five (5) days' written notice to the said owner or operator, direct the Police Department of the City and County of San Francisco to revoke said owner's or operator's licenses or permits, and said licenses or permits shall forthwith be revoked. All such permits or licenses granted hereunder shall be transferable only upon the consent of the Police Commission after written application shall have first been made to said Commission and upon payment of the fee required of new applicants. Any and all such certificates of public necessity and convenience, permits and licenses and all rights herein granted may be rescinded and ordered revoked by the Police Commission for cause.

Section 6. Unless otherwise provided by ordinance, no person, firm or corporation, after the date of the passage of this ordinance, shall operate any motor vehicle for hire unless and until such person, firm or corporation shall:

(a) File with the Police Commission and thereafter keep in full force and effect a policy of insurance or bond in such form as the Commission may deem proper, and executed by a surety or sureties approved by the said Commission insuring the public against any loss or damage that may result to any person or property from the operation of such vehicle or vehicles; provided, the minimum amount of recovery in such policy of insurance or bond specified shall not be less than the following sums, i. e.:

For the injury to any one person or the death of any one person in any one accident, $5,000.

For the injury to two or more persons or the death of two or more persons in any one accident, $10,000.

For the injury or destruction of property in any one accident, $500.

Provided, however, that for vehicles having a seating capacity of more than ten persons the limit of liability for death or injury in any one accident shall be $20,000, instead of $10,000, as hereinabove specified.

Provided, however, that such person, firm or corporation may, in lieu of the aforesaid policy or liability insurance, file with said Commission a bond in such form as the Commission may deem proper, executed by a responsible and solvent corporation authorized to conduct a bonding insurance business under the laws of the State of California, which bond shall be conditioned for the payment of all final judgments which may be rendered against any such person, firm or corporation for damages on account of injuries to property or person, including both passengers and the public, occasioned by the operation of any such motor vehicle described in Section 1 hereof, and which bond shall be in an amount graduated according to the number of motor vehicles owned or offered for hire, according to the following scale:

Where such persons, firm or corporation owns or offers for hire only one such motor vehicle, said bond shall be in the sum of $10,500.

Where such person, firm or corporation owns or offers for hire more than one but less than six such motor vehicles, said bond shall be in the sum of $25,000.

Where such person, firm or corporation owns or offers for hire more than five but less than twenty-one such motor vehicles, said bond shall be in the sum of $50,000.

Where such person, firm or corporation owns or offers for hire more than twenty but less than sixty-one such motor vehicles, said bond shall be in the sum of $75,000.

Where such person, firm or corporation owns or offers for hire more than sixty but less than one hundred and one such vehicles, said bond shall be in the sum of $100,000.

Where such person, firm or corporation owns or offers for hire more than one hundred such motor vehicles, said bond shall be in the sum of $125,000.

Provided, however, that for vehicles described in Section 1 hereof, having a seating capacity of more than ten persons, said bond shall be in a sum double that prescribed in the above graduated scale.

In the event of the return unsatisfied of any execution issued on any final judgment from which an appeal may be taken without bond, rendered against any such person, firm or corporation in any suit for damages on account of injury to person or property occasioned by the operation of any such motor vehicle, such person, firm or corporation shall, within ten (10) days after the return of such execution unsatisfied (provided said judgment is still unpaid), increase the amount of his bond by the amount of such judgment, and failing to do so shall forthwith cease the operation of motor vehicles in San Francisco until such additional bond is deposited or said judgment is paid.

All policies or bonds shall contain a provision for a continuing liability thereunder up to the full amount of the penalty thereof, notwithstanding any recovery thereon.

(b) Provided, that any association or organization of owners of vehicles for hire, as specified in this ordinance, which shows a cash reserve after the date of the passage of this ordinance of the sum of $14,000, and thereafter shows a monthly increase in said reserve of $800 per month for a period of thirteen months immediately following the adoption of this ordinance, so that at all times after the expiration of the said thirteen months there shall be a cash reserve in said organization in the sum of $25,000, shall be deemed a compliance with the provisions of this ordinance. Endorsing Bill Introduced in Congress Favorable to Shipbuilding Industry on Pacific Coast.

(Code No. 5.2)

Supervisor Gallagher presented:

Resolution No. 54, as follows:

Whereas, there has been introduced in the Seventy-second Congress a bill known as H. R. 4532, which bill is in the nature of an amendment to the Merchant Marine Act of 1928, and by its provisions seeks to place the shipyards of the Pacific Coast in a more equitable position to bid on contemplated new ship construction, aided by government funds; and

Whereas, a revival of the shipbuilding industry on this coast will furnish employment for thousands of our unemployed workers and bring a return of prosperity, in which practically every industry and business will share; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco does hereby endorse the bill (H. R. 4532) and urge his Honor the Mayor to communicate with the mayors and heads of civic organizations in the cities of California north of the Tehachapi Mountains and in the cities of the States of Nevada and Utah to likewise endorse the bill and to communicate with the chairman and members of the Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries of the House of Representatives of the United States of America, urging their favorable consideration of this bill; and be it Further Resolved, That his Honor the Mayor be authorized to appropriate such a sum of money as may be necessary to insure proper representation before the committee of the Congress of the United States in Washington, D. C., to urge the passage of the bill (H. R. 4532).

Referred.

The following matter was presented by Supervisor Roncovieri and referred to the Public Welfare Committee:

Resolution No. ———— (New Series), as follows:

Whereas, the City of San Francisco and other cities of the Pacific Coast must rely for their safety in time of warfare on the Coast defenses maintained by the United States Army; and

Whereas, recent investigation by the San Francisco Examiner and other newspapers has shown that such defenses as have been constructed are undermanned and apparently inadequate for preservation of the lives and property of our citizens under modern conditions of warfare; and

Whereas, United States Army authorities admit that the Coast Guard forces now manning the forts protecting the San Francisco Bay area are woefully inadequate to provide more than "caretakers" without any attempt being made to protect the military reservations, gun emplacements or fortification from possible hostile foreign observation or sabotage; and

Whereas, War Department officials declare that the lack of Coast defense man power, guns or modernization is due to the cutting of appropriations for such purposes by Congress; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That this Board of Supervisors most urgently petitions the Congress to take immediate steps to provide sufficient funds adequately to man San Francisco Bay fortifications and to place them in such condition as to be an effective defense to this City in time of war and to protect all such military works from surveillance of hostile aliens even in time of peace. Be it Further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted to United States Senators and Congressmen from the State of California, and to the President of the United States.

Supervisor Gallagher presented:

Issuance of Certificates of Public Convenience and Necessity, in re Licenses and Permits for Operation of Motor Vehicles.

(Code No. 11.0111)

Also, Bill No. 12, Ordinance No. 11.01111, as follows:

Providing for the issuance of certificate of public convenience and necessity in connection with the issuance of licenses and permits for the operation of motor vehicles engaged in the business of or used for transporting passengers for hire and providing a penalty for any violation thereof, and repealing Ordinance No. 9045 (New Series).

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. That no license or permit shall be issued for the operation of any motor vehicle engaged in the business of or used for transporting passengers for hire, unless and until the Police Commission shall by resolution declare that public convenience and necessity require the proposed motor vehicle for hire service for which application for a license or permit is made.

Provided, that such declaration of public convenience and necessity shall not be necessary—

(a) For the licensing (but only in the same class, type and character of any one of the services defined in Section 1 of Ordinance No. 6979 (New Series), as amended, or Section 1 of Ordinance No. 5118 (New Series), as amended, or Section 1 of Ordinance No. 3212 (New Series), as amended, of the same number of motor vehicles for hire, licensed for operation and operated by the applicant in said class, type and character of service, under the same name and colors, on the day upon which this ordinance shall take effect, or the renewal of the same license annually thereafter; provided, however, that this exception shall apply only in the event that the applicant was engaged at the time this ordinance becomes effective in the actual operation of a motor vehicle for hire business, in the same class, type and character of service, as thus defined, and was at said time complying with all of the provisions of Ordinance No. 5132 (New Series), as amended, Ordinance No. 5118 (New Series), as amended, Ordinance No. 3212 (New Series), as amended, and Ordinance No. 6979 (New Series), as amended, and all provisions of municipal and State statutes applicable.

(b) For the licensing for the operation of motor vehicles engaged in the business of, or used for, transporting passengers for hire, when such motor vehicles are operated under and by reason of certificates of public convenience and necessity issued by the Railroad Commission of the State of California, provided, however, that this clause shall be construed to create an exception only to the extent, character and type of operation expressly prescribed by the certificate or certificates issued by said Railroad Commission and shall be limited by and be entirely within the scope of said certificate or certificates issued by said Railroad Commission.

(c) Within five days from the effective date of this ordinance the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors shall transmit to the Police Commission all affidavits heretofore filed pursuant to paragraph (b) of Section 1 of Ordinance No. 9045 (New Series).

Section 2. The Police Commission, in determining whether or not public convenience and necessity exists, may take into consideration all facts as it may deem pertinent and proper, which facts shall or must include specific finding that the following conditions exist:

(1) That applicant is financially responsible.

(2) That the persons, firms or corporations holding permits or licenses for the operation of motor vehicles for hire are under efficient management, earning a fair and reasonable return on their capital devoted to such service.

(3) That persons, firms or corporations holding permits or licenses for the operation of vehicles for which application is being made are, under normal conditions, inadequately serving the public.

(4) That applicant has complied with the provisions of all municipal ordinances and/or State or federal laws applicable to the proposed operation.

Section 3. Any applicant for a license or permit to operate a motor vehicle for hire shall make proper application to the Police Commission for its declaration of public convenience and necessity, on blanks to be furnished by the Secretary of said Police Commission, and immediately upon the filing of such an application said Secretary shall cause a notice to be published in the official newspaper of the City and County of San Francisco, which said notice shall set forth the fact that said application has been filed for a license or permit to operate a motor vehicle for hire or motor vehicle for hire business, the name of the applicant, kind of equipment, and number of vehicles proposed to be operated. Said notice shall be published for three successive days. On filing the application the applicant shall pay to the Secretary the sum of $15 for one vehicle and $1 for each additional vehicle for which a certificate of public convenience and necessity is desired, to cover the cost and expense of advertising, the notice of application and the resolution granting the permit or license.

All holders of existing licenses or permits for the operation of motor vehicles for hire shall thereupon be entitled to file any complaints or protests that said holders may see fit at the time of the holding of the investigation and hearing. The Police Commission shall consider all of the complaints and protests and in conducting its hearing shall have the right to call such witnesses as it may see fit. In all such hearings the burden of proof shall be upon the applicant to establish by clear and convincing evidence, which shall satisfy the said Police Commission beyond a reasonable doubt, that public convenience and necessity require such operation of the vehicle or vehicles for which said application has been made, and that such application in all other respects should be granted.

Section 4. If the Police Commission finds from its investigation and hearing that public convenience and necessity justify and require the operation of the motor vehicle or motor vehicles for which licenses or permits are requested, it shall notify the applicant of its finding, and within sixty (60) days thereafter the applicant shall furnish to the Police Commission any and all additional information which may be required and if the said Police Commission then finds that the applicant is the owner of the vehicle or vehicles for which license or permit is requested, and that such vehicle meets with the requirements as prescribed by all of the ordinances of the City and County of San Francisco, and all of the rules and regulations enacted by the Board of Supervisors and the Police Commission of the City and County of San Francisco, it shall thereupon issue to said applicant a certificate of public convenience and necessity and the Police Department of the City and County of San Francisco shall thereupon issue to said applicant a license or permit, or licenses or permits, for the operation of such vehicle or vehicles.

If the Police Commission finds from such investigation and hearing that the public convenience and necessity do not justify the operation of the vehicle for which license or permit is requested, it shall forthwith notify the applicant of said finding.

Section 5. All persons, firms or corporations within the purview of this ordinance shall regularly and daily operate his or its licensed motor vehicle for hire business during each day of the license year to the extent reasonably necessary to meet the public demand for such motor vehicle for hire service. Upon abandonment of such business for a period of ten (10) consecutive days by an owner or operator, the Police Commission shall, after five (5) days' written notice to the said owner or operator, direct the Police Department of the City and County of San Francisco to revoke said owner's or operator's licenses or permits, and said licenses or permits shall forthwith be revoked. All such permits or licenses granted hereunder shall be transferable only upon the consent of the Police Commission after written application shall have first been made to said Commission and upon payment of the fee required of new applicants. Any and all such certificates of public necessity and convenience, permits and licenses and all rights herein granted may be rescinded and ordered revoked by the Police Commission for cause.

Section 6. Unless otherwise provided by ordinance, no person, firm or corporation, after the date of the passage of this ordinance, shall operate any motor vehicle for hire unless and until such person, firm or corporation shall:

(a) File with the Police Commission and thereafter keep in full force and effect a policy of insurance or bond in such form as the Commission may deem proper, and executed by a surety or sureties approved by the said Commission insuring the public against any loss or damage that may result to any person or property from the operation of such vehicle or vehicles; provided, the minimum amount of recovery in such policy of insurance or bond specified shall not be less than the following sums, i. e.:

For the injury to any one person or the death of any one person in any one accident, $5,000.

For the injury to two or more persons or the death of two or more persons in any one accident, $10,000.

For the injury or destruction of property in any one accident, $500.

Provided, however, that for vehicles having a seating capacity of more than ten persons the limit of liability for death or injury in any one accident shall be $20,000, instead of $10,000, as hereinabove specified.

Provided, however, that such person, firm or corporation may, in lieu of the aforesaid policy or liability insurance, file with said Commission a bond in such form as the Commission may deem proper, executed by a responsible and solvent corporation authorized to conduct a bonding insurance business under the laws of the State of California, which bond shall be conditioned for the payment of all final judgments which may be rendered against any such person, firm or corporation for damages on account of injuries to property or person, including both passengers and the public, occasioned by the operation of any such motor vehicle described in Section 1 hereof, and which bond shall be in an amount graduated according to the number of motor vehicles owned or offered for hire, according to the following scale:

Where such persons, firm or corporation owns or offers for hire only one such motor vehicle, said bond shall be in the sum of $10,500.

Where such person, firm or corporation owns or offers for hire more than one but less than six such motor vehicles, said bond shall be in the sum of $25,000.

Where such person, firm or corporation owns or offers for hire more than five but less than twenty-one such motor vehicles, said bond shall be in the sum of $50,000.

Where such person, firm or corporation owns or offers for hire more than twenty but less than sixty-one such motor vehicles, said bond shall be in the sum of $75,000.

Where such person, firm or corporation owns or offers for hire more than sixty but less than one hundred and one such vehicles, said bond shall be in the sum of $100,000.

Where such person, firm or corporation owns or offers for hire more than one hundred such motor vehicles, said bond shall be in the sum of $125,000.

Provided, however, that for vehicles described in Section 1 hereof, having a seating capacity of more than ten persons, said bond shall be in a sum double that prescribed in the above graduated scale.

In the event of the return unsatisfied of any execution issued on any final judgment from which an appeal may be taken without bond, rendered against any such person, firm or corporation in any suit for damages on account of injury to person or property occasioned by the operation of any such motor vehicle, such person, firm or corporation shall, within ten (10) days after the return of such execution unsatisfied (provided said judgment is still unpaid), increase the amount of his bond by the amount of such judgment, and failing to do so shall forthwith cease the operation of motor vehicles in San Francisco until such additional bond is deposited or said judgment is paid.

All policies or bonds shall contain a provision for a continuing liability thereunder up to the full amount of the penalty thereof, notwithstanding any recovery thereon.

(b) Provided, that any association or organization of owners of vehicles for hire, as specified in this ordinance, which shows a cash reserve after the date of the passage of this ordinance of the sum of $14,000, and thereafter shows a monthly increase in said reserve of $800 per month for a period of thirteen months immediately following the adoption of this ordinance, so that at all times after the expiration of the said thirteen months there shall be a cash reserve in said organization in the sum of $25,000, shall be deemed a compliance with the provisions of this ordinance. Said reserve as herein provided for shall be used for the purpose of satisfying and liquidating claims for damages to persons and property arising out of the negligence of the operators of said association, and shall be subject to execution in satisfaction of any judgment rendered against any operator or member of said organization or association, and such organization or association shall within ten days from the effective date of this ordinance, and monthly thereafter, on or before the tenth of each month, advise the Police Commission the amount of such reserve and where the same is on deposit.

Provided, however, that any policy of insurance or bond heretofore filed with and approved by the Board of Supervisors pursuant to Ordinance No. 9045 (New Series) shall be deemed a compliance with the provisions hereof, and the Board of Supervisors shall, within five days after the effective date of this ordinance, transmit all such policies of insurance and/or bonds to the Police Commission.

It shall be unlawful for any owner to operate or cause to be operated any vehicle without having a policy or bond as described in this section in full force and effect at all times during the operation of such vehicle.

Section 7. No person, firm or corporation, after the effective date of this ordinance, shall operate or cause to be operated any motor vehicle for hire, unless and until such person, firm or corporation shall file with the Police Commission a sworn statement setting forth the permits and/or certificates held, or proposed to be acquired, by applicant from other governmental bodies relating to the proposed operation, and annually thereafter, and not later than the first week in July of each year, and as often as said Commission shall direct, file a sworn statement setting forth the permits and/or certificates then held by applicant from other governmental bodies relating to said operation, together with a sworn statement showing full compliance with all municipal ordinances and/or State or Federal laws applicable to said operation. Failure to file such statement or statements shall constitute a violation of this ordinance and shall be deemed a cause for cancellation of any and all permits to so operate.

Provided, however, that any person, firm or corporation who has, pursuant to paragraph (c), Section 6 of Ordinance No. 9045 (New Series), filed with the Board of Supervisors such a sworn statement, shall be deemed to have complied with the provisions hereof, and the Board of Supervisors shall, on or before the effective date of this ordinance, transmit such statements to the Police Commission.

Excepting, however, every person, firm or corporation having heretofore filed such statement with the Board of Supervisors, shall file such annual statement as provided herein.

Section 8. That any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment in the County Jail for not more than six (6) months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 9. Ordinance No. 9045 (New Series), approved August 12, 1931, is hereby repealed.

Section 10. This ordinance shall take effect immediately.

Communications.

Thereupon, the following communications were presented and read by the Clerk:

Tax Collector's Office, City and County of San Francisco,

Mr. Alfred J. Cleary, Chief Administrative Officer, San Francisco.

Dear Sir: I have preliminarily arranged for the conduct of the recently created Bureau of Delinquent Collections. I now find myself confronted with the problem of putting some one in charge of this department. At this time I have approximately seven thousand delinquent accounts that require attention. This is the accumulation of only two departments. The other departments are still to be heard from. As you know, this bureau will be a revenue producing unit and should be under the supervision of a man with business experience and one who is not identified with the Tax Department. It is, therefore, my recommendation that such a man be engaged at a salary of $3,600 per annum, the position to be classified as "Director of Bureau of Delinquent Collections."

Mindful of your conservation of funds plan, I have allowed three vacancies, each carrying an annual salary of $2,580, to remain unfilled. Furthermore, within the next sixty days another vacancy, with a salary of $2,100 per annum, will occur. This vacancy also will remain unfilled, so it is with a great deal of pleasure that I can assure you, notwithstanding the many added duties that have come to this department since the installation of the new Charter, I will have a surplus in my personal service budget allocation for this fiscal year.

Very truly yours,

EDWARD F. BRYANT, Tax Collector.

Mayor's Office, San Francisco, Calif., February 15, 1932.

To the Honorable the Board of Supervisors.

Gentlemen: Section 25 of the Charter provides that the Mayor

"shall receive and examine without delay all complaints relating to the administration of affairs of the City and County and immediately inform the complainant of findings and action thereon."

To comply with this requirement of the Charter, you are requested to specify a position to be known as "Class No. 404, Inspector of Complaints, Mayor's Office," at a monthly salary of $300.

Further to comply with the provisions of the Charter and eliminate the loss of delinquent revenues, you are requested to specify a position in the office of the Tax Collector to be known as "Class No. B-91, Supervisor of Collection and Delinquent Revenues," with a monthly salary of $300. This position is provided pursuant to a recommendation of the Tax Collector and the Chief Administrative Officer.

Respectfully,

ANGELO J. ROSSI, Mayor.

Mayor's Office, San Francisco, Calif., February 23, 1932.

To the Honorable the Board of Supervisors, City Hall, San Francisco.

Gentlemen: Relative to the appointment in the Mayor's Office of an Inspector of Complaints and in the office of the Tax Collector of a Supervisor of Collection of Delinquent Revenues:

The personnel of the Mayor's office will be changed, effective July 1, 1932. In the meantime part of the office staff is assigned to duties in other departments. For your information I would state that no recommendation for an office staff in the Chief Administrative Office has been made, the work being carried on by the staff in the Mayor's Office.

However, as you will doubtless recognize, the handling of complaints from the public cannot be efficiently attended to in the ordinary channels and requires an employee especially adapted on account of his poise, tact, energy and efficiency. Moreover, since the new Charter has been in effect complaints which were ordinarily handled by other department heads must be recognized, studied and adjusted in this office. As Mayor of San Francisco, I welcome the complaints and suggestions of all of the citizens and feel that they are entitled to serious and immediate consideration and response. It is for this reason that I recommended that a man especially adapted to this work be appointed.

The same applies to the collection of delinquent revenues in the office of the Tax Collector. This requires persistency, patience, tact and courtesy to the public and the most efficient results will be obtainable by the appointment of a man possessing these qualifications to a singular degree. What applies to reduction of force in the Mayor's office, effective July 1, 1932, also applies to the Tax Collector's office, where numerous economies are being introduced.

As Mayor, I am responsible for the efficient enforcement of the new Charter, and in order to effect the economies provided by it and secure the best results for the citizens of San Francisco, it is my purpose to choose for important offices of this character men who will obtain the most efficient results and give the best service to our citizens.

Respectfully,

ANGELO J. ROSSI, Mayor.

Also, a communication from the San Francisco Bureau of Governmental Research, addressed to Supervisor Miles, declaring that new positions cannot be created by amendment to the Annual Salary Ordinance alone, but such positions must be created by an appropriation ordinance, as required by Sections 72, 80 and 143 of the Charter. Moreover, declaring that in its opinion new positions should not be created at this time.

(Code No. 5.2)

Resolution No. 66, as follows:

Whereas, the National Committee on Military Affairs of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, mindful of the dangers of disarmament and desirous of frustrating any attempt of pacifists to impair the armed forces of the United States, have learned that an effort is being made at this session of the Congress to eliminate the following items from the Army Appropriation Bill:

1. 2000 officers and 10,000 enlisted men from the regular army;
2. National rifle matches;
3. Training for reserve officers;
4. R. O. T. C. summer training camps;
5. Citizens' military training camps;

Whereas, the present economic stress does not justify this drastic curtailment of our national defense program; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Board of Supervisors hereby opposes any reduction in the army appropriation or the elimination of items in the existing program for national defense designed to destroy or emasculate war-time preparedness; and be it

Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded immediately to the President and Vice-president of the United States, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and Representatives and Senators in Congress from California.

Verbal Report Made by Supervisor McSheehy Regarding State Convention of Supervisors at San Bernardino.

Supervisor McSheehy reported verbally on the State Convention of Supervisors at San Bernardino, declaring that it was poorly attended and that the entire proceedings were taken up with taxation measures and discussion.

The following resolution adopted by the convention was read into the record:

"Whereas, the California State Tax Commission, in its report of March 5, 1929, says that Constitutional Tax Amendment No. 1 (adopted 1910) has imposed gross inequalities in tax burdens of public utilities, banks, insurance companies and private property, both as between individuals of the same class and also between the different classes; and

"Whereas, under this amendment there has been a rapid rise in both State and local expenditures that does not seem justifiable under present economic conditions or compatible with efficient and economical administration; and

"Whereas, public utilities, banks and insurance companies pay to the State a gross receipt tax in lieu of all other taxes, either State or local, and therefore are not directly affected by the constantly mounting ad valorem tax on private property for local purposes; and

"Whereas, farmers and city land owners pay no State taxes, and therefore are not directly affected by gross receipt taxes on public utilities or by State extravagance in spending surplus revenues; and

"Whereas, this diversion of the forces that are vitally interested in efficient and economical administration of both State and local government is fundamentally wrong; and

"Whereas, the tax report mentioned above finds so many faults with the present tax system that it says (page 73), in short, Amendment No. 1 must be abandoned;

"Resolved, That the president of this convention appoint a committee of five Supervisors to draft a bill and present the same to the next State Legislature that will convene in Sacramento in January, 1933, repealing Constitutional Tax Amendment No. 1, adopted in 1910."

State Highway Conference of San Francisco-Oakland Bridge Approaches.

Supervisor Havenner called attention to proposed State highway conference on approaches to San Francisco-Oakland bridge, to be held at Sacramento March 2, 1932, and urged the importance of the City having representatives there.

President Hayden thereupon appointed the Streets Committee, consisting of Supervisors Canepa, Gallagher and Shannon, and also Supervisor Havenner, to represent the City at the conference.

To the Honorable the Board of Supervisors, City and County of San Francisco—Gentlemen:

Proposed County Jail on Yerba Buena Island.

Supervisor Canepa presented the following, which was read by the Clerk:

Resolution No. ————, as follows:

Whereas, over fourteen months ago, the people of the City and County of San Francisco voted a bond issue of $850,000 for the construction of a new County Jail, and

Whereas, the matter of selecting a site upon which to build the jail has been under consideration by this Board for many months, and

Whereas, the residents of Ingleside District are extremely anxious to have the present dilapidated structure which serves as a jail removed from their midst, and

Whereas, City and County officials as well as those of the Federal Prison Board have declared that the present jail is unfit for human habitation and constitutes a menace to its inmates, as a consequence of which, no Federal prisoners are permitted to be housed therein, and

Whereas, no solution to this problem has been offered, nor does it appear at all probable, under any of the present proposals that an amicable and satisfactory disposition of this question is imminent, and

Whereas, Federal authorities are seeking a site upon which to erect a jail for short-term prisoners who are now lodged in divers county or city jails in the Bay area, and

Whereas, San Francisco is so situated geographically as to designate the population center of the West Coast and therefore constitutes the logical site for a Federal jail, and

Whereas, Yerba Buena Island in San Francisco Bay (formerly known as Goat Island) is no longer used for naval training purposes, and

Whereas, it is considered probable that the Federal authorities might be induced, upon a showing of the merits of the proposal, to either construct a Federal jail upon Yerba Buena Island jointly with the City and County of San Francisco, or deeming such joint arrangement imprudent, to permit the City and County of San Francisco to erect its jail thereon, and

Whereas, the location of our jail on Yerba Buena Island is the most logical and economical procedure, in that the property would undoubtedly be made available without cost, thereby saving to the City the $47,000 contemplated for a purchase of a site in San Mateo County, and for surveillance of the prisoners would be reduced far below that required for the same purpose at any other proposed site, and

Whereas, the island comprises approximately 143 acres of land, much of which could be devoted to truck gardening, for the occupation and partial sustenance of the inmates, and

Whereas, the large amount of money which would be required, over a period of years, in the payment of taxes, were the jail to be located in San Mateo County will be saved to the taxpayers, and

Whereas, the island is readily accessible to the City, a saving would be realized in the transportation of prisoners and attendants, as well as supplies, all of which could undoubtedly be accomplished by means of the police boat, and

Whereas, local labor and local merchants would be thoroughly assured that their rights would not be infringed upon, if the jail were located within the confines of this County, and

Whereas, the convenience of relatives and friends of the inmates, as well as the personnel of the institution, will best be conserved by its location on the island; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That negotiations be entered into with the Federal Government looking to the consummation of the plan herein set forth, and be it

Further Resolved, That Senators Johnson and Shortridge, together with Representatives Kahn and Welch, be requested to introduce and support in Congress a joint bill proposing an enabling act which would permit the City and County of San Francisco to establish its County Jail on Yerba Buena Island, and be it Further Resolved, That pending the outcome of said negotiations, action upon any other proposed jail site shall be suspended.

Motion.

Whereupon, Supervisor Canepa moved re-reference of the entire subject matter to the Public Works, Buildings and Lands Committee.

Ayes—Supervisors Canepa, McSheehy, Peyser, Power, Shannon, Spaulding, Stanton—7.

Noes—Supervisors Brown, Colman, Gallagher, Havenner, Hayden, Miles, Roncovieri—7.

Consideration of Minority Report.

Thereupon, Supervisor Shannon moved adoption of minority report.

Communications Relative to Jail Removal.

The following were presented and read:

Supervisor Shannon presented communication from W. H. Nanry, director, San Francisco Bureau of Governmental Research, declaring that it is probable that the minority report and resolution submitted by him is illegal under the new Charter, inasmuch as said resolution designates land contiguous to County Jail No. 1 as a site for the new County Jail, and requests the City Attorney to start proceedings for the acquisition thereof, and calling attention to Section 91 of the Charter, pertaining to the subject-matter, and requesting that the City Attorney's opinion be obtained on the points outlined when the matter is under consideration in the Board.

Read and ordered filed.

Supervisor Shannon presented communication from Albert R. Gould, secretary of Burlingame Taxpayers' Protective Association, opposing the construction of a new County Jail for San Francisco in San Mateo County, and supporting the contention that said jail should be constructed in San Francisco County, where it naturally belongs and where the work incidental thereto would prevent unemployment and relieve distress so prevalent at the present time; calling attention, also, to danger of contamination of the City's water supply and decrying any competition with the poor, struggling vegetable growers of San Mateo County.

Read by the Clerk and ordered filed.

Also, communication from Julius Seike, representing the East Side San Mateo Improvement Club, and member of the Agricultural Committee of the Federation of Improvement Clubs, endorsing proposed County Jail site in San Francisco County and opposing its construction in San Mateo County, on the ground that it would ruin the adjoining district and pollute the watersheds of the City's water supply.

Read by the Clerk and ordered filed.

Also, communication from C. G. Gerber, committeeman of the El Camino Real Progress Association, opposing the County Jail in San Mateo County and commending the skyscraper plan for county jails as carried out in the city of Los Angeles and other large cities in the United States; calling attention to the fact that under this plan the payment of taxes to San Mateo County for gross acreage would be obviated.

Read by the Clerk and ordered filed.

Also, communication from Wm. F. Kavanaugh, Menlo Park, opposing the construction of the County Jail on the Sneath Ranch, in San Mateo County, on the ground that he owns 230 acres of land adjoining which would be depreciated by such an institution at his door.

Read by the Clerk and ordered filed.

Also, communication from A. Z. High, Jr., secretary of Westwood Park Association, transmitting copy of resolution adopted by that organization requesting the Board of Supervisors to use every effort to expedite the removal of the old Ingleside Jail from the Ingleside District.

Read and ordered filed.

City Attorney O'Toole, being interrogated as to the legal point raised in communication from Bureau of Governmental Research, spoke adversely to the point raised in said communication.

Privilege of the Floor.

Adolph Uhl objected to the location of jail at present in Ingleside and favored the new jail at Candlestick Point, where prison labor could be employed filling in tidelands.

Geo. Gerhardt of the Civic League spoke to the same effect. Also Mr. Cooper.

Mr. Sharp, president of the County Jail Removal Committee, urged removal of Ingleside Jail.

Assemblyman Gilmore, Henry Morton, representing West of Twin Peaks, and Edna Calhan also urged removal of the jail at Ingleside.

Mrs. Whiting of the City and County Federation of Women's Clubs spoke in favor of a jail in the fresh air and sunshine.

Geo. McRae of Charter Protective League was also heard.

Referred.

Whereupon, Supervisor Canepa's resolution, which was offered as a substitute for the whole and ruled out of order, was referred to the Public Works, Buildings and Lands Committee.

Motion.

Supervisor Peyser thereupon moved to postpone further action one week and make a Special Order for 3 p. m.

Sheriff to submit comparative statement of costs of maintenance of different types—farm and skyscraper.

Ayes—Supervisors Canepa, Hayden, Miles, Peyser, Shannon, Spaulding, Stanton—7.

Noes—Supervisors Brown, Coleman, Gallagher, Havenner, Power, Roncovieri—6.

Absent—Supervisors Breyer, McSheehy—2.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

Whereas, the Board of Fire Commissioners, being the Commission in charge of the department responsible for the administration of the hereinafter described real property, by resolution dated February 8, 1932, recommended that said hereinafter described real property be sold; therefore,

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. That the Board of Supervisors authorizes and that the public interest and necessity demand the sale of the said hereinafter described parcel or piece of land owned by the City and County of San Francisco, a municipal corporation, and now under the jurisdiction of the Fire Department. Said parcel of land is situated in the City and County of San Francisco, State of California, and more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

Petitioning Congress to Take Immediate Steps to Provide Sufficient Funds to Adequately Man San Francisco Bay Fortifications.

(Code No. 5.2)

On recommendation of Public Welfare Committee.

Resolution No. 67, as follows:

Whereas, the City of San Francisco and other cities of the Pacific Coast must rely for their safety in time of warfare on the coast defenses maintained by the United States Army; and

Whereas, recent investigation by the San Francisco Examiner and other newspapers has shown that such defenses as have been constructed are undermanned and apparently inadequate for preservation of the lives and property of our citizens under modern conditions of warfare; and

Whereas, United States Army authorities admit that the Coast Guard forces now manning the forts protecting the San Francisco Bay area are woefully inadequate to provide more than "caretakers" without any attempt being made to protect the military reservations, gun emplacements or fortification from possible hostile foreign observation or sabotage; and

Whereas, War Department officials declare that the lack of coast defense man power, guns or modernization is due to the cutting of appropriations for such purposes by Congress; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That this Board of Supervisors most urgently petitions the Congress to take immediate steps to provide sufficient funds adequately to man San Francisco Bay fortifications and to place them in such condition as to be an effective defense to this City in time of war and to protect all such military works from surveillance of hostile aliens even in time of peace. Be it Further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be immediately transmitted to United States Senators and Congressmen from the State of California, and to the President of the United States.

Opposing Reductions in Army Appropriation Bill Before Present Session of Congress.

(Code No. 5.2)

Also, Resolution No. 66, as follows:

Whereas, the National Committee on Military Affairs of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, mindful of the dangers of disarmament and desirous of frustrating any attempt of pacifists to impair the armed forces of the United States, have learned that an effort is being made at this session of the Congress to eliminate the following items from the Army Appropriation Bill:

1. 2000 officers and 10,000 enlisted men from the regular army;
2. National rifle matches;
3. Training for reserve officers;
4. R. O. T. C. summer training camps;
5. Citizens' military training camps;
6. National Guard drill and rifle practice to be materially reduced; and

Whereas, the present economic stress does not justify this drastic curtailment of our national defense program; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Board of Supervisors hereby opposes any reduction in the army appropriation or the elimination of items in the existing program for national defense designed to destroy or emasculate war-time preparedness; and be it

Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded immediately to the President and Vice-president of the United States, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and Representatives and Senators in Congress from California.

On a motion for the previous question prior to a vote being taken by the Board a call of the Board shall be in order.

26. Every member present when a question is put shall vote for or against it, unless disqualified by the Charter. No member shall be permitted to vote upon a question unless present when his name is called or before the vote is announced. A roll call shall not be interrupted for debate or personal privilege, but a member may, prior to the calling of the roll, explain his vote or file in writing an explanation of his vote after the result of the roll call has been announced and recorded.

27. After the Board has acted, the names of those who voted for and those who voted against the question shall be entered upon the Journal, not only in cases required by law, but when any member may require it, and on all bills, ordinances and resolutions on second reading the ayes and nays shall be recorded.

In committees of three members or less a motion by a member thereof shall not require a second.

31. The Clerk shall prepare and cause to be printed and placed on the desks of the members on days of meeting, at least 30 minutes before such meeting, a calendar of matters to be presented to the Board at said meeting. Every petition or other written instrument intended to be presented to the Board must be delivered to the Clerk not later than 12 o'clock noon on Saturday, or on the day preceding the meeting. Upon the request of the President or of any member its contents shall be read in full.

32. All petitions, protests and communications of a routine character shall be referred by the Clerk to the proper committee.

33. Eight members shall constitute a quorum to transact business, and no bill, ordinance, resolution or amendment thereto shall pass without the concurrence of at least that number of members, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day.

34. Except when otherwise provided by these rules, the Charter or law, a majority vote of the members present shall be necessary for the adoption of any motion.

The privilege of the floor shall not be granted to others than members of the Board for any purpose except those entitled to the same under the Charter, or public officials of the City and County of San Francisco. This rule shall not be suspended except by unanimous consent of all members present.

35a. Unless otherwise decided by the unanimous consent of the Board of Supervisors, on matters of appeal from decisions of the City Planning Commission, the time for the hearing of others than members of the Board shall not exceed 60 minutes, to be divided, 30 minutes to proponents and 30 minutes to opponents, which each side may divide as they see fit.

36. In debate a member must confine himself to the question before the Board.

37. On any question or points of order not embraced in these rules the Board shall be governed by the rules contained in Robert's Rules of Order.

38. No member of the Board of Supervisors, chairman of a committee, or committee of said Board, shall employ or engage the services of any person, or authorize or incur any charge, debt or liability against the City and County unless authority therefor shall have been first given by the Board of Supervisors by resolution or ordinance, except as otherwise provided by law.

39. No standing rule or order of the Board shall be suspended or amended without the affirmative vote of ten members, except that the rule as to the privilege of the floor shall require the unanimous consent of all members present.

40. No special order shall be placed on the Calendar except by order of the Board. When the time of special order arrives the presiding officer or a member of the Board may call up said order, and it shall not be set aside unless by order of the Board.

Every petition or other written instrument intended to be presented to the Board must be delivered to the Clerk not later than 12 o'clock noon on Saturday, or on the day preceding the meeting. Upon the request of the President or of any member its contents shall be read in full.

39. No standing rule or order of the Board shall be suspended or amended without the affirmative vote of ten members, except that the rule as to the privilege of the floor shall require the unanimous consent of all members present.

40. No special order shall be placed on the Calendar except by order of the Board. When the time of special order arrives the presiding officer or a member of the Board may call up said order, and it shall not be set aside unless by order of the Board.

Resolution No. 85, as follows:

Whereas, the junction of El Camino Del Mar, Great Highway, Point Lobos and Forty-eighth avenues constitutes a menace to life and limb, due to the congestion on Sundays and holidays; and

Whereas, there exists at this point an old and abandoned street railroad right of way which might be utilized for the widening of El Camino Del Mar for several hundred feet; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the City Engineer is requested to make a survey of this situation, to confer with the Honorable Board of Park Commissioners, and to submit his recommendations to this Board and the Streets Committee at a very early date.

Supervisors Hayden and Roncovieri presented:

Resolution No. 86, as follows:

Whereas, John Philip Sousa, the internationally famous "American March King," and the man whose versatile genius has placed American band music in the forefront of musical composition and execution, has wielded the baton for the last time; and

Whereas, John Philip Sousa's marches have been hummed and whistled and played by and to thrilling millions throughout the world, and possibly in no place with more love, affection and acclaim than in San Francisco, the musical center of the West, where the great American march king initiated his progress into the world of fame; and

Whereas, John Philip Sousa was a genius of extraordinary ability in composition, in rendition and in interpretation of scores most effectively done in large bodies of massed band music, which brought first into prominence the national United States Marine Band; and

Whereas, this great American-born artist was a man of tremendous energy, surging vitality and most commendable desire for the very best and highest type of musical scores, which qualities have left an indelible impress on the band music of the United States of America; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco deeply deplores the death of John Philip Sousa because of San Francisco's love and appreciation for him, and also because of the extraordinary genius that he was; and be it

Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread on the minutes of this meeting and that when this Board adjourns today it do so out of respect to the memory of the great American March King, John Philip Sousa.

Kidnaping of Lindbergh Baby.

(Code No. 5.2)

Supervisor Canepa presented:

Resolution No. ——, as follows:

Whereas, on the night of March 1, 1932, at Hopewell, New Jersey, Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., the son of Colonel Chas. A. Lindbergh, one of the nation's most distinguished and honored citizens, was taken from his crib in a condition of ill health and spirited away from the bosom of his adoring family; and

Whereas, this most appalling and unfortunate event has focused the attention of the entire world upon a consideration of the gravity of the crime involved; and

Whereas, the despicable act of kidnaping far surpasses in its heart-rending effects the commission of any other crime, in that it causes untold and incessant mental anguish through speculation as to the victim's fate; it suppresses the freedom of other children, whose parents are justifiably apprehensive for their safety; it looks for monetary enhancement to the purest and noblest of sentiment—the irresistible love for her baby with which the Almighty has charged every mother—and it seeks for its prey the most innocent, the most inoffensive, the most helpless and the most favored of God's creatures; and

Whereas, the act of kidnaping, when perpetrated by a rational person, has not one scintilla of justification under any conceivable circumstances; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this Board of Supervisors does hereby memorialize Congress, and does urge that body to enact a statute (the terms of which shall be strictly construed by the judiciary) imposing a severe penalty upon those guilty of kidnaping where done under such circumstances as to give the Federal authorities jurisdiction; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded to the President of the United States, the Vice-President, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and to the members of the California delegation in Congress.

Referred to Public Welfare Committee.

Tree Planting on Boulevards.

Supervisor Havenner declared that the subcommittee on tree planting had planted a grove of trees in McLaren Park in commemoration of the George Washington Bicentennial, and had expressed itself as wanting to plant trees along one or more of the boulevards, and that the State Forester had offered to donate trees for planting along Junipero Serra boulevard as far as Colma, but advises that it must be done before the end of this month in order to be successful—not later than March 27. This, Supervisor Havenner said, will not be possible under the new Charter, as it will be necessary to call for bids. To obviate this it was suggested that if the Board had no objection the emergency procedure might be employed to hasten this work, and if the Finance Committee will bring in the measure transferring the funds the work can proceed immediately.

Superintendent Wollenberg of the Laguna Honda Home, he said, approves this method as a means of giving employment which will meet the problem of married men facing eviction for non-payment of rent.

The City Attorney, Supervisor Havenner said, advises this method of procedure. He asked if anyone had any objection to the employment of the emergency procedure to carry on this work.

Supervisors Gallagher and McSheehy declared they had no objection providing Superintendent Wollenberg paid the men in wages, and not, as now, in groceries.

Whereupon, the matter was referred to the Streets and Finance Committees.

Regulating the Construction of Buildings and Every Portion Thereof to Resist the Lateral Forces of Wind and Earthquake; Designating and Defining Certain Types of Buildings and Regulating Foundation Construction.

(Code No. 11.08)

Also, Bill No. 35, Ordinance No. 11.082, as follows:

Regulating the construction of buildings and every portion thereof to resist the lateral forces of wind and earthquake; designating and defining certain types of buildings and regulating foundation construction.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. Definition of terms.

For the purposes of this ordinance the words "building" or "structure" define any construction the arrangement of which may affect the health, safety or general welfare of man or animals.

Section 2. General requirements.

Every building and every portion thereof shall be designed and constructed to resist the lateral forces of wind and earthquake as such are specifically designated in this ordinance, and shall be designed in accordance with the provisions of Ordinance No. 1008 (New Series) and/or amendments thereto.

Section 3. Permissible increase of unit stresses.

For the combination of dead load, live load, and earthquake, a maximum increase of 100 percent in usual working stresses will be permitted, for all members except columns. For columns the maximum increase in stress shall be 75 percent.

Wherever connections are designed and constructed to resist moments, such connections and members connected thereto shall be designed for moments and shears resulting from vertical loads as well as horizontal loads or movements. The effect of the elastic deformation of the connection on the moments may be considered.

Section 4. Amount and direction of wind force.

The wind pressure shall be considered to act in any direction upon the projection of the building on a vertical plane normal to the assumed direction of wind, and not less in intensity than the amounts specified in Sections 5, 7 and 8 of this ordinance.

Section 5. Required minimum wind pressure for buildings, or portions thereof, not over forty feet in height.

The minimum wind pressure for any building or portion of building the height of which above the ground does not exceed forty (40) feet shall be ten (10) pounds per square foot.

The minimum wind pressure for all parts of a building which are more than forty (40) feet in height above the ground, shall be fifteen (15) pounds per square foot.

Section 6. Structural elements resisting wind forces.

Wind forces shall be carried on the structural frame, except for bearing-wall buildings in which case such bearing-walls may be included as resisting elements, without exceeding unit stresses thirty-three and one-third percent (33 1/3 percent) greater than the working stresses of Ordinance No. 1008 (New Series).

Section 7. Required lateral force to be used if stresses produced thereby are greater than those due to wind.

In addition to the normal dead and live loads, the structural frame only of all structures shall be capable of resisting with an increase in fiber stress of thirty-three and one third percent (33 1/3 percent) over the working stresses specified in Ordinance No. 1008 (New Series), a horizontal force applied in any direction of one percent (1 percent) of the column dead and live loads applied in accordance with the mass distribution of the structure.

Section 8. Required minimum wind pressure for exposed roof structures, sprinkler tanks, etc.

The minimum wind pressure on sprinkler tanks and/or similar exposed roof structures and their supports shall be thirty (30) pounds per square foot of the gross area of the plane surface, except as modified in Section 9.

Section 9. Reduction of unit wind pressure on cylindrical tanks, towers, or stacks.

The minimum unit wind pressure to be used for cylindrical tanks, cylindrical towers and/or cylindrical stacks shall be six-tenths (6/10) of that specified in Section 8.

Section 10. Provisions against overturning moment.

Every building must be capable of resisting with dead loads only one and one-half (1½) times the overturning moment due to wind without producing tension at the bottoms of the foundations of the building.

Section 11. Amount of earthquake force.

The amount of the earthquake force shall be considered to be applied in any direction and shall be not less than that given by the formula

$F = CW_{D+L}$, in which

F = Force of earthquake in pounds.

C = A coefficient dependent on the safe resistance of soil to vertical load, the height of the building, and the character of construction, all as given in Sections 13, 14, 16, 19 and 20.

W_{D+L} = Total dead weight of building plus total live load (Except that said live loads may be reduced as provided in Ordinance No. 1008 New Series).

Section 12. Values of Coefficient "C" in Formula of Section 11.

The value of "C" shall be as given in the following table, except as those values are modified in Sections 13, 14, 16, 19 and 20.

TABLE

Safe Resistance to Vertical Load of Soil in which Foundations of Building Rest	Double Amplitude of Motion	Period in Seconds	Value of Coefficient "C" in Formula $F = CW_{D+L}$
Four (4) tons per square foot	1¾"	1.5	0.04
Three (3) tons per square foot	3.0	1.67	0.055
Two (2) tons per square foot	4.3	1.83	0.065
One (1) ton per square foot	6.3	2.0	0.08

Section 13. Increase of Coefficient "C" for buildings over 124 feet in height on a soil having a safe resistance not more than two tons per square foot.

The Coefficient "C" for buildings over one hundred and twenty-four (124) feet in height, shall be not less than the value given by the following formula:

$$C = 0.065 + \frac{0.0025\ (H_B - 124)}{12}$$

C = Coefficient in Formula $F = CW_{D+L}$

H_B = Height of building in feet, as provided in Ordinance No. 1008 (New Series).

Section 14. Increase of Coefficient "C" for buildings over 100 feet in height, and on a soil having a safe resistance not more than one ton per square foot.

The Coefficient "C" for buildings over one hundred (100) feet in height, shall be not less than the value given by the following formula:

$$C = 0.08 + \frac{0.0025\ (H_B - 100)}{12}$$

Section 15. Definition of flexible type buildings.

The term "flexible type buildings", as used in this ordinance, shall be understood to define buildings having complete structural frames, in which the columns of the lower story or stories and their connections and connecting members are designed and constructed in such a manner that for a certain definite common portion of their height, hereinafter termed the "flexible portion", the upper ends of said flexible portion of said columns may deflect laterally with respect to the bottoms of said flexible portion of said columns a definite common horizontal distance conforming to the provisions of the table in Section 12 in any direction without stressing said columns, or any other portion of the structural frame, more than is specified in Section 2; however, that in order to make the reductions provided in Section 16 there must be a marked difference in the rigidity of the flexible portion as compared to the rigidity of the stories above and in no case shall the rigidity of the flexible portion be greater than ten percent (10 percent) of the rigidity of the story above.

The term "rigidity" as used in this section is a relative quantity inversely proportional to the horizontal deflections of the resisting elements of any story or portion of a structure produced by a constant horizontal force acting through the height of the portion of the structure considered.

A building may have more than one flexible portion or may have a flexible portion above the lower stories, in which event only that portion above the flexible portion may be designed for the reduced coefficient.

Section 16. Reduction of Coefficient "C" for flexible type buildings.

In flexible first story buildings supported on a soil having a safe resistance to vertical load of three (3) tons or over per square foot, the Coefficient "C" as given in Section 12, may be reduced by the factor $3/T2$ where T is the free vibrating period of the structure or an approximation thereof based on the following assumptions: (a) that the entire mass of the structure above the flexible portion is concentrated at the top of the flexible portion; (b) that when deflected horizontally any column in the flexible portion will have tangents to its elastic curve at each end of the flexible portion which are parallel.

$$(c)\quad T = 2\pi\sqrt{\frac{W}{12Hg}} = \pi\sqrt{\frac{W}{3Hg}} = 1.81\sqrt{\frac{W}{Hg}}$$

g = acc. due to gravity = 32.2 feet /sec. 2.
H = Force in pounds required to deflect frame 1 inch horizontally.

Provided further that the total reduction to be made under the provisions of this section shall not be more than fifty percent (50 percent).

(If the above approximation is not satisfactory for any special condition, T may be obtained from H based on any assumption that appears more in conformity with the particular conditions.)

Section 17. No reduction of Coefficient "C" for certain flexible type buildings.

No reduction of the Coefficient "C" shall be allowed for flexible type buildings situated on soils having a safe resistance to vertical loads of less than three (3) tons.

Section 18. Special design of masonry walls for flexible type buildings.

Where the "flexible type" of building is to be employed, proper provision shall be made to insure the computed deflection of columns under the action of the assumed earthquake force.

Section 19. Values of Coefficient "C" for buildings supported by pile foundations.

For buildings supported on piling, the Coefficient "C" shall be the same as that for a soil having a resistance not greater than two (2) tons, provided, however, that if said piling is driven in a soil having a resistance greater than two (2) tons per square foot the Coefficient "C" need not be greater than that given for the actual supporting resistance to vertical loads applied at the level of the footings and/or pile caps.

Section 20. Values of Coefficient "C" for buildings supported on reinforced concrete caissons extending to firm soil or to rock.

For the purpose of determining the Coefficient "C" for all buildings supported on reinforced concrete caissons extending to firm soil or rock, the building shall be assumed to be carried on footings supported by a soil having a maximum resistance to vertical load of three (3) tons per square foot; provided that the soil in which the caissons are sunk need not be assumed to have a resistance to vertical load less than its actual safe supporting resistance to vertical load applied at the level of the top of caissons.

Section 21. Required interconnection of footings for buildings on pile and caisson foundations.

In all buildings on pile or caisson foundations (except as exempted in Section 25), each foundation pier or footing shall be tied to adjoining piers, in a longitudinal and transverse direction, by members of reinforced concrete or of structural steel encased in reinforced concrete, hereinafter termed "foundation ties", or by a continuous reinforced concrete slab, except that if soil has sufficient bearing capacity to carry the load without the use of piles, ties will not be required.

Section 22. Requirements for design of foundation ties.

Each of the foundation ties shall be designed to transmit in tension and/or compression one-tenth (1/10) of the column load obtained by taking the total load on all the columns and dividing by the number of columns. In addition, each of said foundation ties shall be designed to resist the bending resulting from the assumption that the member acts as a beam spanning between piers, except that such bending need not be considered if said foundation ties are supported directly on a soil which is capable of sustaining without settlement the weight of said foundation ties.

Section 23. Required minimum sections of foundation ties.

The minimum sections of any foundation tie shall be as follows:

If of reinforced concrete, twelve (12) inches by twelve (12) inches in cross sectional area, reinforced with four (4) longitudinal steel bars five-eighths (⅝) inch in diameter, and bound with steel ties one-quarter (¼) inch in diameter spaced not over twelve (12) inches on centers.

If of structural steel, a six (6) inch, twenty (20) pound H section encased in concrete with two (2) inches of concrete outside of the steel.

Section 24. Minimum requirement for foundation slab to be used as alternate for foundation ties.

If a reinforced concrete slab is used instead of the required foundation ties, said slab shall have a thickness not less than one forty-eighth (1/48) of the clear distance between footings and/or not less than six (6) inches, and shall be reinforced with not less than eleven one-hundredths (0.11) square inch of steel per linear foot of slab, in a longitudinal direction, and with the same amount of reinforcing in a transverse direction, with the bottom of said slab not higher than twelve (12) inches above the tops of at least eighty percent (80 percent) of the piers.

Section 25. Anchorage of reinforcement of foundation ties and foundation tying slab.

The longitudinal bars of the reinforced concrete foundation ties shall be embedded not less than forty (40) diameters and hooked into the foundation piers and/or footings which they connect. One-story buildings, with first floor supported directly on ground, are exempted from provisions of ties. The connection of the structural steel foundation ties to the columns or foundation piers and/or footings shall be sufficient to develop the computed stresses in said foundation ties.

Section 26. Required resistance against horizontal torsional moments.

The vertical structural units of the building which resist the force of the earthquake shall be so arranged that, in any horizontal plane, the centroid of such resisting structural units is coincident with the center of gravity of the weight of the building, or else proper provision shall be made for the resulting torsional moment on the building.

Section 27. Calculation of horizontal shears.

The total horizontal shear, at any level in the building, resulting from the earthquake force (F), shall be taken to be that given by the formula

C = Coefficient, values of which are given in Section 12.

W'_{D+L} = Total dead and live load above the level considered.

Section 28. Distribution of horizontal shears.

The total horizontal shear at any level shall be distributed to the various resisting units at that level in proportion to their rigidities.

Section 29. Allowable use of permanent structural elements for resistance to earthquake.

Reinforced concrete or masonry walls with all permanent structural elements capable of providing resistance may be assumed to act integrally with said structural frames in resisting the shears and moments due to the earthquake force unless specifically designed and constructed to act independently from said structural frames; except that in flexible type buildings all structural elements used in determining the horizontal force H shall be used to resist the total earthquake force induced by the mass above the flexible portion.

Section 30. Structures with special earthquake resistant provisions.

Structures, other than the flexible type defined in Section 15, with special localized provision to dampen or absorb the effect of vibrations which insures against the transmission of excessive vibration or the causing of excessive stresses in the portions of the structure above such special section or sections, may be built. The adequacy of the localized dampening or absorptive provision shall be susceptible to proof either experimentally or through the medium of accepted principles of mechanics, the structure being subjected to the earthquake action given in Section 12, or any shock in which any combination of amplitude and period are such as to give the same or lesser acceleration than is given in Section 12.

Section 31. Conflicting ordinances repealed.

Any and/or all parts of Ordinance No. 1008 (New Series) and/or amendments thereto that are in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Section 32. Date of effect.

This ordinance shall take effect fifteen (15) days after passage.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. From and after the 8th day of January, 1932, all proposed ordinances to be thereafter considered or enacted by the Board of Supervisors shall, before presentation to said Board, be filed with the Clerk thereof, and within twenty-four hours after any proposed ordinance is filed with said Clerk the President or the Clerk of the Board shall assign the same for hearing and report to the proper committee, as provided by the rules of said Board, and said committee shall hold a hearing upon said proposed ordinance, and may amend the same, and should said committee approve said ordinance the same shall be printed, with amendments thereto, if any, included, and shall be presented to the Board by said committee. If said committee should not, within the time allowed by rule of the Board, report upon said proposed ordinance, or if all the members of said committee should disapprove said proposed ordinance, any member of the Board may call for said proposed ordinance to be presented to the Board. Within three days after said proposed ordinance is presented to said Board, the same shall be published once in the official newspaper, and should said proposed ordinance be modified, it shall again be published upon first reading, and thereafter said ordinance may be finally acted upon without further publication.

Section 2. Nothing herein contained shall prevent any committee of the Board presenting to the Board any proposed ordinance for enactment, or the Board acting upon any proposed ordinance presented directly to the Board by any committee thereof, and any proposed ordinance so presented shall be published in full in the official newspaper, within three days after said presentation, and should said proposed ordinance be modified, it shall be again published upon first reading, and thereafter said proposed ordinance may be finally acted upon without further publication.

Section 3. Any proposed ordinance which shall, by vote of the Board, be declared an emergency measure, as provided in Section 13 of the Charter to become effective on January 8, 1932, shall be published once in the official newspaper before final passage.

Section 4. Within five days after the enactment of any ordinance or resolution, save and except an emergency measure hereinbefore mentioned, notice that said ordinance or resolution has been passed shall be published once in the official newspaper, by the Clerk of the Board, which said notice shall indicate the title of said ordinance or resolution and the purpose thereof, and the date of enactment thereof.

Section 5. This ordinance shall become effective at 12 o'clock noon, January 8, 1932.

Action by the Board shall not be taken upon any bill, ordinance or resolution until it has been referred to and acted upon by a committee of the Board.

10. The Order of Business, which shall not be departed from except by the consent of ten members, shall be as follows:

1. Roll Call.
2. Approval of Journal.
3. Calendar Matters (uncontested).
4. Roll Call for the Introduction of Resolutions, Bills and Communications Not Considered or Reported on by a Committee.
5. Completion of Calendar Business.
6. Communications and Reports from City and County Officers.
7. Reports of Committees.

11. If any question under debate contains several points, any member may have the points segregated and acted upon separately.

12. When a motion has been made and carried or lost, it shall be in order for any member voting with the prevailing side to move to "reconsider the vote" on that question.

A member may change his vote before the result is announced in order to move to "reconsider the vote" on that question. The vote upon such motion to reconsider shall not be taken before the next regular meeting of the Board. No question shall be reconsidered more than once, and motion to reconsider shall apply only to the main question. Motion to reconsider shall have precedence over every other motion. It shall require eight votes to carry any motion to reconsider the vote by which any bill, ordinance or resolution has been passed or defeated.

13. A motion to refer or lay on the table until decided shall preclude all amendments to the main question. A motion to lay on the table or to postpone indefinitely shall require a majority vote of the members present.

14. It shall be the duty of the Clerk to issue such certificates as may be required by ordinances or resolutions and transmit copies of said ordinances or resolutions to the various departments affected thereby. It shall also be the duty of the Clerk to cause the publication in the official newspaper of all bills, ordinances, proposals and awards as required by the Charter.

15. The President shall preserve order and decorum, and prevent demonstrations of approval or disapproval on the part of persons in the chambers of the Board, and shall decide questions of order, subject to an appeal to the Board.

16. When a Supervisor desires to address the Board he shall arise in his place, address the presiding officer, and when recognized he shall proceed to speak. No Supervisor shall be recognized when seated or when away from his seat.

17. No Supervisor shall speak more than twice in any one debate on the same subject, and at the same stage of the bill, ordinance, resolution or motion, without the consent of a majority of the Board, and Supervisors who have once spoken shall not again be entitled to the floor so long as any Supervisor who has not spoken desires to speak. No Supervisor shall be allowed to speak more than ten minutes on any question except by permission of the Board, except that the author shall have ten minutes to open and ten minutes to close.

18. No Supervisor shall be interrupted when speaking without his consent.

19. When two or more Supervisors arise at the same time to address the Board, the presiding officer shall designate the Supervisor who is entitled to the floor.

20. No motion shall be debated until the same has been seconded and distinctly announced by the presiding officer.

21. After a motion has been stated by the President, it shall be in the possession of the Board. It may be withdrawn by the mover thereof, with the consent of the second, before it is acted upon.

22. Upon a call of the Board the names of the members shall be called by the Clerk, and the absentees noted. Those for whom no excuse or insufficient excuses are made may, by order of those present, be sent for and be brought to the chambers of the Board by the Sergeant-at-Arms or by special messengers appointed for the purpose.

23. When a question is under debate, no action shall be entertained except:

To adjourn.
Call of the Board.
To lay on the table.
The previous question.
To postpone.
To commit or amend.

which several motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are arranged; provided, however, that during a call of the Board it may consider and transact any matter or business that the Supervisors there present shall unanimously decide to consider.

24. A motion to adjourn is not debatable.

25. The previous question shall be put in the following form: "Shall the previous question be now put?" It shall only be admitted when demanded by three Supervisors, and its effect shall be to put an end to all debate, except that the author of the bill, ordinance, resolution or motion or amendments shall have the right to close, and the question under discussion shall thereupon be immediately put to a vote. On a motion for the previous question prior to a vote being taken by the Board a call of the Board shall be in order.

26. Every member present when a question is put shall vote for or against it, unless disqualified by the Charter. No member shall be permitted to vote upon a question unless present when his name is called or before the vote is announced. A roll call shall not be interrupted for debate or personal privilege, but a member may, prior to the calling of the roll, explain his vote or file in writing an explanation of his vote after the result of the roll call has been announced and recorded.

27. After the Board has acted, the names of those who voted for and those who voted against the question shall be entered upon the Journal, not only in cases required by law, but when any member may require it, and on all bills, ordinances and resolutions on second reading the ayes and nays shall be recorded.

28. The Board of Supervisors shall appoint a Clerk, who shall be designated as Clerk of the Board of Supervisors and who shall, ex officio, be Clerk of the Board of Equalization. The Clerk shall have charge of the office and records of the Board and its committees, and the personnel employed to handle the business, affairs and operations of the Board, its committees and members when engaged in official duty. The Clerk shall be the appointing officer for such personnel, subject to the civil service provisions of this Charter. The Clerk shall keep a journal of proceedings of the Board and files of all ordinances and resolutions and properly index the same. He shall be responsible for the publication, as required by law, of ordinances, resolutions and other matters acted on by the Board for which publication is specified. He shall have such other duties and responsibilities as the Board shall prescribe.

29. No member shall leave the Board during its session without permission from the Board.

30. Committees must report on any subject referred to them by the Board and must give their recommendations thereon. Unless otherwise ordered, a committee shall report upon all subjects referred to it within thirty days thereafter. It shall be the right of any member of a committee to move a roll call (in committee) on any pending motion, and the chairman or acting chairman of said committee shall, with or without debate, order the roll call. In committees of three members or less a motion by a member thereof shall not require a second.

31. The Clerk shall prepare and cause to be printed and placed on the desks of the members on days of meeting, at least 30 minutes before such meeting, a calendar of matters to be presented to the Board at said meeting. Every petition or other written instrument intended to be presented to the Board must be delivered to the Clerk not later than 12 o'clock noon on Saturday, or on the day preceding the meeting. Upon the request of the President or of any member its contents shall be read in full.

32. All petitions, protests and communications of a routine character shall be referred by the Clerk to the proper committee.

33. Eight members shall constitute a quorum to transact business, and no bill, ordinance, resolution or amendment thereto shall pass without the concurrence of at least that number of members, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day.

34. Except when otherwise provided by these rules, the Charter or law, a majority vote of the members present shall be necessary for the adoption of any motion.

35. The privilege of the floor shall not be granted to others than members of the Board for any purpose except those entitled to the same under the Charter, or public officials of the City and County of San Francisco. This rule shall not be suspended except by unanimous consent of all members present.

35a. Unless otherwise decided by the unanimous consent of the Board of Supervisors, on matters of appeal from decisions of the City Planning Commission, the time for the hearing of others than members of the Board shall not exceed 60 minutes, to be divided, 30 minutes to proponents and 30 minutes to opponents, which each side may divide as they see fit.

36. In debate a member must confine himself to the question before the Board.

37. On any question or points of order not embraced in these rules the Board shall be governed by the rules contained in Robert's Rules of Order.

38. No member of the Board of Supervisors, chairman of a committee, or committee of said Board, shall employ or engage the services of any person, or authorize or incur any charge, debt or liability against the City and County unless authority therefor shall have been first given by the Board of Supervisors by resolution or ordinance, except as otherwise provided by law.

39. No standing rule or order of the Board shall be suspended or amended without the affirmative vote of ten members, except that the rule as to the privilege of the floor shall require the unanimous consent of all members present.

40. No special order shall be placed on the Calendar except by order of the Board. When the time of special order arrives the presiding officer or a member of the Board may call up said order, and it shall not be set aside unless by order of the Board.

MEMORANDUM OF CHARTER PROVISIONS.

Section 13. No other resolution shall be adopted by the Board of Supervisors on the date of its introduction and without reference to committee except by the unanimous consent of the Supervisors present.

Annual budget and appropriation ordinances shall be passed only after two readings, not less than five days apart, and the second or final passage shall be not less than fifteen days after the introduction of each such ordinance.

No ordinance granting a franchise shall be finally passed within ninety days of its introduction.

Section 16. No ordinance shall become effective until ten days after final passage unless adopted by a three-fourths vote of all members of the Board as an emergency measure.

Section 117. No city planning ordinance shall be considered by the Supervisors without being submitted to the City Planning Commission for report and recommendation. If the commission disapproves such ordinance the Supervisors may adopt the same only by an affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of its entire membership.

Payroll Procedure Ordinance.

(Code No. 9.055)

On recommendation of Charter Committee.

Bill No. 37, Ordinance No. 9.0551, as follows:

Providing for the preparation of time rolls, pay rolls and pay checks or warrants by the Controller, the maintenance of time records by the several departments, and the distribution of pay checks by the several department heads or their designated representatives, and the transfer of employees and equipment.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. The Controller shall prepare all skeleton time rolls and pay rolls for the various departments of the City and County and pay checks for the employees thereof. A "skeleton" time roll, together with a pay roll based thereon and pay warrants to accompany each such pay roll shall be prepared for each department or office as a unit, or for each operating subdivision thereof, as requested by the head of any department or office, on the basis of the assembly or distribution points for the various employments in each such department or office; provided, however, that the Controller, by written regulation, may authorize the head of any department having employees engaged in work outside of the City or County, or engaged on construction activities, or which by the circumstances of departmental employment has a large number of changes in employment, to temporarily continue the preparation of pay rolls for such employments in such department. The term "department head" as used in this ordinance shall be construed to mean the officer, board or commission having the charge and management of a separate department or office of the City and County.

Section 2. Stencils, addressograph plates or other mechanical systems for preparing time and pay roll records, together with mechanical office equipment maintained in the several departments for pay roll or time roll purposes, shall be transferred to the Controller's office by the Purchaser of Supplies. Clerical employees heretofore assigned to such work in the several departments on a full time basis, or who perform such duties for a major portion of their time, shall be transferred to the Controller's office by the Civil Service Commission. Such reallocation of positions shall not adversely affect the civil service rights of any incumbent regularly holding any such position.

Section 3. Skeleton time sheets or time roll forms as established shall be prepared in the Controller's office for each department or office, or for each operating subdivision thereof, and shall be transmitted by the Controller to the department head concerned in advance of the first date on which time is to be recorded on such time rolls. Each such time roll shall show the name, civil service classification and number, and the rate of pay of each employee includede thereon.

Section 4. Each department or office, through the head thereof or an employee or employees designated by such head, shall maintain a daily check and a daily posting to the time roll of the time worked by its employees. All overtime for which extra pay is allowed, and vacations, sick leaves and other allowable absences for which no deduction in pay is required, together with leaves, suspensions and other absences without pay, shall be reported by the departments to the Controller at such times and in such manner as the Controller, by regulation, may require. At the close of the period of time covered by the time roll, departmental timekeepers shall total the time worked, post the amounts of deductions or allowances other than the retirement fund, and distribute the amount of time and pay by funds, appropriations and objects of expenditures, in accordance with regulations established by the Controller.

Section 5. Each time roll, when completed as required by Section 4 of this ordinance, shall be certified as correct by the person responsible for the keeping of such time roll and by the department head, and shall be delivered to the secretary of the Civil Service Commission for examination and approval. Any item on any such time roll disapproved shall be taken up by the secretary of the Civil Service Commission with the department concerned, on a standard form prescribed by said Commission and approved by the Controller. The time rolls approved by the secretary of the Civil Service Commission, with notations thereon of any item disapproved, shall be then certified as approved by the secretary of the Commission and transmitted to the Controller.

Section 6. Pay rolls and pay warrants for each department or office, and for each operating subdivision thereof, shall be prepared by the Controller on a suitable pay roll machine.

Section 7. The pay roll and pay warrants for each department and office, or operating subdivision thereof, shall be delivered to such person or persons as the head of the department shall, by writing filed with the Controller, authorize to receive the same, and upon the delivery of the same, said person shall receipt to said Controller for said pay roll and said pay warrants. The head of the department shall thereupon cause such pay warrants to be delivered to the respective payees named therein at or as near as possible to the places of employment of said employees, and the signature of the payee thereon shall constitute an individual receipt to the Controller. There shall be returned by the head of the department to the Controller any pay warrants which, for any reason, cannot be delivered, with notation as to the reason for such non-delivery.

Section 8. Ordinance 9079 (New Series) is hereby repealed.

EXPLANATORY.

The amendments to the above ordinance were recommended by the Controller, and are as follows: The term Auditor is changed to Controller; the signature of the payee on the warrant constitutes an individual receipt to the Controller, thereby obviating the necessity for employees to sign the payroll sheet in the Controller's office.

Also, Bill No. 38, Ordiance No. 9.0811, as follows:

Providing for the creation and operation of a Purchaser's revolving fund, for the issuance of all purchase orders and the receiving and checking of all bills by the Purchaser of Supplies, for the preparation and issuance of all warrants by the Controller and for the transfer of employees to the Purchasing Department and the Controller.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. There is hereby created and established in the treasury of the City and County of San Francisco a revolving fund to be known and called the "Purchaser's Revolving Fund." Said fund shall consist of such specific appropriations as the Board of Supervisors may, from time to time, make or set aside for the use of said fund, as well as all other moneys that may be made available for such fund on transfers, as provided by Charter, and on earned discounts. The sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) is hereby set aside and appropriated to the credit of said fund as an initial appropriation thereto.

Section 2. All purchase orders for materials, supplies, equipment and contractual services which are to be purchased by or through the Purchasing Department shall be issued by the Purchasing Department upon requisitions of the various departments; provided, that wherever the Purchaser of Supplies shall deem it necessary or advantageous, on the basis of price conditions, for the City and County to make emergency or quantity purchase of materials or supplies in advance of departmental requisitions and not in excess of departmental needs, he shall issue a requisition therefor, subject to the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer. The Purchaser of Supplies shall not issue a purchase order, and no purchase order except those issued outside the City and County for works or projects outside the City and County, or by departments not required to purchase through, or for things not to be purchased through, the Purchasing Department, shall be binding or in force, unless the Controller shall endorse thereon his certificate that there remains unexpended and unapplied a balance of the appropriation or funds applicable thereto, sufficient to pay the estimated expense of executing such purchase order, and the Controller shall encumber the appropriation or fund with the estimated expense of executing the purchase order.

Section 3. The Purchaser of Supplies, with the approval of the Controller, shall establish such rules and regulations relative to the procedure of handling bills, invoices, claims or demands for materials, supplies or equipment—hereinafter designated as "bills"—as to vest the Purchaser of Supplies with authority and responsibility for the receiving and checking of all bills and for the prompt payment, through the Purchaser's Revolving Fund, of bills on which discounts may be secured.

Section 4. All bills for materials, supplies, equipment, and contractual services furnished to the City and County on the basis of contracts or purchase orders shall be transmitted by the vender to the Purchaser of Supplies. Each such bill shall be verified by the Purchaser of Supplies, who shall cause prices, quantities, extensions and footings thereon to be checked and shall attach thereto a materials received report from the head of the department receiving such materials, supplies or equipment, upon which the head of such department shall approve the bill to be paid for the quantity of materials, supplies or equipment received by his department at the price or prices specified in the contract or purchase order.

The Purchaser of Supplies shall transmit all such bills to the Controller after approving and verifying the same as specified herein. The Controller shall audit such bills and shall prepare all warrants in payment of bills approved by him.

Section 6. The Purchaser of Supplies shall maintain appropriate accounting records of the transactions of the Purchaser's Revolving Fund to show cash and unencumbered balances; amounts of appropriations, and transfers thereto, and from which budget item or fund, if any, each such appropriation or transfer was made; disbursements therefrom, and to which fund, account, department or budget item such disbursements are to be charged; and the value and amount of discount earned to be accumulated and retained in the Purchaser's Revolving Fund. The Purchaser of Supplies shall file a report with the Controller monthly showing the transactions handled through such fund during the preceding month. The forms, records and procedure established by the Purchaser of Supplies and the Controller for the ordering of materials, supplies and equipment, and the recording of transfers, appropriations and payments to and from the Purchaser's Revolving Fund are hereby approved and may be changed only on the joint approval of the Controller and the Purchaser of Supplies.

Section 7. Employees of those departments required to make purchases through the Purchasing Department, who are exclusively performing the duties of requisitioning, ordering, receiving or checking of materials, supplies, equipment, and contractual service, shall, by the terms of this ordinance, be transferred to and be deemed employees of the Purchasing Department, and employees who have been engaged in the checking and payment of bills therefor shall, by the terms of this ordinance, be transferred to and be deemed employees of the Controller.

Section 8. Ordinance 9080 (New Series) is hereby repealed.

EXPLANATORY.

The amendments recommended by the Purchaser and Controller change the name of Auditor to Controller and provide that employees heretofore checking and paying bills shall be transferred to the office of the Controller, subject to the usual transfer procedure.

Proposed Bond Issue for Completion of Hetch Hetchy Aqueduct.
(Code No. 15.031)

Supervisor Colman presented:

Resolution No. 95, as follows:

Determining and declaring that public interest and necessity demand the construction and completion by the City and County of San Francisco of a public utility, to-wit: aqueduct tunnels, pipe lines, roads and trails as required by law, and other structures and appurtenances, including the acquisition of lands necessary for the completion of the Hetch Hetchy water project, pipe lines and appurtenances connecting the Water Department's properties with the Hetch Hetchy properties, all within the State of California, for the conveyance of water to the City and County of San Francisco and other communities, and that the estimated costs of said improvements are and will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of said City and County.

Resolved, by the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco, as follows:

Section 1. It is hereby specifically declared and determined that public interest and necessity demand the construction and completion by the City and County of San Francisco of a public utility, to-wit: Aqueduct tunnels, pipe lines, roads and trails as required by law, and other structures and appurtenances, including the acquisition of lands necessary for the completion of the Hetch Hetchy water project, pipe lines and appurtenances connecting the Water Department's properties with the Hetch Hetch properties, all within the State of California, for the conveyance of water to the City and County of San Francisco and other communities, and that the estimated costs of said improvements are and will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of said City and County, and all designed for the purpose of supplying the inhabitants of the City and County of San Francisco and others a sufficient supply of good, pure water.

Section 2. That the estimated cost of such water supply and works and appurtenances described in Section 1 hereof is the sum of six million five hundred thousand dollars ($6,500,000), based on report of the Public Utilities Commission and plans and estimates furnished by the chief consulting engineer of the Utilities Commission through the Public Utilities Commission of San Francisco.

Section 3. It is hereby determined and declared that of the said sum of six million five hundred thousand dollars ($6,500,000) no part can be paid out of the annual revenue of the City and County in addition to the other necessary expenses thereof, or other funds derived from taxes levied for that purpose, and will require the incurring of a bonded debt to the amount of six million five hundred thousand dollars ($6,500,000) for the purposes herein recited.

Section 4. This resolution shall take effect immediately.

Report of Public Utilities Commission.

The following was presented and read by the Clerk:

March 14, 1932.

Board of Supervisors, City Hall, San Francisco, California.

Gentlemen: In conformity with section 119 of the Charter, this communication is to be regarded as a report from the Public Utilities Commission concerning a proposed bond issue for the completion of the Hetch Hetchy water supply project.

There is submitted herewith a report of M. M. O'Shaughnessy, Consulting Engineer of Utilities Commission, dated March 14, 1932, detailing the work to be done on the Hetch Hetchy Aqueduct and the estimate of cost of completion, which he fixes in the amount of $6,286,281. To the report is attached a map and profile of the Coast Range Tunnel and connecting pipe line and a sketch showing the cross-section of a portion of the lined tunnel.

There is also submitted document No. 12, dated March 14, 1932, showing the condition of the Hetch Hetchy bond fund as of February 29, 1932, plus sales of bonds made to March 7, 1932.

In addition to the amount specified by Mr. O'Shaughnessy the Public Utilities Commission recommends the inclusion of $213,719 to pay a portion of the interest which shall become due on the proposed bonds during the period of construction and for the period of six months immediately following the completion of the same.

You are further advised it is the intention of the Commission that the work to be performed shall be subject to public bid, and in the event the bids should be lower than the estimate of the engineer, bonds for the difference in amount will not be issued.

Yours truly,

(Signed) LEWIS F. BYINGTON,
President, Public Utilities Commission.

NEW BUSINESS.

The following recommendation of Public Utilities Committee was taken up:

Declaratory Resolution, $6,500,000 Hetch Hetchy Bond Issue.

(Code No. 15.031)

Resolution No. 95, as follows:

Determining and declaring that public interest and necessity demand the construction and completion by the City and County of San Francisco of a public utility, to-wit: aqueduct tunnels, pipe lines, roads and trails as required by law, and other structures and appurtenances, including the acquisition of lands necessary for the completion of the Hetch Hetchy water project, pipe lines and appurtenances connecting the Water Department's properties with the Hetch Hetchy properties, all within the State of California, for the conveyance of water to the City and County of San Francisco and other communities, and that the estimated costs of said improvements are and will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of said City and County.

Resolved, by the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco, as follows:

Section 1. It is hereby specifically declared and determined that public interest and necessity demand the construction and completion by the City and County of San Francisco of a public utility, to-wit: Aqueduct tunnels, pipe lines, roads and trails as required by law, and other structures and appurtenances, including the acquisition of lands necessary for the completion of the Hetch Hetchy water project, pipe lines and appurtenances connecting the Water Department's properties with the Hetch Hetch properties, all within the State of California, for the conveyance of water to the City and County of San Francisco and other communities, and that the estimated costs of said improvements are and will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of said City and County, and all designed for the purpose of supplying the inhabitants of the City and County of San Francisco and others a sufficient supply of good, pure water.

Section 2. That the estimated cost of such water supply and works and appurtenances described in Section 1 hereof is the sum of six million five hundred thousand dollars ($6,500,000), based on report of the Public Utilities Commission and plans and estimates furnished by the chief consulting engineer of the Utilities Commission through the Public Utilities Commission of San Francisco.

Section 3. It is hereby determined and declared that of the said sum of six million five hundred thousand dollars ($6,500,000) no part can be paid out of the annual revenue of the City and County in addition to the other necessary expenses thereof, or other funds derived from taxes levied for that purpose, and will require the incurring of a bonded debt to the amount of six million five hundred thousand dollars ($6,500,000) for the purposes herein recited.

Section 4. This resolution shall take effect immediately.

Proposed Amendment.

Supervisor McSheehy moved as an amendment to the resolution that on the third line, after the words "to-wit," that the words "transbay pipe line paralleling existing Hetch Hetchy Pipe Line" be added.

After the words "to-wit," third line, Section 1, add to the words "transbay pipe line paralleling existing Hetch Hetchy Pipe Line," the words and figures, "$6,500,000" be changed to "$9,500,000."

In Section 3, in two places of this section that the words and figures be changed from $6,500,000 to $9,500,000.

No second.

Adopted.

Whereupon, the foregoing declaratory resolution was adopted by the following vote:

Ayes—Supervisors Breyer, Brown, Canepa, Colman, Gallagher, Havenner, Hayden, Miles, Peyser, Power, Roncovieri, Shannon, Spaulding, Stanton—14.

No—Supervisor McSheehy—1.

Explanation of Vote.

Supervisor McSheehy explained his vote as follows:

I am voting "No" on Resolution No. 95, Code No. 15.031, on the bond issue for the completion of the Hetch Hetchy Project for $6,500,000. I think a great mistake has been made, for the following reasons, to-wit:

1. On January 1, 1909, the first bond issue of $600,000 was voted by the people for plans, surveys, etc. This was followed later, on July 1, 1910, by a $45,000,000 bond issue with a positive assurance that this sum would bring Hetch Hetchy water to San Francisco. On account of mismanagement and miscalculations these two bond issues were increased by two more bond issues; one for $10,000,000 on January 1, 1925, and the other for $24,000,000 on July 1, 1928, making a total of $79,600,000 and not $45,600,000.

2. The interest on these bonds to January 31, 1932, is $23,420,077 which has been paid out directly by the taxpayers of the City and County of San Francisco. In other words, it has cost the taxpayers 30 per cent interest during construction. There is not a parallel case of this kind in the entire 80 years that California has been a State, in which the interest cost was 30 per cent of the entire construction cost.

3. San Francisco pays more for water than any other city in the United States. It costs us 37 cents for 1000 gallons and we were told at the time we purchased the Spring Valley Water Company in 1928 by the Engineering Department of this City and County of San Francisco, that if we purchased the Spring Valley Company's property there would be a positive reduction in the water rates. It was predicted at the time by this department that we would be using in this year of 1932, 64,000,000 of gallons daily, and that there would be available, here in San Francisco, 125,000,000 gallons of water from the Hetch Hetchy and Spring Valley supplies. On March 16, 1932, the manager of the Water Department stated that we were using 52,000,000 gallons daily. Reports show for the past ten years that the daily average of consumption of water in San Francisco is about 50,000,000. The calculation made in 1928, only four years ago, by the Engineering Department was only 25 per cent wrong by stating that we would be using 64,000,000 of gallons of water in 1932 where we are only using 52,000,000 gallons of water daily.

4. The Hetch Hetchy Reservoir has a capacity of 67 billion gallons of water, 3½ years' supply for San Francisco. The Mountain Division tunnel line was constructed on a delivery of 400,000,000 gallons of water daily. The San Joaquin pipe line was constructed on a 60,000,000 gallon daily capacity. The Coast Range tunnels on a 200,000,000 gallon daily capacity. We have also four small Spring Valley pipe lines crossing the Bay with a capacity of 16,000,000 gallons, making a total water pipe capacity from the East Bay of 58,000,000 gallons. It is estimated that on the completion of the Hetch Hetchy project plus the Spring Valley water, we will have 118,000,000 gallons of water on the East Bay and our pipe lines will not deliver over 58,000,000 gallons. (A positive bottle-neck.) What are we going to do with this surplus of 66,000,000 gallons of water daily? The manager of the Water Department, in his report to this Board, on August 1, 1931, recommends that a capital investment of $9,000,000 be made within the next five years. And if said recommendations are concurred in by this Board, it will positively mean no reduction in our water rates and we will continue to pay more for water than any city in the United States and we will not keep our word with the citizens of San Francisco, when we promised them, in the early part of the year 1928, that if they would purchase the Spring Valley Water Company's properties we would reduce their water rates. This we have not done and we will not do if we follow out the recommendations of the general manager of the San Francisco Water Department.

5. Resolution No. 95, the one we are about to consider, is not merely a bond issue resolution but it is a policy resolution. It states (that) "for conveyance of water to the City and County of San Francisco and other communities." One would think from that expression, "other communities," knowing that no other community has bonded itself but San Francisco, that we contemplated on selling water.

6. We know that there is a shortage of water in San Mateo and Santa Clara counties and the purchase of this surplus water would relieve the taxpayers of a great financial burden, that they have to bear yearly.

7. In July, 1924, the East Bay cities requested that they be allowed to tap our Mountain Division supply at Oakdale and take therefrom sufficient water for their daily needs and for this privilege they would pay us $30,000,000. This request was refused and the East Bay cities went forth and acquired their own water supply. I trust we will not make the same mistake again, in dealing with San Mateo and Santa Clara counties.

For these reasons, I am unalterably opposed to this bond issue of $6,500,000. $4,000,000 should be added to this sum. In the water report of August 1, 1931, there is specifically mentioned a capital investment of the Transbay pipe line of $2,840,000. And on March 16, 1932, the manager of the Water Department stated that this line would cost $4,000,000. From my observation of estimates made on the Hetch Hetchy project, I think that the $4,000,000 would be correct. The entire problem simply means, should we use and sell all the water that we will have upon the completion of our Hetch Hetchy project or will we continue to carry out the program suggested by the manager of the San Francisco Water Department? A six and one-half million dollar bond issue will not complete Hetch Hetchy, a ten and one-half million dollar bond issue will complete the project and will enable us to reduce our water rates and our interest by selling water to San Mateo and Santa Clara counties.

As one member of this Board, I feel that a great mistake will be made in voting for this resolution, as it simply means the approval of the report suggested by the Water Department on August 1, 1931.

I am going to vote "No" and I wish my vote to be so recorded, and that these reasons, as set forth in this written statement, be recorded and made part of the record.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES B. McSHEEHY.

Requesting Mayor to Appoint a Noise Abatement Committee.

(Code No. 17.09.)

Supervisor Gallagher presented:

Resolution No. 112, as follows:

Whereas, The rapid development of the industrial age has brought with it an increment of nerve-racking noise; and

Whereas, Recent studies scientifically done by competent specialists in the United States of America have shown indubitably that noise has a most deleterious effect on the minds and bodies of human beings; and

Whereas, In those cities of the United States which have attempted the amelioration of noise calculated to affect adversely the people dwelling in them, have succeeded in abating much of the noise which has been more or less unnecessary; and

Whereas, The continuance of such a nuisance as indiscriminate noises will register debilitating effects on the growing generation unless steps be taken to eradicate and/or abate as far as is consistent with reasonable efficiency the further increase of noise and its causes; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That his Honor the Mayor be and is hereby respectfully requested to appoint a committee composed of specialists in medicine, neurology, otology, law, acoustics, engineering construction, law administration and the automotive industries, who shall serve without pay, for the purpose of making a complete and thorough survey of noise, its cause, its elimination in the City and County of San Francisco; and be it

Further Resolved, That his Honor the Mayor request of said committee to bring in as soon as feasible an extensive report on the following:

1. What existing laws might be enforced to abate the noise nuisance in San Francisco?
2. A scientific study and statement of the debilitating effect of noise on the human being.
3. The correct measurement of the different classes and kinds of noises and what constitutes or measures the line of demarcation between evitable and inevitable noises.
4. Recommendations based upon the intensive study and investigation of the noise nuisance in San Francisco with a view to its abatement, alleviation or elimination.

Adopted by the following vote:

enner, Hayden, McSheehy, Miles, Peyser, Power, Roncovieri, Shannon, Spaulding—14.

Endorsement of Bingham Bill Permitting Manufacture of 4 Per Cent Beer.

(Code No. 5.21)

Supervisor Shannon presented:

Resolution No. 113, as follows:

Whereas, there appeared in the San Francisco Examiner, Sunday, March 20, 1932 (Universal Service from Washington, D. C.), an article stating that the majority of Sub-Committee of the Committee on Manufactures had reported favorably the bill introduced by Senator Hiram Bingham of Connecticut, which would restore the manufacture of four per cent beer under federal restrictions, to be sold in cases of pint bottles under regulations prescribed by the Attorney-General and the Secretary of the Treasury; and

Whereas, the five main advantages are:

1. It will promote temperance, strengthen the law, decrease crime and generally contribute to the public welfare.

2. It will give employment to between 500,000 and 1,000,000 persons within a reasonably short time.

3. It materially will assist agriculture by providing a rich market for the products of the farm.

4. It will give the government an annual income of between $347,000,000 and $800,000,000, based on a tax of two cents for each pint bottle, and between $650,000,000 and $1,100,000,000 with a four-cent tax.

5. It will drive many speakeasies, which breed contempt for law, out of existence by curbing the nation's appetite for poisonous, habit-forming hard liquors; and

Whereas, the taxpayers of San Francisco, represented by the Board of Supervisors, would be greatly benefited by relief of tax burden for the maintenance of the Federal Government; and

Whereas, the restoration of non-intoxicant four per cent beer would provide immediate employment for great numbers of men and women in various industries and bring much needed revenues into homes of people now unemployed; therefore be it

Resolved, by the Board of Supervisors of San Francisco, that the Congress of the United States be respectfully and urgently requested to approve the passage of the Bingham or a similar bill and the Senators from California and the Representatives in Congress from San Francisco be requested to do everything possible for the passage of this legislation;

Further Resolved, That the San Francisco Examiner and its allied newspapers be commended for its educational efforts to bring about the modification of the stringent and non-enforceable Volstead Act so far as it prohibits the manufacture of non-intoxicant beer.

Adopted by the following vote:

Ayes—Supervisors Breyer, Brown, Canepa, Colman, Gallagher, Havenner, Hayden, McSheehy, Miles, Peyser, Power, Roncovieri, Shannon, Spaulding—14.

Payroll Procedure Ordinance.
(Code No. 9.055)

On recommendation of Charter Committee.

Bill No. 37, Ordinance No. 9.0551, as follows:

Providing for the preparation of time rolls, pay rolls and pay checks or warrants by the Controller, the maintenance of time records by the several departments, and the distribution of pay checks by the several department heads or their designated representatives, and the transfer of employees and equipment.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. The Controller shall prepare all skeleton time rolls and pay rolls for the various departments of the City and County and pay checks for the employees thereof. A "skeleton" time roll, together with a pay roll based thereon and pay warrants to accompany each such pay roll shall be prepared for each department or office as a unit, or for each operating subdivision thereof, as requested by the head of any department or office, on the basis of the assembly or distribution points for the various employments in each such department or office; provided, however, that the Controller, by written regulation, may authorize the head of any department having employees engaged in work outside of the City or County, or engaged on construction activities, or which by the circumstances of departmental employment has a large number of changes in employment, to temporarily continue the preparation of pay rolls for such employments in such department. The term "department head" as used in this ordinance shall be construed to mean the officer, board or commission having the charge and management of a separate department or office of the City and County.

Section 2. Stencils, addressograph plates or other mechanical systems for preparing time and pay roll records, together with mechanical office equipment maintained in the several departments for pay roll or time roll purposes, shall be transferred to the Controller's office by the Purchaser of Supplies. Clerical employees heretofore assigned to such work in the several departments on a full time basis, or who perform such duties for a major portion of their time, shall be transferred to the Controller's office by the Civil Service Commission. Such reallocation of positions shall not adversely affect the civil service rights of any incumbent regularly holding any such position.

Section 3. Skeleton time sheets or time roll forms as established shall be prepared in the Controller's office for each department or office, or for each operating subdivision thereof, and shall be transmitted by the Controller to the department head concerned in advance of the first date on which time is to be recorded on such time rolls. Each such time roll shall show the name, civil service classification and number, and the rate of pay of each employee includede thereon.

Section 4. Each department or office, through the head thereof or an employee or employees designated by such head, shall maintain a daily check and a daily posting to the time roll of the time worked by its employees. All overtime for which extra pay is allowed, and vacations, sick leaves and other allowable absences for which no deduction in pay is required, together with leaves, suspensions and other absences without pay, shall be reported by the departments to the Controller at such times and in such manner as the Controller, by regulation, may require. At the close of the period of time covered by the time roll, departmental timekeepers shall total the time worked, post the amounts of deductions or allowances other than the retirement fund, and distribute the amount of time and pay by funds, appropriations and objects of expenditures, in accordance with regulations established by the Controller.

Section 5. Each time roll, when completed as required by Section 4 of this ordinance, shall be certified as correct by the person responsible for the keeping of such time roll and by the department head, and shall be delivered to the secretary of the Civil Service Commission for examination and approval. Any item on any such time roll disapproved shall be taken up by the secretary of the Civil Service Commission with the department concerned, on a standard form prescribed by said Commission and approved by the Controller. The time rolls approved by the secretary of the Civil Service Commission, with notations thereon of any item disapproved, shall be then certified as approved by the secretary of the Commission and transmitted to the Controller.

Section 6. Pay rolls and pay warrants for each department or office, and for each operating subdivision thereof, shall be prepared by the Controller on a suitable pay roll machine.

Section 7. The pay roll and pay warrants for each department and office, or operating subdivision thereof, shall be delivered to such person or persons as the head of the department shall, by writing filed with the Controller, authorize to receive the same, and upon the delivery of the same, said person shall receipt to said Controller for said pay roll and said pay warrants. The head of the department shall thereupon cause such pay warrants to be delivered to the respective payees named therein at or as near as possible to the places of employment of said employees, and the signature of the payee thereon shall constitute an individual receipt to the Controller. There shall be returned by the head of the department to the Controller any pay warrants which, for any reason, cannot be delivered, with notation as to the reason for such non-delivery.

Section 8. Ordinance 9079 (New Series) is hereby repealed.

EXPLANATORY.

The amendments to the above ordinance were recommended by the Controller, and are as follows: The term Auditor is changed to Controller; the signature of the payee on the warrant constitutes an individual receipt to the Controller, thereby obviating the necessity for employees to sign the payroll sheet in the Controller's office.

Ayes—Supervisors Breyer, Canepa, Gallagher, Hayden, McSheehy, Peyser, Power, Roncovieri, Shannon, Stanton—10.

Absent—Supervisors Brown, Colman, Havenner, Miles, Spaulding—5.

Purchaser's Revolving Fund.

(Code No. 9.081)

Also, Bill No. 38, Ordinance No. 9.0811, as follows:

Providing for the creation and operation of a Purchaser's revolving fund, for the issuance of all purchase orders and the receiving and checking of all bills by the Purchaser of Supplies, for the preparation and issuance of all warrants by the Controller and for the transfer of employees to the Purchasing Department and the Controller.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. There is hereby created and established in the treasury of the City and County of San Francisco a revolving fund to be known and called the "Purchaser's Revolving Fund." Said fund shall consist of such specific appropriations as the Board of Supervisors may, from time to time, make or set aside for the use of said fund, as well as all other moneys that may be made available for such fund on transfers, as provided by Charter, and on earned discounts. The sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) is hereby set aside and appropriated to the credit of said fund as an initial appropriation thereto.

The Purchaser of Supplies shall not issue a purchase order, and no purchase order except those issued outside the City and County for works or projects outside the City and County, or by departments not required to purchase through, or for things not to be purchased through, the Purchasing Department, shall be binding or in force, unless the Controller shall endorse thereon his certificate that there remains unexpended and unapplied a balance of the appropriation or funds applicable thereto, sufficient to pay the estimated expense of executing such purchase order, and the Controller shall encumber the appropriation or fund with the estimated expense of executing the purchase order.

Section 4. All bills for materials, supplies, equipment, and contractual services furnished to the City and County on the basis of contracts or purchase orders shall be transmitted by the vender to the Purchaser of Supplies. Each such bill shall be verified by the Purchaser of Supplies, who shall cause prices, quantities, extensions and footings thereon to be checked and shall attach thereto a materials received report from the head of the department receiving such materials, supplies or equipment, upon which the head of such department shall approve the bill to be paid for the quantity of materials, supplies or equipment received by his department at the price or prices specified in the contract or purchase order.

The Purchaser of Supplies shall transmit all such bills to the Controller after approving and verifying the same as specified herein. The Controller shall audit such bills and shall prepare all warrants in payment of bills approved by him.

Section 6. The Purchaser of Supplies shall maintain appropriate accounting records of the transactions of the Purchaser's Revolving Fund to show cash and unencumbered balances; amounts of appropriations, and transfers thereto, and from which budget item or fund, if any, each such appropriation or transfer was made; disbursements therefrom, and to which fund, account, department or budget item such disbursements are to be charged; and the value and amount of discount earned to be accumulated and retained in the Purchaser's Revolving Fund. The Purchaser of Supplies shall file a report with the Controller monthly showing the transactions handled through such fund during the preceding month. The forms, records and procedure established by the Purchaser of Supplies and the Controller for the ordering of materials, supplies and equipment, and the recording of transfers, appropriations and payments to and from the Purchaser's Revolving Fund are hereby approved and may be changed only on the joint approval of the Controller and the Purchaser of Supplies.

Explanation of Vote.

Supervisor McSheehy explained his vote as follows:

"I am voting no on this bond issue of six and one-half million dollars for reasons set forth in the Journal of Proceedings dated March 21, 1932, and as stated by me last Monday. And further, that the placing of a maximum rate of interest of 6 per cent is detrimental to the best interests of San Francisco.

"This is the first maximum issue of 6 per cent on the entire water project, Hetch Hetchy and Spring Valley, amounting to a total of $120,000,000; all other maximum interest rates were 4½ per cent.

"This increase of 1½ per cent, in my opinion as one member of this Board, positively undermines the security offered by San Francisco for these bonds. For these reasons I am voting no, and I want my vote so recorded in the record."

Communication From Southern Pacific Golden Gate Ferries, Ltd., in re Ordinances Nos. 5626 and 6762 (New Series).

San Francisco, March 28, 1932.

To the Honorable Public Utilities Committee of the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco, City Hall, San Francisco, California.

Dear Sirs: In the ordinances above referred to providing for certain franchises to Golden Gate Ferry Company and now held by its successor, Southern Pacific Golden Gate Ferries, Ltd., it was contemplated that certain changes in the terminal arrangements of the ferry company would be made at a later date so as to accommodate the then projected plans for San Francisco's Aquatic Park. In the attempt to define in advance the time when the piers of the ferry company should be extended certain errors were made in franchise descriptions which were not discovered by either the City's or the company's representatives until recently. The intent, however, was clear, that the ferry company should extend its slips in time so that it would not in any way hamper the City's work in the development of the Aquatic Park. This intent was the matter of real importance.

Some few weeks ago I stated to the Mayor, and to several representatives of the Board of Supervisors, that we would not stand on technicalities, but would move the slips whenever it became necessary so that our extension work would not hamper the City's work in the Aquatic Park improvements, but that we did not want to do this work far in advance of any useful need of it as it would in such case involve an unnecessarily large expenditure. Mr. Carl Harding, representing this company, made statements substantially to the same effect to other members of the Board.

Since these statements were made new hope has developed as to the possible time when the City may go forward with its Aquatic Park plans. The City now believes that there may be a market for the City's bonds for the park improvement some time this year, though this is not altogether certain. If the City sells its bonds it will then desire to proceed with the Aquatic Park development as soon as funds are available from the anticipated sale.

It is our hope that the City will succeed in selling the bonds; and in order to be certain in any case that the extension of the ferry slips will not in any case impede the City's work, we are writing this letter to inform you that our work will be commenced not later than November 1, 1932, and will be prosecuted with diligence until completed, at a date we expect will not be later than February 1st following. The work involved will be done in conformity with the recently adopted plan of location of the piers as agreed upon with the engineers of the Park Commission. You will recall that the late fall was heretofore suggested as an advantageous season for moving the ferry slips, as such time is after the heavy seasonal movement of traffic when the public will be least inconvenienced.

Assuring you of our cooperation in the development of the Aquatic Park, we are,

Yours very truly,

SOUTHERN PACIFIC GOLDEN GATE FERRIES, LTD.

Requesting a Survey of the Roads in Golden Gate Park.
(Code No. 12.091)

Resolution No. 125, as follows:

Whereas, development of vehicular traffic in the past decade has necessitated a somewhat radical change in the building of roads and boulevards, particularly those traversing the recreation areas of metropolitan cities; and

Whereas, Golden Gate Park, of San Francisco, one of the most famous recreation centers of the United States, has many miles of old-fashioned roads, constructed of rock macadam; and

Whereas, this class of road causes not only great wear and tear on vehicular traffic, but is particularly distressful at times to pedestrian traffic; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That a complete survey of the main arteries and roads of Golden Gate Park be made by the proper department of the City government for the purpose of determining what improvements might be made in the reconstruction thereof, with a view to making them more conforming to modern boulevard construction and thus lessening the distress to thousands of pedestrians.

The following resolution was presented by Supervisor McSheehy for reference by the Clerk to the Education, Parks and Playgrounds Committee:

Resolution No. 138, as follows:

Whereas, Elizabeth Wyche Coit, who was also known as Lillie Hitchcock Coit, in and by her last will and testament devised and bequeathed one-third of the residue of her estate to the City and County of San Francisco, said devise being in the words and figures following, to-wit:

"Fifteenth. The balance of my estate, after carrying out all of the provisions set forth in the above articles of this my last will and testament, I direct my executors hereinafter named to divide into three equal portions and to dispose of those three portions as follows, to-wit:

First. One of said three portions to the Regents of the University of California, etc. * * *

Third. The remaining one of said three portions I request and direct my executors hereinafter named to pay over and deliver in money to the City and County of San Francisco, with the request that the Supervisors thereof shall expend the same in an appropriate manner for the purpose of adding to the beauty of said city which I have always loved."

And Whereas, the estate of said Elizabeth Wyche Coit has been distributed, and under the foregoing provision of the will of said deceased there has been distributed and ordered paid to the City and County of San Francisco the sum of $125,000, approximately, for the purposes mentioned in said bequest; and

Whereas, the Board of Park Commissioners, the Coit Memorial Committee and the executors of the last will and testament of said Elizabeth Wyche Coit have suggested that the erection of a tower on the top of Telegraph Hill, in the City and County of San Francisco, upon land under the jurisdiction of the Park Commissioners, said tower to be known as the "Coit Memorial Tower," would be an appropriate manner of expending the moneys received by the City from said deceased, as the same would add to the beauty of said City; and

Whereas, the top of said Telegraph Hill is under the jurisdiction of the Board of Park Commissioners, and said Park Commissioners have consented that said memorial be erected thereon; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco, that the erection of a tower on the top of Telegraph Hill, to be known as the "Coit Memorial Tower," will add to the beauty of the City and County of San Francisco, and that for the purpose of carrying out and fulfilling the request of said Elizabeth Wyche Coit made in her last will and testament, the Board of Supervisors does hereby direct that the moneys received from her said estate be used in the erection of a memorial tower on Telegraph Hill, to be known as the "Coit Memorial Tower," and the Board of Park Commissioners of the City and County of San Francisco are hereby directed to construct said tower in accordance with plans and specifications therefor which have been heretofore accepted by the Park Commissioners, the Coit Memorial Committee and the executors of the will of said Elizabeth Wyche Coit, the cost of the construction of said tower to be paid from the moneys received from the estate of said Elizabeth Wyche Coit.

Hearing Relative to Construction of Laterals to Transbay Bridges.

March 28, 1932.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco.

Gentlemen: You were good enough to appoint the undersigned to attend the meeting of the Northern California Highways Association, which body met recently at Sacramento for the purpose of organizing permanently. You suggested that we go as observers, and not to commit San Francisco financially, or otherwise, in connection with this organization.

We find that the purpose of this organization is to do all that they can to unite the northern part of this State, from San Francisco, Sacramento and Stockton, inclusive, through representatives, and to prevail upon the State Board of Public Works and the State Highway Commission to set aside sufficient funds to build highways that tap the laterals from the proposed transbay bridge, and reconstruct, widen and put the highways, leading as directly as possible to Sacramento and to Stockton, in condition to be ready for the great amount of vehicular traffic expected by way of the transbay bridge. They favor two highways that will be over the most direct routes from the proposed transbay bridge to Stockton and Sacramento. These proposed highways to be built for combined pleasure, commercial and industrial uses.

The organization has a good purpose, and we think we should have a friendly attitude to same. However, we believe that even if this Board of Supervisors should associate with said organization it ought to be plainly indicated that we do so in a helpful spirit, but with the reservation that the transbay bridge laterals in San Francisco and Alameda shall be our first consideration, as we consider them the most important.

We therefore recommend that the Board of Supervisors of San Francisco give its cooperation on the above condition.

We further recommend that this report be laid over one week, be made a special order for 3 p. m., one week from date, and that Mr. Miller, engineer for this association, be allowed to explain the situation confronting the areas mentioned above. Further, that the officers of this association be invited, as well as the members of the Highway Division of the State Board of Public Works. We suggest that in case his Excellency the Governor is in this city he be also invited.

Respectfully,

VICTOR J. CANEPA, Chairman.
ANDREW J. GALLAGHER.

SPECIAL ORDER—3 P. M.

Hearing Relative to Construction of Laterals to Transbay Bridges.

March 28, 1932.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco.

Gentlemen: You were good enough to appoint the undersigned to attend the meeting of the Northern California Highways Association, which body met recently at Sacramento for the purpose of organizing permanently. You suggested that we go as observers, and not to commit San Francisco financially, or otherwise, in connection with this organization.

We find that the purpose of this organization is to do all that they can to unite the northern part of this State, from San Francisco, Sacramento and Stockton, inclusive, through representatives, and to prevail upon the State Board of Public Works and the State Highway Commission to set aside sufficient funds to build highways that tap the laterals from the proposed transbay bridge, and reconstruct, widen and put the highways, leading as directly as possible to Sacramento and to Stockton, in condition to be ready for the great amount of vehicular traffic expected by way of the transbay bridge. They favor two highways that will be over the most direct routes from the proposed transbay bridge to Stockton and Sacramento. These proposed highways to be built for combined pleasure, commercial and industrial uses.

The organization has a good purpose, and we think we should have a friendly attitude to same. However, we believe that even if this Board of Supervisors should associate with said organization it ought to be plainly indicated that we do so in a helpful spirit, but with the reservation that the transbay bridge laterals in San Francisco and Alameda shall be our first consideration, as we consider them the most important.

Discussion.

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: The hour of 3 o'clock has arrived, and we have got a special order for 3 o'clock, and I notice the engineer of the transbay bridges is present, and therefore I move the privilege of the floor be given to Mr. Miller.

THE PRESIDENT: Is there any objection to taking up the special order for 3 o'clock at ten minutes to 3? (Bringing down the gavel.)

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I wish to make a correction, first: Mr. Miller is not the engineer for the bridges, Mr. Clement H. Miller is engineer for the newly formed Northern California Highways Association, and desires to explain to the Board what is the desire of that association.

I also call attention at this time that Mr. W. O. Russell, Supervisor of Yolo County, is in the enclosure. He is also interested in this association.

Also Mr. R. J. Malcolm, one of the originators of this idea, is also present.

I therefore move you that Mr. Clement H. Miller be given the privilege of the floor at this time.

THE PRESIDENT: If there is no objection, Mr. Miller will be given the floor.

First, however, the Clerk states that he has a letter from the Governor on the subject, and I suggest that it be read at this time.

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: No objection.

THE PRESIDENT: Mr. Clerk, will you read the letter from the Governor?

(Thereupon a letter addressed to the Board by Governor Rolph, under date of April 8, 1932, was read by the Clerk.)

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: If these gentlemen are in the room, may I respectfully request the President to invite them forward: Mr. Purcell or Mr. Garrison? Is either one of them in the room?

(No response.)

THE PRESIDENT: Apparently it is a little early.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: All right, proceed, Mr. Miller.

Thereupon, the following statement was read by Mr. Miller:

My purpose in addressing you today is to present facts relative to the sources of revenue and expenditure for construction of the State highway system and a brief analysis of same as to the allocation of funds in proportion to the sources of revenue and the relative requirements for highway construction in the Bay district.

The State highway program was inaugurated in 1909 by a bond issue voted by the State of $18,000,000. The total income from all sources, including Federal aid funds, up to June 30, 1930, was $237,104,026.48, expenditures for the same period was $221,138,412.82, leaving a surplus of $15,965,613.66.

At the legislative session of 1929 a joint resolution was passed providing for a comprehensive study and estimates of cost to bring the State highway system to adequate standards to properly care for traffic requirements at the end of a ten-year program.

This study was incorporated into a report and adopted by the Legislature in 1931, which contemplate additional highway expenditures estimated to cost $364,000,000, making an aggregate expenditure up to June 30, 1941, of $601,104,026.

This total does not include the annual interest on $74,000,000 of bonds, which will amount to approximately $50,000,000 up to 1940, making a sum total of $650,000,000, all of which is raised by taxation.

Bond interest is taken out of taxes collected by the public utilities from ratepayers.

Federal aid funds from income taxes and other taxes collected by the Federal government.

The 2-cent gas tax and motor vehicle fees supply the major portion of the tax collected daily from the operators of motor vehicles.

Under the present State law and the ten-year program as now approved, the City of San Francisco receives little, if any, of the taxes collected from its citizens for road or street construction within the limits of the city.

Alameda County has fifty-seven miles of State highway, designated as Route No. 5 (Stockton to Santa Cruz). The only expenditure included in the ten-year program in Alameda is for maintenance and widening of this highway.

In Contra Costa County the ten-year program includes 9.6 miles, from the Oakland line to Walnut Creek.

The allocation of gas tax funds has been assumed, on the basis of motor vehicle registration, as 60 per cent for thirteen southern counties and 40 per cent for forty-five northern counties.

The tax that will be collected from San Francisco and Alameda counties from 1910 to 1940 on the estimated total expenditures of $650,000,000 is practically $117,000,000.

It appears logical that people who are paying out of their own pockets such an immense sum of money should at least be given the privilege of having some voice in when, where and how at least a proper proportion of this money should be expended.

As a matter of fact, the people in the Bay area have assumed that the construction of the State highway system was progressing in an orderly manner for the best interests of all.

The facts are, however, that the people away from the Bay area have many miles of costly highways that they desire to have built, and they have all coordinated their interests by forming groups of county officials and civic organizations to get their needed highways put into the State system by acts of the Legislature. In this general scramble for recognition the two highways that are most esential to aid in solving the traffic problem of the Bay district were overlooked, or, at least, have been so far left out of this ten-year program.

These two are a highway to Stockton that will shorten the distance from San Francisco sixteen miles, and one to Sacramento that can be built to ultimately save twenty-eight miles and in the interim save from twelve to eighteen miles. I now want to quote from the seventh annual report of the Division of Highways, page 49:

"Although many do not realize it, highway design, if properly made, will annually save the traveling public enormous sums in car operation, due to better curvature, grades, surfaces, and reduced distances, problems which are taken into consideration on location and plans."

This fact is primarily the basis on which we claim the need for an association to secure the construction of these roads. We provide about 45 per cent of the funds from the forty-five northern counties and at least 60 per cent of the traffic to and from San Francisco and East Bay cities, and we should have, provided from our own money, the express highways that will afford these admitted savings.

I now want to quote from July 24th, 1930, report on orderly addition of new roads, page 26:

"The Oakland-Walnut Creek project, 9.6 miles, would be a logical first unit to consider on a proposed Oakland-Walnut Creek-Stockton project, twelve miles shorter than State highway via Tracy, one which will afford immeasurable relief to the latter, defer expensive widening of same, provide advantageous routing to the mountain areas of Calaveras, Alpine and Tuolumne counties, develop a large area west of Stockton."

This route qualifies for State inclusion on volume, importance and character of present and future probable traffic.

On page 17 of the seventh biennial report the State highway engineer states as follows:

"During the past two years a comprehensive study has been completed, covering a ten-year estimate of the costs necessary to bring the State highway system to a standard adequate for traffic at the end of the ten-year period."

This study did not include the routes to Sacramento and Stockton.

The determination of location for the San Francisco-Oakland bridge had not, at that time, been determined.

Studies for highway outlets for the bridge and Oakland tunnel were not included. The bridge and tunnel will be the first links in a transcontinental Victory highway from San Francisco to New York via Sacramento, Reno and eastern cities.

The Oakland tunnel and approach and the Walnut Creek extension are designed on latest specifications for express highway, viz.: 5 per cent grade, 1000 radius curves, 60-foot roadbed and 100 feet or more where required right of way. Every element that has been considered as essential in highway plans for the ten-year program lends emphasis to the positive necessity for completion of these two highways by the completion of the Bay bridge.

The State of New Jersey had two highways ready for traffic on the opening of the new Hudson River bridge, from the bridgehead to Paterson.

There is one other aspect of this proposition that I wish to refer to briefly, and that is the fact that the construction of highways is a part of a California development program. A new road between two given points that will traverse a section of country susceptible of development and increased population, in addition to affecting a considerable saving in distance, and at a cost equal or less than the cost of widening an existing road, is certainly a desirable investment for State highway funds.

If, in addition, it will provide direct and economical traffic facilities for the produce that supplies the markets of the Bay cities, much time and expense will be saved in the handling of these products.

Now, it would seem that no logical reason could be advanced why these roads should not be built, or why this association should not be formed to secure their construction. Human nature, however, has to be given recognition.

Certain people in Contra Costa County think it is more to their interest to locate terminal facilities for industries, and have a super-industrial highway following parallel with the bay shore line, and have no particular interest how people get in and out of San Francisco. The people distant from the Bay area assume that construction of highways to serve their immediate needs is paramount to any other consideration, and any suggested change of a program that might interfere with their plans naturally increases their opposition.

The people of the south are convinced that they have been short-changed in the allocation of highway funds and are insisting on a pro rata distribution in proportion to amount of contribution.

The joint legislative resolution provides qualifications for roads which might be properly included and added to the State highway system, viz.:

1. Highways now carrying a large volume of State traffic.
2. Highways affording relief to heavy traffic on present State roads.
3. Highways serving as important interior State links.

As a matter of justice and general public welfare, it is desirable to ascertain if all roads now included in the State highway system, improved or to be improved, conform to these qualifications, and the relative importance from traffic requirements, standpoint as to time of construction.

In order to secure funds for the Stockton and Sacramento roads the matter of relativity of importance may become the important element of consideration, and unless this association is supported in a manner to secure an intelligent understanding of this State problem it cannot function satisfactorily and secure the results sought to be attained.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Will you leave a copy of your statement, Mr. Miller, with the Clerk of the Board?

MR. MILLER: Yes, sir, I can send a copy to the Clerk.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Are you finished, Mr. Miller?

MR. MILLER: Unless there is some question somebody would like to ask.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: If there are no questions, then I would like to ask, through the chair, for the privilege of the floor to Mr. Russell, Supervisor from Yolo County.

THE PRESIDENT: If there is no objection, Mr. Russell, you have the floor.

MR. RUSSELL: Mr. Chairman, gentlemen of the Board:

This association was formed primarily to take care of the situation which exists between here and Sacramento and Stockton, but I want to say that further than that there are a number of conditions throughout central and northern California counties, and that have existed for years, that should be brought to the attention of our Highway Commission. I want to say first, with all due deference to the Highway Commission, that this is no criticism on them. There are a number of conditions in the northern and central counties of California that need attention from the highway standpoint, more perhaps now than at any other time, on account of the great improvements that are going to be made in a short time for improvements in communication with San Francisco. We are going to have more traffic than ever before, and consequently it will be the more important that we distribute the traffic properly, and that we decrease, as much as possible, the time and distance between the different points to be traveled. These are things we think should be taken up by people who are directly interested in these questions.

Our association at the present time is formed of representatives appointed by the board of supervisors in each of the counties involved, and I want to say in relation to that that I believe that when the boards of supervisors make an appointment of someone to represent them on this commission or with this association, that it will mean something. Not alone that it might be a supervisor, but if they put the stamp of approval on someone to represent that district we will know they are going to represent that district truly, because I don't know anybody more closely allied to the pulse of the people than the boards of supervisors in the different counties. They are in everyday touch with the people of the county, and consequently they are not going to do anything except for the general welfare of their county. I believe this very firmly, that you gentlemen should join with us in this association, and that we should get together and put our feet under the table and do the best we can in harmony to bring the highway traffic to San Francisco over the best and shortest way. I thank you.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Through the chair, I would now like to ask the privilege of the floor for Mr. Vanderslide.

THE PRESIDENT: Mr. Vanderslide, there being no objection, you have the floor.

MR. VANDERSLIDE: Mr. Chairman, members of the Board, and people of San Francisco: I will try to show you, in a few words, the importance of this body, and the people of San Francisco being connected with this new organization known as the Northern California Highways Association. There are points to be reached in the valleys that are going to lead to your new bridge, and there are movements on foot to form highways that I can show you possibly what it means to San Francisco to get behind this organization and the creation of the most direct highways possible leading to the bay bridge.

There is the industrial highway which was talked of being built in Contra Costa County. Now, if that highway is built from Antioch, or rather from the joining of the Borden highway to Richmond, it will mean from the joining of that highway with the Borden highway to Oakland, sixty-two miles, and if the cut-off is made by way of the Broadway tunnel, Walnut Creek, it will mean forty-five miles, but if the Oakland highway through the tunnel to Walnut Creek, and through the Marsh Creek district is built to that point on the Borden highway it will mean forty miles, all of which is an important factor in building express highways. The only way to build an express highway is the shortest distance between two points.

Now, San Francisco, in building this new bridge, has a problem to face; they are dependent upon the traffic across that bridge to pay the tolls, in order to defray expenses and amortization of the bonds. When that bridge is built you will need all the traffic that you can get to patronize that bridge, and, more especially, you need the traffic of the great San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys to use that bridge.

I want to say, on behalf of the association and also the county which I represent, which are fundamentally interested in the tunnel and the Tunnel Highway to Walnut Creek, and we don't intend to have that highway dead ended, at Walnut Creek; it is going on into the valleys, and it is all important that we get the quickest traffic line we can get, and for that reason I think it is very, very important this body become a member or appoint a representative on this association.

The Walnut Creek highway is bonded, that is, made a part of the California secondary highway district, but if you realize what it means to get highways included next year, there are eighty miles promised already, and there are applications in to the Highway Commission for twenty-three hundred miles of secondary highways. They cannot put in twenty-three hundred miles, and with only eighty miles included, we must have some kind of an association that is going to work with the Highway Commission and with the Board of Public Works to get highways built where they will do the most good, and for that reason this organization was formed; it is composed of men who are going to look well into the thing, and we ask you to come into the Northern California Highway Association, and I promise you that association will work for the best roads in the northern part of the state, and for the thing that you need more than anything else, which is the proper approaches to your bridge, and we will pledge ourselves to work for it. I thank you.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I will ask our Clerk, Mr. President, to now read the report of the committee on the subject, and I will then make a motion on the subject. If you will read the report, Mr. Clerk.

(Thereupon the report of the committee, under date of March 28, 1932, to the Honorable the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco, by the committee composed of Supervisors Canepa, Gallagher and Havenner, was read to the Board.)

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I move you, Mr. President, the adoption of the committee's report, which will involve this Board becoming a member of the Northern California Highway Association. I move its adoption.

THE PRESIDENT: Is there any objection?

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: Just a moment. Will it cost the City of San Francisco anything directly?

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Mr. President, if I may reply to that: Answering your question, I think it would probably cost about the same as it has on the other associations of which we are members. It might cost something for membership in the organization. You might ask Mr. Russell if they have completed their financial arrangements yet, or what the financial obligations will be.

THE PRESIDENT: Mr. Russell, if you can answer that?

MR. RUSSELL: At the present time there has been no budget set-up made, but I can assure you that the outlay by the Association will be a very nominal one. The only officers we have at the present time are a secretary and an engineer, and our outlay in this matter will be a small one, it will not be a burden to anyone.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: Supervisor Russell and myself happen to be old personal friends of long standing, but our circumstances, our financial circumstances, here in San Francisco are such that I feel we should not enter into any agreemnt of any kind unless we have some knowledge beforehand of our financial obligations. I say this at this time, because I feel that way, and I am just wondering if you could give us some idea of about how much our financial obligation will be, Mr. Russell?

MR. RUSSELL: May I just make this suggestion, that you come on in there, and we will settle that after you are in. We haven't settled it yet, but I know it will be settled satisfactorily to you, Supervisor McSheehy.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: Could I answer Supervisor McSheehy, if he will permit me?

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: Certainly, Supervisor.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I assume that the obligations involved will be proportioned among all the membership, which will be all those boards of supervisors between here and Sacramento and Stockton, and in the Valley, and I would assume, if you ask me, that the obligation incurred by San Francisco in our joining would probably not exceed $100 a year at the most; do you think so, Mr. Russell? I don't think so.

MR. RUSSELL: I doubt if it would.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I think that would cover it, I don't think it should exceed that at the most. However, when the time comes for the incurring of a financial obligation the finance committee will be the arbiter on that, and for this reason they didn't wish to set conditions and obligations without this city being represented. They want to be fair with us, and they want us in before any policy is determined, and therefore your committee recommends that the organization, which is for a good purpose, we think we should have a friendly attitude towards the same, and that practically means following the adoption of this committee report. We will then appoint our representative and he will then report what will be the financial obligations, and then the board will decide whether it will continue or withdraw. In my opinion, the obligations will be so small the board will undoubtedly continue.

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: May I ask, before the resolution is finally adopted, inasmuch as Supervisor Shannon was a member of the committee, and also signed the resolution, therefore I would like to correct it on the calendar to include Supervisor Shannon's name. I thought it was to be on there, but I note the correction was not made.

SUPERVISOR SHANNON: We printers sometimes make mistakes.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: The statement made by Supervisor Gallagher is one which is very favorable to me, strikes me favorably, and I have no objection in the world, and would not think of stopping our citizens from having a representative on this association, especially under such a small fee as that suggested by the supervisors, but in the past we have several times been asked to join certain county associations around—Supervisor Shannon is looking rather straight at me, and he remembers very well what I am referring to—in which when the time came to assume the obligations we were generally presented with financial obligations in proportion to our assessed valuation, and several times we found ourselves meeting obligations entirely out of proportion to the obligation we should have been compelled to meet. However, after the statements by Supervisor Gallagher, and Supervisor Russell, I am ready to vote for the resolution.

SUPERVISOR SHANNON: I think we all appreciate the way that Supervisor McSheehy has expressed himself on several occasions as to the way he is going to curb expenditures and keep down the tax rate, and I feel that all the members of this board are heartily in accord with him, and will give him every possible assistance in keeping that tax rate and our budget down, and I assure you, members of the board, and Mr. President, that we will watch the expenditures and see that they are kept down as much as possible, and that these laterals come in as straight a line as possible to the new Bay bridge.

THE PRESIDENT: I have great faith in you and your colleagues.

SUPERVISOR COLMAN: I feel that we are today highly honored by the presence here of the state director of public works, Colonel Garrison, and perhaps he would like to make a few remarks on the subject, and I would ask the privilege of the floor for Colonel Garrison.

THE PRESIDENT: I am sure we would be glad to hear from Colonel Garrison.

COLONEL GARRISON: Mr. Chairman, Honorable Members of the Board of Supervisors, and all of you people who are interested in roads: I am always pleased to meet with people who are interested in good roads. I can say this to you, that we have a study before us now in which we plan, if it is carried out, and undoubtedly it will be carried out, by which we hope to shorten the route between here and Sacramento by eighteen miles. In fact, I feel sure that I can assure you at this time that we will have practically a new road from the bridgehead at Carquinez to Fairfield.

I would like to say this to you first, that I hope no one of you will think that I have promised you any roads when I have finished, because the State board of works has no authority to take any new roads into the system. However, we have been asked to recommend to the Legislature some three hundred and twenty miles in the State highway for additional roads, under the secondary system, of which between eighty and ninety miles are in the northern section of the State and the other two hundred and forty miles in the thirteen southern counties.

We are now studying the approaching to the Bay bridge, and to the Golden Gate bridge. Undoubtedly you would not expect us to start to locate approaches until the bridges had been started, and until after the bridge-heads had been definitely established, and until the railroads which will undoubtedly go over the Bay bridge have been located and their termini have been established.

It is my opinion that the State Legislature and the director of public works, and the highway commission had no intention of deadheading the road at Walnut Creek, but there is a lot of controversy about the route that road will take east from Walnut Creek. A great many people wish it to be an industrial highway going close to Pittsburg and Antioch. There are other people that desire that it take the route through Marsh Creek and connect with the Borden highway into Stockton. The engineering department is carrying on a study at the present time to determine what our recommendation will be. I think that an organization such as you are contemplating perhaps joining today, and I don't wish to argue the question with you gentlemen, but if, and undoubtedly it will take its work seriously, it can be a great help to the department of public works and to the division of highways in the State government, because if you will eliminate some of the smaller projects, some of the projects that undoubtedly will be built in the future, and if you will come to us with recommendations that are reasonable, you will make our work much easier for us. I most heartily endorse organizations of this kind where many counties are joined together to work out highway problems that will be of mutual benefit to all the counties.

I don't know whether I have anything further to add, unless someone wishes to ask some questions.

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: Mr. President, Members of the Board: I desire to state to the members of the board that Colonel Garrison has been very, very kind to the people of the northern counties of this state, and particularly so to the residents of San Francisco. He has assisted this city and county of ours particularly by allocating moneys to the highway commission with which to assist in the breaking of the Daly City bottleneck, together with the able assistance of Tim Reardon, our former director of public works. Further, Colonel Garrison has shown good faith with the people of San Francisco by attempting to assist San Francisco in seeing that the most direct communications possible are made with the new Bay bridge, and I am very much pleased that we have been able to have Colonel Garrison present with us here today.

THE PRESIDENT: The question now is on the adoption of the motion of Supervisor Gallagher, adopting the committee's report favoring joining the Northern California Highways Association. Is there any objection? (No response.)

Hearing none, such is the order (bringing down the gavel).

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: I have a resolution from the streets committee which I would like to have the clerk read.

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: It is a committee report and I would ask that the members kindly give their attention to this because it is important.

(Thereupon the resolution was read by the clerk.)

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: I think the resolution explains itself, and I therefore move its adoption.

SUPERVISOR SHANNON: Second the motion.

THE PRESIDENT: The question is on the adoption of the resolution just offered by Supervisor Canepa, a committee report. Is there any objection? (No response.)

Such is the order (bringing down the gavel).

SUPERVISOR GALLAGHER: I would like to commend the chairman of the streets committee for that resolution, and to say that I join him in saying that although San Francisco has asked a lot from the million dollars it has contributed for the building of highways throughout the State, at the same time, due to the fact the commission has been requested to complete throughout the State certain roads, we have a vital interest in this question, and, as pointed out by Mr. Miller, out of the three hundred odd millions to be expended by 1940, San Francisco and Alameda counties will contribute one hundred and seventeen million.

It has been pointed out that there will be recommended by Colonel Garrison to the next Legislature certain roads to be included in the secondary road system, and that out of the 320 miles of roads requested only about eighty miles are allocated to the northern counties of California. Now, it is against the law for anyone to talk to any of the appointive officials of the government, under our charter, without the possibility of incurring the penalty of section 22 of our charter, and I feel that those things ought to be pointed out. Mr. Chairman, here is the situation, we face a condition where millions of dollars must be expended, first in the building of the Trans-Bay bridge, and the laterals that lead from that bridge into the county of Alameda, and I speak particularly of the City and County of San Francisco. If the northern part of this State, if we here in San Francisco spend on the one hand seventy-five million dollars for one bridge and thirty-five million dollars for another bridge, we certainly cannot be expected to be called upon for upwards of four million dollars to meet the situation those bridges create. In the case of the Golden Gate bridge, only one lateral road is supposed to take care of all the traffic coming over that bridge to the Presidio gates. Thereafter the problem, unless we are assisted, becomes San Francisco's problem, and it will mean the widening of various streets, and blocks, by the purchasing of property running into the millions of dollars. When it comes to the laterals leading off the Bay bridge, they will stretch north as far as Market street, they will stretch to the west as far as Seventh street, and they will stretch to the south practically to the Third street bridge, or to the widened Illinois street, and Third and Fourth street connections. Therefore we need somebody to aid us, we cannot do it, we are too busy, and it therefore seems to be a case where it has been everybody's business and no one to attend to it. San Francisco has contributed one million dollars as a preliminary gift to the State highway system of California in the building of the Bayshore highway, in order to induce the State to see the wisdom of the building of that highway down the Peninsula. The State has gone along on that program and has extended it down to Burlingame, and it is now contracted to Redwood City, and next year, or within the next two years it is contemplated to extend it as far south as San Jose. We have expended nine million dollars and a half in making highways connecting with the main highways in San Francisco, I speak now of the Junipero Serra Highway, the Alemany Boulevard, and the Bayshore Boulevard and the Sunset Boulevard and the others. Now, we don't want to be selfish, we never have been, but we need to be watchful. We cannot contemplate a burden of something like three or four million dollars, in addition to the sixteen or seventeen million dollars we are putting into the Golden Gate bridge, and in addition to probably much the heaviest burden in assessed valuation on the Transbay bridge, we certainly cannot be expected to take it on the chin for another four or five million dollars for the laterals leading to these bridges, and it is for that reason and that purpose I asked our colleagues to make this matter of the Northern California Highways Association, to make this a special order of business so that you could get the entire picture, and so that we can then follow that up by detailing one of our engineers to look over the project, and to act as a liaison officer between our city and Colonel Garrison and the highway commission.

Colonel Garrison is right when he states that efforts are made in many cases to bring roads, without regard sometimes to mileage, to the nearest possible point they can to their own community. That's all right, but when you stop and remember that seventy per cent of the traffic over these highways in most parts is city bound, north or south, you will realize, gentlemen, that we have something to say about it, and then when you stop again and realize that we are forced to pay the greatest part of the money, we should have some say in the spending of it.

The former highway commission was splendid, the present highway commission is splendid in its treatment to San Francisco. The present highway commission seems to have the very same intention, and has attempted to meet us on the Daly City bottleneck situation and to take over one-third of the cost of the proposed Junipero Serra highway, and so on, but this board cannot be asked, I repeat, to pay detail attention to what is going on, but by the detailing or appointing of this engineer he will be delegated to cooperate with and to contact the department of public works and the highway commission, and he will be on the job when roads are requested which means four or five miles longer to the business point. In other words, San Francisco's business will be this, that if it can be proven that we pay the most, if it can be proven that we use it the most, then it is essential that a particular road be built by the quickest possible route. The day has gone by when highways are built for pleasure only, and the day will come, I feel sure, when highways for heavy traffic alone will not be built between contiguous points. It is for that reason I respectfully second the motion by Supervisor Canepa and would like to impress upon my colleagues what is bound to happen.

I respectfully suggest that a copy of this resolution be sent to the State board of public works, and a copy to the State highway commission, and that two copies of the stenograph report of this hearing be prepared for the benefit of the streets committee, which will have this matter in their hands in the future.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: Mr. President, if I may, through you —do I understand, Supervisor Gallagher, that you contemplate appointing an engineer to represent the city?

SUPERVISOR CANEPA: That provision is that the city engineer of our city appoint one of his engineers, without cost to the City and County of San Francisco, to attend to these matters.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: He will detail one of his engineers——

SUPERVISOR CANEPA (interrupting): Yes, Supervisor, without cost to our city.

SUPERVISOR McSHEEHY: Then that is all right.

THE PRESIDENT: Is there any objection? (No response.)

Hearing none, such will be the order.

What is the next order of business, Mr. Clerk?

Reconsideration Withdrawn.

Inspectors, Inspections.

Section 9. The Plumbing Inspector is hereby authorized and directed to enforce all the provisions of this ordinance, and he may enter any building or premises for the purpose of making inspection upon presentation of proper credentials.

Section 10. The Plumbing Inspector is hereby authorized to order the disconnecting of any gas appliance and/or house gas piping that has been connected without inspection, or that may be found defective or dangerous to life and property. In all cases where any gas appliance and/or house gas piping is so disconnected it shall be unlawful for any person to reconnect same unless or until authorized by the Plumbing Inspector, and any further reference in this ordinance to the inspector shall be deemed to refer to the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 11. The inspector shall make the following inspections and shall either approve that portion of the work as complete or shall notify the permit holder wherein the same fails to comply with the law.

Rough Piping Inspection: To be made after all piping authorized by the permit has been installed, and before any such piping has been covered or concealed or any fixtures or gas appliances have been attached thereto.

Final Piping Inspection: To be made after all piping authorized by the permit has been installed and after all portions thereof, if any, which are to be concealed by plastering or otherwise have been so concealed, and before any fixtures or gas appliances have been attached thereto. This inspection shall include a pressure test, at which time the piping shall stand an air pressure equal to an eight (8) inch column of mercury, and the piping shall hold this air pressure for a period of ten (10) minutes without any perceptible drop. All necessary apparatus for conducting said test shall be furnished by the permit holder, and the test shall be made in the presence of the inspector.

Appliance Inspection: To be made after all fixtures or gas appliances authorized by the permit have been installed and after the house gas piping is connected with the meter and/or service gas piping of the gas company or other utility supplying or furnishing the gas which is to be used as fuel for the operation of said fixtures or gas appliances.

Section 12. Except as permitted in Section 14, upon completion of the installation of any gas appliance and/or house gas piping, and prior to the use thereof, the Department of Public Health shall be notified that such gas appliance and/or house gas piping is ready for inspection. The inspector shall make such inspection within forty-eight (48) hours of such notice. If the installation is found correct, a certificate of inspection shall be issued.

Section 13. In the case of rough inspections of house gas piping, the inspector shall issue a rough inspection card, which shall be posted in the meter box and kept there until after the final piping inspection, as in this ordinance provided.

Section 14. All domestic gas appliances may be installed and supplied with gas prior to the inspection thereof, provided a "permit for use" tag, which shall be supplied by the Plumbing Department, is attached thereto. This tag shall have written thereon the name of the gas appliance dealer or master plumber making the installation, the date of installation, and the address where appliance is located.

Section 15. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, excepting an authorized agent or employee of a person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of furnishing or supplying gas, and whose service pipes supply or connect with the particular premises, to turn on or reconnect gas service in or on any premises where and when gas service is not at the time being rendered.

It shall further be unlawful to turn on or connect gas on or in any premises unless all outlets are properly and securely connected to appliances or capped, plugged or closed by stop-cocks or valves capable of withstanding, without leaking, the gas piping test provided for in this ordinance.

House Gas Piping.

Section 16. Only those licensed to do plumbing work in the City and County of San Francisco may install "house gas piping," except that a licensed gas appliance dealer may install the necessary connections to connect gas appliances sold by himself with gas pipes (or gas meter, when necessary) of any building, provided the requirements of this ordinance for the installation of gas piping are complied with, the required permits secured, and the necessary fees paid; and provided, further, that no concealed piping may be installed by other than those licensed to do plumbing work. Where it is necessary, in accordance with the above provisions, for a gas appliance dealer to run gas connections direct to the meter, no such run shall extend from the meter to any location above the first story.

This is not to be construed as permitting a gas appliance dealer to install house gas piping systems in buildings, even if such a dealer should sell all the gas appliances to be installed therein, but only to permit the installation of the necessary piping to connect appliances sold by himself, in accordance with the provisions set forth above.

Section 17. Permits for house gas piping shall show the total number of gas outlets to be provided for and such other information as may be required by the Department of Public Health.

Section 18. The following regulations as set forth in Sections 19-39, inclusive, shall be the standard for the construction and installation of house gas piping work.

Section 19. For fuel and industrial purposes (including illumination, if any) the diameter of house gas piping installed in any building, the number of lineal feet and the number of openings allowed shall be in conformity with the following table:

Number of Openings Allowed.

For a given size pipe ¼ of length will deliver twice the discharge or 4 times the length ½ the discharge.

Section 20. The diameter of the supply pipe to any gas appliance shall not be of smaller size than the inlet connection of such gas appliance.

Section 21. Except as specified below, all pipe used for the installation, extension, alteration and/or repair of any house gas piping shall be standard weight wrought iron or steel pipe, or brass or copper pipe of iron pipe size, and such pipe shall either be new or shall previously have been used for no other purpose than for the conveying of gas.

All such pipe shall be free from internal obstructions, splits, or other imperfections which would render it unfit for the purpose intended, and the ends thereof shall be properly reamed.

All fittings used in connection with the house gas piping shall be of malleable iron, brass, copper or equal.

Galvanized wrought iron pipe and galvanized malleable fittings, or standard brass pipe and brass fittings, or standard copper pipe and copper fittings, shall be used for all house gas piping when said pipes are used on the exterior of a building, underground, when embedded in concrete or masonry, or when exposed to unusual damp conditions.

Section 22. All gas pipes shall be well secured to the building and shall be graded toward the meter wherever possible. Vertical pipe risers shall have placed at the bottom of each riser a tee plugged with a long nipple and cap the same size as the vertical pipe, to serve as a dirt pocket.

Section 23. Piping trapped by a change of grade shall be provided with a suitable drip pipe; said drip pipe must be of the same size as the pipe it serves, and the outlet of such drip pipe must be carried to an exposed accessible location.

Section 24. All branches must be taken from sides or top of horizontal runs.

Section 25. All gas piping must be rigidly supported by straps or hooks in such a manner as to prevent moving.

Section 26. When practicable, all center outlets or drops must be square bent and securely fastened, and where straight drops are necessary, straps must be soldered thereto and securely fastened.

Section 27. All gas meters, when owned or under control of the person, firm or corporation supplying gas, shall be installed by the person, firm or corporation supplying the gas. All gas meter locations must be approved by the Plumbing Inspector and shall be located as near as practicable to the point where the service pipe enters the property.

All gas meters, when owned by other than the person, firm or corporation supplying the gas, and which are installed as intermediate or sub-meters on the outlet side of the main meter of the gas utility, shall be installed only at such location or locations as may be approved for that purpose by the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 28. Where more than one meter is set in a building they must all be set at one location, and so placed as to be at all times accessible for inspection, reading and testing, and shutting off gas supply; except that intermediate or sub-meters, as specified in Section 27, may, when owned by other than the gas utility, be permitted to be installed at other locations on approval of the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 29. When one building is in the rear of another building on an interior lot the location of the meters will be determined by the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 30. In order that gas may be supplied, the house piping must be brought to within thirty inches (30") of the proposed location of the gas meter, and where it is necessary to set more than one gas meter, the ends of such house gas pipes must be eighteen inches (18") apart horizontally at the meter location. If more than one horizontal line of meter openings be required, then the vertical distance between such horizontal lines shall be not less than thirty inches (30") and the outlets shall be so arranged as to terminate at the right of the inlet location of gas meter.

Section 31. Gas meters shall not be located under show windows or in engine, boiler, heater, electric meter rooms or under stairways. Access to all gas meters must be through an opening or door not less than 18"x24" long.

Section 32. House gas piping at the meter location shall be plainly marked with tags to designate the section of the building supplied.

Section 33. On each house gas piping run of 29 outlets or less the opening at the meter location shall terminate at a height of not less than thirty inches (30") above the floor, and when there are more than 29 outlets the said opening shall terminate at a height of not less than forty-eight inches (48") above the floor.

Section 34. When a gas meter is located outside of a building, or when the same is exposed, the same must be protected against the weather.

Section 35. When temporary use of gas is desired the Plumbing Inspector may grant a permit for such use for a period not to exceed thirty (30) days, provided that the gas piping which it is desired to be used be given a test equal to that required as a final piping inspection.

Section 36. It shall be unlawful to remove or disconnect any gas fixture or gas appliance without capping or plugging with a screwed joint fitting the outlet from which said fixture or gas appliance was removed. All outlets to which fixtures or gas appliances are not connected shall be left capped gas tight on any piping system being installed, altered, extended or repaired.

Section 37. No gas piping shall be built in brick, stone, masonry, or concrete walls. When necessary to conceal pipe in this manner it must be run in suitable recesses.

Section 38. No acid, cement or any other composition shall be used for the purpose of repairing or stopping leaks, nor shall water or acid be used to locate leaks.

In no case other than by permission of the Plumbing Inspector is it permissible to repair defects in piping or fittings, but, having been located, the defective pipe or fitting must be removed and replaced with perfect material.

Section 39. No running thread joints shall be used. Where necessary, ground joint unions or right and left couplings may be used. Bushings shall not be used in concealed work.

Gas Appliances—General.

Section 40. The Department of Public Health is authorized and directed to prepare, adopt and promulgate such rules, regulations, requirements and specifications as are necessary or proper to assure safety and protect life, health and property in the sale, installation and use of gas appliances and to assure the most approved methods of construction for safety to life and property. In preparing and adopting said rules, regulations, requirements and specifications, the Department of Public Health may consider the rules, regulations, requirements and specifications of the American Gas Association or any other national rules, regulations, requirements or specifications relating to such subjects. All rules, regulations, requirements and specifications so promulgated shall be published and shall be sent to all licensed gas appliance dealers or holders of master plumbers' certificates, and to any person applying therefor.

Provided, however, that the inspector may authorize the sale and use of any appliance that is in the stock of any gas appliance dealer or jobber on the date of the adoption of this ordinance, by stenciling an approval upon such appliance on or before the .... day of ....., provided the use of such appliance will not endanger life, health or property.

Section 41. Appliances installed hereafter shall be marked or labeled with a distinctive mark or name by the manufacturer or dealer.

Section 42. Used gas appliances may be reinstalled when, in the opinion of the inspector, such appliances may be used without danger to life or property.

Section 43. Except as provided herein, and in Section 44, every appliance shall be rigidly connected to the house gas piping outlet with standard weight wrought iron or steel pipe and malleable iron fittings, or copper pipe and copper fittings, or brass pipe and brass fittings, and a ground-in valve and a ground joint union or right and left coupling shall be placed between the outlet and the appliance.

Brass or copper tubing may be used for the connection between an appliance and the house gas piping outlet; provided that such tubing shall be of not less in weight than No. 18 gauge and of not less than three-eighths-inch (⅜") outside diameter, and that all connections shall be of approved expansion joints, and that the length of such tubing used to connect any one gas appliance shall not exceed six (6) feet. Each appliance so connected shall have a ground-in valve with lever handle cast integral at the house gas piping outlet.

Section 44. Approved flexible metal tubing may be used for connecting gas appliances designed for portable use, such as washing machines, ironers, or other appliances the location of which must be changed during operation; provided, however, that such approved flexible metal tubing shall not exceed six feet (6') in length. There shall not be any shut-off or gas-cock between such tubing and the burner or burners. Where such tubing is used, a shut-off valve or gas-cock shall be installed at the point where tubing is connected to the gas supply pipe.

Section 45. Gas appliances so constructed that the burners are not shielded by metal or other approved insulating material shall not be located within twelve inches (12") of any combustible material. Appliances so constructed that metal shields or other approved insulating materials are an integral part of their construction shall not be located so as to permit the burners to be within six inches (6") of combustible material nor within three inches (3") of protected combustible material.

All vented gas appliances, except gas ranges and radiant type heaters, shall be equipped with an approved type of draft hood.

Section 46. Gas plates or ranges shall not be installed in rooms used for sleeping purposes; they may, however, be installed for cooking purposes in a room designed to conform to the legal requirements for a kitchen. Every gas range shall, however, be connected with a "vent connection" to a proper flue or chimney. Combination gas ranges and trash burners may be vented by a common "vent connection" to any chimney or flue constructed in accordance with the provisions of the Building Code for use by trash burners.

Gas plates may be used for commercial purposes in any room having a floor area of not less than fifty (50) square feet; provided, however, that such room has a permanent ventilation consisting of an opening not higher than one (1) foot above the floor and an opening not lower than one (1) foot below the ceiling. Each such opening shall have an unrestricted area of at least one hundred and twenty (120) square inches, and each such opening shall lead through unrestricted ducts to the outside of the building, where an uninterrupted supply of fresh air is assured.

Gas plates and ranges shall not be installed within three (3) feet of any ceiling of combustible material.

Section 47. Every gas water heater installed shall be rigidly connected to the house gas piping outlet and shall be placed not less than the distance given in Section 45 from any combustible or protected combustible material.

Gas water heaters shall not be installed in bathrooms, rooms used for sleeping purposes, or closets, nor in any room or enclosure having a floor area of less than sixteen (16) square feet. Gas water heaters shall not be installed in recesses unless such recesses shall have one side entirely open and not equipped with any door or other closing device, and the inside, including the top, bottom and sides of such recess, shall be lined with asbestos boards not less than one-quarter (¼) of an inch in thickness, or other approved insulation, and in no case shall a gas water heater be located less than three inches (3") from any such insulated walls.

Every gas water heater shall be properly vented to a flue or chimney.

All manually operated water heaters shall be installed with an approved pressure relief valve set at a pressure not higher than fifty (50) pounds above the pressure of the water supply.

All automatic storage water heaters shall be equipped with an approved automatic shut-off valve set below the boiling point of water, and with an automatic device so designed that the supply of gas to the main burners in connection therewith will be automatically shut off when combustion of gas is not taking place at the pilot; and shall also be equipped with an approved pressure relief valve set at a pressure not higher than fifty (50) pounds above the pressure of the water supply.

Section 48. Unvented gas space heaters, such as blue flame, luminous flame, radiant type, wall heaters, hot air radiators, and gas steam radiators shall not be installed in any room or other enclosure having a floor area of less than fifty (50) square feet, nor shall any unvented appliance be installed in any room used for sleeping purposes. Vented appliances installed in sleeping rooms shall be rigidly attached to the house gas piping outlet.

Section 49. Gas space heaters may be installed in fireplaces, provided such fireplaces conform to the requirements of the Building Law of the City and County of San Francisco. Gas space heaters may be installed in imitation fireplaces, provided the recess of such imitation fireplaces is not more than thirteen inches (13") in depth, and it shall be so constructed as to be not adaptable for use as a coal-burning fireplace. The recess of every such imitation fireplace shall be protected with a lining of brick, tile, or other approved incombustible material not less than one (1) inch in thickness. Such imitation fireplace shall be properly vented and be labeled by means of a metal plate set permanently in the fireproofing, bearing the words, "For gas appliances only."

Section 50. Gas furnaces, except floor furnaces, shall be placed not less than twelve (12) inches from protected combustible material, and not less than eighteen (18) inches from unprotected combustible material, and shall set on masonry, concrete or other incombustible floors or upon floors protected by top floors of masonry, concrete, tile or similar material at least two (2) inches in thickness, or asbestos board not less than one-quarter (¼) of an inch in thickness and covered with No. 20 U. S. standard gauge galvanized iron. The top of gas furnaces shall not be less than nine (9) inches from protected combustible material or not less than eighteen (18) inches from unprotected combustible material.

Gas furnaces shall not be installed in any place or in such manner as to be inaccessible for inspection or repair.

Gas furnaces shall not be located under any stairway unless such furnaces are located within Class A fireproof enclosures.

Every room or enclosure in which a gas furnace is installed or operated shall be provided with permanent ventilation which will furnish sufficient supply of air to properly support combustion and ventilate such room or enclosure. Such permanent ventilation shall consist of an opening not higher than one (1) foot above the floor or adjoining ground level, and an opening not lower than one (1) foot below the ceiling, and each of such openings shall have an unrestricted area of at least one (1) square foot and shall lead through unrestricted ducts to the outside of the building, where an uninterrupted supply of fresh air is assured. Such openings shall be screened with wire screens or grills having a mesh not smaller than one-half (½) inch in any dimension.

For every warm air furnace using gas, or any other fuel, hereafter installed, an air intake shall be required. It shall be either a fresh air intake from the outside of the building or a return air intake from the space to be heated by such furnace, or combination of the two, and such air intake shall not be located in such manner as to draw air from the room or enclosure in which such furnace is installed or from the space immediately adjacent to any openings which are required for permanent ventilation of such room or enclosure.

Every air intake shall be constructed of metal or incombustible material or else be lined with metal or other approved fire-resistive material satisfactory to the Fire Prevention Bureau.

The net cross-sectional area of a fresh air intake for a warm air furnace shall not be less than the total cross-sectional area of all hot air outlets.

No damper shall be placed in an air intake, but the end thereof may be screened with wire screen having a mesh not smaller than one-half (½) inch in any dimension, or with gratings, register plates, or similar devices having an effective ventilating area not less than the required cross-sectional area of the air intake.

Section 51. Gas furnaces of the floor type shall not be installed in any location inaccessible for inspection or repair. An opening or door, not less than thirty inches (30") by thirty-six inches (36") in size, shall be provided for access to the room or enclosure in which any such gas furnace is installed, and such gas furnace shall be vented to a proper vent, flue or chimney.

Section 52. A warm air or other furnace or heater which is designed to use fuel other than gas for the development of heat may be converted into a gas appliance by means of the installation of gas burners into the fire pot thereof, provided such gas burners are of a design and construction as set forth in the specifications of the Bureau of Standards of the Department of Commerce, and provided further that they are installed in accordance with the following provisions and in a manner that their use therein will not endanger life, health or property.

(a) The heating element must stand a test for gas tightness so that no products of combustion or gas may enter rooms or spaces to be heated.

(b) Vents and flues must be in good condition as to gas tightness and draft, or made so before converting any such apparatus.

(c) If refractory material is used as part of gas burner or burners, same must be supported above ports of burner a sufficient height to allow combustion before impingement upon said refractory material.

(d) Burners must be equipped with continuous burning pilot lights controlled from the manifold of the burner and fixed to the burner in such a way as to provide a rigid relative position between the pilot tip and ports of the burner. Provision must also be made for a simple means of lighting the pilot light which will not make it necessary for the operator to reach into the fire pot.

(e) Burners using over 60,000 B.t.u. per hour must be equipped with a partially opened check damper in the vent or by a draft hood.

(f) The manifold of the burner must be equipped with a main control valve of the plug type, with a metal handle which is cast integrally with the plug, and operated with stops at 90 degrees apart so as to indicate at a glance the "on" and "off" positions.

(g) The burner or burners shall be so located that no part of the flames impinge on the surfaces of the combustion chamber or heating elements, and shall be securely fastened in place to prevent twisting, sliding or dropping out of position, but so installed as to permit easy removal for cleaning and repair.

(h) The furnace or heater converted shall be checked for secondary air supply, and so regulated or altered that proper and complete combustion will be provided for.

Illuminating Fixtures.

Section 53. Every illuminating fixture installed in the City and County of San Francisco shall be of a design and construction approved by the inspector.

Illuminating fixtures shall not be located within three feet (3') of any gas meter, back of a door, in a closet, nor in any other location where, in the opinion of the inspector, any fire hazard would be entailed. Swinging bracket fixtures are hereby prohibited.

Ventilation for Gas Appliances.

Section 54. No gas appliance shall be hereafter installed, or any gas appliance replaced, unless the room or place where such a gas appliance is located is ventilated so as to properly support combustion. Except as provided in this section and in Section 55, no gas appliance shall hereafter be installed, or any existing gas appliance replaced, unless the same shall be vented to a flue which shall be the full size of the "vent opening" of the appliance to be vented. No damper shall be installed in any "vent connection," "vent," "flue" or "chimney" to which a gas appliance is vented, except as may be specifically provided for elsewhere in this ordinance. Dampers integral in the construction of kitchen heater type or combination ranges are permissible.

Gas refrigerators, gas sad irons, gas mangles and gas washing machines, the gas consumption of which is less than five thousand (5000) B.t.u. per hour (approximately five cubic feet per hour) are not required to be vented, nor shall permanent ventilation, as specified in Section 55, be required for the room or enclosure in which said appliances are installed or operated; nor shall said appliances be required to be equipped with cut-off valves as specified in Section 55.

Section 55. Heating appliances designed by the manufacturer to be used unvented must be equipped with approved cut-off valves which automatically shut off the supply of gas when combustion is not taking place at the burners, and said appliances shall not be installed in any room or enclosure unless permanent ventilation be provided for. For such appliances having a rated gas capacity of fifty (50) cubic feet or more per hour there shall be two ventilating ducts or openings provided, with not less than one hundred and twenty (120) square inches of free area in each, and which shall lead to an area where an uninterrupted supply of fresh air is assured. One such opening shall be located at a point not more than one foot (1') above the floor level, the other to be at a point not more than one foot (1') below the level of the ceiling. For such appliances having a rated capacity of less than fifty (50) cubic feet per hour, only one such ventilating duct or opening shall be required, which shall not have less than thirty-six (36) square inches of free area and shall be located at a point not more than one foot (1') below the level of the ceiling; provided, however, that where the rated capacity of the appliance is less than twenty-five (25) cubic feet per hour, the Plumbing Inspector may modify the provision as to the location of this required ventilating duct or opening if, in his opinion, any other location thereof would be more practical for the particular heating appliance to be installed, and would provide ample ventilation for the safe operation of said appliance.

Section 56. No gas appliance shall be installed in a public or commercial garage unless the design, operation and installation of said appliance is such as to eliminate the possible ignition of inflammable vapors.

Chimneys, Flues and Vents.

Section 57. Every chimney, flue or vent to which a gas appliance is connected, or which is installed for the purpose of connecting a gas appliance thereto, shall be constructed and installed in accordance with the Building Code.

No gas appliance or appliances shall be connected to any chimney, flue or vent unless the internal area of such chimney, flue or vent is large enough to accommodate the appliance or appliances to be connected thereto, as set forth in the following paragraph:

The internal area of any chimney, flue or vent to which a gas appliance is connected shall not be less than the internal area of the largest "vent connection," or "vent opening," as the case may be, plus 50 per cent of the total area of all other additional "vent connections" or "vent openings" which are connected thereto; provided, however, that where round "vent connections" or "vent openings" are connected to a rectangular chimney, flue or vent, the internal area of such rectangular chimney, flue or vent shall be 20 per cent greater than that required above. The following table shall be used for the computation of flue areas in round flue pipes, vents and vent connections:

3-inch round pipe	7.1 square inches
4-inch round pipe	12.6 square inches
5-inch round pipe	19.6 square inches
6-inch round pipe	28.3 square inches
8-inch round pipe	50.3 square inches

Section 58. No flue opening shall be smaller than the vent connection required for the gas appliance or appliances that will be connected to such opening, and every flue opening to which a gas appliance is not connected shall be tightly closed by means of an approved cap or similar device.

Vent Connections.

Section 59. Every vent connection which is required by this ordinance shall be constructed of metal, as herein specified, or of other approved incombustible material of equal durability and adaptable for such purpose.

Metal vent connections shall be constructed of sheet copper weighing not less than sixteen (16) ounces per square foot or of Monel metal or equal not lighter than No. 26 U. S. standard gauge, and the edges of such sheet metal shall be securely connected together with a locked or riveted seam in such a manner as to form a practically tight pipe. Joints between lengths of pipe shall be at least two (2) inch lap joints and so constructed and fastened as to be practically tight.

Metal vent connections ten (10) feet or less in length and completely exposed to view or easily accessible for inspection may be constructed of galvanized sheet iron not lighter than No. 26 U. S. standard gauge, provided, however, that all seams and joints shall be made in the same manner as is customary in the construction of ordinary stove pipe and stove-pipe fittings, and provided further, that stoves or ranges may be connected to a flue or chimney with stove pipe.

No vent connection shall have an area less than the areas of the vent opening or collar on the appliance to which such vent connection is connected, and every vent connection which is connected to more than one such vent opening or collar shall have an area not less than the area of the largest vent connection plus fifty per cent (50 per cent) of the area of all other additional vent connections connected thereto.

Section 60. Vent connections shall be properly connected to appliances and shall be securely supported by means of substantial hangers at intervals of not more than ten (10) feet on all horizontal runs. Vent connections shall also be properly connected to a flue or chimney by means of an approved metal thimble attached to the flue or chimney in a gas and water-tight manner. Vent connections made through a fireplace shall be made by means of a galvanized iron or steel plate set in the chimney throat, thoroughly cemented and to be air and gas tight.

Horizontal vent connections depending on natural draft shall not exceed twenty (20) feet in length except by special permission of the Plumbing Inspector, nor shall such horizontal vent connections exceed in length the height of the chimney or flue to which connected, measured as the vertical distance between the top of the burners of the appliance and the outlet of the chimney or flue. All horizontal runs exceeding four (4) feet in length shall have a grade of not less than one (1) inch to each lineal foot of length rising toward the flue or chimney. The above shall also apply to horizontal portions of vents, in so far as applicable. Every horizontal metal "vent connection" exceeding ten (10) feet in length, and located in a basement, shall be insulated with two (2) plies of one-quarter inch (¼ inch) corrugated asbestos paper, or of a material having equal insulating value.

Vent connections, or vents, except by special permission of the Plumbing Inspector and approval of the Fire Prevention Bureau, shall not be placed less than three (3) inches from any combustible material nor less than one and one-half (1½) inches from protected combustible material. Bends or offsets in horizontal vent connections shall be avoided wherever possible, and where necessary shall be made at widest angles possible. Vent connections, or vents, passing through walls, partitions or floors, shall have approved double insulating sleeves and shall be installed in accordance with the provisions of the Building Code.

No "vent connection" connected to any gas appliance having pilot provision for automatic or remote control, except gas ranges, shall be connected to any chimney or flue which is used as a smoke flue for any stove, boiler, heater or other apparatus designed to burn wood, coal, oil, or any fuel other than gas, unless such pilot provision is so designed that the supply of gas to the main burners in connection therewith will be automatically shut off when combustion of gas is not taking place at the pilot.

Maintenance of Vent Connections.

Section 61. Every "vent connection" shall be maintained in good condition; provided, however, that no "vent connection" not conforming to the requirements of this ordinance shall be used or maintained if in the judgment of the Plumbing Inspector the use or maintenance thereof would endanger life or property.

Non-Liability of City.

Section 62. This ordinance shall not be construed as imposing upon the City and County of San Francisco any liability or responsibility for damages to any person injured, asphyxiated, or who suffers loss of life by any defects in any gas appliance and/or house gas piping, or by the installation thereof, nor shall the City and County of San Francisco, or any official or employee thereof, be held as assuming any such liability or responsibility by reason of the inspection authorized hereunder or certificate of inspection issued by the Plumbing Inspector. Nor shall the City and County of San Francisco or any official or employee thereof be held as assuming any liability or responsibility for property damage, from any cause whatsoever, which may have been caused by gas leakage, fire or explosion of any sort coming from, or during the operation of any gas appliance and/or house gas piping.

Violations and Penalties.

Section 63. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance or who causes, permits or suffers the same to be done, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and each such person shall be guilty of a separate offense for each and every day or portion thereof during which any violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance is committed, continued or permitted, and upon conviction of any such violation such person shall be punished by a fine of not more than two hundred and fifty dollars ($250) or by imprisonment for not more than fifty (50) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Validity.

Section 64. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance is, for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance. The Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco hereby declare that it would have passed this ordinance and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Ordinances Repealed.

Section 65. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Referred.

The following matter was presented by Supervisor McSheehy and referred to the Public Utilities Committee:

Reduction of Water Rates.

Resolution No. 149, as follows:

Whereas, public interest and necessity require a reduction in the water rates charged by the Water Department to the people of the City and County of San Francisco; and

Whereas, as in the purchase of the Spring Valley Water Company properties for $41,000,000, on May 1, 1928, written and oral statements were made that if these properties were purchased, a reduction of the water rates would be made; and

Whereas, financial statements of the receipts and disbursements were broadcasted, showing huge profits that would be reflected into positive reduction of charges for water; and

Whereas, we are paying more for water than any other City in the United States, which is detrimental to the growth and prosperity of this City, and records show that a number of manufacturing plants have refused to locate in San Francisco and numbers have moved out on account of our excessive water rates; and

Whereas, the properties of the Spring Valley Water Company were taken over by the City of San Francisco on March 3, 1930, and since that time a net profit of $2,407,140 has been made, this profit having been expended for the improvements of the property; and

Whereas, on August 1, 1931, the manager of the Water Department submitted a report showing in detail contemplated expenditures of the Water Department, to be spread over five years, of $9,000,000, and if this program is carried out there will be no reduction in our water rates; and

Whereas, the East Bay cities of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda were confronted with a water problem far more acute than ours, and in five years they brought in a water supply, purchased a distributing plant and reduced their water rates; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That a special committee of three members of this Board be appointed by his Honor the Mayor to investigate the entire management of the Water Department from the 3rd day of March, 1930, to March 31, 1932, as to the receipts, disbursements and capital investments, as to improvements of any kind, and the report dated August 1, 1931, as to the necessity of certain improvements mentioned in said report; and be it Further Resolved, That his Honor the Mayor and the Chief Administrative Officer be requested to direct that the Public Utilities Commission, the manager of the Water Department and all employees of said department render every assistance possible and place every record asked for at the disposal of said committee in making said investigation, and that a report be rendered by said committee to this Board sixty (60) days from date, setting forth in detail the exact amount of the receipts and disbursements of the said department and, if possible, the feasibility of a reduction in water rates.

Appointment of Contact or Liaison Man, Expenditures, State Gas Tax Fund.
(Code No. 5.31)

Supervisor Gallagher presented:

Resolution No. 151, as follows:

Whereas, San Francisco and Alameda counties contribute at least one-half of the gas tax fund collected by the State of California north of the Tehachapi; and

Whereas, this money is for the purpose of providing for new and better highways and for the convenience of the people of the State in reaching portions of the State removed from their homes; and

Whereas, many petitions and plans have been and are being suggested to the State Board of Public Works and the State Highway Commission, having for their purpose the diversion of these funds to numerous projects, local highways and county roads; and

Opinion of City Attorney in re Right of Board of Supervisors to Suggest Street Improvement Program, and Would Such Suggestion Be a Violation of Section 22 of the Charter.

The following was presented, read by the Clerk and copies ordered sent to members:

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors, City Hall.

Gentlemen: I am in receipt of your letter reading as follows:

"Supervisor Gallagher presented the following resolution in the Board of Supervisors January 18, 1932:

"Whereas, the San Francisco Traffic Survey Committee has submitted a list of streets in need of repair and/or reconstruction and/or widening in the interest of expediting traffic movement; and

"Whereas, several of these streets have not been reconstructed, nor widened, nor resurfaced; now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That his Honor the Mayor be and he is hereby respectfully requested to call, as soon as feasible, a meeting of the Streets Committee of the Board of Supervisors, the Director of Public Works, the Chief Administrator and the Controller, for the purpose of devising ways and means to set up a program for street improvements to be undertaken during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1932; and

"Further Resolved, That the following streets be given due consideration in the discussion in the order in which they are listed hereinbelow, to-wit: Widen Army street from Potrero to Valencia street, resurface Howard street from The Embarcadero to Third street, reconstruct Folsom street from The Embarcadero to Third street by widening and resurfacing, repave Townsend street from The Embarcadero to Second street, reconstruct Brannan street from First street to Division street, reconstruction Spear street from The Embarcadero to Howard street; and be it

"Further Resolved, That the matter of widening each of the above list be given consideration in any plan or program of street construction proposed.

"This resolution was referred to the Streets Committee.

"Whereupon the following occurred:

"Supervisor Havenner: In order to clarify the situation I am going to ask for the opinion of the City Attorney whether this resolution or other resolutions similar would constitute official misconduct on the part of the Board.

"Supervisor Peyser: May I go further and ask that we get an opinion from the City Attorney as to just what this Board can do without violating Section 22 of the Charter?"

Opinion.

Section 22 of the Charter reads as follows:

"Except for the purpose of inquiry, the Mayor and the Board of Supervisors shall deal with the administrative service for which the Chief Administrative Officer is responsible solely through such officer, and for administrative or other functions for which elective officials or boards or commissions are responsible solely through the elective official, the board or commission or the chief executive officer of such board or commission concerned. Except for the purpose of inquiry, each board or commission, in its conduct of administrative affairs under its control, shall deal with such matters solely through its chief executive officer.

"Neither the Board of Supervisors, nor its committees, nor any of its members shall dictate, suggest or interfere with appointments, promotions, compensations, disciplinary actions, contracts, requisitions for purchases or other administrative recommendations or actions of the Chief Administrative Officer, or of department heads under the Chief Administrative Officer, or under the respective boards and commissions. The Board of Supervisors, and each board or commission, relative to the affairs of its own department, shall deal with administrative matters only in the manner provided by this Charter, and any dictation, suggestion or interference herein prohibited on the part of any supervisors or member of a board or commission shall constitute official misconduct; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall restrict the power of hearing and inquiry as provided in the Charter."

It is evident that the foregoing section of the Charter was enacted to prevent undue interference of the legislative branch of the government with the executive, and to keep the functions of each separate, and in construing the effects of the inhibitions contained in the section we should have its purposes in view and not go further than is necessary to carry out these purposes.

It is evident from the language contained in the first paragraph of Section 22 that the Board of Supervisors are presumed to deal with the various executive departments, for it is provided in said section that such dealings shall be carried on through the Chief Administrative Officer for those departments under his jurisdiction, and when such dealings are had with any other department, then with the head of such department.

All departments are to some extent dependent upon the Board of Supervisors. In some cases only to the extent of the number and compensation of employees. In others reports must be made to the Board of the various activities of the department. In others certain actions and recommendations must be approved before they become effective. Therefore, it is only reasonable to presume that the Charter framers must have anticipated that in cases where the actions of any department were to any extent dependent upon action of the Board of Supervisors that suggestions must come from the department to the Board and from the Board back to the department.

I know of no matter more dependent upon the Board of Supervisors than the construction of streets. In the first place, at the present time our street construction is provided for from the amount received from the State out of the gasoline and motor vehicle tax. While there is nothing in the State act providing for the distribution of this tax which makes it mandatory that the legislative branch of the county government should provide how the money so received should be spent, it must each year make a report to the State how it was spent. Secondly, the Board of Supervisors must make the appropriation for the work either in annual or supplemental budget. If in annual budget, the Board might strike any item for street reconstruction from the budget, and may insert another item in its place, for by Section 72 of the Charter the Board, in approving the annual budget, is given authority not only to strike any item from the budget, but also to insert items for capital expenditures and public improvements, and I take it that there can be but little doubt that permanent street improvements come within both of these subjects. In supplemental budgets the Board may approve or refuse an appropriation, and would therefore have the right to inquire into its necessity.

I am, therefore, of the opinion that in the orderly performance of the duties of the Board of Supervisors, and to the end that its members may be in a position to act intelligently in the granting or refusing of appropriations for street work, either in the annual budget or by supplemental appropriation as provided in the Charter, that it is perfectly proper that a committee of your Board should confer with the officials mentioned in the above resolution relative to the improvement and reconstruction of streets. Further, that in determining upon the program of street improvements, you are not violating the provisions of Section 22 should your committee urge the necessity for improving or reconstructing one street as against another. This conference might be called either upon the request of any of the officials mentioned or by your Board or by the appropriate committee thereof, with the understanding, of course, that there is no legal obligation upon any of the officers mentioned to attend the conference. You are, therefore, advised accordingly.

As to the suggestions of Supervisors Havenner and Peyser, that the Board be advised as to the extent your Board or its members may act without violating Section 22 of the Charter, I can only say that the section mentioned is prohibitory in character, and that it is not possible to give any general answer as to these questions unless I have before me the character of the action which you desire to take.

Respectfully,

JOHN J. O'TOOLE, City Attorney.

Inspectors, Inspections.

Section 9. The Plumbing Inspector is hereby authorized and directed to enforce all the provisions of this ordinance, and he may enter any building or premises for the purpose of making inspection upon presentation of proper credentials.

Section 10. The Plumbing Inspector is hereby authorized to order the disconnecting of any gas appliance and/or house gas piping that has been connected without inspection, or that may be found defective or dangerous to life and property. In all cases where any gas appliance and/or house gas piping is so disconnected it shall be unlawful for any person to reconnect same unless or until authorized by the Plumbing Inspector, and any further reference in this ordinance to the inspector shall be deemed to refer to the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 11. The inspector shall make the following inspections and shall either approve that portion of the work as complete or shall notify the permit holder wherein the same fails to comply with the law.

Rough Piping Inspection: To be made after all piping authorized by the permit has been installed, and before any such piping has been covered or concealed or any fixtures or gas appliances have been attached thereto.

Final Piping Inspection: To be made after all piping authorized by the permit has been installed and after all portions thereof, if any, which are to be concealed by plastering or otherwise have been so concealed, and before any fixtures or gas appliances have been attached thereto. This inspection shall include a pressure test, at which time the piping shall stand an air pressure equal to an eight (8) inch column of mercury, and the piping shall hold this air pressure for a period of ten (10) minutes without any perceptible drop. All necessary apparatus for conducting said test shall be furnished by the permit holder, and the test shall be made in the presence of the inspector.

Appliance Inspection: To be made after all fixtures or gas appliances authorized by the permit have been installed and after the house gas piping is connected with the meter and/or service gas piping of the gas company or other utility supplying or furnishing the gas which is to be used as fuel for the operation of said fixtures or gas appliances.

Section 12. Except as permitted in Section 14, upon completion of the installation of any gas appliance and/or house gas piping, and prior to the use thereof, the Department of Public Health shall be notified that such gas appliance and/or house gas piping is ready for inspection. The inspector shall make such inspection within forty-eight (48) hours of such notice. If the installation is found correct, a certificate of inspection shall be issued.

Section 13. In the case of rough inspections of house gas piping, the inspector shall issue a rough inspection card, which shall be posted in the meter box and kept there until after the final piping inspection, as in this ordinance provided.

Section 14. All domestic gas appliances may be installed and supplied with gas prior to the inspection thereof, provided a "permit for use" tag, which shall be supplied by the Plumbing Department, is attached thereto. This tag shall have written thereon the name of the gas appliance dealer or master plumber making the installation, the date of installation, and the address where appliance is located.

Section 15. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, excepting an authorized agent or employee of a person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of furnishing or supplying gas, and whose service pipes supply or connect with the particular premises, to turn on or reconnect gas service in or on any premises where and when gas service is not at the time being rendered.

It shall further be unlawful to turn on or connect gas on or in any premises unless all outlets are properly and securely connected to appliances or capped, plugged or closed by stop-cocks or valves capable of withstanding, without leaking, the gas piping test provided for in this ordinance.

House Gas Piping.

Section 16. Only those licensed to do plumbing work in the City and County of San Francisco may install "house gas piping," except that a licensed gas appliance dealer may install the necessary connections to connect gas appliances sold by himself with gas pipes (or gas meter, when necessary) of any building, provided the requirements of this ordinance for the installation of gas piping are complied with, the required permits secured, and the necessary fees paid; and provided, further, that no concealed piping may be installed by other than those licensed to do plumbing work. Where it is necessary, in accordance with the above provisions, for a gas appliance dealer to run gas connections direct to the meter, no such run shall extend should sell all the gas appliances to be installed therein, but only to permit the installation of the necessary piping to connect appliances sold by himself, in accordance with the provisions set forth above. from the meter to any location above the first story.

This is not to be construed as permitting a gas appliance dealer to install house gas piping systems in buildings, even if such a dealer should sell all the gas appliances to be installed therein, but only to permit the installation of the necessary piping to connect appliances sold by himself, in accordance with the provisions set forth above.

Section 17. Permits for house gas piping shall show the total number of gas outlets to be provided for and such other information as may be required by the Department of Public Health.

Section 18. The following regulations as set forth in Sections 19-39, inclusive, shall be the standard for the construction and installation of house gas piping work.

Section 19. For fuel and industrial purposes (including illumination, if any) the diameter of house gas piping installed in any building, the number of lineal feet and the number of openings allowed shall be in conformity with the following table:

Number of Openings Allowed.

Greatest Length Allowed	Pipe Size	½"	¾"	1"	1¼"	1½"	2"	2½"	3"	4"	Capacity in Cu. Ft. Per Hour
10'	½"	1									30

350'	4"	140	86	43	20	12	6	4	2	1	3500

For a given size pipe ¼ of length will deliver twice the discharge or 4 times the length ½ the discharge.

Section 20. The diameter of the supply pipe to any gas appliance shall not be of smaller size than the inlet connection of such gas appliance.

Section 21. Except as specified below, all pipe used for the installation, extension, alteration and/or repair of any house gas piping shall be standard weight wrought iron or steel pipe, or brass or copper pipe of iron pipe size, and such pipe shall either be new or shall previously have been used for no other purpose than for the conveying of gas. All such pipe shall be free from internal obstructions, splits, or other imperfections which would render it unfit for the purpose intended, and the ends thereof shall be properly reamed.

All fittings used in connection with the house gas piping shall be of malleable iron, brass, copper or equal.

Galvanized wrought iron pipe and galvanized malleable fittings, or standard brass pipe and brass fittings, or standard copper pipe and copper fittings, shall be used for all house gas piping when said pipes are used on the exterior of a building, underground, when embedded in concrete or masonry, or when exposed to unusual damp conditions.

Section 22. All gas pipes shall be well secured to the building and shall be graded toward the meter wherever possible. Vertical pipe risers shall have placed at the bottom of each riser a tee plugged with a long nipple and cap the same size as the vertical pipe, to serve as a dirt pocket.

Section 23. Piping trapped by a change of grade shall be provided with a suitable drip pipe; said drip pipe must be of the same size as the pipe it serves, and the outlet of such drip pipe must be carried to an exposed accessible location.

Section 24. All branches must be taken from sides or top of horizontal runs.

Section 25. All gas piping must be rigidly supported by straps or hooks in such a manner as to prevent moving.

Section 26. When practicable, all center outlets or drops must be square bent and securely fastened, and where straight drops are necessary, straps must be soldered thereto and securely fastened.

Section 27. All gas meters, when owned or under control of the person, firm or corporation supplying gas, shall be installed by the person, firm or corporation supplying the gas. All gas meter locations must be approved by the Plumbing Inspector and shall be located as near as practicable to the point where the service pipe enters the property.

All gas meters, when owned by other than the person, firm or corporation supplying the gas, and which are installed as intermediate or sub-meters on the outlet side of the main meter of the gas utility, shall be installed only at such location or locations as may be approved for that purpose by the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 28. Where more than one meter is set in a building they must all be set at one location, and so placed as to be at all times accessible for inspection, reading and testing, and shutting off gas supply; except that intermediate or sub-meters, as specified in Section 27, may, when owned by other than the gas utility, be permitted to be installed at other locations on approval of the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 29. When one building is in the rear of another building on an interior lot the location of the meters will be determined by the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 30. In order that gas may be supplied, the house piping must be brought to within thirty inches (30") of the proposed location of the gas meter, and where it is necessary to set more than one gas meter, the ends of such house gas pipes must be eighteen inches (18") apart horizontally at the meter location. If more than one horizontal line of meter openings be required, then the vertical distance between such horizontal lines shall be not less than thirty inches (30") and the outlets shall be so arranged as to terminate at the right of the inlet location of gas meter.

Section 31. Gas meters shall not be located under show windows or in engine, boiler, heater, electric meter rooms or under stairways. Access to all gas meters must be through an opening or door not less than 18"x24" long.

Section 32. House gas piping at the meter location shall be plainly marked with tags to designate the section of the building supplied.

Section 33. On each house gas piping run of 29 outlets or less the opening at the meter location shall terminate at a height of not less than thirty inches (30") above the floor, and when there are more than 29 outlets the said opening shall terminate at a height of not less than forty-eight inches (48") above the floor.

Section 34. When a gas meter is located outside of a building, or when the same is exposed, the same must be protected against the weather.

Section 35. When temporary use of gas is desired the Plumbing Inspector may grant a permit for such use for a period not to exceed thirty (30) days, provided that the gas piping which it is desired to be used be given a test equal to that required as a final piping inspection.

Section 36. It shall be unlawful to remove or disconnect any gas fixture or gas appliance without capping or plugging with a screwed joint fitting the outlet from which said fixture or gas appliance was removed. All outlets to which fixtures or gas appliances are not connected shall be left capped gas tight on any piping system being installed, altered, extended or repaired.

Section 37. No gas piping shall be built in brick, stone, masonry, or concrete walls. When necessary to conceal pipe in this manner it must be run in suitable recesses.

Section 38. No acid, cement or any other composition shall be used for the purpose of repairing or stopping leaks, nor shall water or acid be used to locate leaks.

In no case other than by permission of the Plumbing Inspector is it permissible to repair defects in piping or fittings, but, having been located, the defective pipe or fitting must be removed and replaced with perfect material.

Section 39. No running thread joints shall be used. Where necessary, ground joint unions or right and left couplings may be used. Bushings shall not be used in concealed work.

Gas Appliances—General.

Section 40. The Department of Public Health is authorized and directed to prepare, adopt and promulgate such rules, regulations, requirements and specifications as are necessary or proper to assure safety and protect life, health and property in the sale, installation and use of gas appliances and to assure the most approved methods of construction for safety to life and property. In preparing and adopting said rules, regulations, requirements and specifications, the Department of Public Health may consider the rules, regulations, requirements and specifications of the American Gas Association or any other national rules, regulations, requirements or specifications relating to such subjects. All rules, regulations, requirements and specifications so promulgated shall be published and shall be sent to all licensed gas appliance dealers or holders of master plumbers' certificates, and to any person applying therefor.

Provided, however, that the inspector may authorize the sale and use of any appliance that is in the stock of any gas appliance dealer or jobber on the date of the adoption of this ordinance, by stenciling an approval upon such appliance on or before the .... day of ....., provided the use of such appliance will not endanger life, health or property.

Section 41. Appliances installed hereafter shall be marked or labeled with a distinctive mark or name by the manufacturer or dealer.

Section 42. Used gas appliances may be reinstalled when, in the opinion of the inspector, such appliances may be used without danger to life or property.

Section 43. Except as provided herein, and in Section 44, every appliance shall be rigidly connected to the house gas piping outlet with standard weight wrought iron or steel pipe and malleable iron fittings, or copper pipe and copper fittings, or brass pipe and brass fittings, and a ground-in valve and a ground joint union or right and left coupling shall be placed between the outlet and the appliance.

Brass or copper tubing may be used for the connection between an appliance and the house gas piping outlet; provided that such tubing shall be of not less in weight than No. 18 gauge and of not less than three-eighths-inch (⅜") outside diameter, and that all connections shall be of approved expansion joints, and that the length of such tubing used to connect any one gas appliance shall not exceed six (6) feet. Each appliance so connected shall have a ground-in valve with lever handle cast integral at the house gas piping outlet.

Section 44. Approved flexible metal tubing may be used for connecting gas appliances designed for portable use, such as washing machines, ironers, or other appliances the location of which must be changed during operation; provided, however, that such approved flexible metal tubing shall not exceed six feet (6') in length. There shall not be any shut-off or gas-cock between such tubing and the burner or burners. Where such tubing is used, a shut-off valve or gas-cock shall be installed at the point where tubing is connected to the gas supply pipe.

Section 45. Gas appliances so constructed that the burners are not shielded by metal or other approved insulating material shall not be located within twelve inches (12") of any combustible material. Appliances so constructed that metal shields or other approved insulating materials are an integral part of their construction shall not be located so as to permit the burners to be within six inches (6") of combustible material nor within three inches (3") of protected combustible material.

All vented gas appliances, except gas ranges and radiant type heaters, shall be equipped with an approved type of draft hood.

Section 46. Gas plates or ranges shall not be installed in rooms used for sleeping purposes; they may, however, be installed for cooking purposes in a room designed to conform to the legal requirements for a kitchen. Every gas range shall, however, be connected with a "vent connection" to a proper flue or chimney. Combination gas ranges and trash burners may be vented by a common "vent connection" to any chimney or flue constructed in accordance with the provisions of the Building Code for use by trash burners.

Gas plates may be used for commercial purposes in any room having a floor area of not less than fifty (50) square feet; provided, however, that such room has a permanent ventilation consisting of an opening not higher than one (1) foot above the floor and an opening not lower than one (1) foot below the ceiling. Each such opening shall have an unrestricted area of at least one hundred and twenty (120) square inches, and each such opening shall lead through unrestricted ducts to the outside of the building, where an uninterrupted supply of fresh air is assured.

Gas plates and ranges shall not be installed within three (3) feet of any ceiling of combustible material.

Section 47. Every gas water heater installed shall be rigidly connected to the house gas piping outlet and shall be placed not less than the distance given in Section 45 from any combustible or protected combustible material.

Gas water heaters shall not be installed in bathrooms, rooms used for sleeping purposes, or closets, nor in any room or enclosure having a floor area of less than sixteen (16) square feet. Gas water heaters shall not be installed in recesses unless such recesses shall have one side entirely open and not equipped with any door or other closing device, and the inside, including the top, bottom and sides of such recess, shall be lined with asbestos boards not less than one-quarter (¼) of an inch in thickness, or other approved insulation, and in no case shall a gas water heater be located less than three inches (3") from any such insulated walls.

Every gas water heater shall be properly vented to a flue or chimney.

All manually operated water heaters shall be installed with an approved pressure relief valve set at a pressure not higher than fifty (50) pounds above the pressure of the water supply.

All automatic storage water heaters shall be equipped with an approved automatic shut-off valve set below the boiling point of water, and with an automatic device so designed that the supply of gas to the main burners in connection therewith will be automatically shut off when combustion of gas is not taking place at the pilot; and shall also be equipped with an approved pressure relief valve set at a pressure not higher than fifty (50) pounds above the pressure of the water supply.

Section 48. Unvented gas space heaters, such as blue flame, luminous flame, radiant type, wall heaters, hot air radiators, and gas steam radiators shall not be installed in any room or other enclosure having a floor area of less than fifty (50) square feet, nor shall any unvented appliance be installed in any room used for sleeping purposes. Vented appliances installed in sleeping rooms shall be rigidly attached to the house gas piping outlet.

Section 49. Gas space heaters may be installed in fireplaces, provided such fireplaces conform to the requirements of the Building Law of the City and County of San Francisco. Gas space heaters may be installed in imitation fireplaces, provided the recess of such imitation fireplaces is not more than thirteen inches (13") in depth, and it shall be so constructed as to be not adaptable for use as a coal-burning fireplace. The recess of every such imitation fireplace shall be protected with a lining of brick, tile, or other approved incombustible material not less than one (1) inch in thickness. Such imitation fireplace shall be properly vented and be labeled by means of a metal plate set permanently in the fireproofing, bearing the words, "For gas appliances only."

Section 50. Gas furnaces, except floor furnaces, shall be placed not less than twelve (12) inches from protected combustible material, and not less than eighteen (18) inches from unprotected combustible material, and shall set on masonry, concrete or other incombustible floors or upon floors protected by top floors of masonry, concrete, tile or similar material at least two (2) inches in thickness, or asbestos board not less than one-quarter (¼) of an inch in thickness and covered with No. 20 U. S. standard gauge galvanized iron. The top of gas furnaces shall not be less than nine (9) inches from protected combustible material or not less than eighteen (18) inches from unprotected combustible material.

Gas furnaces shall not be installed in any place or in such manner as to be inaccessible for inspection or repair.

Gas furnaces shall not be located under any stairway unless such furnaces are located within Class A fireproof enclosures.

Every room or enclosure in which a gas furnace is installed or operated shall be provided with permanent ventilation which will furnish sufficient supply of air to properly support combustion and ventilate such room or enclosure. Such permanent ventilation shall consist of an opening not higher than one (1) foot above the floor or adjoining ground level, and an opening not lower than one (1) foot below the ceiling, and each of such openings shall have an unrestricted area of at least one (1) square foot and shall lead through unrestricted ducts to the outside of the building, where an uninterrupted supply of fresh air is assured. Such openings shall be screened with wire screens or grills having a mesh not smaller than one-half (½) inch in any dimension.

For every warm air furnace using gas, or any other fuel, hereafter installed, an air intake shall be required. It shall be either a fresh air intake from the outside of the building or a return air intake from the space to be heated by such furnace, or combination of the two, and such air intake shall not be located in such manner as to draw air from the room or enclosure in which such furnace is installed or from the space immediately adjacent to any openings which are required for permanent ventilation of such room or enclosure.

Every air intake shall be constructed of metal or incombustible material or else be lined with metal or other approved fire-resistive material satisfactory to the Fire Prevention Bureau.

The net cross-sectional area of a fresh air intake for a warm air furnace shall not be less than the total cross-sectional area of all hot air outlets.

No damper shall be placed in an air intake, but the end thereof may be screened with wire screen having a mesh not smaller than one-half (½) inch in any dimension, or with gratings, register plates, or similar devices having an effective ventilating area not less than the required cross-sectional area of the air intake.

Section 51. Gas furnaces of the floor type shall not be installed in any location inaccessible for inspection or repair. An opening or door, not less than thirty inches (30") by thirty-six inches (36") in size, shall be provided for access to the room or enclosure in which any such gas furnace is installed, and such gas furnace shall be vented to a proper vent, flue or chimney.

Section 52. A warm air or other furnace or heater which is designed to use fuel other than gas for the development of heat may be converted into a gas appliance by means of the installation of gas burners into the fire pot thereof, provided such gas burners are of a design and construction as set forth in the specifications of the Bureau of Standards of the Department of Commerce, and provided further that they are installed in accordance with the following provisions and in a manner that their use therein will not endanger life, health or property.

(a) The heating element must stand a test for gas tightness so that no products of combustion or gas may enter rooms or spaces to be heated.

(b) Vents and flues must be in good condition as to gas tightness and draft, or made so before converting any such apparatus.

(c) If refractory material is used as part of gas burner or burners, same must be supported above ports of burner a sufficient height to allow combustion before impingement upon said refractory material.

(d) Burners must be equipped with continuous burning pilot lights controlled from the manifold of the burner and fixed to the burner in such a way as to provide a rigid relative position between the pilot tip and ports of the burner. Provision must also be made for a simple means of lighting the pilot light which will not make it necessary for the operator to reach into the fire pot.

(e) Burners using over 60,000 B.t.u. per hour must be equipped with a partially opened check damper in the vent or by a draft hood.

(f) The manifold of the burner must be equipped with a main control valve of the plug type, with a metal handle which is cast integrally with the plug, and operated with stops at 90 degrees apart so as to indicate at a glance the "on" and "off" positions.

(g) The burner or burners shall be so located that no part of the flames impinge on the surfaces of the combustion chamber or heating elements, and shall be securely fastened in place to prevent twisting, sliding or dropping out of position, but so installed as to permit easy removal for cleaning and repair.

(h) The furnace or heater converted shall be checked for secondary air supply, and so regulated or altered that proper and complete combustion will be provided for.

Illuminating Fixtures.

Section 53. Every illuminating fixture installed in the City and County of San Francisco shall be of a design and construction approved by the inspector.

Illuminating fixtures shall not be located within three feet (3') of any gas meter, back of a door, in a closet, nor in any other location where, in the opinion of the inspector, any fire hazard would be entailed. Swinging bracket fixtures are hereby prohibited.

Ventilation for Gas Appliances.

Section 54. No gas appliance shall be hereafter installed, or any gas appliance replaced, unless the room or place where such a gas appliance is located is ventilated so as to properly support combustion. Except as provided in this section and in Section 55, no gas appliance shall hereafter be installed, or any existing gas appliance replaced, unless the same shall be vented to a flue which shall be the full size of the "vent opening" of the appliance to be vented. No damper shall be installed in any "vent connection," "vent," "flue" or "chimney" to which a gas appliance is vented, except as may be specifically provided for elsewhere in this ordinance. Dampers integral in the construction of kitchen heater type or combination ranges are permissible.

Gas refrigerators, gas sad irons, gas mangles and gas washing machines, the gas consumption of which is less than five thousand (5000) B.t.u. per hour (approximately five cubic feet per hour) are not required to be vented, nor shall permanent ventilation, as specified in Section 55, be required for the room or enclosure in which said appliances are installed or operated; nor shall said appliances be required to be equipped with cut-off valves as specified in Section 55.

Section 55. Heating appliances designed by the manufacturer to be used unvented must be equipped with approved cut-off valves which automatically shut off the supply of gas when combustion is not taking place at the burners, and said appliances shall not be installed in any room or enclosure unless permanent ventilation be provided for. For such appliances having a rated gas capacity of fifty (50) cubic feet or more per hour there shall be two ventilating ducts or openings provided, with not less than one hundred and twenty (120) square inches of free area in each, and which shall lead to an area where an uninterrupted supply of fresh air is assured. One such opening shall be located at a point not more than one foot (1') above the floor level, the other to be at a point not more than one foot (1') below the level of the ceiling. For such appliances having a rated capacity of less than fifty (50) cubic feet per hour, only one such ventilating duct or opening shall be required, which shall not have less than thirty-six (36) square inches of free area and shall be located at a point not more than one foot (1') below the level of the ceiling; provided, however, that where the rated capacity of the appliance is less than twenty-five (25) cubic feet per hour, the Plumbing Inspector may modify the provision as to the location of this required ventilating duct or opening if, in his opinion, any other location thereof would be more practical for the particular heating appliance to be installed, and would provide ample ventilation for the safe operation of said appliance.

Section 56. No gas appliance shall be installed in a public or commercial garage unless the design, operation and installation of said appliance is such as to eliminate the possible ignition of inflammable vapors.

Chimneys, Flues and Vents.

Section 57. Every chimney, flue or vent to which a gas appliance is connected, or which is installed for the purpose of connecting a gas appliance thereto, shall be constructed and installed in accordance with the Building Code.

No gas appliance or appliances shall be connected to any chimney, flue or vent unless the internal area of such chimney, flue or vent is large enough to accommodate the appliance or appliances to be connected thereto, as set forth in the following paragraph:

The internal area of any chimney, flue or vent to which a gas appliance is connected shall not be less than the internal area of the largest "vent connection," or "vent opening," as the case may be, plus 50 per cent of the total area of all other additional "vent connections" or "vent openings" which are connected thereto; provided, however, that where round "vent connections" or "vent openings" are connected to a rectangular chimney, flue or vent, the internal area of such rectangular chimney, flue or vent shall be 20 per cent greater than that required above. The following table shall be used for the computation of flue areas in round flue pipes, vents and vent connections:

3-inch round pipe	7.1 square inches
4-inch round pipe	12.6 square inches
5-inch round pipe	19.6 square inches
6-inch round pipe	28.3 square inches
8-inch round pipe	50.3 square inches

Section 58. No flue opening shall be smaller than the vent connection required for the gas appliance or appliances that will be connected to such opening, and every flue opening to which a gas appliance is not connected shall be tightly closed by means of an approved cap or similar device.

Vent Connections.

Section 59. Every vent connection which is required by this ordinance shall be constructed of metal, as herein specified, or of other approved incombustible material of equal durability and adaptable for such purpose.

Metal vent connections shall be constructed of sheet copper weighing not less than sixteen (16) ounces per square foot or of Monel metal or equal not lighter than No. 26 U. S. standard gauge, and the edges of such sheet metal shall be securely connected together with a locked or riveted seam in such a manner as to form a practically tight pipe. Joints between lengths of pipe shall be at least two (2) inch lap joints and so constructed and fastened as to be practically tight.

Metal vent connections ten (10) feet or less in length and completely exposed to view or easily accessible for inspection may be constructed of galvanized sheet iron not lighter than No. 26 U. S. standard gauge, provided, however, that all seams and joints shall be made in the same manner as is customary in the construction of ordinary stove pipe and stove-pipe fittings, and provided further, that stoves or ranges may be connected to a flue or chimney with stove pipe.

No vent connection shall have an area less than the areas of the vent opening or collar on the appliance to which such vent connection is connected, and every vent connection which is connected to more than one such vent opening or collar shall have an area not less than the area of the largest vent connection plus fifty per cent (50 per cent) of the area of all other additional vent connections connected thereto.

Section 60. Vent connections shall be properly connected to appliances and shall be securely supported by means of substantial hangers at intervals of not more than ten (10) feet on all horizontal runs. Vent connections shall also be properly connected to a flue or chimney by means of an approved metal thimble attached to the flue or chimney in a gas and water-tight manner. Vent connections made through a fireplace shall be made by means of a galvanized iron or steel plate set in the chimney throat, thoroughly cemented and to be air and gas tight.

Horizontal vent connections depending on natural draft shall not exceed twenty (20) feet in length except by special permission of the Plumbing Inspector, nor shall such horizontal vent connections exceed in length the height of the chimney or flue to which connected, measured as the vertical distance between the top of the burners of the appliance and the outlet of the chimney or flue. All horizontal runs exceeding four (4) feet in length shall have a grade of not less than one (1) inch to each lineal foot of length rising toward the flue or chimney. The above shall also apply to horizontal portions of vents, in so far as applicable. Every horizontal metal "vent connection" exceeding ten (10) feet in length, and located in a basement, shall be insulated with two (2) plies of one-quarter inch (¼ inch) corrugated asbestos paper, or of a material having equal insulating value.

Vent connections, or vents, except by special permission of the Plumbing Inspector and approval of the Fire Prevention Bureau, shall not be placed less than three (3) inches from any combustible material nor less than one and one-half (1½) inches from protected combustible material. Bends or offsets in horizontal vent connections shall be avoided wherever possible, and where necessary shall be made at widest angles possible. Vent connections, or vents, passing through walls, partitions or floors, shall have approved double insulating sleeves and shall be installed in accordance with the provisions of the Building Code.

No "vent connection" connected to any gas appliance having pilot provision for automatic or remote control, except gas ranges, shall be connected to any chimney or flue which is used as a smoke flue for any stove, boiler, heater or other apparatus designed to burn wood, coal, oil, or any fuel other than gas, unless such pilot provision is so designed that the supply of gas to the main burners in connection therewith will be automatically shut off when combustion of gas is not taking place at the pilot.

Maintenance of Vent Connections.

Section 61. Every "vent connection" shall be maintained in good condition; provided, however, that no "vent connection" not conforming to the requirements of this ordinance shall be used or maintained if in the judgment of the Plumbing Inspector the use or maintenance thereof would endanger life or property.

Non-Liability of City.

Section 62. This ordinance shall not be construed as imposing upon the City and County of San Francisco any liability or responsibility for damages to any person injured, asphyxiated, or who suffers loss of life by any defects in any gas appliance and/or house gas piping, or by the installation thereof, nor shall the City and County of San Francisco, or any official or employee thereof, be held as assuming any such liability or responsibility by reason of the inspection authorized hereunder or certificate of inspection issued by the Plumbing Inspector. Nor shall the City and County of San Francisco or any official or employee thereof be held as assuming any liability or responsibility for property damage, from any cause whatsoever, which may have been caused by gas leakage, fire or explosion of any sort coming from, or during the operation of any gas appliance and/or house gas piping.

Violations and Penalties.

Section 63. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance or who causes, permits or suffers the same to be done, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and each such person shall be guilty of a separate offense for each and every day or portion thereof during which any violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance is committed, continued or permitted, and upon conviction of any such violation such person shall be punished by a fine of not more than two hundred and fifty dollars ($250) or by imprisonment for not more than fifty (50) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Validity.

Section 64. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance is, for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance. The Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco hereby declare that it would have passed this ordinance and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Ordinances Repealed.

Section 65. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Privilege of the Floor.

Mr. Marks, attorney, representing retailers of gas appliances, was heard in opposition to certain terms of the ordinance, especially the license fee of $25.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The following recommendation of the Finance Committee was taken up:

Appropriating $850 to Board of Permit Appeals From Funds of the City Attorney.
(Code No. 9.051)

Bill No. 46, Ordinance No. 9.0519, as follows:

Appropriating the sum of eight hundred and fifty dollars to the Board of Permit Appeals and ordering the same transferred from the amounts heretofore appropriated to the City Attorney for contractual services.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. The sum of eight hundred and fifty ($850) dollars is hereby appropriated from Item No. 37, 1931-32 Annual Appropriation Ordinance, said item being designated as City Attorney Contractual Services, to the Board of Permit Appeals, and ordered transferred to said board for the purpose of paying the salary of a secretary of said Board of Permit Appeals for the remainder of the fiscal year.

I hereby consent to the transfer of the moneys mentioned in the foregoing ordinance.

City Attorney.

I hereby approve the transfer of the moneys mentioned in said ordinance.

.....

Mayor.

Motion.

Supervisor Colman moved, seconded by Supervisor Brown, that inasmuch as a budget from the Mayor will be presented in a week or two, that Nos. 1 and 2 on the Calendar be postponed until said budget is in the hands of the Board.

Privilege of the Floor.

Mr. Sbragia, chairman of the Bureau of Permit Appeals, was heard as to the legality and necessity of a secretary for said bureau at this time.

Motion Lost.

Whereupon, the roll was called and Supervisor Colman's motion was defeated by the following vote:

Ayes—Supervisors Brown, Colman—2.

Noes—Supervisors Breyer, Canepa, Gallagher, Havenner, Hayden, McSheehy, Miles, Peyser, Power, Roncovieri, Shannon, Spaulding, Stanton—13.

Explanation of Vote.

Supervisor McSheehy: I feel that I ought to explain my vote, that an explanation is due my colleagues on the Board. Mr. Chairman, I know the applicant; I know the man who will be the secretary of this Board. I have known him perhaps for thirty-odd years, and some seven years ago there arose between him and me as acute a difference as could exist between two men. It consisted of a number of things. I would possibly have voted against him this afternoon, but in doing so I would be punishing the man, and I am not punishing people. I am in entire accord with you, Supervisor Colman, and you, Supervisor Brown, but I am placed in a somewhat embarrassing position. I have voted at this time, voted for a man I have had, perhaps, as acute a difference with as one could have, because I did not want to punish that man.

Supervisor Canepa: I desire to explain my vote also. I am a member of the Finance Committee and interested in keeping the tax rate down low, but by my vote this evening I am going to vote not only for the creation of the secretary's position, but also for other positions of this kind. I believe that the Board of Permit Appeals will have to have a secretary after hearing from Mr. Sbragia, who is a member of the board. I know he is sincere and earnest in his request and that the board absolutely cannot function without the assistance of a secretary. We have had one little experience with one appeal from the City Planning Commission's decision and we know what a lot of work it means when they file a protest and come in and it has to be heard. I am sure this bureau needs a secretary. Therefore, Supervisor Colman, after the vote is taken I want to assure you that I am just the same kind of a champion of the taxpayer as you are.

Final Passage.

Whereupon, the roll was called and the foregoing Bill No. 46, Ordinance No. 9.0519, was finally passed by the following vote:

Ayes—Supervisors Breyer, Canepa, Gallagher, Havenner, Hayden, McSheehy, Miles, Peyser, Power, Roncovieri, Shannon, Spaulding, Stanton—13.

Noes—Supervisors Brown, Colman—2.

Explanation of Vote.

Supervisor Colman: It is understood, of course, that the "members of the Board, per meeting, $15," would carry just the same, so in voting no I am only voting against the secretary's salary.

Whereupon, the following bill, heretofore passed for second reading, was taken up and finally passed by the following vote:

Salary Ordinance Amendment—Board of Permit Appeals.

(Code No. 9.053)

On recommendation of Finance Committee.

Bill No. 47, Ordinance No. 9.0534, as follows:

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. Section 13 of Ordinance No. 9136, commonly known as the "Annual Salary Ordinance," is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 13. Board of Permit Appeals.

Item No.	Quantity of Positions	Class No.	Class Title	Monthly Rate
1	5		Members of Board, per meeting	$ 15.00
2	1	B61	Secretary, Board of Permit Appeals	250.00

Ayes—Supervisors Breyer, Canepa, Gallagher, Havenner, Hayden, McSheehy, Miles, Peyser, Power, Roncovieri, Shannon, Spaulding, Stanton—13.

Noes—Supervisors Brown, Colman—2.

Final Passage.

The following matters, heretofore passed for second reading, were taken up and finally passed by the following vote:

Amending Section 21 of Ordinance No. 5132 (New Series), Providing for the Issuance of a Permit by the Police Department to Operate Ball and Ring-Throwing Games.

(Code No. 3.041)

On recommendation of Police Committee.

Bill No. 48, Ordinance No. 3.0412, as follows:

However, it is recommended that a rate of* $2.50 per evening for night work for Janitors be substituted instead of the $180 rate. See item 187½. This represents no increase. Also elimination of 5 Sub-Foremen Janitors' positions at $210 and a corresponding increase in number of positions under 192 at $185. Overtime represented by the old rate of $210 will be compensated under item 187½ referred to above. Also addition of item 205½ to provide rate as needed for evening work required under sections 6.750 and 6.772 of the California School Code.

Resolution No. 159, as follows:

Whereas, by Resolution No. 1 (Code No. 15.03), adopted by the Board of Supervisors on January 18, 1932, it was declared that an emergency existed relative to the work theretofore conducted and carried on by the Board of Public Works of the City and County of San Francisco on the Hetch Hetchy aqueduct tunnels and other projects in connection with the Hetch Hetchy system, and that by reason of said emergency said Board of Supervisors declared that said work on said aqueduct tunnels and other projects should be continued and executed under the direction of the Public Utilities Commission in the most expeditious manner, to-wit: By the employment of necessary labor and the purchase of the necessary materials for doing said work, and said Board of Supervisors in said resolution estimated the said emergency would continue until the necessary plans, specifications and estimates for the doing of said work under public contract could be prepared, but not exceeding ninety (90) days from January 18, 1932; and

Now, therefore, by reason of the foregoing facts, the Board of Supervisors does hereby declare that said emergency mentioned in said Resolution No. 1 (Code No. 15.03) does continue to exist and will in all probability continue to exist for a period of sixty (60) days from and after the date hereof; now, therefore, be it

Contract Procedure Ordinance.

(Code No. 9.087)

On recommendation of Supervisors' Committee on New Charter Installation.

Bill No. 58, Ordinance No. 9.0871, as follows:

Establishing the procedure for and regulating the entering into contract for the construction, reconstruction or repair of public buildings, streets, utilities or other public work or improvement to be performed at the expense of the City and County, or to be paid out of moneys deposited in the Treasury, or out of trust moneys under the control of or to be collected by the City and County, and repealing Ordinance No. 9139 (New Series), in effect January 6, 1932.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. The several department heads and officers empowered by law to enter into contracts on the part of the City and County for public work or improvements to be performed at the expense of the City and County, or to be paid out of moneys deposited in the Treasury, or out of trust moneys under the control, or collected by, the City and County, when the expenditure involved shall exceed the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000), shall let such contract to the lowest reliable and responsible bidder at any time not less than ten (10) days after the last date of publication or more than twenty (20) days after receipt of bid unless the time for letting such contract be extended by resolution of the Board of Supervisors upon the recommendation of the department head, board or commission responsible for such award. Provided that if the officer or department head empowered to award such contract believes that the public interest would be best served by accepting other than the lowest gross price or unit cost bid, and the contract is entered into with another bidder, written report shall be made immediately to the Chief Administrative Officer, the Mayor and the Controller by the officer authorized to execute the contract, with the reasons for failure to accept such lowest bid. The department head concerned is authorized to compare bids on the basis of time of completion, and any contract awarded in consideration, in whole or in part, of the relative time estimate of bidders for completion of the work, shall be subject to the provisions of section 97 of the Charter. Notice of award shall be published.

Section 2. The department head shall have power to sign any contract when the estimated expenditure thereunder is not in excess of two thousand dollars ($2,000). Any contract involving the expenditure of over two thousand dollars ($2,000) shall require the joint approval of the department head and the Chief Administrative Officer, relative to departments under his jurisdiction, or the signature of the department head and the approval by resolution of the board or commission concerned for departments not under the Chief Administrative Officer; provided that no obligation involving the expenditure of money shall be incurred unless certification of the Controller is first obtained in accordance with section 86 of the Charter.

Section 3. Alterations, modifications or extras in any contract which will increase the contract cost may be made or allowed only on the written recommendation of the department head responsible for the supervision of the contract, together with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer or the board or commission, as the case may be, and also the approval of the Controller, stating the increased price to be paid by reason thereof.

Allowances, modifications or credits in any contract which will decrease the contract cost may be made or allowed only upon recommendation of the department head responsible for the supervision of the contract, together with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer, or board of commission, as the case may be, and also the approval of the Controller, stating the amount to be deducted from the amount to be paid under the contract.

In the performance of any contract awarded on the unit and the unit cost basis, if the department head concerned ascertains that the amount of work done or to be done, shall exceed the estimated amount of the contract by 10 per cent or more, the excess cost shall be provided for as prescribed by section 80 of the Charter relative to supplemental appropriations.

Section 4. The department head, with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer, or the department head, with the approval of the board or commission to which he is responsible, may reject any and all bids and readvertise for bids.

Section 5. In any case, when the expenditure for the construction, reconstruction or repair of public buildings, streets, utilities or other public works or improvements shall, as estimated by the department head, exceed the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) the bids heretofore referred to shall be sealed, directed to the department head or officer calling the bids, and shall be accompanied by a certified check on a solvent bank of the State of California, payable on sight to the City and County of San Francisco, the amount of which shall be fixed by said department head or officer and named in the advertisement, which amount shall not be less than 10 per cent of the amount bid for the cost of the proposed work or improvement, and no proposal shall be considered unless accompanied by such check.

Notices inviting sealed bids under the conditions of this section must be published for two (2) consecutive days in the official newspaper, and at least five calendar days must intervene between the date of the last publication and the time for filing such sealed bids or proposals. Such notices shall state in general terms the conditions of the proposed contract, and if progressive payments are to be provided under any contract in accordance with section 96 of the Charter, or if any contract is to be let on the basis of a gross price or cost per unit of work to be performed, or on the basis of time of completion, with liquidated damages for every day during which the contract is uncompleted beyond such specified date in accordance with section 97 of the Charter, such notice shall so state. Each advertisement for bids shall contain the reservation of the right to reject any and all bids.

All bids shall be filed on forms furnished by the department head concerned, and all bids not so filed shall be rejected. All bids received as herein provided shall be publicly opened by the proper department head or officer at the time and place to be stated in the advertisement for proposals, and after tabulation bidders may inspect the bids. Bids with alterations or erasures therein shall be rejected. When specifications do not include alternative proposals, statements or communications accompanying bids which serve to qualify such bids shall not be considered in making awards, and will disqualify bidders.

Section 6. Before the execution of any contract for public works or improvements, the department head or officer authorized to enter into said contract shall require the successful bidder to file corporate surety bonds for the faithful performance thereof and to guarantee the payment of wages for services engaged and of bills contracted for material, supplies and equipment used in the performance of the contract. Said bond shall be for a sum not less than 50 per cent of the award.

The Controller shall approve the sufficiency and qualifications of all sureties as required under the provisions of this ordinance.

If any bidder to whom the contract is awarded under the provisions of this section shall for ten (10) days after such award fail or neglect to enter into the contract and file the required bond, the department head or officer in whom authority to execute said contract is vested, shall deposit such certified check in the Treasury for collection and the amount thereof shall be retained by the City and County as liquidated damages for the failure of such bidder to enter into said contract; unless upon recommendation of the department head or officer authorized to execute said contract, together with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer, Board or Commission, the Board of Supervisors, by resolution, approves the return of said check.

Each contractor must save, keep, bear harmless, and fully indemnify the City and County and any of its officers or agents from all damages, or claims for damages, costs, or expenses in law or equity that may at any time arise or be set up for any infringement of the patent rights, copyright or trademark of any person or persons in consequence of the use by the City and County, or any of its officers or agents, of articles to be supplied under said contract and of which the contractor is not the patentee or assignee or has not the lawful right to sell the same.

No article or articles furnished under any contract made under the provisions of this ordinance shall have been made in a prison or by convict labor. No contract shall be assigned except upon the recommendation of the department head concerned and with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer relative to the departments under his jurisdiction, or the approval of the board or commission concerned for departments not under the Chief Administrative Officer.

The officer responsible for the awarding of any contract shall require from all bidders information concerning their experience and financial qualifications, as provided by general law relative to such investigations authorized by departments of public works, and shall take such information into consideration in the award of any contract.

All contracts, extras and credits shall be executed in triplicate; the original to be retained by the officer or department head making the award; one copy to be filed with the Controller and one copy to be given to the contractor.

Any contractor who fails to live up to the terms of his contract may by the joint action of the head of the department concerned and the Controller be declared an irresponsible contractor, and shall not for a period of one year be awarded any further contract unless on the joint action of the head of the department concerned and the Controller such disqualification is removed.

Section 7. Appropriate City and County departments may file sealed bids for the execution of any work to be performed under a contract and shall not be required to furnish security or submit information relative to financial qualifications as provided in this ordinance. Any bid submitted by a department of the City and County, if it is the lowest bid, must be approved by the Controller before the award of contract. If the bid of a City and County department, as investigated and approved by the Controller, is the lowest, the contract shall be awarded to the department and accurate unit costs shall be kept of all direct and indirect charges incurred by the department under any such contract, which unit costs shall be reported to and audited by the Controller monthly and on completion of the work.

Section 8. The department head authorized to award any contract for public works or improvements shall be responsible for the inspection and acceptance of such work on completion. Such acceptance shall be in writing and shall include the certificate of the department head concerned that the work covered by the contract has been fully and satisfactorily completed in accordance with the plans and specifications therefor. Receipt of copy of such acceptance in writing shall constitute the Controller's authority to complete any payments due the contractor under said contract, provided that the Controller may make such additional investigation or inspection as is provided by section 85 of the Charter.

Section 9. Any construction, reconstruction or repair of public buildings, streets, utilities or other public work or improvement estimated to cost less than $1,000 may be performed under contract or written order by the employment of the necessary labor and purchase of the necessary materials and supplies directly by the City and County. Any public work or improvement executed by the City other than routine repair work shall be authorized by the Chief Administrative Officer or by the heads of departments not under the Chief Administrative Officer only after detailed estimates have been prepared and submitted by the head of the department concerned. Any public work or improvement costing less than $1,000 and not performed by the use of City and County labor, materials and supplies, shall, if not performed under contract, be covered by written order or agreement which shall be based on not less than three bids, notice of which shall be given by three days' posting.

It shall be the duty of the Controller to determine, where practicable, the unit cost of work done by the City and County for the purpose of determining whether similar work could be done under public contract at a lower cost.

The Controller shall maintain records of bids filed by departments in relation to the total direct and indirect cost of each such work and shall report thereon periodically to the Mayor and Chief Administrative Officer. The Controller may refuse to approve contracts with a department shown to be repeatedly underbidding on contract work and failing to complete same within the contract price.

Section 10. The Board of Supervisors hereby declares that in an actual emergency created by weather conditions, fire, flood, or other unforeseen conditions of unusual character, or the breakdown of any plant, equipment, structure, street or public work, necessitating immediate emergency repair or reconditioning to safeguard the lives or property of the citizens or the property of the City and County or to maintain the public health or welfare, such repair, reconditioning or other emergency work may be executed in the most expeditious manner by the department head responsible therefor, who shall, if the emergency permits, first secure the approval in writing of the Chief Administrative Officer, if the emergency work is to be done or ordered by any department under his jurisdiction or, for departments not under the Chief Administrative Officer, the approval in writing of the president of the board or commission concerned, or of the Mayor. If the emergency does not permit such approval to be obtained before work is commenced said approval as hereinabove mentioned shall be obtained as soon thereafter as it is possible to do so.

The department head concerned shall notify the Controller immediately of the work involved and the estimated cost thereof.

Section 11. Whenever any preferential in favor of local manufacturers or industry is provided by state law or ordinance or resolution of the Board of Supervisors, the same shall apply to contracts under this ordinance.

Section 12. This ordinance does not affect or apply to street improvement work or to other public work, the cost or expense of which is or will be assessed in whole or in part against private property.

Section 13. All the terms and provisions of Section 98 of the Charter of the City and County of San Francisco shall be applicable to and become a part of any and all contracts entered into pursuant to the terms and provisions of this ordinance.

Section 14. Ordinance No. 9139 (New Series), approved January 6, 1932, is hereby repealed.

Explanation.

Present Ordinance No. 9139 (New Series), approved January 6, 1932, was not workable for many reasons.

The title merely read "for public work or improvement to be performed at the expense of the City and County or to be paid out of moneys deposited in the Treasury or out of trust moneys under the control of or to be assessed, or to be collected by the City and County." This is in violation of the 1918 Improvement Act, which takes care of work performed under assessments.

The time limits provided in the original ordinance under Section 2 precluded a department from awarding a contract in case of an emergency.

Section 86 of the Charter provides that no expenditure can be made unless certificate of the Controller is first obtained. The present ordinance did not provide for this.

The present Charter provides methods of procedure for credits, modifications and extras. Present ordinance did not provide for this section.

Present ordinance provides for a certified check or certificate of deposit in amount not more than 10 per cent of the amount of bid. This has been changed to read "not less than 10 per cent." Present ordinance would have permitted a man to accompany his bid by a check of 1 per cent if the directing head was willing to approve same.

Present ordinance did not provide for inspection of work. This has been included in new ordinance.

The present ordinance prohibits an article or articles from being made in a prison. This has been changed to read "no article or articles furnished under contract made under the provisions of this ordinance shall have been made in a prison or by convict labor."

In the main, every section of the Charter pertaining to contracts for public work or improvements have been taken care of in the present ordinance. Meetings were held weekly for two months, which contractors, representatives of labor unions, Director of Works, manager of the utilities, and all interested in contract work, as well as the Controller, who sat in, in an advisory capacity, attended, and the ordinance as now drawn appeared to meet with the approval of all concerned. The City Attorney also sat in with the committee at all its meetings and approved such legislation.

This is a separation of the present ordinance and involves only what is in the title. It will necessarily be followed by another ordinance which will set up the procedure for the Purchaser of Supplies as this ordinance now sets up the procedure for the Department of Public Works, the Utilities Commission and others.

Copy of this ordinance has heretofore been sent to each member of the Board.

Respectfully submitted,
ANDREW J. GALLAGHER, Chairman,
Supervisors' Committee on Charter Installation.

Whereas, one feature of the convention will consist of a "Mardi Gras of Industry;" and

Whereas, such an event presents an unusual opportunity for San Francisco to "sell" itself, not only as a convention city, but to call attention to its facilities for industry and commerce, with a view to our development along these lines; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That this Board of Supervisors does hereby respectfully urge the Chamber of Commerce to give serious consideration to the selection of subjects for a float and possible exhibition, to the end that San Francisco's advantages from a commercial and industrial aspect may best be shown off; and be it Further Resolved, That the chambers of commerce throughout the State be respectfully urged to give serious consideration to subjects for floats and exhibitions at this Mardi Gras of Industry, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to all chambers of commerce, the National Shrine Convention, the parade committee for said convention, and the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

Endorsing Movement for Repeal of Wright Act—Mayor to Appoint Committee to Use Its Influence and Efforts in Securing Repeal of Wright Act.

(Code No. 5.2)

Supervisor Canepa presented:

Resolution No. 173, as follows:

Whereas, there will appear on the ballot at the primary election to be held November 8th an initiative measure proposing the repeal of the Wright Act; and

Whereas, it appears that the repeal of the Wright Act in this State and the repeal of similar supporting acts in the several States is the most efficacious procedure by which to convince Congress of the will of the people for a modification of the Volstead Act so as to permit the sale and distribution of beverages with an increased alcoholic content; and

Whereas, in the event that the Federal prohibition laws are subsequently relaxed, still, the maintenance in force of the Wright Act in this State would preclude the exercise of the privileges granted by such modification; and

Whereas, the poll conducted by the Literary Digest shows San Francisco in the ranks of the cities desiring modification of the prohibition laws by a ratio of ten to one; and

Whereas, it has been conclusively proved that a modification of the prohibition laws would in a large measure alleviate the people's burden in these stressful times by providing work in the various industries affected; by providing a market for the ingredients necessary in the manufacture of light wines and beer, many of which are produced in abundance in this State, and by effecting a reduction in taxes through revenue to be derived from licenses and other charges, plus the amount saved through the lessened cost of prohibition enforcement; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this Board of Supervisors, in the interest of the majority of the citizens and taxpayers of the City and County of San Francisco, does hereby endorse the movement for the repeal of the Wright Act, and does most strongly urge our citizens to vote in favor of it; and be it Further Resolved, That the members of this Board do individually pledge themselves to support this measure and to actively engage in the campaign for the repeal of the Wright Act, and that the Mayor appoint a committee to use its influence and efforts in securing the repeal of the above-mentioned act.

(Code No. 5.31)

Supervisor Canepa presented:

Resolution No. 172, as follows:

Resolved, That the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco endorse the objects and purposes of the North Central California Highway Association under the conditions recited in report on subject adopted by this Board of Supervisors Monday, April 11, 1932, and that the President of the Board is hereby respectfully requested to appoint a representative of this City, who will attend the meetings of said association in order that the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco will be kept informed as to all acts and proceedings of said association; it being understood that said representative shall not commit this Board of Supervisors to any financial obligations therein without further action by this Board.

Supervisors Urge People to Vote for $6,500,000 Hetch Hetchy Bond Issue.

(Code No. 15.031)

Supervisor Colman presented:

Resolution No. 171, as follows:

Whereas, only $2,000,000 remain in the Hetch Hetchy construction funds, and this sum is not sufficient to complete the Coast Range tunnel so that pure mountain water may flow in San Francisco by gravity; and

Whereas, if work were stopped on these tunnels, as it must be unless more funds are provided, engineers have advised that it would cost $3,000 a day, or more than $1,000,000 a year, to keep the tunnels in repair and protect them against flooding until the work could be resumed; and

Whereas, in such circumstances, the Board of Supervisors would be compelled to make an emergency appropriation to protect the tunnels, which already have cost more than $13,000,000; and

Whereas, this emergency appropriation would inevitably lead to a material increase in municipal taxes; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Board of Supervisors earnestly urges the people of San Francisco to work and vote for passage of the $6,500,000 Hetch Hetchy completion bond issue on the May 3 ballot, to the end that the work may continue, the project be completed and the taxpayers saved from the inevitable burden that would result from the stopping of work.

Memorializing Congress to Refrain From Curtailing Any Benefits Now Being Received by Disabled Veterans.

(Code No. 5.2)

Supervisor Spaulding presented:

Resolution No. 170, as follows:

Whereas, it appears that an effort is being made in the national Congress by the House of Representatives economy committee to cut certain expenditures in government offices; and

Whereas, in accordance with such plans, efforts are being made in certain quarters to effect drastic cuts for the care of the nation's disabled veterans who lost their health as a result of their service to their country in time of war; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco that we deplore any effort to balance the national budget at the expense of the nation's disabled charges, whom we consider the first concern of this government, and hereby memorialize the Congress to refrain from curtailing any of the benefits now being received by such disabled veterans.

In Memoriam—Charles C. Moore.

(Code No. 5.91)

Supervisor Spaulding presented:

Resolution No. 167, as follows:

Whereas, one of San Francisco's most eminent and public-spirited citizens, Charles C. Moore, recently passed away; and

Whereas, to Charles C. Moore there came numerous opportunities demanding of him earnest endeavor, complete integrity and high vision, which qualities and characteristics were outstanding in him and enabled him to grasp said opportunities firmly, with a preeminent selflessness, for the betterment of man and country; and

Whereas, as president of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition he realized a dream city in the West which shall not die; as president for years of the engineering firm which bears his name he developed the Huntington Power and Transportation Works in the south; as director in numerous banks and allied institutions he manifested a keen interest in correct economics and honest accomplishment. Just before his death he was chosen to lead to victory bonds which would cause water to flow through the last link in a line which for a half century had taken his intellectual capacity and his capable patterning; and

Whereas, because of Charles C. Moore's earnestness, fidelity, geniality and capability he was honored by foreign governments, by civic departments and by numerous fraternal and civic organizations; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco deeply deplores the loss of the eminent engineer, excellent citizen and sterling character which was Charles C. Moore, and publicly expresses to his children and relatives sorrow and sympathy in this their bereavement, which is also a distinct loss to the City and County of San Francisco; and be it Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread on the minutes of this meeting and that another copy be forwarded to the children of the deceased, and when this meeting adjourns today that it do so out of loving respect to the memory of the late civic leader, Charles C. Moore.

Adopted unanimously by rising vote.

In Memoriam—Marian R. Clement.
(Code No. 5.91)

Supervisor Hayden presented:

Resolution No. 168, as follows:

Whereas, Marian R. Clement, widow of the late Judge Roswell P. Clement, after whom Clement street is named in San Francisco, recently died; and

Whereas, Marian R. Clement for a long, long life led in quiet and respectable obscurity had endeared herself to thousands of citizens of San Francisco, where she was a veritable link between the old and the new; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco publicly pay their respect to the honored memory of one of the pioneers; and be it Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread on the minutes of this meeting as a tribute to the late Marian R. Clement.

Adopted unanimously by rising vote.

In Memoriam—Julian H. Newbauer.
(Code No. 5.91)

Supervisor Canepa presented:

Resolution No. 169, as follows:

Whereas, death has taken from our midst Julian H. Newbauer, a pioneer resident of San Francisco; and

Whereas, the late Julian H. Newbauer was a man of sterling character, a successful business man, the former president of the San Francisco Board of Trade, and a man of family as well as philanthropic activities; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco does hereby publicly express its regret at the loss of the eminent citizen, Julian H. Newbauer, and offers sincere sympathy and condolence to the bereaved children; and be it Further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread on the minutes of this meeting and another copy be sent to the relatives of the late deceased, Julian H. Newbauer.

Special Session of Legislature Relative to Water Situation in California. (Code No. 5.32)

Supervisor Gallagher presented:

Resolution No. 165, as follows:

Whereas, the State Chamber of Commerce, as well as the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, has urged the Governor to call a special session of the Legislature of the State of California for the purpose of considering, among other things, the matter of submitting to the electors of the State of California at the coming election in November of the present year a constitutional amendment which would enable the adoption by the Legislature of California of the necessary laws, statutes and enactments dealing with the water situation in California in so far as the same affects agricultural lands, water for power purposes, water for municipal purposes, and the encroachment of salt water in the lower stretches of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers; and

Whereas, San Francisco is vitally interested in the welfare of the great valleys of the State as well as of the delta area of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, including the manufacturing district between Antioch and the bay; and

Whereas, the lack of water in various parts of the San Joaquin Valley is threatening the agricultural interests of said valley, which are so closely connected with the commercial interests of the City and County of San Francisco; and

Whereas, the ever-increasing encroachment of the salt water up the channels of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers is having a serious effect on the agricultural interests of the delta area as well as the manufacturing interests between Antioch and the bay, all of which are the source of production of a vast amount of trade with San Francisco; and

Whereas, at the present time there is litigation pending and threatening by the owners of lands in the delta area to restrain the storage of water by the various municipalities and power companies in the higher stretches of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers and their tributaries, for the reason that it is claimed that the storage of said waters permits further encroachment of the salt water in the channels of said rivers, and which said litigation, if prosecuted, may affect and interfere with the enjoyment of the water rights of the City and County of San Francisco in the high Sierras; and

Whereas, the various committees appointed by his Excellency the Governor and by the Legislature of the State of California have during the past year made a study of the water situation in California and are ready to propose remedies for the above-mentioned evils, but before any statutes or laws can be enacted to remedy said evils there must be an amendment to the Constitution enabling such legislation as may be proper; and

Whereas, if a special session of the Legislature of the State of California is not called in time to submit said proposed constitutional amendment to the electors at the coming November election a period of two years will have to elapse before said enabling amendment can be adopted; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco, in meeting duly assembled, does hereby urge upon his Excellency, James Rolph, Jr., Governor of the State of California, the necessity of convening the Legislature of the State in special session for the purpose of submitting to the electors an amendment to the Constitution of the State which will enable the adoption of laws, statutes and legislation relative to the said water situation in California; and be it Further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to his Excellency the Governor, to the Lieutenant-Governor, to the Speaker of the Assembly, to the State Chamber of Commerce, and to the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

Adopted by the following vote:

Inspectors, Inspections.

Section 9. The Plumbing Inspector is hereby authorized and directed to enforce all the provisions of this ordinance, and he may enter any building or premises for the purpose of making inspection upon presentation of proper credentials.

Section 10. The Plumbing Inspector is hereby authorized to order the disconnecting of any gas appliance and/or house gas piping that has been connected without inspection, or that may be found defective or dangerous to life and property. In all cases where any gas appliance and/or house gas piping is so disconnected it shall be unlawful for any person to reconnect same unless or until authorized by the Plumbing Inspector, and any further reference in this ordinance to the inspector shall be deemed to refer to the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 11. The inspector shall make the following inspections and shall either approve that portion of the work as complete or shall notify the permit holder wherein the same fails to comply with the law.

Rough Piping Inspection: To be made after all piping authorized by the permit has been installed, and before any such piping has been covered or concealed or any fixtures or gas appliances have been attached thereto.

Final Piping Inspection: To be made after all piping authorized by the permit has been installed and after all portions thereof, if any, which are to be concealed by plastering or otherwise have been so concealed, and before any fixtures or gas appliances have been attached thereto. This inspection shall include a pressure test, at which time the piping shall stand an air pressure equal to an eight (8) inch column of mercury, and the piping shall hold this air pressure for a period of ten (10) minutes without any perceptible drop. All necessary apparatus for conducting said test shall be furnished by the permit holder, and the test shall be made in the presence of the inspector.

Appliance Inspection: To be made after all fixtures or gas appliances authorized by the permit have been installed and after the house gas piping is connected with the meter and/or service gas piping of the gas company or other utility supplying or furnishing the gas which is to be used as fuel for the operation of said fixtures or gas appliances.

Section 12. Except as permitted in Section 14, upon completion of the installation of any gas appliance and/or house gas piping, and prior to the use thereof, the Department of Public Health shall be notified that such gas appliance and/or house gas piping is ready for inspection. The inspector shall make such inspection within forty-eight (48) hours of such notice. If the installation is found correct, a certificate of inspection shall be issued.

Section 13. In the case of rough inspections of house gas piping, the inspector shall issue a rough inspection card, which shall be posted in the meter box and kept there until after the final piping inspection, as in this ordinance provided.

Section 14. All domestic gas appliances may be installed and supplied with gas prior to the inspection thereof, provided a "permit for use" tag, which shall be supplied by the Plumbing Department, is attached thereto. This tag shall have written thereon the name of the gas appliance dealer or master plumber making the installation, the date of installation, and the address where appliance is located.

Section 15. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, excepting an authorized agent or employee of a person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of furnishing or supplying gas, and whose service pipes supply or connect with the particular premises, to turn on or reconnect gas service in or on any premises where and when gas service is not at the time being rendered.

It shall further be unlawful to turn on or connect gas on or in any premises unless all outlets are properly and securely connected to appliances or capped, plugged or closed by stop-cocks or valves capable of withstanding, without leaking, the gas piping test provided for in this ordinance.

House Gas Piping.

Section 16. Only those licensed to do plumbing work in the City and County of San Francisco may install "house gas piping", except that a gas appliance dealer holding a certificate of competency may install the necessary connections to connect gas appliances sold and/or installed by himself with gas pipe (or gas meter, when necessary) of any building, provided the requirements of this ordinance for the installation of gas piping are complied with, the required permits secured and the necessary fees paid; and provided, further, that no concealed piping may be installed by other than those licensed to do plumbing work. Where it is necessary, in accordance with the above provisions, for a gas appliance dealer to run gas connections direct to the meter, no such run shall extend from the meter to any location above the first story.

This is not to be construed as permitting a gas appliance dealer to install house gas piping system in buildings, even if such a dealer should sell and/or install by himself all the gas appliances to be installed therein, but only to permit the installation of the necessary piping to connect appliances sold and/or installed by himself, in accordance with the provisions set forth above.

Section 17. Permits for house gas piping shall show the total number of gas outlets to be provided for and such other information as may be required by the Department of Public Health.

Section 18. The following regulations as set forth in Sections 19-39, inclusive, shall be the standard for the construction and installation of house gas piping work.

Section 19. For fuel and industrial purposes (including illumination, if any) the diameter of house gas piping installed in any building, the number of lineal feet and the number of openings allowed shall be in conformity with the following table:

For a given size pipe ¼ of length will deliver twice the discharge or 4 times the length ½ the discharge.

Section 20. The diameter of the supply pipe to any gas appliance shall not be of smaller size than the inlet connection of such gas appliance.

Section 21. Except as specified below, all pipe used for the installation, extension, alteration and/or repair of any house gas piping shall be standard weight wrought iron or steel pipe, or brass or copper pipe of iron pipe size, and such pipe shall either be new or shall previously have been used for no other purpose than for the conveying of gas. All such pipe shall be free from internal obstructions, splits, or other imperfections which would render it unfit for the purpose intended, and the ends thereof shall be properly reamed.

All fittings used in connection with the house gas piping shall be of malleable iron, brass, copper or equal.

Galvanized wrought iron pipe and galvanized malleable fittings, or standard brass pipe and brass fittings, or standard copper pipe and copper fittings, shall be used for all house gas piping when said pipes are used on the exterior of a building, underground, when embedded in concrete or masonry, or when exposed to unusual damp conditions.

Section 24. All branches must be taken from sides or top of horizontal runs.

Section 25. All gas piping must be rigidly supported by straps or hooks in such a manner as to prevent moving.

Section 26. When practicable, all center outlets or drops must be square bent and securely fastened, and where straight drops are necessary, straps must be soldered thereto and securely fastened.

Section 27. All gas meters, when owned or under control of the person, firm or corporation supplying gas, shall be installed by the person, firm or corporation supplying the gas. All gas meter locations must be approved by the Plumbing Inspector and shall be located as near as practicable to the point where the service pipe enters the property.

All gas meters, when owned by other than the person, firm or corporation supplying the gas, and which are installed as intermediate or sub-meters on the outlet side of the main meter of the gas utility, shall be installed only at such location or locations as may be approved for that purpose by the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 28. Where more than one meter is set in a building they must all be set at one location, and so placed as to be at all times accessible for inspection, reading and testing, and shutting off gas supply; except that intermediate or sub-meters, as specified in Section 27, may, when owned by other than the gas utility, be permitted to be installed at other locations on approval of the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 29. When one building is in the rear of another building on an interior lot the location of the meters will be determined by the Plumbing Inspector.

Section 30. In order that gas may be supplied, the house piping must be brought to within thirty inches (30") of the proposed location of the gas meter, and where it is necessary to set more than one gas meter, the ends of such house gas pipes must be eighteen inches (18") apart horizontally at the meter location. If more than one horizontal line of meter openings be required, then the vertical distance between such horizontal lines shall be not less than thirty inches (30") and the outlets shall be so arranged as to terminate at the right of the inlet location of gas meter.

Section 31. Gas meters shall not be located under show windows or in engine, boiler, heater, electric meter rooms or under stairways. Access to all gas meters must be through an opening or door not less than 18"x24" long.

Section 32. House gas piping at the meter location shall be plainly marked with tags to designate the section of the building supplied.

Section 33. On each house gas piping run of 29 outlets or less the opening at the meter location shall terminate at a height of not less than thirty inches (30") above the floor, and when there are more than 29 outlets the said opening shall terminate at a height of not less than forty-eight inches (48") above the floor.

Section 34. When a gas meter is located outside of a building, or when the same is exposed, the same must be protected against the weather.

Section 35. When temporary use of gas is desired the Plumbing Inspector may grant a permit for such use for a period not to exceed thirty (30) days, provided that the gas piping which it is desired to be used be given a test equal to that required as a final piping inspection.

Section 36. It shall be unlawful to remove or disconnect any gas fixture or gas appliance without capping or plugging with a screwed joint fitting the outlet from which said fixture or gas appliance was removed. All outlets to which fixtures or gas appliances are not connected shall be left capped gas tight on any piping system being installed, altered, extended or repaired.

Section 37. No gas piping shall be built in brick, stone, masonry, or concrete walls. When necessary to conceal pipe in this manner it must be run in suitable recesses.

Section 38. No acid, cement or any other composition shall be used for the purpose of repairing or stopping leaks, nor shall water or acid be used to locate leaks.

In no case other than by permission of the Plumbing Inspector is it permissible to repair defects in piping or fittings, but, having been located, the defective pipe or fitting must be removed and replaced with perfect material.

Section 39. No running thread joints shall be used. Where necessary, ground joint unions or right and left couplings may be used. Bushings shall not be used in concealed work.

Gas Appliances—General.

Section 40. The Department of Public Health is authorized and directed to prepare, adopt and promulgate such rules, regulations, requirements and specifications as are necessary or proper to assure safety and protect life, health and property in the sale, installation and use of gas appliances and to assure the most approved methods of construction for safety to life and property. In preparing and adopting said rules, regulations, requirements and specifications, the Department of Public Health may consider the rules, regulations, requirements and specifications of the American Gas Association or any other national rules, regulations, requirements or specifications relating to such subjects. All rules, regulations, requirements and specifications so promulgated shall be published and shall be sent to all gas appliance dealers holding certificates of competency or holders of master plumbers' certificates, and to any person applying therefor.

Provided, however, that the inspector may authorize the sale and use of any appliance that is in the stock of any gas appliance dealer or jobber on the date of the adoption of this ordinance, by stenciling an approval upon such appliance on or before the.....day of ....., provided the use of such appliance will not endanger life, health or property.

Section 41. Appliances installed hereafter shall be marked or labeled with a distinctive mark or name by the manufacturer or dealer.

Section 42. Used gas appliances may be reinstalled when, in the opinion of the inspector, such appliances may be used without danger to life or property.

Section 43. Except as provided herein, and in Section 44, every appliance shall be rigidly connected to the house gas piping outlet with standard weight wrought iron or steel pipe and malleable iron fittings, or copper pipe and copper fittings, or brass pipe and brass fittings, and a ground-in valve and a ground joint union or right and left coupling shall be placed between the outlet and the appliance.

Brass or copper tubing may be used for the connection between an appliance and the house gas piping outlet; provided that such tubing shall be of not less in weight than No. 18 gauge and of not less than three-eighths-inch (⅜") outside diameter, and that all connections shall be of approved expansion joints, and that the length of such tubing used to connect any one gas appliance shall not exceed six (6) feet. Each appliance so connected shall have a ground-in valve with lever handle cast integral at the house gas piping outlet.

Section 44. Approved flexible metal tubing may be used for connecting gas appliances designed for portable use, such as washing machines, ironers, or other appliances the location of which must be changed during operation; provided, however, that such approved flexible metal tubing shall not exceed six feet (6') in length. There shall not be any shut-off or gas-cock between such tubing and the burner or burners. Where such tubing is used, a shut-off valve or gas-cock shall be installed at the point where tubing is connected to the gas supply pipe.

Section 45. Gas appliances so constructed that the burners are not shielded by metal or other approved insulating material shall not be located within twelve inches (12") of any combustible material. Appliances so constructed that metal shields or other approved insulating materials are an integral part of their construction shall not be located so as to permit the burners to be within six inches (6") of combustible material nor within three inches (3") of protected combustible material.

All vented gas appliances, except gas ranges and radiant type heaters, shall be equipped with an approved type of draft hood.

Section 46. Gas plates or ranges shall not be installed in rooms used for sleeping purposes; they may, however, be installed for cooking purposes in a room designed to conform to the legal requirements for a kitchen. Every gas range shall, however, be connected with a "vent connection" to a proper flue or chimney. Combination gas ranges and trash burners may be vented by a common "vent connection" to any chimney or flue constructed in accordance with the provisions of the Building Code for use by trash burners.

Gas plates may be used for commercial purposes in any room having a floor area of not less than fifty (50) square feet; provided, however, that such room has a permanent ventilation consisting of an opening not higher than one (1) foot above the floor and an opening not lower than one (1) foot below the ceiling. Each such opening shall have an unrestricted area of at least one hundred and twenty (120) square inches, and each such opening shall lead through unrestricted ducts to the outside of the building, where an uninterrupted supply of fresh air is assured.

Gas plates and ranges shall not be installed within three (3) feet of any ceiling of combustible material.

Section 47. Every gas water heater installed shall be rigidly connected to the house gas piping outlet and shall be placed not less than the distance given in Section 45 from any combustible or protected combustible material.

Gas water heaters shall not be installed in bathrooms, rooms used for sleeping purposes, or closets, nor in any room or enclosure having a floor area of less than sixteen (16) square feet. Gas water heaters shall not be installed in recesses unless such recesses shall have one side entirely open and not equipped with any door or other closing device, and the inside, including the top, bottom and sides of such recess, shall be lined with asbestos boards not less than one-quarter (¼) of an inch in thickness, or other approved insulation, and in no case shall a gas water heater be located less than three inches (3") from any such insulated walls.

Every gas water heater shall be properly vented to a flue or chimney.

All manually operated water heaters shall be installed with an approved pressure relief valve set at a pressure not higher than fifty (50) pounds above the pressure of the water supply.

All automatic storage water heaters shall be equipped with an approved automatic shut-off valve set below the boiling point of water, and with an automatic device so designed that the supply of gas to the main burners in connection therewith will be automatically shut off when combustion of gas is not taking place at the pilot; and shall also be equipped with an approved pressure relief valve set at a pressure not higher than fifty (50) pounds above the pressure of the water supply.

Section 48. Unvented gas space heaters, such as blue flame, luminous flame, radiant type, wall heaters, hot air radiators, and gas steam radiators shall not be installed in any room or other enclosure having a floor area of less than fifty (50) square feet, nor shall any unvented appliance be installed in any room used for sleeping purposes. Vented appliances installed in sleeping rooms shall be rigidly attached to the house gas piping outlet.

Section 49. Gas space heaters may be installed in fireplaces, provided such fireplaces conform to the requirements of the Building Law of the City and County of San Francisco. Gas space heaters may be installed in imitation fireplaces, provided the recess of such imitation fireplaces is not more than thirteen inches (13") in depth, and it shall be so constructed as to be not adaptable for use as a coal-burning fireplace. The recess of every such imitation fireplace shall be protected with a lining of brick, tile, or other approved incombustible material not less than one (1) inch in thickness. Such imitation fireplace shall be properly vented and be labeled by means of a metal plate set permanently in the fireproofing, bearing the words, "For gas appliances only."

Section 50. Gas furnaces, except floor furnaces, shall be placed not less than twelve (12) inches from protected combustible material, and not less than eighteen (18) inches from unprotected combustible material, and shall set on masonry, concrete or other incombustible floors or upon floors protected by top floors of masonry, concrete, tile or similar material at least two (2) inches in thickness, or asbestos board not less than one-quarter (¼) of an inch in thickness and covered with No. 20 U. S. standard gauge galvanized iron. The top of gas furnaces shall not be less than nine (9) inches from protected combustible material or not less than eighteen (18) inches from unprotected combustible material.

Gas furnaces shall not be installed in any place or in such manner as to be inaccessible for inspection or repair.

Gas furnaces shall not be located under any stairway unless such furnaces are located within Class A fireproof enclosures.

Every room or enclosure in which a gas furnace is installed or operated shall be provided with permanent ventilation which will furnish sufficient supply of air to properly support combustion and ventilate such room or enclosure. Such permanent ventilation shall consist of an opening not higher than one (1) foot above the floor or adjoining ground level, and an opening not lower than one (1) foot below the ceiling, and each of such openings shall have an unrestricted area of at least one (1) square foot and shall lead through unrestricted ducts to the outside of the building, where an uninterrupted supply of fresh air is assured. Such openings shall be screened with wire screens or grills having a mesh not smaller than one-half (½) inch in any dimension.

For every warm air furnace using gas, or any other fuel, hereafter installed, an air intake shall be required. It shall be either a fresh air intake from the outside of the building or a return air intake from the space to be heated by such furnace, or combination of the two, and such air intake shall not be located in such manner as to draw air from the room or enclosure in which such furnace is installed or from the space immediately adjacent to any openings which are required for permanent ventilation of such room or enclosure.

Every air intake shall be constructed of metal or incombustible material or else be lined with metal or other approved fire-resistive material satisfactory to the Fire Prevention Bureau.

The net cross-sectional area of a fresh air intake for a warm air furnace shall not be less than the total cross-sectional area of all hot air outlets.

No damper shall be placed in an air intake, but the end thereof may be screened with wire screen having a mesh not smaller than one-half (½) inch in any dimension, or with gratings, register plates, or similar devices having an effective ventilating area not less than the required cross-sectional area of the air intake.

Section 51. Gas furnaces of the floor type shall not be installed in any location inaccessible for inspection or repair. An opening or door, not less than eighteen inches (18") by twenty-four inches (24") in size, shall be provided for access to the room or enclosure in which any such gas furnace is installed, and such gas furnace shall be vented to a proper vent, flue or chimney.

Section 52. A warm air or other furnace or heater which is designed to use fuel other than gas for the development of heat may be converted into a gas appliance by means of the installation of gas burners into the fire pot thereof, provided such gas burners are of a design and construction as set forth in the specifications of the Bureau of Standards of the Department of Commerce, and provided further that they are installed in accordance with the following provisions and in a manner that their use therein will not endanger life, health or property.

(a) The heating element must stand a test for gas tightness so that no products of combustion or gas may enter rooms or spaces to be heated.

(b) Vents and flues must be in good condition as to gas tightness and draft, or made so before converting any such apparatus.

(c) If refractory material is used as part of gas burner or burners, same must be supported above ports of burner a sufficient height to allow combustion before impingement upon said refractory material.

(d) Burners must be equipped with continuous burning pilot lights controlled from the manifold of the burner and fixed to the burner in such a way as to provide a rigid relative position between the pilot tip and ports of the burner. Provision must also be made for a simple means of lighting the pilot light which will not make it necessary for the operator to reach into the fire pot.

(e) Burners using over 60,000 B.t.u. per hour must be equipped with a partially opened check damper in the vent or by a draft hood.

(f) The manifold of the burner must be equipped with a main control valve of the plug type, with a metal handle which is cast integrally with the plug, and operated with stops at 90 degrees apart so as to indicate at a glance the "on" and "off" positions.

(g) The burner or burners shall be so located that no part of the flames impinge on the surfaces of the combustion chamber or heating elements, and shall be securely fastened in place to prevent twisting, sliding or dropping out of position, but so installed as to permit easy removal for cleaning and repair.

(h) The furnace or heater converted shall be checked for secondary air supply, and so regulated or altered that proper and complete combustion will be provided for.

Illuminating Fixtures.

Section 53. Every illuminating fixture installed in the City and County of San Francisco shall be of a design and construction approved by the inspector.

Illuminating fixtures shall not be located within three feet (3') of any gas meter, back of a door, in a closet, nor in any other location where, in the opinion of the inspector, any fire hazard would be entailed. Swinging bracket fixtures are hereby prohibited.

Ventilation for Gas Appliances.

Section 54. No gas appliance shall be hereafter installed, or any gas appliance replaced, unless the room or place where such a gas appliance is located is ventilated so as to properly support combustion. Except as provided in this section and in Section 55, no gas appliance shall hereafter be installed, or any existing gas appliance replaced, unless the same shall be vented to a flue which shall be the full size of the "vent opening" of the appliance to be vented. No damper shall be installed in any "vent connection," "vent," "flue" or "chimney" to which a gas appliance is vented, except as may be specifically provided for elsewhere in this ordinance. Dampers integral in the construction of kitchen heater type or combination ranges are permissible.

Gas refrigerators, gas sad irons, gas mangles and gas washing machines, the gas consumption of which is less than five thousand (5000) B.t.u. per hour (approximately five cubic feet per hour) are not required to be vented, nor shall permanent ventilation, as specified in Section 55, be required for the room or enclosure in which said appliances are installed or operated; nor shall said appliances be required to be equipped with cut-off valves as specified in Section 55.

Section 55. Heating appliances designed by the manufacturer to be used unvented must be equipped with approved cut-off valves which automatically shut off the supply of gas when combustion is not taking place at the burners, and said appliances shall not be installed in any room or enclosure unless permanent ventilation be provided for. For such appliances having a rated gas capacity of fifty (50) cubic feet or more per hour there shall be two ventilating ducts or openings provided, with not less than one hundred and twenty (120) square inches of free area in each, and which shall lead to an area where an uninterrupted supply of fresh air is assured. One such opening shall be located at a point not more than one foot (1') above the floor level, the other to be at a point not more than one foot (1') below the level of the ceiling. For such appliances having a rated capacity of less than fifty (50) cubic feet per hour, only one such ventilating duct or opening shall be required, which shall not have less than thirty-six (36) square inches of free area and shall be located at a point not more than one foot (1') below the level of the ceiling; provided, however, that where the rated capacity of the appliance is less than twenty-five (25) cubic feet per hour, the Plumbing Inspector may modify the provision as to the location of this required ventilating duct or opening if, in his opinion, any other location thereof would be more practical for the particular heating appliance to be installed, and would provide ample ventilation for the safe operation of said appliance.

Section 56. No gas appliance shall be installed in a public or commercial garage unless the design, operation and installation of said appliance is such as to eliminate the possible ignition of inflammable vapors.

Chimneys, Flues and Vents.

Section 57. Every chimney, flue or vent to which a gas appliance is connected, or which is installed for the purpose of connecting a gas appliance thereto, shall be constructed and installed in accordance with the Building Code.

No gas appliance or appliances shall be connected to any chimney, flue or vent unless the internal area of such chimney, flue or vent is large enough to accommodate the appliance or appliances to be connected thereto, as set forth in the following paragraph:

The internal area of any chimney, flue or vent to which a gas appliance is connected shall not be less than the internal area of the largest "vent connection," or "vent opening," as the case may be, plus 50 per cent of the total area of all other additional "vent connections" or "vent openings" which are connected thereto; provided, however, that where round "vent connections" or "vent openings" are connected to a rectangular chimney, flue or vent, the internal area of such rectangular chimney, flue or vent shall be 20 per cent greater than that required above. The following table shall be used for the computation of flue areas in round flue pipes, vents and vent connections:

3-inch round pipe	7.1 square inches
4-inch round pipe	12.6 square inches
5-inch round pipe	19.6 square inches
6-inch round pipe	28.3 square inches
8-inch round pipe	50.3 square inches

Section 58. No flue opening shall be smaller than the vent connection required for the gas appliance or appliances that will be connected to such opening, and every flue opening to which a gas appliance is not connected shall be tightly closed by means of an approved cap or similar device.

Vent Connections.

Section 59. Every vent connection which is required by this ordinance shall be constructed of metal, as herein specified, or of other approved incombustible material of equal durability and adaptable for such purpose.

Metal vent connections shall be constructed of sheet copper weighing not less than sixteen (16) ounces per square foot or of Monel metal or equal not lighter than No. 26 U. S. standard gauge, and the edges of such sheet metal shall be securely connected together with a locked or riveted seam in such a manner as to form a practically tight pipe. Joints between lengths of pipe shall be at least two (2) inch lap joints and so constructed and fastened as to be practically tight.

Metal vent connections ten (10) feet or less in length and completely exposed to view or easily accessible for inspection may be constructed of galvanized sheet iron not lighter than No. 26 U. S. standard gauge, provided, however, that all seams and joints shall be made in the same manner as is customary in the construction of ordinary stove pipe and stove-pipe fittings, and provided further, that stoves or ranges may be connected to a flue or chimney with stove pipe.

No vent connection shall have an area less than the areas of the vent opening or collar on the appliance to which such vent connection is connected, and every vent connection which is connected to more than one such vent opening or collar shall have an area not less than the area of the largest vent connection plus fifty per cent (50 per cent) of the area of all other additional vent connections connected thereto.

Section 60. Vent connections shall be properly connected to appliances and shall be securely supported by means of substantial hangers at intervals of not more than ten (10) feet on all horizontal runs. Vent connections shall also be properly connected to a flue or chimney by means of an approved metal thimble attached to the flue or chimney in a gas and water-tight manner. Vent connections made through a fireplace shall be made by means of a galvanized iron or steel plate set in the chimney throat, thoroughly cemented and to be air and gas tight.

Horizontal vent connections depending on natural draft shall not exceed twenty (20) feet in length except by special permission of the Plumbing Inspector, nor shall such horizontal vent connections exceed in length the height of the chimney or flue to which connected, measured as the vertical distance between the top of the burners of the appliance and the outlet of the chimney or flue. All horizontal runs exceeding four (4) feet in length shall have a grade of not less than one (1) inch to each lineal foot of length rising toward the flue or chimney. The above shall also apply to horizontal portions of vents, in so far as applicable. Every horizontal metal "vent connection" exceeding ten (10) feet in length, and located in a basement, shall be insulated with two (2) plies of one-quarter inch (¼ inch) corrugated asbestos paper, or of a material having equal insulating value.

Vent connections, or vents, except by special permission of the Plumbing Inspector and approval of the Fire Prevention Bureau, shall not be placed less than three (3) inches from any combustible material nor less than one and one-half (1½) inches from protected combustible material. Bends or offsets in horizontal vent connections shall be avoided wherever possible, and where necessary shall be made at widest angles possible. Vent connections, or vents, passing through walls, partitions or floors, shall have approved double insulating sleeves and shall be installed in accordance with the provisions of the Building Code.

No "vent connection" connected to any gas appliance having pilot provision for automatic or remote control, except gas ranges, shall be connected to any chimney or flue which is used as a smoke flue for any stove, boiler, heater or other apparatus designed to burn wood, coal, oil, or any fuel other than gas, unless such pilot provision is so designed that the supply of gas to the main burners in connection therewith will be automatically shut off when combustion of gas is not taking place at the pilot.

Maintenance of Vent Connections.

Section 61. Every "vent connection" shall be maintained in good condition; provided, however, that no "vent connection" not conforming to the requirements of this ordinance shall be used or maintained if in the judgment of the Plumbing Inspector the use or maintenance thereof would endanger life or property.

Non-Liability of City.

Section 62. This ordinance shall not be construed as imposing upon the City and County of San Francisco any liability or responsibility for damages to any person injured, asphyxiated, or who suffers loss of life by any defects in any gas appliance and/or house gas piping, or by the installation thereof, nor shall the City and County of San Francisco, or any official or employee thereof, be held as assuming any such liability or responsibility by reason of the inspection authorized hereunder or certificate of inspection issued by the Plumbing Inspector. Nor shall the City and County of San Francisco or any official or employee thereof be held as assuming any liability or responsibility for property damage, from any cause whatsoever, which may have been caused by gas leakage, fire or explosion of any sort coming from, or during the operation of any gas appliance and/or house gas piping.

Violations and Penalties.

Section 63. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance or who causes, permits or suffers the same to be done, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and each such person shall be guilty of a separate offense for each and every day or portion thereof during which any violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance is committed, continued or permitted, and upon conviction of any such violation such person shall be punished by a fine of not more than two hundred and fifty dollars ($250) or by imprisonment for not more than fifty (50) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Validity.

Section 64. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance is, for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance. The Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco hereby declare that it would have passed this ordinance and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Ordinances Repealed.

Section 65. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Privilege of the Floor.

Mr. Gong was granted the privilege of the floor and recommended two additional members on the examining board, one a gas utility man and the other a wholesale hardware dealer handling gas appliances.

Mr. Fitzgerald, representing the plumbers, was hear in opposition to the proposed amendments to section 6 and section 46.

Dr. Geiger, Director of Public Health, and Chief Plumbing Inspector Thyle were sent for on motion of Supervisor Spaulding.

Chief Plumbing Inspector Thyle addressed the Board relative to the danger from use of gas plates in housekeeping rooms and the proposed amendment to section 46.

Dr. Geiger declared that he did not consider that if section 46 was allowed to remain as recommended it would be enforced on those already installed. He did not consider it retroactive.

Frank MacDonald, Building Trades Council, opposed proposed amendment to strike out the words "plates or" in the first line of section 46.

Ray Williamson, attorney representing gas appliance men, opposed the ordinance as recommended and suggested that section 46 be amended in the first line by striking out the words "plates or."

Proposed Amendments.

Supervisor Peyser moved to insert at end of section 3 the following:

". . . and provided, further, that a certificate of competency shall be issued to any person, firm or corporation having been doing business provided for in this ordinance in the City and County of San Francisco for a period of two years immediately preceding the passage of this ordinance, without examination, upon payment of the fee of five dollars ($5.00) set forth herein."

Amendments Lost.

Supervisor McSheehy, seconded by Supervisor Breyer, moved as an amendment, to add the following to section 46:

"This section shall not apply to gas plates in use upon the passage of this ordinance."

Ayes—Supervisors Breyer, Canepa, McSheehy, Peyser, Power—5.
Noes—Supervisors Brown, Colman, Gallagher, Havenner, Hayden, Miles, Roncovieri, Shannon, Spaulding—9.
Absent—Supervisor Stanton—1.

Supervisor McSheehy, seconded by Supervisor Breyer, moved to amend the first line of section 46 by striking out the words "plates or" after the word "gas".

Amendment lost by the following vote:

Ayes—Supervisor Breyer, McSheehy, Power, Stanton—4.
Noes—Supervisors Brown, Canepa, Colman, Gallagher, Havenner, Hayden, Miles, Peyser, Roncovieri, Shannon, Spaulding—9.
Absent—Supervisors Power, Stanton—2.

Supervisor McSheehy, before the result was announced, changed his vote from Aye to No and gave notice of reconsideration.

Supervisor Havenner raised the point of order that the City Attorney had advised that "reconsideration" applied only to the main question on final passage.

Chair: Point of order well taken.

Supervisor McSheehy appealed from the decision of the chair. No second.

Action Deferred.

Whereupon, on motion of Supervisor Spaulding, the foregoing matter was laid four weeks (May 31, 1932) and made a Special Order of Business for 3 p. m.

HEARING OF APPEAL—3 P. M.

Rezoning of Lot 1, Block 2879 (Dewey Boulevard and Laguna Honda Boulevard).

Hearing of appeal of property owners from decision of the City Planning Commission in denying an application to rezone Lot 1, Block 2879 (Dewey boulevard and Laguna Honda boulevard), from First Residential District to Commercial District.

Communication.

A communication from Mrs. Granfield, declaring that her signature to the appeal, which contained the signature of herself and husband, was signed by her husband but was not authorized by her.

Privilege of the Floor.

Mr. Weinberger, attorney, representing property owners, was heard at length, objecting to consideration of appeal by the Board on the ground that it had no jurisdiction, since less than the 20 per cent required had signed the appeal.

Motion.

Supervisor Canepa moved reference to the City Attorney for his opinion as to the following:

"Has the Board of Supervisors jurisdiction of an appeal from the decision of the City Planning Commission under the following set of facts?

"The appeal is signed by the son of owners (husband and wife) of one lot in the prescribed area.

"The signatures of joint owners (husband and wife) of one lot is signed by one of the owners (husband). The other owner (wife) files an affidavit that her signature to the appeal was not authorized and requests it be stricken from the appeal.

"The City Engineer disregarded these signatures under the above circumstances and computed the remaining signatures on the appeal as representing 19.816 per cent of the 300-foot area in which the property sought to be rezoned is located.

"It is conceded by the City Engineer that the inclusion of one of these properties will perfect the appeal under the Charter provisions requiring a 20 per cent subscription of property owners in the affected area."

Action Deferred.

Whereupon, on motion of Supervisor Gallagher, the foregoing matter was laid over two weeks (May 16) and made a Special Order of Business for 3 p. m.

Amendment caused by separation of certificated and civil service employments to provide flexibility in amending section; addition of item 124½ to establish rate as needed; addition of item 202½ to cover an employment that has existed in this department continuously for about two years, but as the position has not heretofore appeared on payrolls its further continuance requires that the position be enumerated herein; also change in rate of item 199 from $75 to $125. This increase was made by the Board of Education effective January 6, 1932. Also elimination of 18 Janitors' positions at $180 and increase in number of Janitors (148 to 165) at $155. The $180 represents a base rate of $155 plus overtime. However, it is recommended that a rate of $2.50 per evening for night work for Janitors be substituted instead of the $180 rate. See item 187½. This represents no increase. Also elimination of 5 Sub-Foremen Janitors' positions at $210 and a corresponding increase in number of positions under 192 at $185. Overtime represented by the old rate of $210 will be compensated under item 187½ referred to above. Also addition of item 205½ to provide rate as needed for evening work required under sections 6.750 and 6.772 of the California School Code.

Motion.

Supervisor McSheehy moved for a segregation of the bill and for consideration seriatim in order that he might record his objection to the creation of position of "Inspector of Complaints," Mayor's office, and "Secretary" of Art Commission.

Point of Order.

Supervisor Havenner raised point of order that inasmuch as a seriatim vote was taken at last meeting, it was not necessary now.

Chair: Point of order well taken.

Supervisor McSheehy appealed from the decision of the chair, but got no second.

Final Passage.

Whereupon, the foregoing ordinance was finally passed by the following vote:

Ayes—Supervisors Breyer, Canepa, Colman, Gallagher, Havenner, Hayden, Miles, Peyser, Power, Roncovieri, Spaulding, Stanton—12.

Noes—Supervisors Brown, McSheehy—2.

Absent—Supervisor Shannon—1.

Explanation of Vote.

Supervisor Stanton: I would like to explain my vote. I am going to vote for this ordinance, and I would have voted for the Supervisors to take this matter up seriatim, but we have the Budget —we get to a place in the Budget where we discuss the items, and we finally have to approve the whole Budget. Now there isn't a member that is satisfied with the entire Budget, but at the finish he has to vote for the Budget or else declare himself against it, and if every member were to take that stand and not vote for the Budget unless every item was satisfactory, we would never have a Budget.

Supervisor Colman: I am going to explain my vote. I am going to vote yes on the salary ordinance. I objected to two items in this ordinance, but the majority of the Board has defeated that issue. Of course, there are other salaries in the ordinance, comprising 98 or 99 per cent of the ordinance, meeting with my approval, and under those conditions I feel I must vote in favor of the ordinance.

Supervisor Havenner: I make the same explanation of my vote.

Supervisor McSheehy: I am going to explain my vote. I have been deprived of a right as a Supervisor of this City and County to exercise the right of having certain items of this Budget voted on seriatim; and I regret in the wisdom of the Board they did not see fit to second my appeal from the order of the chair. That is their duty and privilege. I am not responsible for their acts. I am responsible for my acts, and I am going to vote no because I have been deprived as a member of this Board in not being allowed to vote on certain items of this ordinance to which I am unalterably opposed.

City Attorney's Opinion Requested.

Supervisor McSheehy moved that the City Attorney's opinion be obtained as to whether or not we have any control over the employees of the Playground Commission, Park Commission, Board of Education, and others.

Motion carried.

Action Deferred.

The following matter was laid over one week by the following vote:

Contract Procedure Ordinance.
(Code No. 9.087)

Bill No. 59, Ordinance No. 9.0871, as follows:

Establishing the procedure for and regulating the entering into contract for the construction, reconstruction or repair of public buildings, streets, utilities or other public work or improvement to be performed at the expense of the City and County, or to be paid out of moneys deposited in the Treasury, or out of trust moneys under the control of or to be collected by the City and County, and repealing Ordinance No. 9139 (New Series), in effect January 6, 1932.

Be it ordained by the People of the City and County of San Francisco as follows:

Section 1. The several department heads and officers empowered by law to enter into contracts on the part of the City and County for public work or improvements to be performed at the expense of the City and County, or to be paid out of moneys deposited in the Treasury, or out of trust moneys under the control, or collected by, the City and County, when the expenditure involved shall exceed the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000), shall let such contract to the lowest reliable and responsible bidder at any time not less than ten (10) days after the last date of publication or more than twenty (20) days after receipt of bid unless the time for letting such contract be extended by resolution of the Board of Supervisors upon the recommendation of the department head, board or commission responsible for such award. Provided that if the officer or department head empowered to award such contract believes that the public interest would be best served by accepting other than the lowest gross price or unit cost bid, and the contract is entered into with another bidder, written report shall be made immediately to the Chief Administrative Officer, the Mayor and the Controller by the officer authorized to execute the contract, with the reasons for failure to accept such lowest bid. The department head concerned is authorized to compare bids on the basis of time of completion, and any contract awarded in consideration, in whole or in part, of the relative time estimate of bidders for completion of the work, shall be subject to the provisions of section 97 of the Charter. Notice of award shall be published.

Section 2. The department head shall have power to sign any contract when the estimated expenditure thereunder is not in excess of two thousand dollars ($2,000). Any contract involving the expenditure of over two thousand dollars ($2,000) shall require the joint approval of the department head and the Chief Administrative Officer, relative to departments under his jurisdiction, or the signature of the department head and the approval by resolution of the board or commission concerned for departments not under the Chief Administrative Officer; provided that no obligation involving the expenditure of money shall be incurred unless certification of the Controller is first obtained in accordance with section 86 of the Charter.

Section 3. Alterations, modifications or extras in any contract which will increase the contract cost may be made or allowed only on the written recommendation of the department head responsible for the supervision of the contract, together with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer or the board or commission, as the case may be, and also the approval of the Controller, stating the increased price to be paid by reason thereof.

Allowances, modifications or credits in any contract which will decrease the contract cost may be made or allowed only upon recommendation of the department head responsible for the supervision of the contract, together with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer, or board of commission, as the case may be, and also the approval of the Controller, stating the amount to be deducted from the amount to be paid under the contract.

In the performance of any contract awarded on the unit and the unit cost basis, if the department head concerned ascertains that the amount of work done or to be done, shall exceed the estimated amount of the contract by 10 per cent or more, the excess cost shall be provided for as prescribed by section 80 of the Charter relative to supplemental appropriations.

Section 4. The department head, with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer, or the department head, with the approval of the board or commission to which he is responsible, may reject any and all bids and readvertise for bids.

Section 5. In any case, when the expenditure for the construction, reconstruction or repair of public buildings, streets, utilities or other public works or improvements shall, as estimated by the department head, exceed the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) the bids heretofore referred to shall be sealed, directed to the department head or officer calling the bids, and shall be accompanied by a certified check on a solvent bank of the State of California, payable on sight to the City and County of San Francisco, the amount of which shall be fixed by said department head or officer and named in the advertisement, which amount shall not be less than 10 per cent of the amount bid for the cost of the proposed work or improvement, and no proposal shall be considered unless accompanied by such check.

Notices inviting sealed bids under the conditions of this section must be published for two (2) consecutive days in the official newspaper, and at least five calendar days must intervene between the date of the last publication and the time for filing such sealed bids or proposals. Such notices shall state in general terms the conditions of the proposed contract, and if progressive payments are to be provided under any contract in accordance with section 96 of the Charter, or if any contract is to be let on the basis of a gross price or cost per unit of work to be performed, or on the basis of time of completion, with liquidated damages for every day during which the contract is uncompleted beyond such specified date in accordance with section 97 of the Charter, such notice shall so state. Each advertisement for bids shall contain the reservation of the right to reject any and all bids.

All bids shall be filed on forms furnished by the department head concerned, and all bids not so filed shall be rejected. All bids received as herein provided shall be publicly opened by the proper department head or officer at the time and place to be stated in the advertisement for proposals, and after tabulation bidders may inspect the bids. Bids with alterations or erasures therein shall be rejected. When specifications do not include alternative proposals, statements or communications accompanying bids which serve to qualify such bids shall not be considered in making awards, and will disqualify bidders.

Section 6. Before the execution of any contract for public works or improvements, the department head or officer authorized to enter into said contract shall require the successful bidder to file corporate surety bonds for the faithful performance thereof and to guarantee the payment of wages for services engaged and of bills contracted for material, supplies and equipment used in the performance of the contract. Said bond shall be for a sum not less than 50 per cent of the award.

The Controller shall approve the sufficiency and qualifications of all sureties as required under the provisions of this ordinance.

If any bidder to whom the contract is awarded under the provisions of this section shall for ten (10) days after such award fail or neglect to enter into the contract and file the required bond, the department head or officer in whom authority to execute said contract is vested, shall deposit such certified check in the Treasury for collection and the amount thereof shall be retained by the City and County as liquidated damages for the failure of such bidder to enter into said contract; unless upon recommendation of the department head or officer authorized to execute said contract, together with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer, Board or Commission, the Board of Supervisors, by resolution, approves the return of said check.

Each contractor must save, keep, bear harmless, and fully indemnify the City and County and any of its officers or agents from all damages, or claims for damages, costs, or expenses in law or equity that may at any time arise or be set up for any infringement of the patent rights, copyright or trademark of any person or persons in consequence of the use by the City and County, or any of its officers or agents, of articles to be supplied under said contract and of which the contractor is not the patentee or assignee or has not the lawful right to sell the same.

No article or articles furnished under any contract made under the provisions of this ordinance shall have been made in a prison or by convict labor. No contract shall be assigned except upon the recommendation of the department head concerned and with the approval of the Chief Administrative Officer relative to the departments under his jurisdiction, or the approval of the board or commission concerned for departments not under the Chief Administrative Officer.

The officer responsible for the awarding of any contract shall require from all bidders information concerning their experience and financial qualifications, as provided by general law relative to such investigations authorized by departments of public works, and shall take such information into consideration in the award of any contract.

All contracts, extras and credits shall be executed in triplicate; the original to be retained by the officer or department head making the award; one copy to be filed with the Controller and one copy to be given to the contractor.

Any contractor who fails to live up to the terms of his contract may by the joint action of the head of the department concerned and the Controller be declared an irresponsible contractor, and shall not for a period of one year be awarded any further contract unless on the joint action of the head of the department concerned and the Controller such disqualification is removed.

Section 7. Appropriate City and County departments may file sealed bids for the execution of any work to be performed under a contract and shall not be required to furnish security or submit information relative to financial qualifications as provided in this ordinance. Any bid submitted by a department of the City and County, if it is the lowest bid, must be approved by the Controller before the award of contract.
